FOREWORD

No, not just a new building but a vibrant, pulsating part of our life, that we, who dwell here will forever remember. Let the vivid personality of this, our new school, express itself in these pages.

TO YOU

Once our principal, now our superintendent, but always our friend, we, the Class of 1940, with deep affection, dedicate this book, Mr. Gatje.

SENIOR MEETING
STUDY HALL
WEDNESDAY
SEPTEMBER 13

An insignificant and uninspiring notice to the casual observer. Yet this seemingly unimportant announcement marked the beginning of the organization of the senior class of 1940. For, with the exception of the Junior-Senior Prom, we, as a class, had never undertaken any sort of activity. And now, we were really getting started!

It was jammed! The study hall, I mean! There wasn't a senior at that first meeting who wasn't "raring to go," to set a tradition of fine work for those coming on, and to follow (and, of course, do a little bit better than) the Class of 1939.

Order being restored, Jimmy Ravenscroft, our junior class president, informed us that we were now to elect officers; and, out of the ensuing melée, Walt Schick emerged as President; Gerry Kirkup, as Vice-President; Rosemarie Sinnott, as Secretary; Russ Thomas, as Treasurer; and Anne Palmer was bestowed with that illustrious sounding office, Editor-in-Chief of the Maroon and White.

Appealing to our loyalty to the school and to the class, Miss Franchi made us aware that we had to forget individuals and to act and think as a class. It was then, and only then, that we began to have even a vague idea of the gigantic task which our faculty advisor faced: that of guiding over one hundred pupils through their senior year and yet take over the responsibility of our yearbook.

WILL WE EVER FORGET

How We Worked:

Inspired by Miss Franchi, we immediately decided to have lilies of the valley as our class flower, to have dark green and

You," on the Bay Shore High School stage, Eddie Carlson, as Mr. De Pinna, with his "shining pate" and long winter "drawers," brought down the house posing as the discus thrower! (We made $325 for the yearbook on that.)

And "The Valiant." Mr. Bennett and the rest of the faculty cast put on a good show, even if they did say so themselves! All "kidding" aside, we really appreciated their hard work and the marvelous results of their efforts. It was a tragedy, but "Ye Old Time Swinge" buoyed our spirits and showed us the pleasanter side of life. (Miss Franchi looked so sweet and demure!) "The

THE JUNIOR CLASS

True to the tradition set by the Junior Class of 1937, the present Junior Class is busy organizing for the purpose of giving the Seniors their annual prom. Everywhere the Seniors have been going about feeling just grand 'cause somebody's worrying about them (and their prom!)

They began with a bang! Electing Frank Modderno president, Audrey Schreyer vice-president, Virginia Watts secretary, and John Anderson treasurer.....Selling writing-paper ($1 a box if you want any!)

And wondering how in the world they are going to raise the rest of the money they need!

Let's wish them lots of luck in their undertaking and may they have lots of fun doing it!

They'll carry on

You've never heard of the Junior Council? Where have you been? Yes, indeed, we junior students have a student government. Fact is we're about the largest unit the General Organization boasts. Proud of it? You bet! The G. O. supports our school activities and we do our part there. It isn't every organization, either, that can boast a financial record that has never been "in the red." We've done it to date and expect to continue it in the future.

You may have noticed that the more adult, experienced senior students sort of tolerate us. Magnanimous of them? You judge—we sure know how to boast senior activities. Besides it seems to me a good many of the active senior students were once upon a time good members of the J. C.

Junior Council—have spirit? Mmmmhuh. Doesn't do much shouting or cheering but just let it get its teeth in a job. This year it's been busy adjusting to being part of the General Organization. It's learning, too. Another year will mean more progress.

Democracy seems a mighty important subject these days. We're in on that, too. Mistakes? Of course we make them. Worse trouble though comes from making students realize it's their responsibility to make the J. C. active. Sort of too bad they don't have more initiative.

It's sad too that not every student is a good salesman for his organization. We have hopes, however. Just this year things have seemed brighter.

Trouble is when one starts rambling about a subject it goes on indefinitely. You might remember that wherever you find students, co-operative, willing, ambitious and courteous the Junior Council is being well-represented.

Hats off to our junior student government!

Five long years to go

The budget makers, our G. O. officers

Seated: Barbara Roth, Robert Forster, Anne Palmer. Standing: Mr. Warde McLaughlin, Treasurer; Charles Frieman, Mr. Lloyd Moreland, Faculty Advisor.

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

Bay Shore High School has had a General Organization since 1932, when a group of progressive-minded students decided that a group of representatives from each class and organization in the school should be organized to take care of everything from a central vantage point. Each club, home room, and athletic group is represented in the G. O., which makes it comparable to the League of Nations, although it has been considerably more successful.

Each spring elections are held in which the officers for the following year are selected. Robert Forster, whose task it was to conduct all weekly meetings of the Board of Control, to appoint committees and to preside at assemblies, was a very capable president during the past year. Anne Palmer held the office of vice-president, Barbara Roth was secretary, and Charles Frieman was Mr. McLaughlin's assistant in the Treasury Department.

At the beginning of the school year a budget committee was formed. With the aid of the faculty advisors, this committee decided on a plan for the budget of the past year which was voted on and adopted by the Board of Control.

In a few weeks the yearly magazine subscription campaign, by which the G. O. gained some capital, was in full swing. Then all the banners which we have been trying to hang but never could because of lack of room in the old high school were taken in hand. Emma Schwartz presided over the hanging and did a beautiful job of it. Our gymnasium now boasts nineteen banners.

Following the precedent which was begun last year, the G. O. again sponsored three one-act plays. The Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes each presented a play and made a huge success of the venture.

The most important annual event of the General Organization is the production of the G. O. Show. The gay, scintillating musical comedy, "No, No, Nanette" was co-directed by Walter Bennett and James Nickerson. Audrey Schreyer excellently directed and led the lively and comely chorus girls. Bill Johnson, Virginia Watts, Sue Morris and Kirk Price made up the very commendable cast.

With the coffers well replenished, the G. O. finds itself safely "out of the red" and can look back upon a very successful year.

MAROON AND WHITE

Title: Editorial Memo

Election of Editor-in-Chief—Seniors elect Anne Palmer, active upperclassman, editor of the 1940 Maroon and White, first annual of the new high school. Past record qualifies her for post. Josephine Wind, her commercial record speaking well for her, appointed business manager. Julie Franchi, capable advisor to Seniors, undertakes task of instructing yearbook manager.

Tryouts—Enterprising Seniors compete for posts on annual staff.

dummy set up. Ready for the publishers early in May.

Subscription Campaign—Two subscription campaigns, one in November and one in February, met with great success, and the business department collected deposits for two hundred and sixty-two yearbooks. Posters, slogans, and a "quiz" assembly program heightened interest in the campaign, managed by the staff.

Final Appearance—Early in June the 1940 Maroon and White, bearing a new, original cover and featuring the new school as the theme, wins the approval of the Senior and Junior High School.

No, it's not murder, but one of the members of the Camera Club on the loose, looking for informal shots for a contest or an exhibit of some sort. Or, if you hear someone talking about "the physical aspects of light," or "the chemistry of photography," you will know that he has been to the Camera Club meetings this year.

Mr. Nickerson, the club's new faculty advisor, has been explaining the details of cameras to the club in the meetings. One of the meetings was held in the physics laboratory where a great deal was learned about light and angles. Mr. Nickerson also explained how the films are made.

This spring the Camera Club planned a trip to either New York City or somewhere on the North Shore. They have also been discussing a camera exhibit in which other students in the school may participate. The club officers are: Stanley Helfgott, president; Margery Helbig, vice-president; Dorothy Sucek, secretary; Helen Kovas, treasurer.

POSTER CLUB

"Our main object is to create posters that will please the eye of every individual. It is your duty, therefore, to contribute to the support of this object." With these words new members are pledged into the Poster Club.

The club is socially active, too. It began the year by visiting the World's Fair at Flushing, and followed it a few months later by a costumed initiation party and a Christmas party at Miss Simpson's home.

President Edith Carlson presides at the meeting, during which the minutes are ably taken by Madge Carr, secretary. Faculty advisor, Miss Simpson, explains the new poster assignments and suggests a few original ideas that may be used in their making.

The vice-president is Florence Dunbar; treasurer, Jimmy Fortunato; G. O. representative, Mae Bailey.

Due to the co-operation of the members and the facilities of the new art room, the club has enjoyed a very successful year.

We are truly proud to say that this organization has made the pupils realize the importance of good advertisement.

ARTS GUILD

The Arts Guild under the combined leadership of Miss Doris Magee and Mr. Richard Corbin was founded in 1934 for the purpose of fostering an appreciation of the fine arts.

In order to become a member it is necessary to have an average of over 85%. The meetings are held every two weeks at the homes of the members.

During the 1939-40 season the club sponsored a dance and enjoyed a trip to the city.

The officers of the Arts Guild are: presi-

TAU GAMMA LAMBDA

Although a comparatively new organization, the Tau Gamma Lambda, under the leadership of Mrs. Kellum, enjoyed a very successful year. At one of the most stimulating meetings, Miss Marion Craig, Town Librarian, gave an interesting talk on foreign contemporary authors of fiction. An assembly, sponsored by the Tau Gamma Lambda, featured Mr. Frank Singiser, noted radio commentator and news analyst. At Christmas, the members told several stories, followed by a round table discussion. At other times book reports were given by various members.

Now that you know about the activities of Tau Gamma Lambda let me tell you about the purpose of this organization, which is to encourage the literary effort of the students by a system of awards and to provide an opportunity for students, interested primarily in literature, to further their interests and to enrich their literary treasure. At the end of the school year a contest is sponsored by the organization. Compositions and other kinds of literature are submitted to the English teachers for their approval, whereupon the club members judge the winner from each class. The awards are made at the commencement exercises.

In order to belong to the Tau Gamma Lambda one must be either a Junior or a Senior, have an average of 90% in English and 80% in all other subjects. The present officers include: president, Edith Carlson; vice-president, Richard Sommer; secretary, Jean Jarvis; treasurer, Bruce Tuttle.

PARNASSUS CLUB

Let me now review for you the book, Parnassus Club of Bay Shore High School—1940, written by I. Ken Read and dealing with a library club in the aforementioned school in 1940, six years after its organization.

The introduction tells that the club was formed to foster interest in library work. In order to encourage this, instead of paying dues the members helped Miss Larbey in the library.

According to the book, the officers for the first semester were: Marilyn Grampp, title; Anne Coffey, sub-title; Thelma Barto, copyright; Jean Jarvis, appendix, Rose Morris, hostess. At one meeting Miss Barnett entertained with poetry readings. A Christmas party was the high spot of the year.

During the second semester serving as officers were: Thelma Barto, title; Jane Atchison, sub-title; Bernice Van Dusen, copyright; Jean Jarvis, appendix. To defray expenses, the Parnassus Club held two successful rummage sales. Wednesday, May 1, Miss Larbey entertained the members at her home.

The last chapter tells of an enjoyable farewell party, given the Seniors by the underclassmen at the close of a successful year.

Hardly known to the student body is the debate team. A debate, in the opinion of most students, is a dry thing where huge words are hurled with great force toward the opposite team, nobody understanding anything. However, this opinion is wrong. If you have ever heard "Brassy" Killeen at her best you would know that the atmosphere prevalent at the debates is far from a sleepy one. Just as amusing are "Charley" Gruenberg's sidelines at the team's discussion table.

The topic of this year's debate was "Resolved that the United States government should own and operate railroads."

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

On the night of November 17, 1939, the curtain rose upon one of the most brilliant performances ever given by a Senior class. Mr. Walter Bennett should be given a great deal of credit for his capable coaching of "You Can't Take It With You," written by Kaufman and Hart. Mr. Bennett's enthusiasm and cooperative spirit displayed at rehearsals reflected on the cast and enabled them to give an excellent performance.

The story centers around the Sycamores, an eccentric family who prefers to follow the road to leisure and happiness rather than the road of work. They devote themselves to varied hobbies and pastimes which are continually leading everyone into trouble. Barbara Roth played the part of Mrs. Sycamore very realistically. Her favorite hobby of painting often turned out some very fantastic results. Kirk Price, as Mr. Sycamore, very ably interpreted his role, while Edward Carlson as Mr. De Pinna brought down the house with the delightful way he portrayed the earnest Mr. De Pinna. Essie, played by Janet Carlson, who handled the role amusingly and well, takes ballet lessons from the Russian, Boris Kolenkov, effectively played by Peter Panzeri. Charles Gruenberg, Essie's husband, not only prints everything he can find, but also manages to play the saxophone. "Grandpa" Vanderhoff, inspiringly played by Ned Raven, takes great joy in collecting snakes and attending commencements. The two servants, Rheba and Donald, humorously played by Thelma Barto and George Seff, added to the many amused chuckles of the audience.

Alice Sycamore, the daughter, is very much interested in Tony Kirby. Margaret Lowe and Jimmy Ravenscroft gave very fine performances in these roles. Charles Frieman, as Mr. Kirby, and Emma Schwartz, as Mrs. Kirby, are strongly against their son's engagement to Alice. Things are finally ironed out—for a while, at least.

Paul Stopenhagen, Al Freije, John Donnelly, James Melton, Dorothy Delemare, and Barbara Ward, played minor but indispensable roles.

The high school orchestra, directed by James F. Nickerson, was warmly received. Their music helped to create a pleasant and agreeable atmosphere between the acts.

The various committees, responsible to Bruce Tuttle, chairman, and the work of the Backstage Club under the most able direction of Miss Simpson, all contributed to the success of the production.

BACKSTAGE CLUB

"What organization is noted for getting things ready on short notice?"

Right! The Stage Design Club.

No one will ever forget the Gingerbread house that was so realistically constructed by this club, for the Christmas play, "Hansel and Gretel."

The members were so proud of the new high school that they got right down to work and painted all the old scenery, so that it would add to the beauty of the stage.

To Miss Simpson and Mr. Burns, Faculty Advisors, we owe a debt of gratitude for the time, thought and work they have put into this club which has meant so much to us.

Vincent LePrell proved himself a successful president. Other officers are Edith Smith, secretary; Charles Kunz, vice-president; and Evelyn Grobe, G. O. representative.

DELTA DELTA SORORITY

Deciding to give the boys a treat this year, the Delta Deltas took advantage of leap year by giving a Leap Year Dance in the beautiful new gym.

The new school with its new atmosphere inspired the Delta Deltas to do "something different," so they had their picture taken in formal dress, gave a rush party, ran a scavenger hunt as part of the informal initiation which added new zest to the ritual, and served honest-to-goodness tea with all the trimmings to the teachers who were grateful for the pick-up after school.

Not wishing to forget the officers, who could omit Audrey Schreyer, vice-president, who lead the G. O. chorus to success, Mary Rogers, corresponding secretary with her entertaining, shall we say reducing exercise? What D. D. could forget Juanita Andrews, treasurer, and the ever-missing "cake money," and Ellen Dallas, capable secretary, and red-headed Jane Atchison, G. O. representative. And who could have been a more suitable president for such an active club than Jean Dooher?

"Rolling down to Mineola" on May fifteenth with the Phi Deltas on a roller-skating party was lots of fun, and dancing in June at the Duo-Delta Dance brought a full and happy year to a gay conclusion.

OMEGA GAMMA DELTA

Every Monday evening at approximately eight o'clock one can see the Fraternity of Omega Gamma Delta meeting together. One can hear Princeps John Anderson call for order and then the meeting is in session. Typical group, the tender neophyte who of his not being just a pledge, sits wrapped in a shy silence as he listens to what goes on. The first-year brothers who have had the experience of putting on dances and going to committee meetings, are fairly active, boisterously shouting "ayes" and "nays" and putting through most of their proposals.

But take the third-year men who have enjoyed fraternal bonds for so long—aside from a slight bit of tomfoolery—these brothers sit at the officers' table and partake of a few worldly speeches and words of wisdom so that the rest of the brothers may not make the mistakes they did.

After the meeting there is an excited rushing by the "new" brother, a hesitating quickness about the first-year men and a dignified surety about the third- and second-year men, to the dining room where they are waited on by the committee who, incidentally, do all the dishes.

After a while spent in friendly brotherhood the fellows slowly wend their way homeward.

PHI DELTA SORORITY

The Phi Delta Sigma had a successful year under their president, Barbara Roth. The other

In September Myfanwy Clarkson, Lillian Maasch, Eileen Leach, and Alice Danes had the honor of being taken into this sorority. The initiates in January were Joan O'Connell, Sandra Shanks, Carol Donnell, Jean Tuttle and Jacqueline Ryan. These two initiations brought the total membership of the Phi Delta Sorority to twenty-four members.

Girls, girls, everywhere!

THE ORCHESTRA

I wonder how many of you have ever stopped to think how much work is needed to keep the orchestra in readiness for any program. The members, under Mr. Nickerson's direction, have to spend every minute of their short rehearsals to prepare for school entertainments and assembly programs. The Senior Play, the Three One-Act Plays, and the Faculty Play were all made brighter by the presence of the orchestra. The members enjoy this hard work and feel that they are really doing their part in school activities.

The school is grateful to the members of the orchestra for the pleasure their playing has given us.

CHORUS

"Do, re, mi, fa," so—they start the day. Their voices ring out clearly—and if you by any chance happen to be in the hall, their voices unconsciously pull you toward the music room. (Or maybe it's just curiosity.) They run up and down the scale under Mr. Chapman's able direction. "Pale Moon," "Beautiful Dreamer," and many other lovely songs were patiently practiced over and over for the day of glory—"The Annual Concert." Then, in charming gowns, they sang the still more charming songs. The applause of the audience well rewarded the chorus for their efforts.

THE BAND

Speaking of the band: Do you remember how they played during that rainy football game? Do you remember how cold and chilly it was? How you were sitting there wrapped up in your coat? Then the band started to play. You

COMMERCIAL CLUB

If some day one of us is a prosperous business man or woman, and is looking for a good secretary, why not consult Mr. Bittner, faculty advisor of the Commercial Club? Many a successful secretary has been enrolled in this organization. It was especially established to benefit the commercial students.

Audrey Schreyer, who has tapped herself into the heart of the entire student body, has also tapped her way into the office of president.

The Commercial Club is also a social club. Meetings are held every two weeks. Miscellaneous programs have been tried during the past year and have proved very interesting. Among these programs have been moving pictures, debates, and reports on current events.

The social event of the year was a Valentine party given in the cafeteria.

A list of plans for the future include: a visit to a court trial and to the Accounting Department of the Lighting Company. An annual picnic will close a most successful year in the new school.

October 8, 1939, the dedication of our school

OUR SCHOOL LIFE

On returning after summer vacation we found everything entirely new—well, almost everything. Those nostalgic notices of “all football men report to Rm. 227 at 2:45” were the only bits of familiarity to which we could cling. . . . We admit we all made mistakes looking for our new classrooms last fall, but when a know-it-all Junior was looking for Rm. 227 (Mr. La Platney’s room) he shouldn’t have objected if he found himself standing face to face with Miss Ades in the Junior wing. . . .

Miss Tripp’s room, 230, originated a new phase of school life by establishing a “Lost and Found Department.” It was a great help to those people who had lost their fountain pens. . . . October 8 marked the dedication exercises for our brand-new school building. Mr. Floyd Hurlbut, retiring superintendent of Bay Shore schools, appropriately acted as chairman for these elaborate and impressive ceremonies. In the evening we proudly led our curious but footworn parents around by the nose so that they could see the gym, the library, the lockers and other points of interest. . . . George Seff’s bell-ringing for the yearbook campaign uncovered the most violent blush of the Senior

Although no official "hit parade" record was kept up, "In the Mood" and "Indian Summer" seemed to be the favorites When little Richard Gruenberg shot off his cap pistol, he climaxed the neck-'n-neck race between Miss

And most popular of all with the Seniors was the $43.70 the contest brought in. Ellen Grampp, Anne Reinhart, and Margaret Fitzpatrick, backers of John Fitzpatrick, were scared off by Paul Kaufman's flashing a saw buck at them. We still think that ten-dollar bill was a phony..... There should be something said about our girl Fridays around the school. Misses Alice Reybert, secretary to Mr. Gatje, and Frances Tushenske, secretary to Mr. McLaughlin, are the objects of our solicitude. Another "right-hand woman" is Miss Winegar, our genial pain-chaser..... Have you ever heard a student boldly state "I'd like to take a poke at Mr. —," mentioning some teacher? Well, Freddie Merkle did just that, not with malice aforethought, however. During the Jay-vee-Faculty basketball game, Fred and Mr. Geddes were running the ball when Mr. Geddes tripped over Merkle's long legs. Later it was discovered that he had fractured his cheekbone..... Miss Larbey should be given a hand. She certainly has not only her hands full but also her arms. It was bad enough when she had to take care of the presumptuous Seniors but now she has to shush the little seventh and eighth graders as well..... Dick Smith has a new method of driving our esteemed professors crazy. Whenever he leaves his home room, Miss Hall spots such notes as "Dick-Band" on the blackboard. Last winter the whistling wind and biting cold reddened the noses and froze the fingers of ordinary people, but we were warm—thanks to the custodians who kept the home fires, or, rather, the school fires, burning. The cafeteria was probably our most drastic change this year. Formerly, we had been accustomed to a noon recess, but the location of the school affected that. Contrary to what seemed to be a popular belief, the food was excellent and the prices low. Miss Balding was frequently complimented on her capable management. Breaking a dish is always good for a chorus of "ahs!" Don't be fooled, though, the limelight isn't so provocative then. Two other amusements were the popping of bags and the placing of filled water glasses on trays. The latter excited many physicists to heights not attained in the classroom. The underclassmen really did themselves proud on that little matter of the "One-Act Plays."

class's "The Perfect Gentleman" brought down the house. Earl Schaeffer, in the more serious "Pearls," handled his part with ease. In the Juniors' contribution "On with the Show," Virginia Watts played the role of the collegiate heroine. Was John Anderson trying a new experiment in the interest of science, when he attached a Bunsen burner to the water faucet? Imagine his surprise when it spouted Nice, huh?

Lawn Mower Co. can do in wilder momentsIn the way of fads, Bob Hope struck our school a more resounding blow than Confucius. "That's what I tell them down at the office." "Hi gates!", and "Who's Yahooti?" were thrown about with flashy recklessness. Emma Schwartz's answer to the last query was "I don't know, who's yours?" Not bad, eh?

..... Here's a friendly warning to the underclassmen: Beware of Mr. B. and all the evils which he portends. Your Senior year will be plagued with the tortures of writing précis, and the agonies of perfecting A compositions. You will grow bleary-eyed reading material for your Senior essay; you'll stay up all night to complete it in time and—or maybe because of it—receive a C. Oh yes, we leave it all to you with our deepest sympathy..... "It pays to go to the movies," says Sid Mitchell, "especially on Lucky Nite." Sid received his Easter present early in March when the Regent Theatre kindly bestowed $115 on him just for punching a few holes In March the American Legion sponsored its annual oratorical contest. Richard Sommer, our foreign protégé, and Anne Palmer (maybe we'd better not describe her as she's censoring this write-up) won first and second prizes. Dick also won the semi-finals, but lost out to a Southold contestant at the county finals. However, the silver statuette for the semi-finals is Richard's for keeps To stimulate sales on tickets for "The Valiant," the Senior Class offered a small radio. When it arrived, Walt Schick and Artie Kaufman (the former in his capacity as president of the Senior Class and the latter as his unofficial assistant) took it upon themselves to try it out. Despite Miss Franchi's strenuous objections, they plugged it in and waited—nothing happened. To this day they still insist it was a fake, but Ginny Paine, who won it, says it plays fine. Maybe the boys didn't have that feminine touch All educated people are supposed to have memorized Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. But that isn't sufficient reason for the Seniors to do it. To emphasize his point about educated people, Mr. Bennett promised his English classes a memory test on the Address in full. When the 9:05 bell rang on the appointed day, 124 Seniors piled out of their respective home rooms muttering "Four score and seven years ago" In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of baseball. This statement pertains to all young men in general, but Eddie Long in particular. Eddie, a rabid Giant fan, provided an opportunity for the Dodger fans to avow their faith in the "daffiness boys." He sponsored a petition to be signed by all those misguided enthusiasts who thought the Dodgers would win first place. If they don't win this coveted goal, he'll make good use of that list "We, the people of the United States . . . to establish justice . . ." That's a part of the preamble to the Constitution which Room 214 has taken very seriously. They elected Barbara Kalt as district attorney to try infringers of their self-made laws. They act as jury in a court based on regular rules. At the end of a court session, a dignified delegation solemnly approached Miss Ades and asked her to swear an oath on the Bible. Then they triumphantly asked "How old are you?" P. S. they got their answer Many excuses have been invented to get out of class, but John Donnelly takes the prize. His idea is so simple and invulnerable that it takes him to think of it. He chokes and coughs just loud enough and long enough so that the teacher will be sure to notice him. Then he coughs his way to the door, presumably to get a drink. By the way, if Duke considers this item a case for libel, it's all in fun A wide topic of conversation was Mr. Clark's mixed outfit, the greenish-blue jacket and grayish-brown trousers were a little hard on the Seniors who had to take History C Back in the days of bustles, it was considered unladylike for a girl to know anything about baseball. Now, we have Pearl Feuerstein who'll Giant-talk your right arm off at the drop of a bat. If you're the kind that likes a good argument, ask Pearl if she thinks Brooklyn will win the pennant Did you ever hear Mr. Bittner tell this one? It seems he was leaning against a newspaper kiosk in Jamaica when a portly lady imperiously beckoned him. "Young man," she said, "do you have the News?" Even though he is a teacher, Mr. Bittner was puzzled. Then the light dawned, "Oh, you probably want the newsboy over there." Can you picture Mr. Bittner running about yelling "Ex-try, ex-try, get your New York Times here!" Famous quotations—can we ever forget them? Mr. Bennett's "Take notes," Miss Hall's "Translate, please," Miss Carlson's "Golly gee whiz!" Miss Owens' "When I was in school," Mr. Clark's "Observer test Friday." OUR ATHLETES

With seven major sports on the season's schedule, boys' athletic activities at Bay Shore are typical of any American high school, in that almost every student takes an interest or participates in some sport or game.

Supplementing the major sports schedule is Mr. Sprague's intramural program which affords boys unable to make varsity squads a chance to show what they can do in such games as volley ball, badminton, softball and ping-pong.

Football and soccer hold the main interest of Bay Shore sport fans in the fall. Football recently celebrated its tenth birthday under the capable coaching of Clifton La Platney. This invigorating outdoor sport is rapidly catching up to basketball as the most popular sport at Bay Shore.

Soccer is the baby of Bay Shore athletics. This season was the first for the Maroon booters and they compiled a commendable record.

In the winter basketball and wrestling take the spotlight. Basketball proves itself year after year the ideal indoor winter sport. Although the team had a poor season in 1939-40, Coach Elliott is building for the future.

Wrestling is becoming more popular every year and is now the number-four sport at Bay Shore; only football, baseball and basketball being ahead of it in popularity.

Baseball, tennis and track round up the sports curriculum for the year. With over sixty boys turning out for practice, baseball is perhaps the most popular sport as far as the participants are concerned. Coach Chester turns out good teams year after year, and due to this spectator interest is gradually increasing in the national sport.

Track and tennis have never been too popular in Bay Shore although these two sports have had great individual stars. Recently interest has been revived in these sports due to the efforts of Mr. Clark and Mr. La Platney.

In girls' sports, intramurals play a more important part than do varsity teams. In an effort to interest every female student in some form of athletics, Miss Zeller has introduced badminton, archery, volley ball, baseball, tennis and ping-pong to the girls' gymnasium activities. Basketball and field hockey, the old reliables, remain as varsity sports.

Girls' athletic teams cannot be considered on a win-and-lose basis due to the new method of competition between schools known as the play-day. Bay Shore teams made a commendable showing in the field hockey, basketball and badminton tournaments held during 1939-40.

The cheerleading squad is often overlooked when Bay Shore High School athletics are discussed. However, they are as much a part of the sports program as the baseball and football squads. Their untiring support of the football and basketball teams has sometimes given these squads the extra something they needed to gain a victory in a hard-fought contest.

The performance of several new cheerleaders this season gives one a general idea of how next year's squad will shape up. Apparently Mr. Clark wishes to have plenty of good material on hand to replace the veterans Barbara Roth, Jane Ahearn, Mary Rogers, Barbara Ward and Millicent Donnelly.

Bay Shore's big gridiron problem this year was to find adequate backfield material to fill the positions left by Schmitzler, Ravenscroft, Young and Baker. Besides George Leslie, Coach La Platney was not certain as to who was going to fill these slots but after experimenting in two contests he found a winning combination in Leslie at the full-back position, Edgar Johnson at right half, and two former linesmen, Al Frieje and Bill Kiernan, at quarter and left half respectively.

With the second and third stringers playing throughout most of the contest, Bay Shore opened the season on September 30 against Northport. The Northsiders were trounced 16 to 0.

On October 7 the Maroon and White received their first setback at the hands of the powerful Amityville Eleven, 18-0.

Bouncing back from this stinging defeat, Bay Shore played Riverhead to a 12-12 tie. The Blue Wave was later to be crowned mythical Suffolk Champions.

Bay Shore broke into the winning column again by overpowering Sayville with a last-quarter attack 20-0. Leslie reached his peak in this contest and broke through the Sayville line for several long runs.

For the first time in many years Bay Shore and Patchogue did not meet on Thanksgiving Day. The two ancient rivals battled it out under lights in a driving rain with neither team gaining an advantage. The score was 0-0. Bill Kiernan was the star of this contest. His coffin cover sprinting and live knifing pinned Patchogue up in her own territory a great many times.

The best football team ever to sport the Orange and Black of Babylon invaded Brook Avenue field intent on gaining its first victory over Bay Shore. Captain Leslie and his team met the challenge and turned back the invaders in a hard-fought contest 12-7. Arguments and disputes held up the contest so that it was finished in semi-darkness.

As the final game with Huntington approached, Bay Shore fans realized that if the Maroon beat the Blue and White it would be the most successful season since 1930. Huntington, angered by former setbacks at the hands of the Steamrollers, had different ideas and sent Bay Shore down to a humiliating 47-14 defeat. Leslie was the only cause for Bay Shore to cheer as he scored both touchdowns for the losers.

Although they lost their final game, Bay Shore had a successful season, winning three games, losing two and tying two. One of these tie games was with Riverhead, the county champs.

Next year's chances appear promising. The first string backfield is all lost by graduation, but with the exception of Jim Melton, star center, the line will be practically the same as in 1939.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

The official buckling on of shinguards was celebrated on a mellow fall day in September. After a few preliminary practices Anne Palmer and Muriel Carley were chosen to captain the advanced intramural teams. Regina Erickson and Georgina Kovakos, two outstanding beginners, were honored with the leadership of the beginners' teams. Anne's and Regina's teams emerged the winners of their respective groups.

Playday was held at Adelphi College in Garden City. Jean Barry and Corrann Smith won Class B rating. Incidents never to be forgotten..... Anne Palmer's gasp when it was announced she had earned umpire rating; the mad dash from the bus to the Brook Ave. field to find out the score of the Bay Shore-Babylon football game; Bessie Barry's face when she tasted Miss Zeller's protein bread sandwich; Anne Palmer (what, again?) was elected captain.

many of the boys went out for football. Nevertheless, despite this small number, the soccer team went through extensive drills in preparation for its first game of the season against Islip. The starting lineup for the first soccer team ever to take the field for Bay Shore High School was: in the line, outside left, Captain

In the game with Islip, Bay Shore met a more experienced team and came out on the short end of a 5 to 1 score. This game also saw George Seff, a substitute goalie, break into the lineup. Keeton, whom Seff replaced, moved up into the wing position, replacing Ross.

In the game with Bayport, the play of the Bay Shore team was greatly improved but their play still lacked the smoothness which only comes with experience. Bayport came out on top in this game by the score of 3 to 0, but nevertheless, Bayport met with stiff opposition.

Bay Shore next met Setauket. The Bay Shore team, for three fourths of the game, was on the way to its first victory but they weakened in the final quarter and allowed Setauket to tie the score at 3 to 3.

The Maroon next traveled to Central Islip. In this game, just as in the Setauket game, Bay Shore held the lead for three quarters of the game but again they weakened and Central Islip tied the score and the game ended in a 3-3 tie. This was a typical rough-and-tumble game with both sides playing for keeps.

In the last game of the season Bay Shore suffered its worst defeat at the hands of Bellport who defeated Bay Shore 5 to 0.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

A squad of seventy boys answered Coach Ralph Elliott's first call for basketball. However, this squad was soon reduced to thirty, which formed Bay Shore High's Varsity and Junior Varsity teams. The remaining squad, mostly Freshmen, was left in charge of Assistant Coach Geddes. The boys are future varsity material and at the present time are being schooled in the fundamentals.

Coach Elliott put his squad through strenuous practices in order to mold the team into a tight working unit. The return of the following five lettermen, Captain Fred Snedecor, George Hafele, Wilfred Rhodes, Bill Kiernan, and Bill Flynn, made the task a little easier. The varsity squad of ten was completed by the following: Al Freije, Karl Kangeiser, Walter Holewinski, Paul Cummings, and Walter Schick. The latter two boys saw a little service as substitutes on last year's squad.

With the varsity squad completed, Mr.

Elliott was optimistic about the team's chances in the Section I leadership drive.

Bay Shore opened its out-of-town season by meeting Lindenhurst in a non-league game. This was a close game throughout, but Lindenhurst put on a late swing rally and won the game. In the first game played in Bay Shore's spacious gym, Bay Shore defeated Stony Brook Prep.

In the non-league games Bay Shore met several strong teams. Among these teams were Stony Brook Prep, St. John Prep, and Ocean-side. Out of these three games, Bay Shore managed to win only one game. Bay Shore added a victory over Islip and two victories over Huntington to its small list of victims. This victory list numbered four games, while the defeat list numbered fourteen.

Perhaps the feature game of Bay Shore's season was the traditional clash between the two old rivals, Bay Shore and Sayville. The game drew a capacity crowd of about 1,000 spectators. In a chill-packed, well-played game, Sayville defeated Bay Shore by the score of 35 to 25.

The whole varsity squad will be gone when next year's call is issued. This means that next year's varsity will have to be composed of the unexperienced but flashy Junior varsity of this year.

WRESTLING

This year's "Grunt-and-Groaners" enjoyed a very successful season under the coaching of

Clark's Crushers

Clifford E. Clark. The boys won four meets and lost two.

This year not only showed the return of quite a few veterans but brought into the limelight a number of up-and-coming grapplers; namely, Frank Dolny in the 95-pound class, Bruce Tuttle in the 135-pound class, and Fred Hawrys in the 165-pound class.

At the Mepham Invitation Meet, this year's captain, George Leslie, again proved his might by reaching the finals along with Edgar Johnson. In the Suffolk County finals, held at Bay Shore, George again placed in the finals but this time kept on to become the Suffolk champ in the 175-pound class. Frank Dolny, next year's captain, worked his way into the finals but was defeated by a very close decision.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Basketball as in past years still remains the favorite sport among the students of Bay Shore with over 100 girls participating during the 1939-40 season.

Ten intramural teams participated with six teams in the advanced league and four in the beginners' league.

In the advanced league Adelphi and Vassar, captained by Helen Kavakos and Dorothy

Watts, respectively, tied for first place. Wellesley, led by Frances Modderno, captured high honors in the beginners' league.

On March 2 the annual Suffolk County Playday was held at Riverhead with Bay Shore winning two out of three games.

The final games of the season included the annual Boy-Girl Game, held on March 5, with the boys winning by a score of 23 to 17, while in the interclass games the Seniors were victorious.

Among the high scorers are included Barbara Roth, who tallied 133 points, followed by Edith Fisher with 127 points and Regina Erickson with 104 points.

ARCHERY

A comparatively new sport introduced this year is that of archery. Over 130 girls participated in this extremely popular pastime.

The interclass tournaments will take place shortly and the school champion will be the high scorer of the Junior Columbia Round.

Margaret Fitzpatrick, Lillian Maasch, Myfanwy Clarkson, Jean Rogers, Doris Eckenrode, Agnes Mahoney, Jane Ahearn.

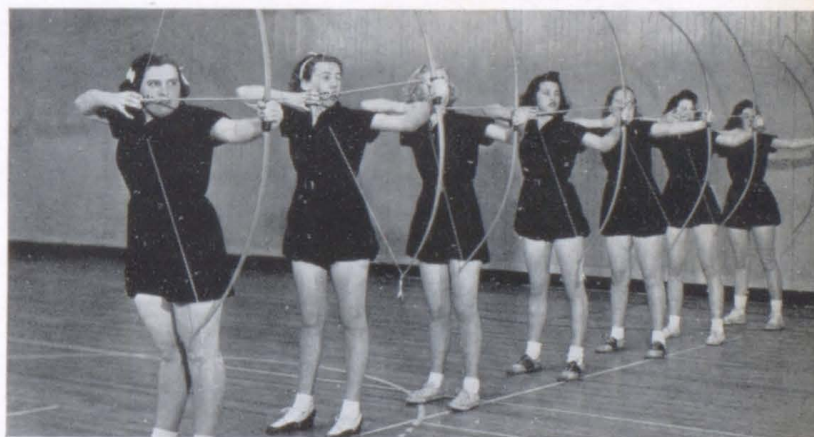

The Junior Columbia Round consists of 72 shots. The player shoots 24 arrows from 40 yards, 24 arrows from 30 yards and 24 arrows from 20 yards.

The team selected this year is not only composed of girls who can shoot but also girls who possess good form when shooting. Among those chosen were: Jane Ahearn, Myfanwy Clarkson, Lillian Maasch, June Mikulskis and Ruth Hubbard, manager.

BOYS' BASEBALL

Hampered by the cold, rainy weather, the squad had held only six practise sessions when it traveled to the magnificent East Islip ball park to engage Pete Rogers' nine. The lineup was as follows: Baker at short, Schmalacher, centerfield, Kiernan first base, Smatlak second base, Snedecor catching, Hafele third base, Baldwin left field, Brown right field, and Rhodes pitching. "Willie" pitched surprisingly well for his first start and left the game in the seventh inning with the score tied at 2 all. The Red and White put on a rally in the last two innings to win 7-4. Jack Baker, a regular on the Islip nine last season, got off to a good start by hitting the first ball pitched to him for a clean single.

"I shot an arrow into the air. . . ."

Second Row: Mr. Chester, John Maynard, Manager; Donald Russell, John Fitzpatrick, Albert Freije, William Coen, Joseph Young, Rudy Smatlak, George Doan, Edward Hughes, Co-Manager; Mr. Bittner.

The Lindenhurst game had to be postponed twice due to weather conditions and Bay Shore finally opened the league season against Sayville on April 26. Rhodes pitched another good game, but a Sayville homerun in the sixth inning proved his undoing, the "Golden Flash" winning 4-2.

Winning the Section I title last season seemed to have had a stimulating effect on the baseball-minded students of Bay Shore as the largest squad on record tried out for the team.

Out of the sixty-odd boys who reported for the first practice on April 1, Coach Chester should not have much trouble molding his future teams.

Besides the six regulars of last year, Albert Freije, John Fitzpatrick, Donald Russell, Joseph Young, George Doan, John Schmalacker, Rudy Smatlak, Bill Coen, Anthony Erickson, and Charley Baldwin showed enough in practice to earn a uniform. Coach Chester worked especially hard with the "junior infield" comprised of Doan at third base, Russell at short-stop, Young at second base and Coen on the initial sack. These rookies, who will probably be cavorting about the diamond in 1941, showed a great deal of hustle and were usually the first ones to arrive for practise and the last ones to leave.

TRACK

Quite a few students are interested in track, as the turn-out in April soon proved, and Coach Cliff La Platney soon had a very capable team selected.

Brook Avenue's the scene of their labors and the baggy, gray sweat-pants intrigue the tennis girls no end.

Keenly feeling the loss of George Leslie, this year's team has nevertheless shown up very well in intramural competition. Captain Joe Keeton and Coach Cliff La Platney have every reason to believe that Bay Shore will place in the finals.

The first news concerning this year's team was good news. This news announced the return of Cliff La Platney as coach of the Maroon and White's undermen. Coach La Platney has very few veterans to work with this year. Returning from last year's squad is this year's Captain Joe Kelton, who can be used in the sprints and as a relay man. Fred Tanner, another veteran, will take care of the broad jump and he, too, will run in the sprints. Edgar Johnson and Pete Panzeri are the only two veterans in the long distances. Johnson looks like a consistent point-getter in the half-mile while Panzeri will pick up points for the Maroon in the mile. Bay Shore has two good men for the field events, Joe Erickson and Warren Bunn. These two boys won plenty of points last year and are destined to do better this year.

In the high jump and pole vault there will be a wide-open fight between the newcomers for these berths. The situation is the same in the quarter mile and relay where newcomers will be used.

The Interclass Meet will be held first and it is in the meet that La Platney will pick his team according to the individual results. If a good track team can be made from the handful of veterans along with the best newcomers, Coach La Platney is the man to do it.

GIRLS' BASEBALL

With the exception of a few interruptions from G. O. Show rehearsals and temperamental weather, Miss Lulu Devins and her able manager, June Rose, have managed to get the players outdoors for baseball practices. Five intramural teams have been chosen and have been named Bryn Mawr, Radcliffe, Skidmore, Vassar,

First Row: John Mirus, Stanley Helfgott, Fred Hawrys, Robert Sonken, Eddie Cornelius, Joe Erickson, Edgar Johnson, John Cottell, Vincent Nadvornik, John Thomas, Robert Maxwell.

Watch our dust!

Take a walk!

First Row: Elsie Mattson, Mary Kavakos, Madge Carr.
Second Row: Elizabeth Healy, June Rose, Miss Devins, Coach; Eloise Rehberg, Jean Zetzer, Marie McCaffrey, Virginia Healy, Rita Morris.
Third Row: Ruth Jackson, Betty Ahearn, Amelia

and Adelphi. In other years, the intramural games have had to be forfeited because of the drop in attendance. To guard against this recurrence, Miss Devins has cut down the number of teams and added the extra players to the teams. Each team will now have at least five substitutes. So far, there have been no bumps and bruises from wild pitches and bats, and the girls consider themselves very lucky.

BOYS' TENNIS

On the first glorious (?) day of April thirteen adventurous candidates reported for practice.

The team was fortunate to have as capable a man as Mr. Clark to follow Mr. Sprague's footsteps as coach. Mr. Clark is very interested and has spent much of his otherwise spare time on the double section of the squad. The coach has planned the largest schedule of sixteen games for this season. After practicing every third day at the Brook Avenue Courts, matches are played twice a week. Ted Backe is our best player and is also the second best on the island. We will miss Elliott, who is also an outstanding player. We have two very promising boys, namely, Charles Ross and John Bartley. The tennis team, being in fine shape, should be one of the best in the school.

GIRLS' TENNIS

With the introduction of the new system of intramurals, Miss Zeller has turned her usual position as tennis coach over to Miss Antoinette St. Amand. Miss St. Amand is new to Bay Shore schools, but she has already done her bit in coaching other sports.

The girls miss the usual varsity competition this year, but they now have more time in which to battle their way up the ladder. The games are a little calmer now that Jeane Barry is gone. The beginners are rounded up in the gymnasium as usual, to learn the "dos" and "don'ts" about tennis, so that they, too, can become future Alice Marbles and Helen Wills Moodys.

Manager, Isabelle McEwan, Jerry Kirkup, Rosemarie Sinnott, Edith Fischer, Anne Palmer, Mary Korol, Margery Helbig.
