BOOK DISCUSSION: THE LOST BRANCH

(BBA481)

Tuesday, March 3

6:30 P.M.

Presenter Jackie Fischer will describe her story of how she discovered her lost branch of her family tree. Her book is a poetic journey through the immigration process of long ago, the Italian culture past and present and how roots can be strong even though 100 years have passed. It is a multi-generational story that teaches us about what happened to two brothers that were separated at Ellis Island a long time ago. Audience participation is encouraged. Please share your story of immigration and family culture. As a culinary and cultural bonus, Chef Dr. Robert Dell'Amore, of The Power of Food Productions, will be serving a delicious, nutritious and totally Italian/Mediterranean appetizer course for you to sample and enjoy: mushroom, fig, and balsamic glaze bruschetta.

DISPLAYS

JANUARY

Inside Showcase:

"WithinsanitY" - Artist Michael McNerney displays his original abstract art. "The most courageous act is to think for yourself". Enjoy!

Outside Showcase:

The Pilot Club of Sayville will be exhibiting an informative display about Brain Awareness. We invite you to enjoy this detail oriented display.

Gallery:

This artwork on exhibit, by Steve Terr, covers a wide range of media and subject matter, from work done using a graphic tablet, to more traditional mediums such as pen & pencil, watercolor, acrylic and casein paint and collage. His photographic work includes traditional photography and photographic montage.

FEBRUARY

Inside and Lobby Showcases:

In honor of Black History Month, the Library showcases will feature books, photos and artwork from Bay Shore resident and Library Board Trustee Elder Frances Bell.

Gallery:

Alicia's signature - the amniotic sac is essential to the meaning of her work. It is a potent metaphor for the bubble that shields each woman from the blows of a complex society. Alicia Ray's work features women with stiff demeanors, bold colors, and other arranged elements that represent the holding patterns women have been in for far too long AND Veronica Mason is a self-taught, multifaceted artist with a passion for telling visually expressive stories through her work. She thrives to create art that speaks to the minds and spirits of the viewer. What's important is not telling you what to see, but listening to colorful interpretations when you look at her work.

MARCH

Gallery and Showcases:

The Bay Shore Public Schools have been displaying the students artwork for over 30 years. The elementary schools, grades K-2, will be first up. Come and be amazed!
