— WM. LOUDON —

As the moments fly, Father Time captures them, forging them into delicate charms wrought with meaning and shining with memories. Eagerly we reach for them and fearful of losing these charms so exquisitely etched, we link each one carefully and tenderly to our chain of memories.

BOARD OF EDUCATION
Warren Ackerson, Jerome
Gleason, Mrs. Mary G. Clarkson, President; Daniel Levy,
Edward Redington, Alice
Reybert, Clerk.

Selecting the Links

MORE classrooms are needed, another course should be added to the curriculum, more supplies must be ordered . . . such are the problems confronting the Board of Education who are the elected representatives of the community in charge of supervising the entire Bay Shore Public School System. Their efforts make it possible for the school to expand in size and to enlarge its scope of activities to satisfy a changing student body. They are constantly studying the conditions of our schools, always striving for improvements. Yesterday's plans become the benefits enjoyed today; present observations will be the basis of tomorrow's accomplishments.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. George H. Gatje, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. E. Lloyd Moreland, Guidance Director; Mr. Warde G. McLaughlin, Principal; Mr. Glenn S. Seeley, Assistant Principal.

Joining the Links

ALWAYS guarding the interests of the school and the individual, always prepared to hear both sides of the story, are the members of the administration. As each charm has its place on our friendship bracelet, so the administrators assign a place to each activity. They link the school with the community, the student with the teacher, the scholastic program with extra-curricular life. They watch over every phase of school life to make high school an integrated and well-balanced educational experience for all.

The Chain of Years

Now comes one of the most important links on our bracelet of charms. This combination of sophs and juniors form the body of our high school.

The two classes, while preparing to top the scholastic achievements of past and present seniors, find plenty of time for fun.

The all important junior Variety Show finds many sophomores in the cast and behind the scenes. The proceeds of this gala affair go for the big event of the year—the Junior Prom given for the seniors. Once again we see many sophs here, gathering ideas for next year and the prom they'll give. Both classes are famous for their cake sales, where many fine examples of culinary art are to be found. The juniors come out in full force to "eat all you can" at the annual Sophomore Smorgasbord. And this year the Valentine's Dance given jointly by the sophs and seniors added immeasurably to the year's social life.

PLANNING THE DESIGNS

G.O. Officers: Barbara Bittner, Secretary; Rudy Swigart, President; Leon Komoroski, Advisor; Ben Kemper, Treasurer; Peg Arnold, Vice President.

Co-ordinating and Correlating

The General Organization may be thought of as the chain of our bracelet, concentrating and correlating the efforts of each individual student toward a better, more interesting schoolday. Each club and each class forges a link in this chain by electing its own representative, and the completed chain is clasped with officers elected by the entire student body. This method of forming each link from the best in his respective activity and rounding out the chain with the best in the school, as judged by the students themselves, gives the chain strength; strength to plan and execute in the best possible way the duties of regulating extra-curricular activities, inter-school relations and such internal affairs as financial supervision for member organizations; thus providing a means of co-ordinating student activities.

Indeed, our school without the General Organization would be like a charm bracelet without a chain—a chaotic disorganization of units without a purpose.

Rudy, Ben, and John watch our money grow. High salesmen—Michael Gatje, Junior High; Arlowene Goudemont, Senior High.

There were many worthwhile projects accomplished by the G. O. this year.

Perhaps one of the worthiest was the adoption of a young Latvian child for one month at the War Orphan's Home; another was the launching of one of the biggest and most profitable magazine subscription campaigns, enlarging the treasury and enabling them to contribute to the cost of publishing the "Pilot" and to the buying of several new instruments for the band, and to the purchasing of uniforms for the Varsity Club's new boy cheerleading squad.

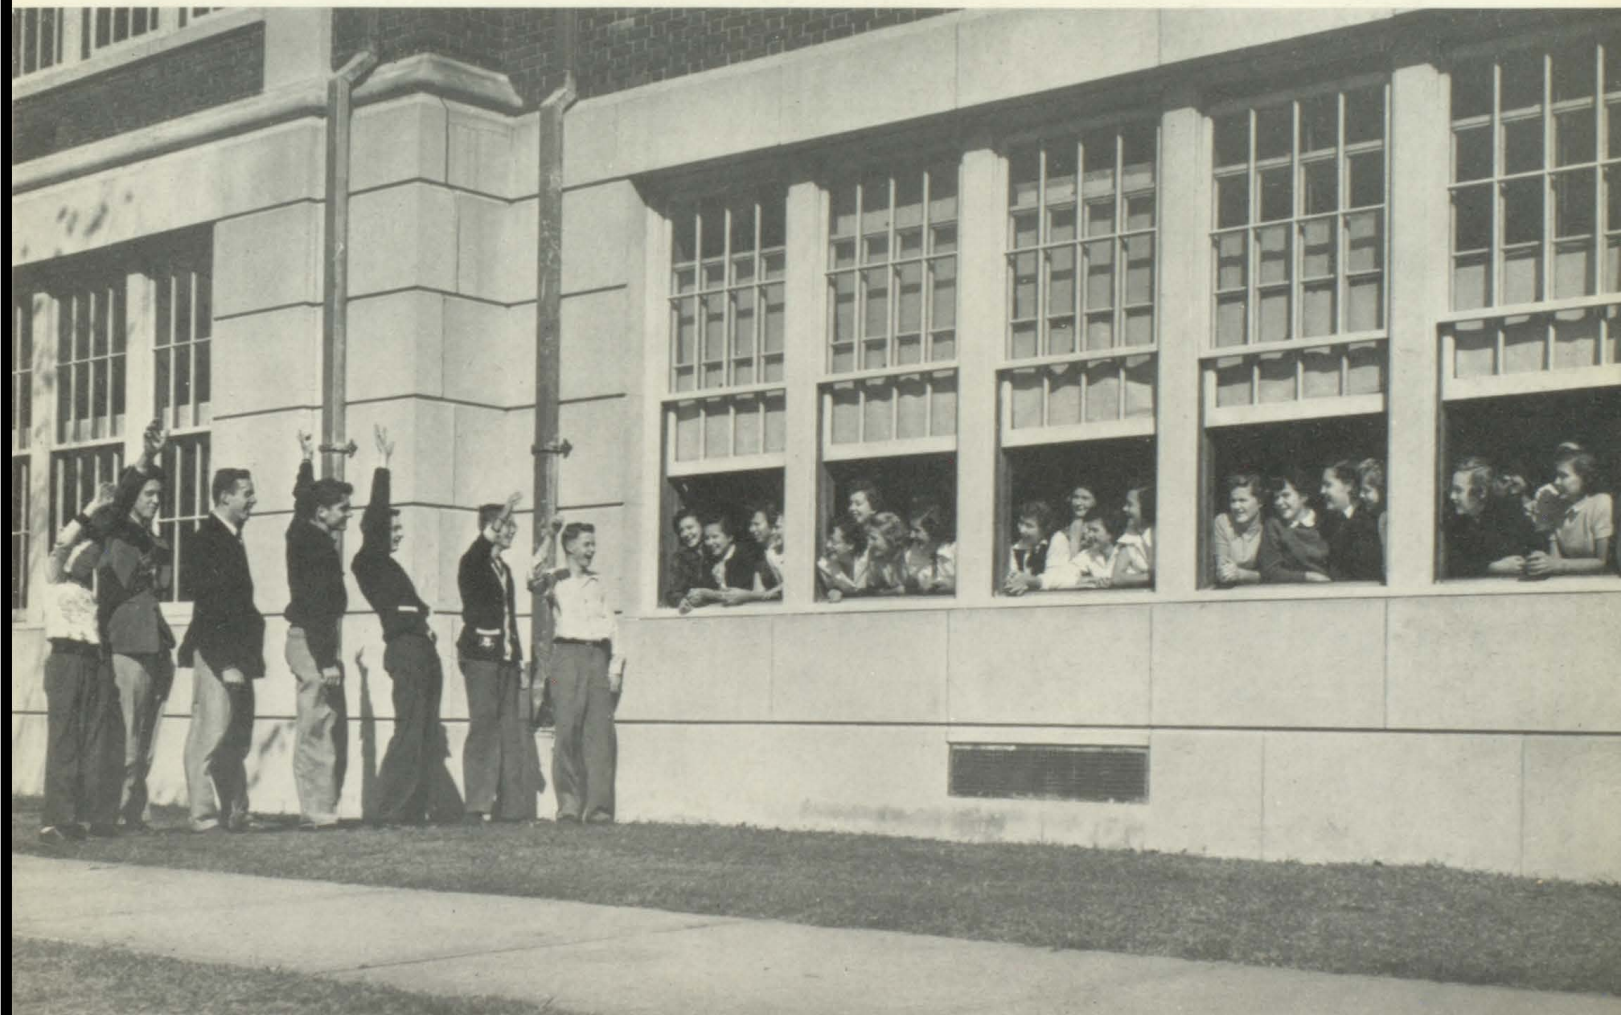

At the suggestion of some of the representatives, a small dance band was formed that has become the source of much fun after the home basketball games. Also on the agenda was a "clean-up campaign to better the conditions of our lockers."

Perhaps it is the thought behind a written word that makes it so much more lasting than a spoken one. To some, this writing is a pleasure; to others, a trial. But it is this combination of energy and ability, that produces our three yearly publications, "The Maroon and White" our yearbook; "The Pilot" our handbook for all the students; and the "Maroon Echo" our school newspaper.

It is surprising that none of the "fledgling" reporters on the Maroon Echo staff have ever been nabbed for the track team. It is they who may be seen tearing through the halls, coat and books flying, trusty pencils high above their heads. This staff, under the guiding hand of Mrs. Smith, is a fine team, bringing all the news of the month to the faculty and students.

Current information about ideals, activities, and rules, is found in a directory appropriately called "The Pilot".

Especially helpful to the Junior High School, this handbook serves as an introduction to Bay Shore High giving an all over picture of the opportunities offered by our school.

As history is made in our school, it is recorded both in photography and in text for the pages of the most lasting of all high school productions, the yearbook. Our Maroon and White is a beautiful leather bound volume, filled with the memories of days and events gone by, and the nostalgia of years that will never be seen again. To us, the members of the graduating class, it holds not only a chapter of our life, but a chapter of Bay Shore High History.

. . . without book worms?

Thriving to attain this goal, members sponsored a drive to promote interest in the G. O. and held two book sales, donating the proceeds to the Community Scholarship Fund.

On the lighter side, the rise of "political parties" will long be remembered along with Mrs. Gimbernat's lessons in practical democracy as the female politicians tried in vain to elect at least one girl officer.

A tutoring program was established to help students that would benefit from extra tutoring. By teaching others, the members realized they could also learn.

Three Charms Have We

An important link in our bracelet is these three social organizations: the Phi Delta Sigma, the Delta Delta, and the Psi Lambda Phi.

Organized to help promote fellowship amongst Bay Shore students, they have added much to the fun and gaiety of this school year.

Who will ever forget the Frat boys flagging down anybody and everybody to "get your football pin now" . . . and the salted nuts they sold, which added so much to the gustatory pleasures of the holidays . . . the DD's with their sprigs of holly on sale . . . the food lists flying around the school as the two sororities prepared their annual holiday baskets for the needy . . . the Duo-Delta square dance, where a penny for each inch of the boy's waist was the admission charge . . . the Duo-Delta sending gifts to the boys in Korea . . . the laughter that rang out from President John's barn as the Frat and Phi D's repaired toys for the poor . . . the carolling of the Frat and the Delta Delta's at the Southside Hospital . . . and the high pressure salesmanship, when, while checking your coat with the Frat, you found yourself buying a basketball pin?

But all is not fun and gaiety for these worthy organizations. The serious side is there, too, as they earnestly set about making their school a better one.

And so it is that we are glad to add these groups to our bracelet, for without them an important part of life at Bay Shore High would be missing.

The fall campaign was highlighted by stellar performances from many new faces to the sports scene as well as the usual crop of returning veterans. The season can be called a building year for the marauders.

The biggest thrill of the fall was the J. V. Football team turned out by Charles Geddes. Fronted by a fighting forward wall and backed by shifty runners, they rolled to an undefeated season. Dick Tennien was the high scorer.

The cross-country squad carried the Maroon and White colors to fourth place in the Suffolk County Meet. Rudy Swigart starred with his great running as he climaxed his cross-country career under Coach Gosier by carrying a berth on the State Champion Squad from section eight. It is said that this squad was the best grouped team since Bay Shore started the sport.

Soccer was highlighted by the increased interest in the student body. The squad finished with a very impressive record as Jack Pengelly was again the main stay of the squad. Jack was named as the number one goalie in the state. Many rookies also spotted the field and gave encouragement to Coach Shaut for future success.

Jack Griffin and Don Schupp climaxed the football season by their being chosen the outstanding players in their respective positions. The gridders found it a tough fight to get on that winning road, but after a shaky start they progressed into a polished, high powered team. The ironmen of the team were Jerry Bjorkman, Ed Reusch, and John Follett.

"HALFBACK, FULLBACK, TACKLE AND GUARD"

Varsity Cheerleaders: Carmel Cornelius, Carmela Guccione, Paula Seider, Honey Harris, Marilyn O'Connell, Elsie Kahn.

On the field, in the gym, before and after school, the girls participate in their favorite sports. Archery, hockey, volleyball, basketball, tumbling, ping-pong, and tennis serve to unite many girls, create many friendships, and to stress always good sportsmanship, and the "fun of playing". To commend the girl who can experience the joy of victory, the anguish of defeat, and still remember the fun of the game itself, there is an award given each year—the "Vanwy Clarkson Award". It is given to the girl who contributes the most and receives the most in her enjoyment of the sport.

All Stages

The time—sometime between September and June. The locale—on stage in the Bay Shore High School auditorium. The scene—one of organization and efficiency, often disguised as chaos and confusion. The cast—stars, the budding Bernhardt and Barrymores of the Dramatic Club. Stagees—the Backstage Club.

Curtain time. The orchestra concludes the overture, lights and voices are lowered, and the finished product of many hours of labor, both manual and mental, by the two clubs is brought forth to seek the approval of the critic who's never wrong—the audience. Linked closer and closer together as the play is forged, the two clubs work in co-operation, almost as one, toward the common goal of pleasing the public. Without the Dramatic Club the backstagers would have no purpose, nothing to do, and, were it not for the Backstage Club, the time required for the thespians to stage a production would be reckoned in months rather than in weeks. Only by participating in their work can one fully realize its magnitude and complexity, or appreciate the spirit of co-operation between them as a program grows from its infancy as an idea, to its maturity as a production. The audience sees only the finished product, and knows all too little of the wonderful prelude to the cry of "Curtain time!".

Linked Interests

Le Cercle Francais and Romani Hodierni, the French and Latin Clubs to those of us who speak only plain everyday American, are very active sources of international atmosphere in our school. In addition to these two, there is a Spanish Club, now only in its infancy, which shows great promise of becoming another important link with our distant neighbors. All these clubs are comprised of language students who have a desire to know more about the people and countries whose language they study than is found in the text books, and they practice the habits and customs of the ancient Romans or the modern Latins, gaining in the process a deeper understanding of the people of other lands.

Interest is transmitted to the student body in general

DOING IT "A LA FRANCAISE"

ROMANS WITHOUT TOGAS

through awards given to outstanding language students and to those in each French class who have made the most progress during the year.

The activities of the French and Latin Clubs are many and varied. Duplications in membership bring the two clubs close together so that the gala French Club dinner at the Chateau Roberto was followed, for many, by one of Miss Hall's renowned Latin Club meetings. The spring picnics held by both clubs are annual highlights, while the dinner that the senior Latin Club members gave Miss Hall this year will be long remembered. Also not to be soon forgotten are John Reiner's gay "French" cartoons! Some of these centered on initiation doings, which are, in both clubs, distinctive.

There can be no doubt that the Romani Hodierni, Le Cercle Francais, and the Spanish Club, advised by Harriet Hall, Julie Franchi, and James Demetrius, respectively, are the spices which add a little foreign flavor to our school life.

Moments with Books

Books, but no bookworms, could be the motto of the Parnassus Club. Under the stimulating guiding hand of Miss Bedell the library has been kept bustling this year, as have the members of the club.

A faculty tea, bulletin displays, cataloguing of books, gala initiations and parties explain the busy spirit of this Club.

Scientifically Yours

The Photography Club and the Science Club are two of the more academic clubs in our school. Both are more or less technical in their work, the Photo Club being concerned with complicated photographic problems and processes, and the Science Club with almost anything of a scientific nature, from vacuums to volcanoes. In addition to the scientific work within the club itself, the Science Club, advised by Mr. Gosier, gives a yearly assembly on some scientific subject.

Although the activities of the Photography Club are necessarily limited by lack of facilities and equipment, plans for a dark-room and increased school activity are to be carried out in the near future. Among its activities, ably supervised by Mr. Howard, were visits to a local photographic laboratory and an annual picnic to Belmont Lake.

Photography Club: Lorraine LaRocca, Raymond Howard, Faculty Advisor; Liz Thurber, Alice Hubbard, Estelle Groffel, Irene Muchin, Marline Wilcox, Joan Abbot, Dottie Monaghan, Laddie Berka, Andrew O'Hara, Barry Tepper, President.

Fams: Marie Schultz, Kay Hagerty, Amelia Mumau, Faculty Advisor; Rose Marie Bauman, Jean D'Agostino.

Gladys Haarmann, Joan Dornsief, Anne Bransford, Marie Schultz, Jean D'Agostino.

Home and Away

With the future always in mind both the Fams and Business Club take a very important place in Bay Shore's social scheme.

While the Business Club creates model secretaries, the Fams are busy becoming model homemakers. At initiation time the fragrance of the Fams' red roses and the pink roses of the Business Club permeate the halls, while, at other times one finds the two clubs hard at work, preparing for a very important future. Lectures by those-in-the-know and discussions of business procedures occupy the Business Club while the Fams are busy selling Christmas cards to finance delegates to the various F.H.A. district and national meetings.

These clubs are symbols of two great forces in our lives—the home and the outside world.

Winter

While Coach Clif Clark's grapplers were annexing the Eastern Long Island Championship, the Maroon cagers were finding it rough going under heavy opposition.

For the Elliottmen it was a chase of everybody trying to beat the champion. After the cagers racked up an early season lead, they were beaten by teams completely out of the running and by teams that they had previously beaten by substantial margins. Arthur Rietmann set five records when he scored 39 points against Babylon.

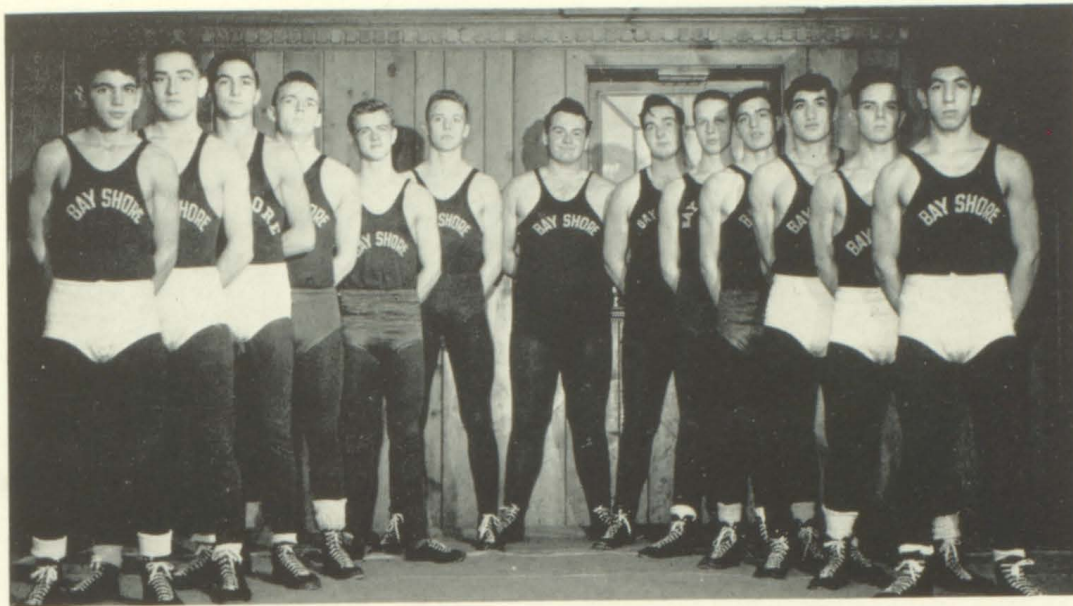

The undersized J. V.'s weren't able to keep up the incredible records of the previous teams but they managed to compile a good record of nine wins against six defeats. The most important thing to remember is that the players beat teams that had beaten them earlier.

HARTCORN'S GOT 'EM ON THEIR TOES

THE LOBBYISTS

Varsity Wrestling: Guy Guccione, Jim Lillis, John Mauro, Charles Elliott, Pete Holtje, Andy O'Hara, Bill Murray, Jack Murray, Ben Kemper, Jumper Leggio, Joe Conti, Jack Morgan, Ben Galan.

The Grapplers were the first Maroon and White team of the year to capture a county championship. They did it by virtue of the fine team spirit exhibited among the boys in the Eastern Long Island Tournament. Although the Clarkmen annexed only three individual championships, they piled up an early lead via pins in the opening rounds.

Guy Guccione, Jumper Leggio, and Jack Murray were winners while Charlie Elliott and Bill Murray were runner-ups. Next to the championship, Coach Clark can be proud that his J. V. team defeated the Mepham J. V. for the first time in his career.

THE MAT BURN KIDS

Bill MacKnight, Judy Koch, Bruce Petty, Jack Pengelly—representing Bay Shore High School at Buffalo All State.

Always striving to add a note of happiness to school life are the orchestra, band, and chorus. Their performances set the mood to many school events such as the Senior Play, informal school dances, and assemblies, as well as their own grand productions, the Christmas Program and Spring Festival.

These are the products of long hours of coaching, interesting sounds from the auditorium and patient coaching from the instructors.

Sport Minded

HANDLE WITH CARE!

Sport Club Officers: Charles Benitez, Gym Club; Glenn Arbour, Rifle Club; Rudy Swigart, Varsity Club; Norma Bruckner, Leaders Club.

FIRE AWAY!

Rifle Club: John Follett, Bill Souh-rada, Glenn Arbour, Richard Smith, Ray Munsell, John Swedborg, Jack Pengelly, Henry Hoeh, George Olsen, Raymond Saker, Faculty Advisor; Otto Murdock, Ronald Vuozzo, Al Lynn.

For many years there were attempts made to organize a school rifle club, but until the spring of 1952 none of them met with much success. Now, after one year, Mr. Saker's club has over thirty members, and fires against such experienced teams as Port Jefferson and Sayville. It has also reached the status of a recognized athletic team, and has received a modern practice range and other equipment from the G. O.

In addition to a full sports program, Bay Shore has two very sports-minded clubs, the Gym Club and the Varsity Club. The Gym Club, under the guidance of Mr. Hartcorn entertains between the halves at basketball games with trampoline and tumbling exhibitions, while the Varsity Club, with Mr. La-Platney and Mr. Elliott as advisors, is very active in the field of sports, carrying out such projects as the boy's cheerleading squad and "Sports on Parade", an exhibition of various school sports planned for next year. A notable effort of the club is the publication of a semi-monthly sports newspaper, including sports articles and a biography of some outstanding athlete or coach. And through the efforts of the Varsity Club, our teams now have a name, "the Marauders."

JUMPING JACKS

Snorts, leather, oats, and sugar—all familiarities to our saddle-loving "equestrians". Distinguished by their colorful emblem, they may frequently be seen cantering along the trail, or through the brush on their many well-organized all-day rides, hikes, and picnics.

Equally athletic minded is our hard working, very efficient Leaders Club. Without the untiring efforts of these girls our many tournaments, and play-days, and especially Sport Night, could not be presented so smoothly or effectively nor so well refereed.

THE "9" IRONS

Golf: John Sullivan, Coach; Stewart McLaughlin, Don Baldwin, William Leitch, Gerry Bjorkman, Alan Huston, Jay Haberl, Frank Griffin, John Hoffman.

Spring

Although the warm air and sounds of early summer are conducive to sleeping, our spring sports teams weren't lying down on the job as is evidenced by their excellent records.

Rapidly gaining prominence as a major sport in Bay Shore is track. The team had a final record of six wins and one loss. The four mile relay team set a new record of 19.47.1. Gene Dyson set a state discus 164'8 $\frac{3}{4}$ ". He also set the County mark in the shot and discus and the County hundred yard dash title.

HIT AND RUN

The Baseball Team did better than average, winding up in second place. The "Bombers" were led from the mound by Don Schupp and Henry Valez. Captain Jerry Snover, Tom Souhrada, and Duke McCulley helped considerably with their consistent hitting.

Though the J. V. Baseball Team lost seven games it must be remembered that four of them were lost by only one run. Much of the team's winning can be credited to "Skip-py" Gerek's pitching and Frank Kaczynski's hitting.

The Golf Team gave its share to Bay Shore's athletic prowess by copping third in the Counties. They did not do too well during the season though. Gerry Bjorkman led the team as number one man.

The Tennis Team following in the footsteps of previous teams retained the County Title. Jim Ford, first man on the team, went as far as the semi-finals in the Section 8 Tournament, while four other boys got to the second round.

Although it was not as impressive as the two previous seasons, the spring season was successful. Much credit can be given not only to the outstanding men but to those whose efforts, though their best, might not have matched those of the record breakers.

CONDUCTORS

Albert Rauscher, Albert Block, R. Penn Miner, Howard Koch.

Music . . . spring . . . Dick Leach's trumpet . . . Joyce Davison's twinkling fingers on the piano. This was 1952's Spring Festival, high lighted by the band's superb presentation of Mr. Ralph DeStefani's original composition "The Maroon and White Victory March". The combined efforts of orchestra, chorus and their subsidiary groups worthily rounded out the program.

Joyce Davison—"Swedish Rhapsody"

Orchestra—"String along"

Chorus—"Sing along"

Congratulations to Captain Maggie Bennett and Co-captain Peg Arnold of the Maroon Team.

Sport Night—1952

Just once every year, the boys move out of their sports limelight and graciously let the girls have the run of the show for the evening. Plans for the 1952 fabulous edition of Girls' Sport Night were laid down early in January when the team captains and co-captains were chosen; Marguerite Bennett and Margaret Arnold for the Maroon Team, and Teddy Carlin and Shirley Steffenson for the White Team.

The Senior High Leaders' Club selected the magical theme of "Fairy Tales" and the teams fell to work planning the grand entrance, cheers, decorations, costumes and button-holing customers for tickets.

When the big night arrived, the beautiful Fairy Tale entrance extravaganzas were unveiled to an audience dazzled by the lovely Cinderella of the Maroon Team and her dashing Prince Charming and their entourage.

Walt Disney's beautiful Snow White accompanied by every one of her seven saucy little dwarfs, enchanted the audience with their antics.

Both teams were evenly matched and the competition in volleyball, basketball, relays, and cheering was spirited but the Maroon Team secured the points that spelled victory and the trophy for 1952.

Junior Prom—1952

The crown adorning our charm bracelet signifies the happy reign of King Neptune and his charming Queen over our marine kingdom that set the scene for the 1952 Junior Prom. Though the music and dancing have ceased and the corsages have wilted, the photographs and favors are the tangible remains of all the splendor.

The royal couple led the dancing, as their Ladies In Waiting—Nancy Lillis, Trudy Cochrane, Madeline Guccione, Kay Ann Drew, Joyce Davison, Pat Santoro, Jean Kirkconnell, Dottie Simpson, Muriel Cutillo, Sandra LaPlatney, Jean Sennes, and Eileen Harris, and Guard of Honor—Jerry Snover, Tom Souhrada, Eddie Allan, Gene Dyson, and John Clarry joined them.

But in our memories it was a night when every girl was queen, and every boy a king.

Junior Variety Show— 1952

The school auditorium was transformed into the Palace Theater, and the school's vaudeville actors anxiously rehearsed their acts as the "pot-pourri" of mirth, under Irmgard Wentzel's excellent guidance, assisted by student director, Irene Berka, got under way.

Remember Dick Simpson, as the famous surgeon . . . the Jacksons and Buddy Barnes as the choraleers . . . Bernie Accardi's imitation of Johnny Ray . . . the comic wrestling match with helpful hints for the squad . . . Jean Kirkconnell as the typical theatergoer . . . Dorfman's original skit . . . suave masters of ceremonies, Ed Reusch and Lenny Rosenthal . . . and the unforgettable sextet of glamorous gals—"Legs" Erali, "Angel" Souhrada, "Dimples" Allan, "Belle" Williamson, "Honey" Snover, and "Wiggles" Farrell?

Seniors We

"On to the Football Week End!"—announced Elsie Kahn to the lovely sweethearts of Bay Shore High as they modeled new fall fashions.

But lo and behold—an innovation! They are actually being met by their beaux, our own boys attired as handsome collegiates!

Meanwhile, the other half of the team, directed by Irene Berka, guarded the cookies from a too eager clean up committee and filled the huge punch bowls to treat the guests at the Card Party.

Ray Ryan's pepsi concession hauls in the dimes.

Charlie conducts Christmas Carol Sing.

Italian Style

"Do we have enough food? . . . Is the spaghetti cooked? . . . Does the tomato sauce taste good? . . . And, please, don't forget the cheese! . . ."

But who creates the meat balls and the sauce? Why our mothers, of course, who take out their favorite Italian recipes and become the famous chefs at the Casa Italiana of '53.

Finally, the date was set, the tickets sold, the cake orders filled, the boys coaxed into "volunteering" for the clean-up committee, and the waiters and waitresses in their crisp outfits ready to serve.

And everything turned out beautifully!

"FOLLOW THE DREAM" PRODUCTION STAFF

Nancy Gifford, Wardrobe Mistress; Margit Torsnes, Assistant; Adele Faber, Prop Manager; Audrey Smith, Prompter; David Burrows, Student Director; Jane Phillabaum, Assistant; Al Lynn, Stage Manager; Carol Lynes, Ticket Chairman; Jay Edwards, Senior Class Treasurer; Pat Dowd, Business Manager; Ushers: Dorothy Sonken, June Guthrie, Jean Cerveney, Irene Berka, Nancy Albanese, Ilona Bergman, Peggy Arnold.

As 1953's senior play, "Follow the Dream" opens, we find Joan Cameron, her mother, and her bridesmaids, preparing for the 'morrow and her wedding. The play progresses, and we find Joan and her father alone, as Joan reveals her indecision. She . . . "can't walk out on a man the day before the wedding . . ."

Joan is sorrowful, for Spike and Ricky have deserted her on the eve of the big June formal and she can see little to laugh at as her brother haphazardly attempts to make himself presentable to pick his date. Time passes on and the three, Spike, Joan, and Ricky, after spending many high school days together, come face to face with the problem of the play. Who will Joan choose? Right now, she chooses no one, and tells the two boys exactly what she thinks of them.

Here we see scenes from one of the biggest events of the year, the senior play. But what of those unseen and unpraised, those who made it possible for the senior thespians to win glory upon the stage? Miss Simpson and Mr. Burns who designed and helped execute the tricky props; Al Lynn, who trained many in the art of quick change of scenery and lights; most of all Miss Minnis, who gave of her time and energy to direct the seniors in this successful performance. Also Mr. McLaughlin who spurred us on when we most needed it and Mrs. Parker who offered invaluable technical advice.

As you view these scenes from the finished production, note not only those who performed on the stage, but those who turned in such a wonderful performance off the stage.

Ricky and Rosita present a spirited tango, while the rest of the cast enthusiastically agree that the Benefit Ball will be a big success. And soon, we see Joan and Ricky, alone and very much together. Has she chosen for keeps? We are kept guessing, even when at the news of her brother's death Joan turns to Spike for support. But, in the final scene of the play, flashbacks over, we see Joan and Spike talk over their differences to find them non-existent, while Ricky returns to find Joan's rival, Kay, waiting for him.

With a series of flashbacks, carried out very cleverly in this modern play, we get to the root of Joan's problem. Joan at fourteen and fresh from Peru, meets Ricky, a Peruvian boy come to the states for an education. Complications enter as do Spike, and his cohorts, following which we see a colorful bullfight between Spike and Ricky, already rivals for Joan's affections.

We will never forget Ricky's cry of "Hola Jaunita" as he climbs in her window to bring her presents, or out to fight the "gringos" who call him "cholo". Nor will we forget Ralph as he rehearses for the War Benefit Ball, later in the play, when the hardships of World War II help the youngsters to grow up and face life.

Class Day.....	Friday, June 5, 1953
Junior-Senior Prom.....	Saturday, June 6, 1953
Commencement.....	Sunday, June 21, 1953

We, the class of 1953, will be the first to find ourselves outside, officially sanctioned, of course, to receive our diplomas. When and where? Sunday afternoon, June twenty-first, on our new athletic field.

We, in our caps and gowns, hearts beating a little faster, sitting dignified and sedate on the field with our proud parents and friends viewing us from the grandstand. There will be a stage and music and all the atmosphere that goes with graduation.

We are looking forward with keen anticipation to this new and exciting experience.

And now the bracelet of our year is nearly complete. All the charms are linked together, and the chain is clasped, to be opened only by memory in the years that lie ahead. All, that is, but one. That one, the most precious of them all we've saved until last, because we think it merits a special place all its own, and we'd like to give it to you, "Neicy," as something to remember us by. None of us who knew you will quickly forget the flashing eyes, the ready laugh, the nimble fingers and the sparkling personality that were you, nor will we forget the low hand that fate dealt to you, and how you played it to the limit—even though you couldn't win.

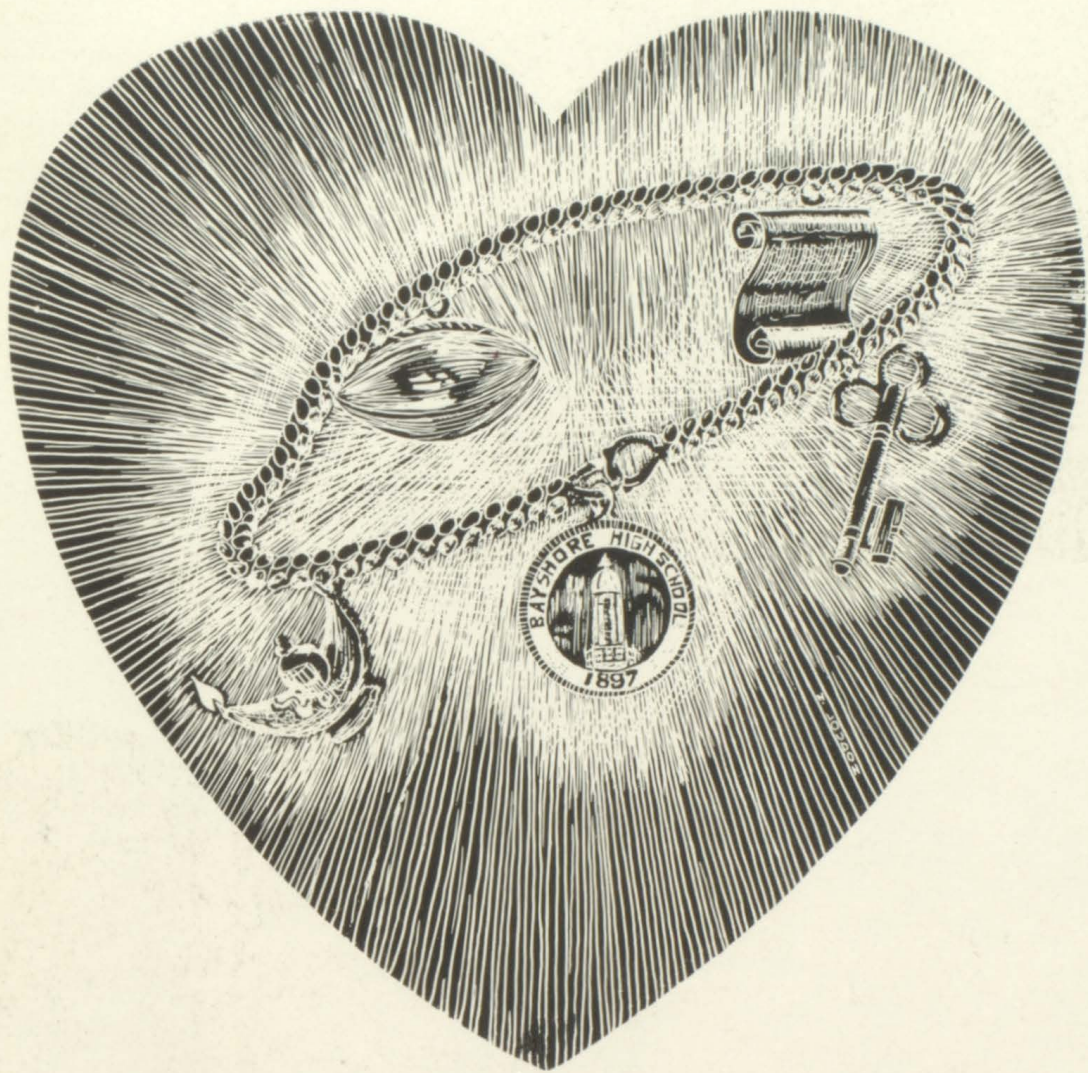

And so we, your classmates and your friends, offer to you this one last charm, our heart—the one that carries with it a little bit of each of us—until we meet again.
