Foreword

A day without a memory is a sad one. Let this book light up some future hour with reminiscences of school hours and school acquaintances as the lighthouse throws out its friendly beam across the turbulent waters. This yearbook of the Class of 1938 is made with the hope that the cherished memories here enclosed may live on.

Dedication

With gratitude for their friendly counsel and personal interest in us, with respect for their qualities as teachers, and with admiration for them who represent an ideal, we, the Class of 1938, dedicate this record of our school life to Miss Mary M. McCall and Mr. Clifton A. La Platney.

ENGINEERS HOLD FIFTH REUNION BANQUET

*Many Prominent Men Speak;
Mr. David Edwards Presided*

Yesterday marked the fifth reunion banquet of the 1946 engineering graduating class of Cornell University. The reunion was held at the Hotel Park Central and was attended by some of the country's foremost engineers.

The committee in charge consisted of Mr. Charles MacDonald, head civil engineer of New York City, and Mr. Walter Shutt, city engineer of Philadelphia. The two men were secretary and treasurer, respectively, of their class.

Mr. David Edwards, a geological engineer, was the toastmaster. The guests of honor included Mr. Thomas Danes, civil engineer for the United States government and former president of the class; Mr. Stanley Hafele, aeronautical engineer; and Mr. Austin Boyd, chemical engineer.

During the after-dinner speech of Mr. Walter Thornberg, managing engineer of General Motors, a waiter tripped over the chair of Mr. Robert Ufer, also a General Motors engineer, and as a result a dinner plate fell into the lap of Mr. Frederick Jacob, a mining engineer of Pennsylvania. However, Mr. Jacob gave a talk and showed motion pictures on mining in Pennsylvania, undisturbed by his spotted tuxedo.

LOCAL GIRLS RUN WILD IN SMALL TOWN

The usual peace and quiet of Ezreburg, New York, was broken today by a group of radical young women headed by Miss Patricia Black. The police, it was discovered, have had trouble before with Miss Black. The trouble in Ezreburg began about 9:00 in the morning when one of Miss Black's henchmen, Miss Edith Edelman, grabbed a passer-by, William Courtney, osteopath, doctor, lawyer, and head of the school board of Ezreburg, and demanded whether he was satisfied with being buried alive in a little hick town like Ezreburg. A fight ensued and a crowd gathered. Miss Black then arrived and took charge and started her own cam-

SCADUTO PICKS FIRST ALL-WOMAN JURY

*Schmitzler vs. Pike and Phillips vs. Miles
First Cases on the List*

Justice Victor Scaduto decided upon and has recently selected his new all-woman jury, which will consist of Ann Olsen, one of Inspector Charles Ruetiman's stenographers; Myra Reeve, personal secretary to Albert Suttmeier, the brilliant politician one hears orating about the

CASE OF TAP DANCER BAFFLES POLICE

Broadwave's tap dancer, Eric Costello, disappeared on Sunday. He was last seen wearing a brown herringbone suit, brown sport shoes, and a brown fedora.

John Beaman, sports editor of Noseybones, was the last known person to have seen Costello. Mr. Beaman's statement was as follows: "I last saw my friend Eric getting a shoe shine. He seemed to be in a daze."

The Snoopy Secret Service, headed by Robert Johns, is investigating this baffling case. If anyone has any information concerning Mr. Costello, please telephone the Snoopy Secret Service immediately.

Bus Drivers' Strike Peaceably Settled

During the Greyhound bus drivers' strike, driver John Frieman accused mechanic George Kellerman of short-circuiting the wires of his bus, thus causing a fire which endangered the lives of passengers. Miss Anne Ladman, designer, Miss Catherine Marshall, owner of an exclusive Fifth Avenue dress shop, and Miss Marcene Hofmeister, lawyer, were on the bus at the time.

Charges were dropped the next day as it was proved that the defective wiring was an accident.

paign against hick towns. Mr. Harry Doxsee, owner of the butcher store in front of which the riot took place, phoned the police and Miss Black and her followers, the Misses Dorothy Costello, Elmore Duryea, Marge Elliott, and Edith Edelman, were taken to court where they were all sentenced to fifty days in the town jail.

countryside; Jane Smith, a shoe designer; Harriet Steingart, buyer for Bay Shore High School's textbooks; Frances Strnad, private secretary to Forrest Reeve, the florist; and Dorothy Swezey, a public accountant.

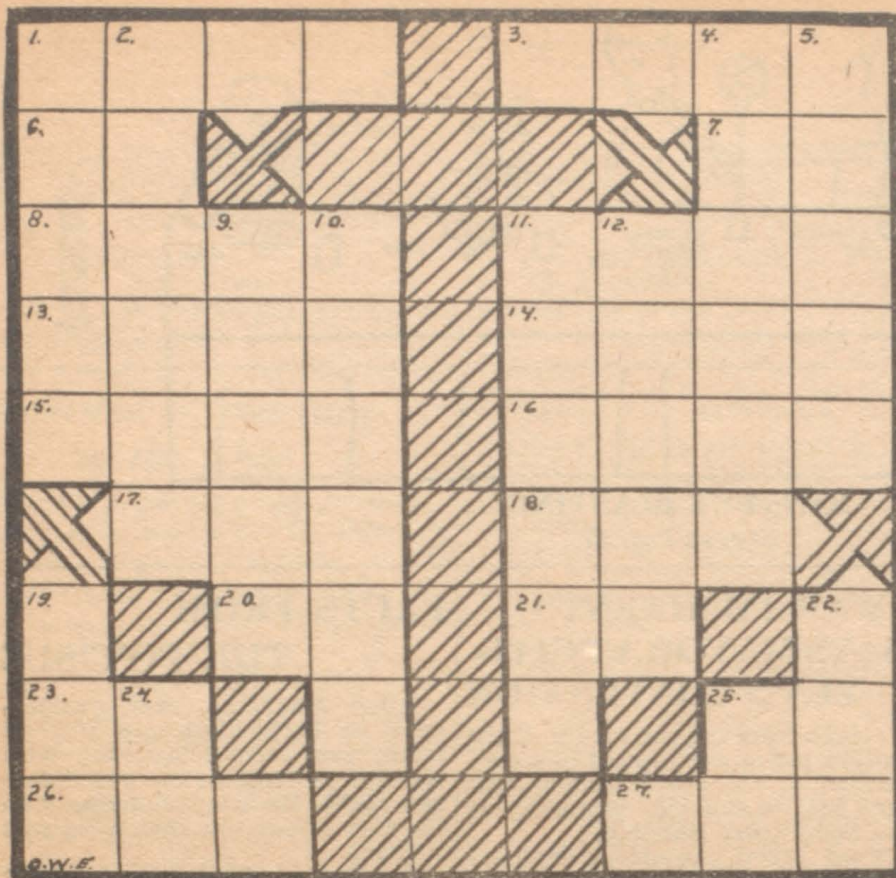

The first case to be heard by this jury is that of Edward Schmitzler versus Virginia Pike. Mr. Schmitzler, a chemist, is suing Miss Pike, a dietitian, for ordering sodium chloride put in his soup.

The second case listed is that of Phillips versus Miles. Logan Phillips, a Sandy Hook pilot, was driving his friend Warren Miller to the State Teachers' Convention held at Bay Shore, New York, when Miss Elaine Miles's auto collided with his car. Miss Miles, a Latin teacher at Bay Shore High School, escaped injury; whereas Mr. Phillips and Mr. Miller received minor lacerations. The question of who was to blame has arisen and must be settled.

BUSINESS GIRLS PLAN Taming of the Shrew

The Business Girls' Club of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York is planning to present a benefit performance of The Taming of the Shrew. It will be held August eighteenth at the Music Hall, Radio City. Co-chairmen of the affair are the Misses Laura Fischer, secretary to the president, and Arvilla Ketcham, secretary to the treasurer. Miss Anne Graybosch, secretary of the filing department, is in charge of the publicity. Miss Edith Hasse, stenographer, has charge of the tickets. Miss Cecelia Lewandowski, bookkeeper, is the business manager, and the Misses Mildred Maasch and Dorothy Kelly, teachers at Miss Dorsay's School on Fifth Avenue, will assist with the costumes and make-up.

HUMOR

Hank Chester: John, will you ever learn anything about geometry? Maybe if the book was written in a different language you could understand it.

John Donnelly: I'd never thought of that.

"Frequent water drinking," says the specialist, "prevents you from becoming stiff in the joints."

Yes, but suppose some of the joints don't serve water.

Mr. Gatje: Well, what did you do when you heard the boy using vulgar language?

Miss Franchi: I told him he had no right around decent people and I brought him in to you.

Mr. La Platney: What's the difference between a pill and a hill?

Ken Rothwell: A pill is hard to go down.

A hill is hard to go up.

Meathead: May I hold your hand?

Nancy: Why? It's not Palm Sunday.

Prof: Johnny, can you define nonsense?

Frosh: An elephant hanging over a cliff with his tail tied to a daisy.

Foo: Why would Andy make a good bridegroom?

Goo: Because he's the Mary Ann type.

THE SOCIAL SWIM

The Right Rev. Edward Dominy and Mrs. Dominy have finally started on a well-deserved vacation trip to the Bahamas. They will be gone for two months.

Miss June Allen, author of Pet Fleas, entertained her well-known European friend, Lady de Bucher, at the Waldorf-Astoria last evening. After dinner the two celebrities went to the Imperial Theater to see that much talked about play, Airtight, by Raymond Mallett, of Chicago.

Palm Springs, Sun Valley, or some other fashionable resort is usually the place in which socially prominent people spend the summer months. But not Mr. Franklin Jeffrey, of New York's social set. He is planning to sail for Iceland on the twenty-fourth of this month. Mr. Jeffrey claims that the heat here during the summer months affects him. He will join Dr. Andrew Fortunato, who is experimenting with the huge icebergs in Reykjavik, Iceland.

Miss Frances Tuttle, noted geologist and writer on the subject, has started teaching geology in Hunter College, New York.

Miss Phyllis Dunham, secretary to Mayor Algetudia, announced her engagement yesterday to Junior Algetudia.

Miss Margaret McCormick, famous scientist, has volunteered her aid in helping track down the ring of gangsters responsible for the robbery of $50,000 worth of instruments, bonds, and jewels from the home of Miss Antoinette Cacioppo, wealthy doctor of Chicago and New York. Alfred Evans, head of the G-Men, and Franklin Chase, New York's super sleuth, are already at work on the case.

HELP WANTED

WANTED: A capable, middle-aged man to fill the vacancy of the fifteenth vice-president; salary $15,000 to start.

J. H. Coen and Company, 1 Wall Street, New York, N. Y.

Fan: Yes, I have finally made up my mind that I am to become a member of the L.O.P.H.

Tan: The L.O.P.H.? What organization is that?

Fan: Left On Papa's Hands.

Judith Colvin: I want a dozen eggs, but make sure that there are no chickens in them.

Albert Suttmeier: Well, how about a dozen duck eggs?

Miss Franchi (to room 16): I'll have you know that our school leads in illegal excuses.

Bert Furey: Great work, boys! Keep it up.

Signed this first day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight.

 RALPH MORRIS
Attorneys at Law

Another wreath of glory was bestowed on the Senior Class of 1938 when it presented its play, The Patsy, on November nineteenth. The play, a former Broadway hit, was capably directed by Mr. Walter Bennett.

The plot centers around Patsy, the underdog of the Harrington household. For years the socially minded mother and elder daughter had ruled the family. Grace, the daughter, always got the prettiest clothes and the most attention. Patsy and her father were just something to be tolerated. Grace is loved by Tony Anderson and Billy Caldwell, but she is engaged to Billy. Patricia is in love with Tony and finally, after a series of amusing incidents, Patricia wins Tony and establishes her father as master of the house.

Ann Ladman, who played the rôle of Patsy Harrington, carried it off with grace and charm. Mr. Harrington, played by John Frieman, star of many other comedies, portrayed his rôle of a traveling salesman and father to perfection. Kenneth Rothwell interpreted the part of Tony Anderson, the love interest, with rare understanding. Judith Colvin, in the rôle of Mrs. Harrington, was so realistic that she was almost hissed off the stage. The part of the elder sister, Grace, was done with unusual finesse by Patricia L. Black.

In the slinky character of Sadie Buchanan, Louise Battle was very adept, and the portrayal of the burly taxi driver by Logan Phillips brought many laughs. Bert Furey as Mr. Patrick O'Flaherty was complete even to an Irish brogue.

As well as beating previous financial records, The Patsy proved to be a dramatic highlight in the career of the Senior Class of 1938.

Commencement

No carefree mind was his; not eagerly
Did he await his turn to face the world.
His wearied eyes still rested on the troubles of mankind—
Its struggles and trials and doubts would soon be his.
He feared each fleeting hour—each passing day
Brought closer to the end than the beginning.
No vivid "to be" pictures played his fancy,
The stark and naked truth was in his grasp;
He saw the sufferings, failures and disasters
As later to become his very own.
No gleaming paths of glory beckoned onward;
No burning fire of youth was in his veins.
He viewed the earth in all its wretched warfare
And killed commencement in a sheet of flames.

Then, with closed eyes in the warm summer night.
A dream unfurled a clime of loveliest air,
Bathed in the warmth of sunlight's fiery gleam.
Far out amidst blue wastes of sea and sky
With slow, relentless sweep a ship moved on,
Calm and unmoved by sorrows of this world.
Lone wanderer to hail far-distant ports
Whose very harbors thronged with mast and sail.
Ship singular, a strange and symbolized craft,
Unwearied by the quivering sea's unrest.
He saw upon the beach a youthful builder
Of castles in the sand too near the tide
Which soon would rise and wash away his efforts,
And yet the child built on and on with pride.

Then, as the vision faded, dawn awakened
And found an eager maker of tomorrows
Who had a manner that attested wholly
The charm of youth that held to true ambition;
Keen perseverance and an agile mind
That showed his wise devotion to the highest;
Uncompromising strength and well shaped character
That told the excellence for which he stood.
Now on Commencement Day when he looks down
He'll surely scan the earth with eager eye,
Not for the worst, but for the best.
And prove, beyond all doubt, life's greatest problems
Are but the step-stones to a higher grade;
He'll herald forth each day, each month, each year—
The endless, surging rhythm of his youth—
In color, in fire, and brilliance; ever striving
To learn the language of a better world.

Castle of Ideals

My thoughts now wander to a distant shore;
To some standing relics from the days of yore
That were once thought hidden forevermore.

There's a fine old castle standing on a hill
With a firm foundation known as friendship still,
And its barriers broken by the force of will.

Suddenly slow murmurings break my dreams
As a sword comes swirling down golden dreams
About the castle, and the edged sword gleams.

On the rapier's hilt shines a true life star
Of courage and faith that in friendship are
The guiding hands reaching out afar.

My mortal dreams have ceased to wander,
Leaving me only these thoughts to ponder:

If the golden streams could be forded by courage,
And the shore be reached through the realms of faith,

Would not one have a firm grasp on the hilt
Of the sword that once floated alone out in space?

And fearless with sword in hand climb the foundation
Of friendship, and enter in spite of all strife,
To tread in silent, lasting memory up the stairway of Life.

The governing body of the General Organization, composed of home room, organization, and athletic representatives, has terminated another successful year under the guidance of John Frieman, President.

To insure a sounder financial state, a budget was planned and successfully carried out. The budget, one of the most outstanding accomplishments of the Board of Control, has proved to be a beneficial precedent for future governing boards.

Some of the events of the year which have aided the finances of the G.O. were the magazine subscription campaign, football and basketball games, and the G.O. Dance. The Vodvil Show which was held May 13 was both a dramatic and financial success and was a fitting climax to the year's activities.

Board of Control

G. O. Vaudeville Show

Reverting to a custom of several years ago, the General Organization presented a vaudeville show as its musical production this spring. For the past three years musical comedies have been presented, the two most notable having been "Good News" and "Follow Thru." This year, however, because of the rather prohibitive royalties which these plays demand, it was decided to produce another vaudeville show.

A very successful show was the result of many weeks of rehearsal, a show which pleased a capacity crowd at the Fifth Avenue auditorium on May thirteenth, and which did much to aid the financial welfare of the General Organization. Mr. Moreland, director of these shows since 1933, was again at the helm, and the dancing was supervised by the ever-willing Mrs. Ann Donnelly.

Several Seniors who had appeared previously in other G.O. Shows or in the Senior Play made their last stage appearance. Most notable of these was probably John Frieman who climaxed a brilliant four years of dramatic work with another typically fine and humorous performance.

Eric Costello topped off many years of dancing in this annual production with some more clever "hoofing." Ann Ladman was up to her standard in a humorous skit with John Frieman which dealt with the quarrels of a pair of newly-weds. Patricia Black and Richard Tongue were excellent in another comedy sketch, while Judith Colvin, Catherine Marshall and Kenneth Rothwell did well in still another.

Perhaps the comedy hit of the evening was the famous one-act play "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," dramatized by Andrew Melton, Dave Edwards, Thomas Danes and Ralph Morris. Another good act was the ladies' court room scene which featured Barbara Roth, Louise Battle, Edith Edelman, and the dancing ability of Millicent Donnelly and Audrey Schreyer.

Among those participating in the musical end of the G.O. Show were Florence Archetti, Helen Weglowski, Virginia Watts, Susan Jackson, Ethel Johnathan and Phyllis Dunham. Joyce Andrews, Doris Speidel, Shirley Cowan, Virginia Pike, Valerie Leyrer, Dorothy Harrison, Rose Wells, Josephine Moddero and Herb Mills sang also.

An exhibition of the "Big Apple" had the audience practically trucking in the aisles. Those who "Suzy-Q'ed" and "Peeled the Apple" were Barbara Woodward, Barbara Roth, Barbara Wells, Jane Ahearn, Audrey Schreyer and Mary Louise Way.

Those aforementioned, as well as those who also did their share before the footlights and in back of the scenery, deserve a great deal of credit for having made this year's G.O. Show another smashing success.

Organized in 1929, the Maroon Echo has had eight successful years under able leaders and staffs. This year's staff of thirty-five members was headed by Kenneth Rothwell, editor-in-chief, Louise Batlle, senior associate editor, and June Freeman and Nina Carlin, junior associate editors.

In addition to being a member of the National Scholastic Press Association and of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, the Maroon Echo again received a third class high honor rating at the convention held on March 10, 11, and 12 by the Columbia Press Association at Columbia University. Mr. Moreland, faculty advisor, Kenneth Rothwell, Louise Batlle, June Freeman, Margaret Killeen, and Frances Tuttle attended this convention. Last year the paper received first class honor rating in the National Scholastic Press Association.

The Maroon Echo benefit game, an annual occurrence, held for the purpose of raising funds for the paper, featured this year the Bay Shore Varsity Basketball Team against St. John's Prep of Brooklyn and our Junior Varsity against the Faculty Team. St. John's defeated Bay Shore 25-20, but the Jayvees beat the faculty 35-26 in a thrilling game.

The year was ended by a June issue which concerned the Seniors and their activities throughout the year.

Phi Delta Sigma

Five years ago a group of girls organized the Phi Delta Sigma to promote friendship and scholarship among the girls of the school.

Each year ten girls receive the honor of being admitted into the sorority. The initiates of this past year were Betty Beaman, Jean Drake, Florence Schehl, Alice Lipp, Eleanor Dumper, Helen Tenca, Audrey Ross, June Owen, Lois Hayward, Catherine Marshall and Miss Mary M. McCall who was made an honorary sister.

An annual affair of the Phi Deltas is their Mid-Winter Prom which was held this year on February 21 at the Timber Point Club. Two rummage sales, one in the fall and the other in April, were other successful affairs run by the girls.

As a fitting conclusion for each year, the members select the Senior who, in their estimation, has contributed the most to the sorority. Her name is engraved with the year of her graduation on a silver loving cup. Last year, Catherine McCormick received this honor.

The Delta Deltas have certainly kept the air humming with the variety of their numerous activities this year.

In September the membership was greatly increased by the initiation of the following sixteen new members: Judith Colvin, Virginia Watts, Arvilla Ketcham, Geraldine Kirkup, Juanita Andrews, Jane Atchison, Frances Herne, Jean Weder, Audrey Schreyer, Ann Palmer, Dorothy Delemarre, Muriel Carley, Janet Carlson, Virginia Linthwaite, Ruth Hubbard, and Janet Wood.

Farther along in the year a rummage sale was held which proved very profitable. During December a joint meeting was held with the Phi Delta Sigma, the friendly rivals.

A Bingo Party held in February and a Spring Dance held April 19 at the Timber Point Club finished the club activities for the year.

As a tribute to Miss Speight, a faculty advisor, the D.D.'s gave a shower for her at the home of Dorothy Delemarre on May 19. Miss Speight will be married in the fall to Mr. Grover Bela, a Bay Shore High graduate of the class of 1931.

After winding up last season's activities with a dance at the Shoreham in August, the Alpha Iota chapter of Omega Gamma Delta started this year's activities in October by initiating Charles Frieman, James Ravenscroft, George Hafele, Thomas Young, Edward Furey and Kenneth Rothwell. Then came the annual dance at Timber Point on November 26 which celebrated the ending of the football season and the beginning of the basketball season.

In December, Thomas Danes was admitted, thus bringing the number of new members up to seven. In March a play, "Friday, the Thirteenth," was presented at the Fifth Avenue School for the benefit of the General Organization. This entire production, coached by Mr. Moreland, was done by the fraternity brothers. The annual convention of Omega Gamma Deltas was held at Asbury Park in April and many members of the local chapter attended.

In the spring six new brothers were added to the ranks. They were as follows: Walter Schick, Robert Forster, John Maynard, Edward Raven, Jack Courtney and Kempton Hastings. The fraternity, with George H. Gatje, Lloyd Moreland, Clifton A. LaPlatney, Ralph Elliott and Raymond V. Chester of the faculty as honorary brothers, is one of the most active organizations in the high school.

During the year the club added the following members: Margaret MacKillop, John Frieman, Ina Schlimbaum, James Melton, Gertrude Thurber, and Mr. Bennett as a faculty advisor.

Several social meetings have been held during the year and the members went riding about once a week.

Organized on March 14, 1936, this group of "Modern Romans" has progressed rapidly. To carry out its purpose of creating a more thorough knowledge of Roman customs and language and to help students understand the value of Latin better, many laudable projects have been made by the members.

The annual fall picnic at Heckscher State Park numbered first among its social activities. Initiations of new members were held in October and February, the formal initiation being conducted in true Roman fashion.

Christmas was celebrated by a party at which much of the program was in Latin. Lavish decorations and exhibitions which were made by the members added to the holiday spirit.

A Spring picnic and other minor activities completed a commendable program for the year.

Several years ago the Arts Guild was organized to create a greater interest in the arts. At the meetings the members often entertain guest speakers who give talks on one of the four phases of the club work, drama, literature, painting and music. The speakers for this year included Miss Simpson and Mr. Burns of the faculty who spoke on art, Miss Simmons of the Bay Shore Library who spoke on literature, and Mr. William Faversham, retired actor, who spoke on drama.

Continuing their work in drama, the club presented a play, "A Sign Unto You," by Jean Lathim at the Christmas assembly program and for other groups in the community. The play was coached by Mr. Bennett, the faculty advisor of the guild, and the members who took part were Ralph Morris, Jean Adams, Margaret Killeen, Thomas Young, and June Freeman.

To strengthen its financial condition the club gave a football-rally dance on November 29, the night before the last football game. The grand finale was a scavenger hunt held in the late spring.

A relatively new club which has steadily been climbing upward is the Parnassus Club. Composed entirely of girls, it was organized four years ago for the purpose of creating an interest in library work.

Meetings are held in the library every other Thursday afternoon. After the business is discussed, a social meeting is held. The members, instead of paying dues, must work one period a week in the library helping Miss Larbey, the faculty advisor.

In order to raise funds for the General Organization, the club gave a silver tea in January. The guest speaker was Miss Elizabeth Simmons, librarian of the Bay Shore Public Library, who gave an interesting talk on "Escapist Literature."

As a conclusion to each year, the last meeting is devoted to entertaining the departing Senior members.

Home Arts Club

This year the Home Arts Club has enjoyed one of its most active and successful seasons. The group has made considerable progress in instilling in its members a greater enjoyment of domestic science as well as promoting friendly feeling among its members and upholding the traditions of the high school.

Organized in 1933, the club continues to reward successful girls in Home Economics by membership, the qualifications being special skill in both needle and skillet.

Some of the activities of 1937-38 were various fudge sales, an annual picnic, cookie sales, and formal and informal initiations. The main event of the year was, however, the yearly trip to New York City during the month of May.

The Commercial Club may proudly look back on a very successful year. Under the able guidance of Mr. Bittner, it has become one of the leading school organizations.

Florence Archetti was hostess to a Hallowe'en party at which new members were admitted. The members were the guests of Mr. Bittner at a Christmas party.

Some of the club's outstanding events were a roller skating party at Mineola, an annual spring picnic at Belmont State Park, and various contests held during the regular meetings.

Mr. Johnson, a new member of the faculty, showed pictures of his travels through England to an interested group of Commercial students.

Credit should be given to Mr. Bittner for the way he has organized and conducted the Commercial Club through its sixth year of existence.

Poster Club

To be original is the keyword of all poster makers, and this semester found unmistakable originality in the unique presentation of the "Penny Carnival" which was sponsored by the Poster Club on February 19 at the Fifth Avenue School. The proceeds of this unusual affair were given to the General Organization.

Meetings are held once a week in the Fourth Avenue School. As the name implies, this club spends its time making posters. For a small charge the group will make attractive advertisements for other organizations.

Picnics, initiations of new members and meetings made up the social side of this club's activities for 1937-1938.

Bay Shore High School, among its other musical organizations, has a band of which it is very proud. Under the able direction of Mr. Harry Chapman, the school has seen the band grow both in size and ability. It is composed of thirty boys and one girl.

The band, which participates in many affairs, is always warmly received. Besides playing in assembly programs, it contributes to the football spirit by its spirited selections at football games.

On April twelfth of this year, the band participated in a Spring Concert at Fifth Avenue School. It also played at the Music Festival held at Northport on May sixth. The playing of Bay Shore High's Alma Mater or a familiar march makes us realize that the band is part of the tradition that goes with every school.

Under the direction of Mr. Clifford Ormsby, the Girls' Glee Club, a comparatively new organization, has progressed rapidly. Composed of thirty girls, the chorus meets twice weekly.

Besides singing in numerous assembly programs, the girls participated in the annual Spring Concert held April twelfth. They also sang on May sixth in the Central Long Island Music Festival in which many other schools took part. Many times the club sings for private groups among which are the Music Lovers' Club of Brightwaters, the hospital, and school clubs and affairs.

The Boys' Glee Club has contributed much to the entertainments which the students of Bay Shore High have enjoyed in the past two years.

Mr. Harry Chapman, the present faculty advisor, officially organized the group in 1935. Among the Glee Club's activities for this year was a recital given for the South Shore Women's Club. The Club also participated in the annual Spring Concert held April twelfth.

The Music Club, an organization which includes all other branches of the music department, was formed this year with the support of the Glee Club. The purpose of the Music Club is to promote general interest in music in the high school and in the community.

Our present school orchestra has been in existence for three years under the direction of Mr. Clifford Ormsby. During those years it has willingly played and filled in for assembly programs. If a weird introduction or atmosphere was needed to help make a play successful, the orchestra created the right mood by the playing of an appropriate selection.

Among the more notable appearances that the orchestra makes every year are those including the Senior play, Class Day and Commencement. Every year the musical organizations of our school give a concert in which the orchestra plays an important part. At Huntington, in May, our orchestra participated in the Central Long Island Music Festival.

The Debate Team in its eight years of existence has not won many debates but has surpassed itself in energy and good sportsmanship.

Mineola and Bellmore were defeated by our debaters but they bowed to Lindenhurst, Baldwin, and Port Jefferson. They also lost to Peekskill, a boys' preparatory school which was a newcomer to the schedule.

Resolved: That the several states should amend the Constitution to provide for unicameral legislature, was the topic debated. The team was composed of Charles Gruenberg, Margaret Killeen, June Freeman, Betty Jane Beaman, John Mace, Sylvia Feuerstein, and Harriet David with Miss M. McCall and Mr. E. Smith of the faculty as their advisors.

The last debate of the season went a bit unconventional as it was on the humorous side. The question debated was Resolved: That women motorists should be prohibited.

The schedule was as follows:

February	17	Lindenhurst
	18	Peekskill
March	8	Mineola
	10	Port Jefferson
	21	Baldwin
	23	Baldwin
	31	Bellmore
April	7	Mephram High, Bellmore

Freshman Club

Organized in 1934 by Mr. Rogers, the Freshman Club has greeted Freshmen for the past four years. The purpose of the club is to enable the Freshmen to become better acquainted with their classmates and the school. The new members are admitted in October and February. Due to the illness of Mr. Smith, the welcoming party for the second group was not held until after Easter vacation this year.

Two parties were given for the members in November and January as well as the initiations which caused numerous comments as the Freshmen were required to do very strange things. There are approximately thirty members in the club.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleading squad was probably not only the largest Bay Shore ever had but also one of the best.

Over twenty-five candidates reported to Mr. Moreland, coach of the squad, for tryouts early last fall and no less than fifteen of these were retained.

Frances "Toots" Tushenske, veteran of four years of cheerleading, was head cheerleader. Other veterans on the squad were Jane Ahearn, Barbara Woodward, Barbara Wells, Barbara Roth, Virginia Wyatt, Millicent Donnelly, Muriel Allen and Audrey Wills.

The newcomers included Jean Dill, Mary Rogers, Barbara Ward, Ellen Grampp, Jack Costello and Joseph Barabino.

During the basketball season particularly, the squad performed cleverly and enthusiastically. They specialized in formation yells and special routines which earned much praise.

The cheerleaders are to be commended, too, for their uniforms. When the G.O. decided it could not afford any money for the cheerleaders, they purchased their own uniforms and were one of the best dressed squads in our league.

Since only Frances Tushenske and Jean Dill will be lost this year by graduation, prospects for a fine group of cheerleaders next winter seems very promising.

At the outset of the football season the Maroon squad seemed to be headed for a very successful season. At least it was the consensus of the various sport fans in the school that with seven or eight lettermen returning from last year's team and several good men to fill the posts vacated by Lowe, Malchuski and Young, that the eleven was set to go to town. However, they were disappointed for, as the curtain rang down on the finale of another season, the record read:

Won	Lost	Tied

Football

Throughout the season the Maroon was alternately good or bad. At Riverhead and Huntington the Maroon displayed its finest brand of football. The highly favored County Seaters were held to a scoreless tie and later in the season Bay Shore upset a strong and previously unbeaten Huntington eleven by a 7-2 count. We hit bottom when Southampton decisively swamped the Maroon with a 46-0 score.

TINTYPES OF THE GAMES

Starting off the season with a scoreless tie with the Alumni and a 13-0 defeat by Stony Brook, the Maroon showed little power and evidence of what was to come later.

Then against the big red team from Amityville, the Maroon threatened to break the long string of undefeated games of which Amityville so proudly boasted, but threw away its scoring chance and bowed 6-0.

Outplaying a favored Riverhead team but again failing to score, the Maroon added to its record a scoreless tie.

On October 23 Bay Shore scored its inaugural victory of the season by burying Sayville, 42-6. Schmitzler pushed across three touchdowns and was the spearhead of the Maroon attack. Moddero teamed up with "Big Ed" to score two touchdowns.

Continuing its victory splurge, Bay Shore marked down a 20-0 win over a fighting Smithtown team. Mallett and Schmitzler featured the Maroon offensive, scoring all but three touchdowns.

On the following Saturday, Southampton took the heart out of the Bay Shore rooters by a smashing victory of 46-0. Throughout the game, as the score so evidently indicates, Southampton held the upper hand. Except for the inspired play of a few members of the team, there wasn't any spirit and fight on the part of Bay Shore.

At Huntington a Maroon drive fostered by Ravenscroft and Leslie resulted in the only touchdown of the game and a 7-2 victory for Bay Shore.

With Lotito playing sensationally, Patchogue rode rough shod over a weak Bay Shore eleven to score its eighth traditional Turkey Day victory over the Maroon and White, thus ending the season.

			Bay Shore	Opponents
September	25	Alumni	0	0
October	2	Stony Brook	0	13
	9	Amityville	0	6
	16	Riverhead	0	0
	23	Sayville	42	6
	30	Smithtown	20	0
November	7	Southampton	0	46
	16	Huntington	7	2
	26	Patchogue	0	20

Under the leadership of their chosen captains, the four intramural teams competed for honors during October and November. The captains and the teams were:

Doris Bucher	Barnard
Claire Carley	Radcliffe
Rose Squillante	Bryn Mawr
Barbara Wells	Wellesley

Barnard won the intramural tournament with Radcliffe coming through as second best.

The varsity, following the usual procedure, was chosen from the intramural players. The line-up was as follows:

Right wing	R. Squillante
Right inner	B. Wells
Center	C. Carley (Captain)
Left inner	D. Schunk and B. Ward
Left wing	D. Bucher
Right halfback	A. Blydenburgh
Center halfback	J. Barry
Left halfback	M. Hofmeister
Left fullback	I. Anzenos
Right fullback	F. Vaughn
Goalie	F. Gill

The schedule and the results of the matches drawn up by Manager Edith Fischer were as follows:

October	16	Bay Shore	1	Northport	0
	22	"	0	Babylon	1
	27	"	1	Farmingdale	1
November	5	"	1	Amityville	3
	12	"	0	Lindenhurst	2

On October 30 the varsity attended a Play Day under the direction of the Long Island Field Hockey Association at Adelphi College. There the team played Oceanside and lost 0-1, tied Smithtown 1-1, and defeated Hicksville 1-0.

Coach Ann Zeller deserves a great deal of credit for directing such a splendid intramural hockey program as well as coaching a varsity team.

Girls' Field Hockey

Girls' Basketball

More than seventy girls participated in basketball tournaments which were divided into a beginner and an advanced group. The four advanced teams were captained by Edith Fischer, Barbara Roth, Frances Tushenske, and Barbara Wells, who were all members of the varsity. Barbara Wells' team won the tournament. Adele Rycharski, Rose Marie Wells, Dorothy Tracey and Helen Weglowski acted as beginners' captains and Helen Weglowski's team won the title.

In the series of interclass games, teams composed of intramural players from each of the classes met to decide the interclass championship which was finally won by the Freshmen over the Seniors. After the Freshmen had conquered the Juniors and the Seniors had defeated the Sophomores, the Freshmen beat the Seniors.

Rose Squillante proved a very efficient manager and Miss Zeller was the ever-helpful basketball coach. A team, chosen from intramural members, played the following outside games:

Bay Shore	5	Farmingdale	10
"	14	Lindenhurst	39
"	13	Amityville	29
"	15	Babylon	31
"	27	Northport	33

Alexander Modderno, Robert Holmes (manager).*

Coach Ralph Elliott's quintet didn't win the championship this year but the team, nevertheless, made a fine showing and at the end of the season had six victories to three defeats.

The club started off the league season by defeating a fighting Lindenhurst five, 26-22. It was a hard-earned victory. During the week following this game, Fred Rogers, the captain, left school which was a severe blow to the Maroon supporters. Harry Abrams and Leon Komoroski were elected co-captains by the team.

The following week the local boys lost a 21-17 decision to a fast-stepping Sayville outfit. The next game was with Huntington and it was played at their court. Harry Abrams came through with a beautiful one hand shot from the side to give Bay Shore a 27-25 victory.

The boys won the next three games in a row but in the game with Port Jefferson, which was the turning point of the season, they lost 26-24 in a very exciting game. The following week they bowed again—this time to Patchogue by the score of 27-21. This defeat definitely eliminated the Maroon five from any championship consideration. In the season finale, the Maroon walloped Northport 30-13.

Everyone of this year's team except one man will see no more action for Bay Shore. Pike, Komoroski, Abrams, Jeffrey, Modderno, Evans and Courtney played their last game for this old institution. Jim Ravenscroft, the lone regular to return, has been elected captain of next year's team.

Boys' Basketball

The usual sportsmanship and fellowship maintained by Bay Shore teams was fostered again by Coach Elliott who conducted a school-wide basketball program this year.

Approximately 120 boys participated in an intramural basketball program. Under the management of Commissioner John Beaman, two leagues were formed, Eastern and Western. Six teams composed one league. Games were arranged between the teams and the gym was a scene of constant activity. The season lasted from January 11 to March 10.

A summary of the season's record follows:

Bay Shore	Opponents
26	22 — Lindenhurst
17	21 — Sayville
27	25 — Huntington
32	18 — Babylon
33	23 — Islip
23	14 — Amityville
24	26 — Port Jefferson
21	27 — Patchogue
30	13 — Northport

Completing the season with three Suffolk County championships and two Long Island championships to its credit, the Maroon and White wrestling team added another rung to the Bay Shore High sports ladder of success. The 37-38 record showed that the grapplers had annexed six victories and had lost two matches.

Perhaps this wrestling team was one of the best that ever wore the old Maroon and White. Credit should go to its new coach, Mr. Kenneth Sprague, and to Mr. Clifton LaPlatney, last year's coach, for molding this group of boys.

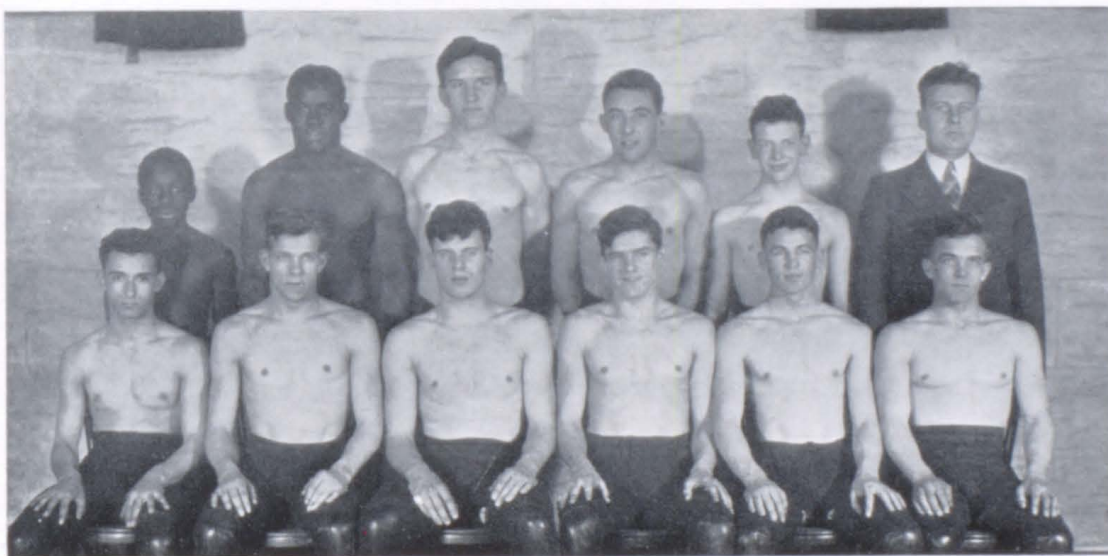

At the Long Island Championship meet held at Great Neck, Bertram Furey, 165 pounds, and Forrest Reeve, 155 pounds, wrestled their way to the championship in their class.

At the Suffolk County Championship meet held at Patchogue, Bert Furey, again, Walter Whitlock, and Edward Schmitzler came through to clinch the championship for Bay Shore High. Furey put the final touch on his undefeated season with his victory there. Whitlock pleasantly satisfied the Maroon rooters with his fine match. In the 155 pound class, Reeve and Schmitzler fought it out in the finals. Reeve, wrestling his last match for Bay Shore, was pinned by Schmitzler, also another Senior.

Bay Shore was tied for second place in the team standings.

Girls' Baseball

Intramural games were conducted on each Monday and Wednesday in the spring for the girls who participated in baseball this year.

Jean Barry, Doris Bucher, Barbara Roth, Frances Vaughn, Barbara Wells, Shirley Hawthorne, Frances Gill, Eva Drake, Ina Shlimbaum and Frances Tuttle all of last year's varsity took part again this year.

From the intramural players, a varsity team was chosen for which manager Edith Edelman arranged the following schedule:

May 13	Babylon	Home
May 20	Farmingdale	Home
May 25	Northport	Away
June 3	Sayville	Home
June 10	Islip	Away

Coach Raymond Chester molded together a powerful outfit this year. In the opening game the boys played a 2-2 time with Lindenhurst. It was a pitchers' battle with Phil Polidino of Lindenhurst striking out sixteen men and allowing three hits. Our own Jimmy Ravenscroft struck out thirteen men and allowed only three hits.

The team took the field with John Frieman catching, Jim Ravenscroft pitching, Bill Pike on first base, Hafele on second base, Captain Ally Modderno as shortstop, Algy Augunas on third base, Snedecor in left field, Komoroski playing center field and Cronin in right field. Willie Rhodes and Bill Courtney were the first string substitutes.

There were many new faces on the team this year. Bill Pike was trying his hand at baseball for the first time and George Hafele was playing his first game of varsity ball. John Cronin and Fred Snedecor were two other newcomers.

The Section 1 schedule released by Manager Charles Frieman was as follows:

April	13	Bay Shore at Lindenhurst
	29	Bay Shore at Sayville
May	6	Huntington at Bay Shore
	13	Bay Shore at Babylon
	20	Islip at Bay Shore
	23	Amityville at Bay Shore
	27	Bay Shore at Port Jefferson
June	3	Patchogue at Bay Shore
	10	Bay Shore at Northport

Boys' Baseball

With the first six players of last year's team back and two players added to this, girls' tennis showed much promise for a successful season.

Managed by Frances Tuttle, who also managed last year's team very efficiently, and coached by Miss Ann Zeller, the team acquired and maintained a new high in skill and sportsmanship.

The first six players comprising the squad were Bucher, Way, Anazenos, Blydenburgh, Hofmeister, and Barry. Frances Gill and Edith Fischer were the new recruits who played seventh and eighth positions, respectively.

The following was the schedule arranged by the manager:

Girls' Tennis

May 10	Farmingdale	Home
17	Amityville	Away
24	Northport	Home
31	Sayville	Away
June 7	Islip	Home

With five lettermen and two veterans returning from last year's squad, the tennis-racquet wielders anticipated a good season.

The team felt the loss of Erwin Becker, last year's number one man whose smashing style of play brought the team through many a close match. However, Alfred Evans, Stanley Hafele, and John Speidel took in the slack and grabbed a high percentage of the matches.

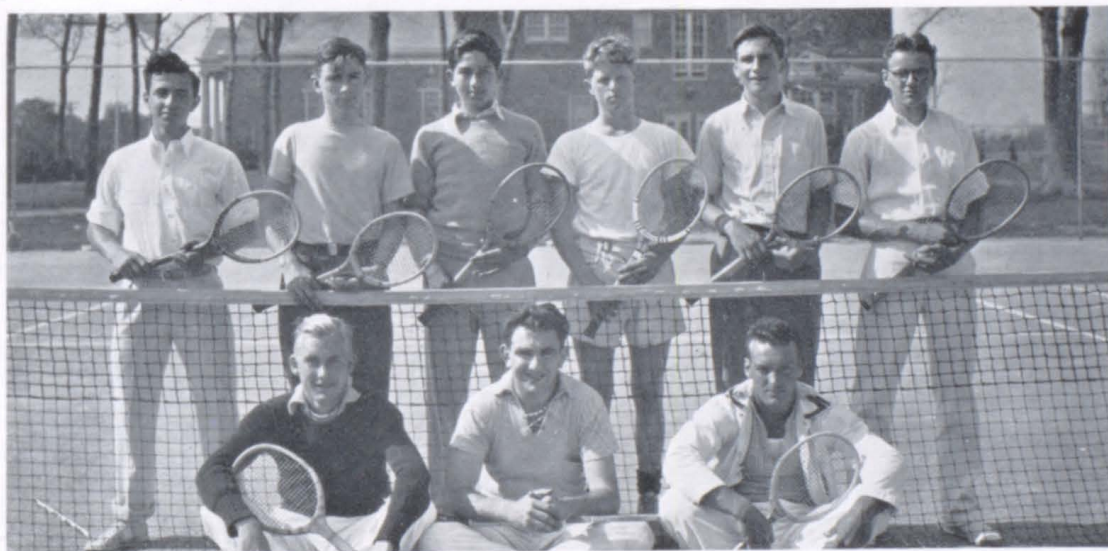

For reserves Coach Johnson, a new member of the faculty, had Bertram Furey, Edward Furey, John Cronin and Walter Thornberg.

The schedule that Manager Richard Tongue released was as follows:

April 7	Bay Shore vs. Faculty
April 27	" Northport
May 4	" Babylon
May 6	" Islip
May 11	" Sayville
May 13	" Northport
May 14	" Rockville Centre
May 20	" La Salle Military Academy
May 25	" Farmingdale

Boys' Tennis

Track

A great deal of speculation was aroused as to the strength of this year's track team as the squad went through its paces under the direction of Coach Robert Crego. Mr. Crego, who succeeded Mr. Clifton LaPlatney as track coach, felt that with a few breaks here and there his squad would have a satisfactory season.

This year, as in past years, the veterans have had to bear the brunt of the attack. George Leslie, who was incapacitated at the beginning of the season, rounded into shape quickly and added to the sprint- and field-event strength of the Maroon and White.

Lee Harris, Bob Johns, Herbie Mills and a few others from last year's team formed the nucleus about which Coach Crego built his team with the aid of a few rookies.

Manager Sheldon Hubbard released the following schedule:

May	6	Port Jefferson
"	11	Sayville—Patchogue
"		Babylon
"		Islip
"		Western Suffolk
"		County Track Meet
June	1	Stony Brook
