A Shelf...

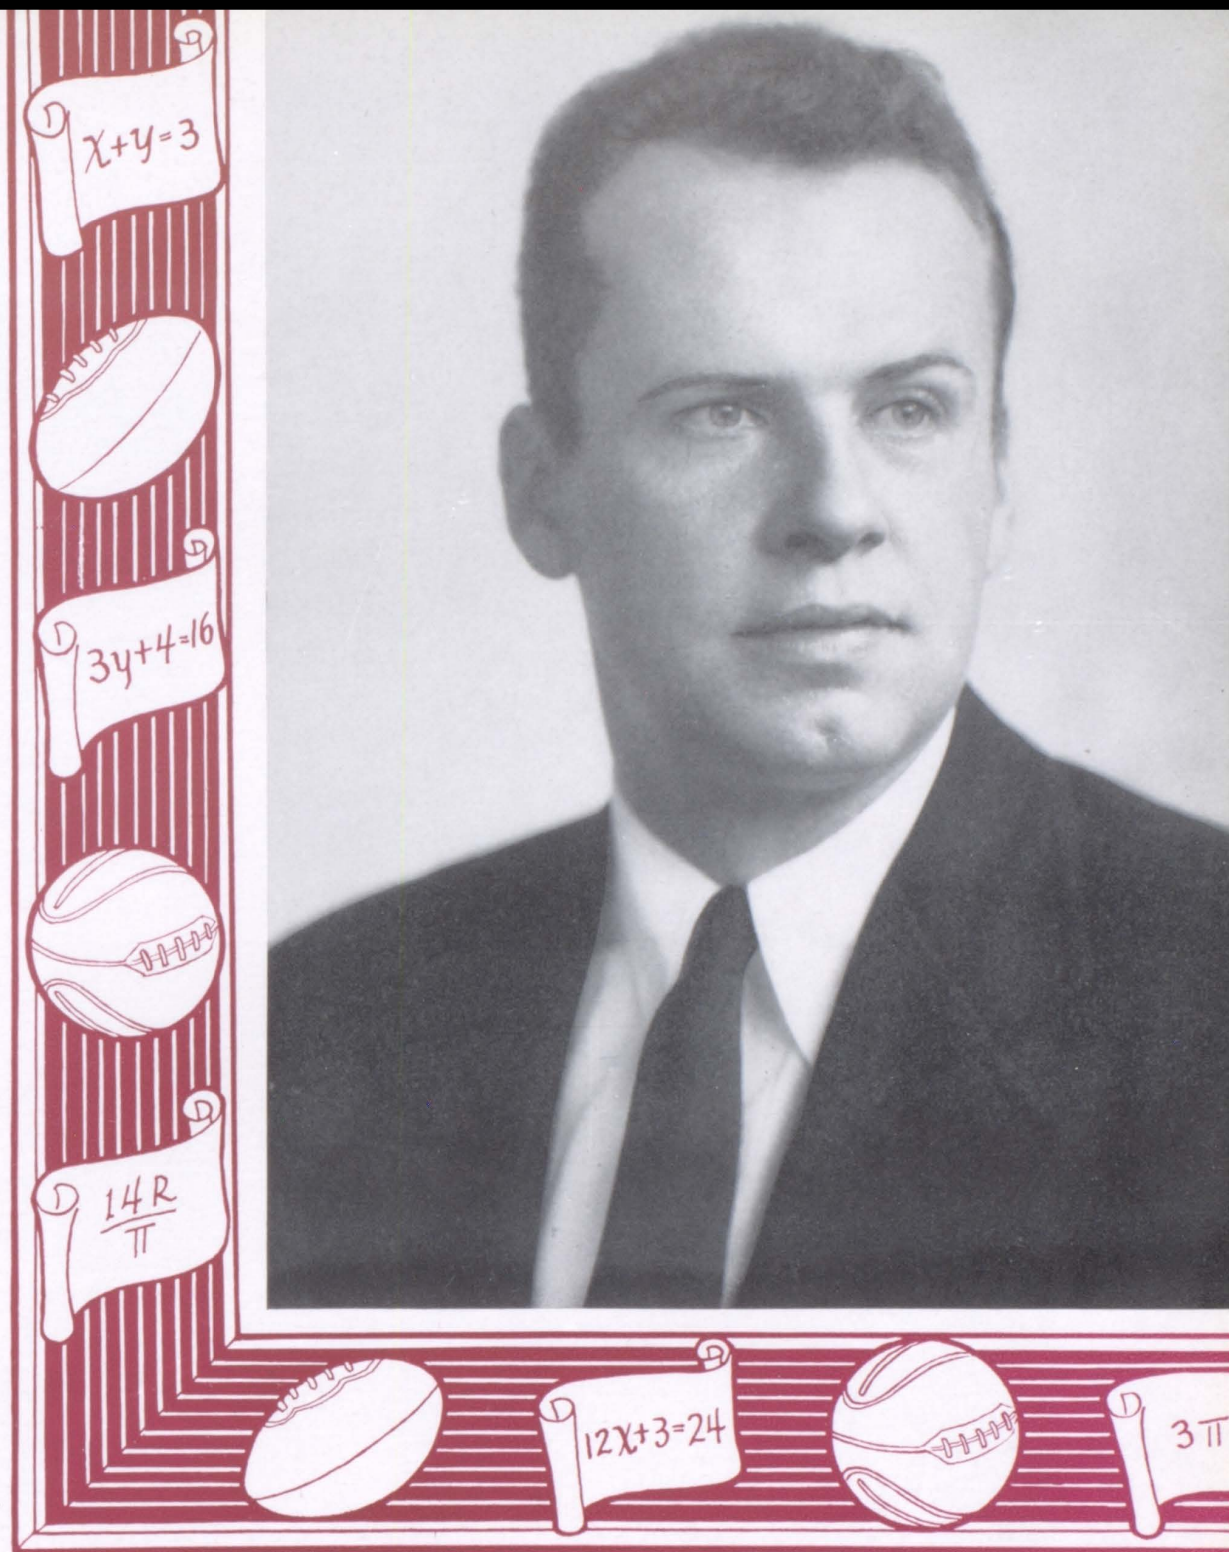

A BOOK...

A Memory...

Take from the shelf this record of precious memories of yesterday, to read and enjoy, today, tomorrow and forever.

Mr. Charles Geddes

NO ONE tall in stature, keen in mind and generous with his knowledge, we the Class of '46 proudly dedicate our Maroon and White to Mr. Charles Geddes. His droll humor, his patience, his dynamic personality, his ability as a teacher and as a coach, place him foremost in our respect and admiration.

IN TRIBUTE

TO THOSE of our school who left their books and to those whose names have been entered in the ultimate book of life that we might live and learn in freedom, we dedicate this page and a place in our hearts and memories. May their sacrifices and achievements guide our thoughts and actions in the direction of preserving the peace for which they so gallantly fought and died.

NOT BY books alone can a school be run. It needs the impetus of those who by their sympathetic guidance, their consistent understanding and their watchful vigilance concern themselves with our welfare and in so doing radiate a warmth that engenders in us a feeling of security and solidarity that unite us, not only as a school but as a large family, where the good of one is the good of all.

RED LEAF SEASON . . . First Senior meeting and Patrick William Michael Vesey proved himself to be truly the class philosopher. His "Out of the Harbor into Deeper Channels" expression was chosen as class motto. "Ozzie's" southern drawl became an inspiration to football team when he pointed to opponents' goal, and characteristic of Lee defending Gettysbury shouted, "That a-way boys, that a-way." And,

A terrible thing had come to pass
They passed out pickles in history class!

Senior play practice—Boys stuffed Claire in waste paper basket, seat first. Tried Connie but she didn't fit. (No offense meant.) Girls swooned when boys appeared in La Salle Cadet uniforms.

SNOW FLAKES AND MEMOIRS . . . "Billy" ("for Petey sakes") Knapp helped cheerleaders at basketball rally. Class selects Pat Vesey, 75th ranking senior, to try for scholarship award. Fellows make attempt to obtain a date for Myra with Mr. Elliott when she showed deep concern for him. Eddie ate a can of peas before each basketball game and "Ding" wore long underwear for good luck. Little "Buzzy" Smith proclaimed the roughest basketball player this side of the Mississippi. Mary and Violet gave an unforgettable rendition of a "razzle dazzle" cheer in Gay Nineties garb. Bill Annin peddled merrily to school each day, his book bag dangling from the handle bars of his bicycle. Miss Franchi's all-girl French class proved to be a haven for the peering eyes of the boys every 4th period.

GREEN LEAF SEASON . . . "Zip" went "car-o-planing" . . . Cliff efficiently quieted down his class with the admonition, "What do you think this is, a Senior meeting?" Connie pushed everyone out of the way making sure they didn't step on her imaginary "George". She also filed complaints against "Bird", who woke her while saying good-night to the gang every Saturday morning at 3 a. m. The yearbook's harried staff went into hysterics attempting to find how many words they could fit into a column $9\frac{1}{4}$ " by $3\frac{1}{4}$ ". Adele figured nine square words, Myra collapsed, Mary screamed, Miss Franchi prayed, and Rick took another mouthful of potato chips and ended the column right here!

OUR "HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY"—IN OUR JUNIOR YEAR!

SCHOOLDITHER ANTHOLOGY

When wanderin' back through lanes of thoughts
On trails so free and easy
We come upon the world of fun
And Patrick William Vesey.

KRIS and HOLT

Oh, Phil has got a hammer
And Bob has got a nail
And when those boys are needed
They never, never fail.

Of all the girls
We never get uster
The foremost one
Is Connie Brewster.

Coming out in springtime
Like a little thrush
Would be Mable Stevens
And her little blush.

FRANCES PORTELLI

Perky little "Peanut"
Helpful, unpretentious
We'll always remember
Her winning way
Her giggle so infectious.

KATHY KILLEEN

She's the wee bit o' Ireland
In our Senior Class
Always smiling and witty,
A fine broth of a lass.

If I were lost on a tropical isle
How happy I would be
If I had Jeannie Gruber there
To keep me company.

EDDIE CORNELIUS

Little music boy
Full of pep forever
You are so good at everything
And every bit as clever.

Some show pep
Now and then
But never as much
As Jackie Tschenn.

Peppy, talented
But to be brief
She's just about tops
Our Editor-in-Chief.

To Ruth Benedict and Conger
We will give a great big hug
Also Eleanor Semmler
For the soda they did lug.

DING PAULDING

I love the dear librarian
She is so nice to me
I only wish that I could get
Into the Library.

CAROL SPIESS

Cute, wholesome
An all 'round gal
Carol's right there
When you need a pal.

VIOLET LONG

Zip! there goes Violet
Tearing down the hall
But truly, she is very shy
Underneath it all.

The refreshment committee
Is looking so pretty
The event is the Senior Card Party
The object at hand
Is how to withstand
The temptation of eating too hearty.

The girls playing cards
Make interesting "pards"
But the boys are a more interesting case
It's the first time a son
Has ever outdone
A lassie in exposing a face.

This interesting session
Of facial expression
Between acts of Senior play practice
As Archie makes Claire
Swing through the air
While Billy lends support to an actress.

When a record of the final G.O. meeting had been written, Secretary Carol Spiess closed her record book of G.O. activities for 1945-46, a book telling of a banner year for this student organization, both financially and socially, and of greater significance, a book inscribed with the beginnings of a change in the role which the General Organization will play in school life. More and better attended athletic events, plus one hundred per cent membership by the student body, provided ample funds with which the Board of Control might work to add many features which were hitherto impossible due to lack of funds. To terminate the publication and mailing of the service men's letters, which were aided by the G.O., a permanent Honor Roll will be compiled. In addition to financing the next edition of the Pilot, the G.O. plans to buy a nickelodeon and a radio, if possible, both of which are much needed. Perhaps the biggest venture will be the furnishing of a club room, for which plans have already been made. Although not many tangible evidences of a change may be seen this year, the varied programs planned for next year indicate that the General Organization will at last become the representative body about which school life will revolve.

Maroon Echo

This year again we had our school paper presented to us each month by the Maroon Echo staff. With Mrs. Kellum and Claire Young, advisor and editor-in-chief respectively, pleading to get the columns in, we managed to keep track of and read of all the school's activities and general news which were so well covered. Claire's challenging editorials, Joe's superb and accurate coverage of sports and Rick's poems all added to the paper's editorial value and interest. We were supplied this year handsomely by the town's business group who took many ads which helped our finances.

The annual Maroon Echo Benefit game was this year played between our varsity and Seton Hall. It proved to be a success, being both a good game and financially netting one-fourth as much more than former years. We mustn't forget Mr. Moreland's pleasure and astonishment upon seeing Mrs. Kellum present at ONE basketball game. Additional life was given to the paper by the use of interesting cuts. It was fun to see what went on in the past when some of the old cuts were unearthed as shown by the cut of the Delta Delta of 1928 which was printed in one of our issues. All in all the paper came out, and though it was hectic it was fun.

Le Cercle Francais

Ooh la la! One can really see that there is a male shortage in Le Cercle Français — not one single member of the so-called "stronger sex". Ah well, we "jeunes filles" are interested in the purely cultural aspects of the club. For our first meeting we made "un petit voyage" to Brentwood. Our formal initiation was in the form of a banquet where we spoke "que le francais". Some of our other outstanding events of the year were an interesting "causerie", given by "Bud" Watts, about his adventures in France, and the annual white elephant sale where many usually find their long lost pal, the fountain pen!

Consul Carol Spiess would heave a resigned sigh, Miss Hall would re-assemble her shattered nerves, and the Latin Club meeting would begin. Some constructive ideas emerged from the ensuing chaos as proved by the successful sale of those but sticky jellied apples at almost every football game. And perhaps most memorable of those wonderful evenings was the mild hysteria resulting from the antics of "Ding" Paulding, plus the quantities of luscious refreshments which Miss Hall supplied for the hungry horde of Latin "enthusiasts".

CURTAIN GOING UP

The standard of dramatic endeavors established through the years have always been an inspiration to our high school Thespians. This year the tradition was kept intact in many ways. The colorful blending of stage lights, the artful touch in stage settings, and the clever direction rendered by talented coaches were factors contributing to our successful season.

As in the past the senior play was the first dramatic event occurring in the fall. To Miss Minnis' call to arms no less than forty hopeful aspirants answered. After a session of imitating roosters and flapping wings, and after an imaginary telephone conversation the eliminating began. "Best Foot Forward" was the play and after weeks of rehearsing it actually came to life. The performance was given to a full house on the evening of Nov. 16, and a creditable performance it was. During rehearsals the actors and actresses had a glorious time and many a person was in a dither for fear come curtain time no one would know his lines. These fears were not unfounded but during the last few weeks the seniors settled down to work and the ensuing result proved that once again another senior class had put their best foot forward. Assembly programs also bring to light stage talent and looking back we recall a production in which one of our own seniors proved her talents by writing and then acting in her own play. The person of course was Dorothy

A Call To Arms

Charlie in the process, Clare already processed

Price and she brought to us a very thoughtful piece of work.

When spring approaches our thoughts turn in dramatic fields, towards the approaching one act plays. The combined efforts of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes always provide an evening's enjoyment and furnishes an opportunity for under classes to gain experience which will be valuable to them in their senior year. This year the program offered an interesting variety as the freshman class under Mr. Raymond Lewis presented "The Love Passage", a farce with an intriguing plot. The sophomores presented Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster" under the direction of Miss Jane Evans, while the juniors, directed by Miss Irmgard Wentzel, finished the evening with "A Wedding", an excellent one-act comedy highlighted by the superb acting of Norman Price.

A word about dramatics cannot be said without mentioning the valuable services of the Backstage Club. These untiring people, under the guidance of Miss Simpson and Mr. Link, work just as hard and as long as the actors. The success of our plays are very much dependent upon the ability of these backstage workers who plan, paint and produce the sets that influence the mood of the audience. The Backstage Club is also responsible for the lighting effects and the make up of all actors and actresses before their appearance. They have truly been the motivating force behind the scenes of every school production.

AT HOME WITH MUSIC

Music has become so much a part of our lives we fail to realize how much it means to us. We're using music more and more as an outlet for our sentiments. Just stop and think how drab we would feel marching into assembly without having a peppy march being played by the band or orchestra, or how much less school spirit we would have if it weren't for the band at our football and basketball games. Yes, it's the little things such as these, things we hardly take time to notice which makes music so important.

Under the direction of Mrs. Truell the Senior Chorus has now been organized into a regular club which holds its social gatherings at the homes of

The orchestra has provided pleasant moments of relaxation throughout the year by playing at our dramatic presentations. Remember Bob Lanka program. This year's theme was "Americana". Among the outstanding numbers were "Repartee and Stardust" played by the band, "The Piano Concerto", "The March Slave" and Gershwin numbers by the orchestra. The Choruses main selections were "Begin the Beguine" and "The Lord's Prayer".

During the past year, interest in music has been greatly stimulated. Many groups frequently went to New York and attended such musical productions as "Aida", "Carousel" and "Up in Central Park". Music has now found a very definite part in the school and achievement has now been recognized thru the music award which has been given to outstanding members of the music organizations. The music award consists of a gold or silver key; silver for pupils who have excelled in one music group, gold for those who have been outstanding in two or more music organizations. More than thirty pupils have received the music award this year.

Psi Lambda Phi

Another successful year was initiated by the Frat with their popular dance in the fall. Letters were written to all the ex-members now in service giving news of the town activities. The check room was again run by the club at all the home basketball games which was much appreciated at a big game. The year was ended with the awarding of the cup to the most outstanding athlete and then at last the long anticipated spring dance brought the year to a happy ending.

Delta Delta

This year was an important one for the Delta Delta for it completed their twenty-fifth year celebrated with an anniversary reunion dinner.

Next on their list of activities was the rewarding rummage sale and the equally rewarding idea of giving baskets to the needy during the holidays. A newly awarded key for the most active girl in the club was given and ended another successful year for the club members.

Phi Delta Sigma

Following the lead of many college organizations, the Phi Deltas took the lead here at Bay Shore High by limiting the informal initiations to one day. Other noteworthy activities were a cake sale, a Harvest Moon Dance, Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the needy, and the Phi Delta Faculty Game which somehow became two, the girls and the teachers each winning one decision. The year ended with plans for a reunion dinner.

Parnassus Club

The Parnassus Club, consisting of twenty girls, is the force behind the scenes of our library which presents to us each year our many interesting displays and which keeps our library meticulously run under the guidance of Miss McDuff. But lighter moments are found in trips to New York and spring picnics.

Fam Club

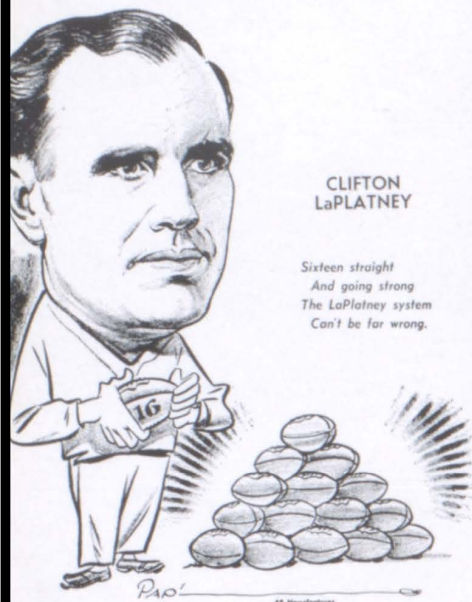

Twelve girls, who, from the home economics classes, formed a new club named the FAMS, held their first formal initiation on Sept. 24, 1945. These girls are trained to be active socially, and to assume efficiently the practices of home economics, and their vim is helpful in spreading this interest to other students not in this field.

AUTUMN HIGHLIGHTS

Coach Cliff LaPlatney's gridiron eleven turned in another superb performance, ending the season undefeated and untied for the second straight year. They also boast a sixteen game winning streak compiled over a period of three years and have won their last twenty of twenty-one games. The Maroon opened the 1945 season on a humid afternoon at Port Jefferson, scoring two touchdowns in the last three minutes of play. Bay Shore was kept idle for three periods because of many fumbles and the expert punting of the Port Jefferson ace, "Smitty" Danowski. Bay Shore then scored three successive victories over Huntington, Babylon, and Amityville by decisive margins. Captain Jim Erickson teamed up with cousin Stu in these contests and aided by the blocking of Eddie Cornelius, Jim Dowling and Pat Vesey, featured the Maroon attack. Following these victories, the games became tougher for the Maroon eleven. Nevertheless, the LaPlatneymen defeated a previously unbeaten Sayville and Lindenhurst squad by 21-7 and 25-12 counts, respectively. The

The Treasure Chest:

Maroon defense did a fine job of stopping the fleet-footed Lindy ace, Bill Poveromo, although he did manage to uncork a 95 yard run which was the outstanding event of the day. In the final contest, Bay Shore fans saw their team losing for the first time in two years as the Patchogue Red Raiders chalked up a 13-6 half-time lead. However, Cliff gave his boys one of his famous dressing-room "pep talks", and a spirited Bay Shore team began the second half with renewed confidence. La-Platney's medicine must have done the trick for the Maroon emerged the victor by a 19-13 score. Four Bay Shore players, Jim Erickson, Bert Flamberg, Rick Bode and captain of the 1946 team, Mike Christie, placed on the Suffolk All-Star eleven. Erickson also captured individual scoring honors for the Western Suffolk League and the team was again feted by the townspeople at a testimonial banquet. Next season the Bay Shore team will be striving to extend themselves still further into new fields of glory on the mighty gridiron.

Playing their games immediately following the varsity contests, the Bay Shore J. V.'s, with Charles Geddes as mentor, turned in a record of four victories and three defeats, conquering Huntington, Sayville, Patchogue, and Seton Hall. They also played a scoreless tie with Lindenhurst. The outstanding play of the season occurred in the Babylon tilt in the closing minutes of play. Dick Welton threw a pass to his brother, Al, who snared the ball and ran for a touchdown. The play covered eighty yards and was the only score in the game for Coach Geddes' team. Many players performed considerably well, among whom were line-men C. Dureau, F. Paul and E. Vesey and backfield men W. Bordies, H. Isbrandsten and N. Primis. These boys should bolster the strength of the varsity squad in coming years.

Early Preview of a Championship Team.

With a nucleus of players returning from last year's undefeated squad, the soccer team, under the coaching of Clifford Clark, captured the Western Suffolk Title for the second straight season although they were defeated twice in league competition. Bay Shore opened the season with a

2-1 victory over Central Islip, coming from behind in the last quarter to win the game. They then tied Bayport but defeated Islip, 2-0. In the return contest with Central Islip, the team lost its first game in two years when it was defeated 3-0. Bayport fell to the Maroon and White, 1-0, but Islip upset the Bay Shore freebooters by a 3-1 score. Nevertheless, Bay Shore won the championship; thereby gaining the right to meet Bridgehampton for the Suffolk County Title played at Islip. The play-off game was a thrilling contest. The two teams battled through two overtime periods before the "Bridgies" scored a goal to win the game 1-0. Bay Shore's sparkling defense throughout the game featured the windup of another season in which the boys were well satisfied with their Western Suffolk Title.

WRESTLING

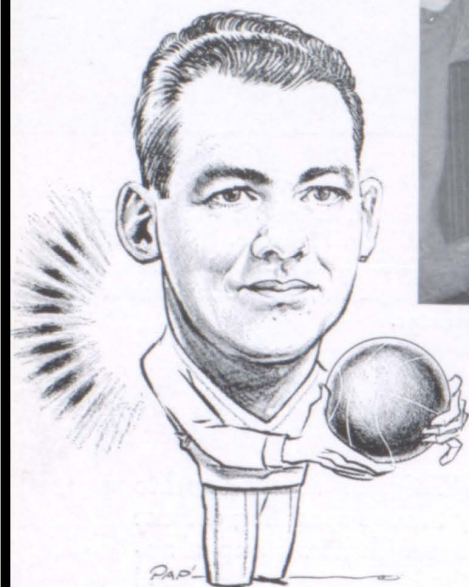

Although winning only three of seven dual meets, Coach Clark's grapplers enjoyed their best season in many years as the team fared well individually. Jim Dowling turned in a record of seven pins in as many meets and later became Long Island Champion in the 165 lb. class at the Mephram Invitations Meet. Bay Shore, finishing fourth in the tournament also placed Captain Bill Knapp and Dick Cavagnaro in the finals and Jack Cioffi, Bob Sprague and Charlie Grampp in the semi-finals.

BOUNDS AND REBOUNDS

After trouncing Port Jefferson in the opening contest, 59-27, and then conquering Seton Hall 36-18, the following week, the Bay Shore cagers looked as if they would live up to expectations and early season predictions of being the top team in the Western Suffolk League. However, the Maroon couldn't find the basket in the Patchogue

Practicing The Swish!!

game and the Red Raiders aided by a later splurge downed the Maroon 32-21. The down-hearted Bay Shore squad then suffered their second defeat three nights later, turning in a very poor performance as Sayville whipped them 32-24. With a revamped line-up, the Maroon five defeated Northport, Amityville, Lindenhurst, Huntington, Babylon, Port Jefferson and with a great second half drive, overcame Seton Hall 40-35 in a non-league game. That same evening Patchogue was upset by Babylon and with renewed confidence Bay Shore avenged their previous loss by conquering Sayville 39-31. Just five nights after the Patchogue upset, the Maroon quintet handed the Red Raiders their second straight loss, upsetting them by a decisive 49-29 score. The contest placed Bay Shore in a virtual tie for the league lead with Patchogue. Both Bay Shore and Patchogue won their remaining games and tied for the lead, the two teams to decide the championship on the neutral Islip High School court. The Maroon jumped to an early lead but the Red Raiders tied the count at half-time. The lead then changed hands many times and a last minute rally by Patchogue gave them the play-off game by a 38-35 count.

The Junior Varsity squad with Charles Geddes as its coach finished the season with twelve victories and six setbacks. It marked Coach Geddes' first try at handling the J. V.'s and he performed a splendid job. Two players, Leonerd Drake and Henning Isbrandsten, will undoubtedly see much action with Coach Elliott's varsity next season which will be hard hit by graduation.

Bay Shore's club has the best defensive and offensive record in the league. This is easily understood when you realize that they had Charles Souhrada, league high scorer with 211 points, Eddie Cornelius, foul shooting champ, and Captain Jim Erickson, who finished third in league scoring. They were ably assisted by Max Owens, George Paulding and Rick Bode. Their fourteen game winning streak was the longest of Coach Elliott's career and characterized one of Bay Shore's great teams.

SPRING FEVER

Baseball

Spring came early this year and with it came Coach Harold Bittner and his gang ready to defend their championship title and looking forward to another banner year. The veteran southpaw, Max Owens, resumes his chores on the mound along with speedster Jim Erickson and with Archie Blair behind the plate. Also returning are outfielders Bode and Mack and infielders McCann and captain-elect Charley Souhrada.

Track

Ten returning lettermen, W. Knapp, M. Smith, G. Paulding, R. Gracy, G. Merkel, P. McDonough, R. Highland, C. Grampp, M. Mattiasen and W. Bower are the trackmen who will carry the burden of this season's track squad. Coach James Romansky is hopeful of a strong team which will uphold the fine record Bay Shore has made in the past and we wish him the best of luck in his initial appearance as trainer of the Maroon speedsters.

GIRLS' SPORTS

During the fall term, many girls were seen racing around the field, playing hockey and soccer

under the eagle-eye of Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Reeves. The girls played hockey every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and at the end of the season an honor team of the top notch players was selected. Soccer, although a little rougher, still had a large attendance. They enjoyed a bruisey season and the toughest ones were selected on the honor team. Some less energetic girls were seen standing in position, aiming for the target, and then, with a gentle flick, letting the arrow go whizzing through the air, while the archer hopefully watched for a bulls-eye. Gloria Schield was the champ archer this year and we hope she stays right on top!

During the winter the girls warmed up by playing volleyball and basketball. Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon the various volleyball teams played, and when the season came to a close, the

BOOKS IN ACTION

Inside the big red brick building
 Where many a day has been spent
 By the students who work and study
 Lies a wonderful galley of learning.
 The soft paneled library
 With the atmosphere of old classics
 The school's experimental station know as the laboratory,
 And the fine friendliness of the teachers

Who don't hesitate to pause for a short chat
 With any pupil who is in a mood for conversation.
 It is in this big brick building
 That the talents are developed
 The minds broadened, to a greater depth of understanding
 That will not only make the final graduates
 Wiser people, but better people.

Where the sophomores dilly-dally
Lies the most exalted wonder of the nation.
It's the seconds in a flurry
In attempt to catch the scurry
Of the quickest moving people in creation.
And I think it's fine and dandy
That you sophomores sell the candy
That we eat between the halves at every game.
And no matter how compelling
Just don't eat what you are selling
And you'll climb the trail to greater wealth and fame.
So in closing, I will mention
And to show it's my intention
I will enter in some truth about the case.
I don't say this out of kindness
Or from ignorance or blindness
It's the truth, you're quite an asset to the race.

Juniors

So Little Time

We simply cannot fashion rhyme
 In token of that golden time
 That's known in almost every clime
 As the joyous junior year.
 The one act plays that we put on
 The Holly Hop, the Junior Prom,
 Variety show, and then it's gone
 Our jolly junior year.
 Our loyal classmates near and far
 Go selling things, we always are,
 A hat, a seal, an old cigar
 We sell such different things.
 Yet, success of our junior days
 Does not depend on what we raise
 Or putting on dramatic plays
 But the pleasures that it brings.

HIGH ON A WINDY HILL

JUNIOR OFFICERS. Top: F. Saxe, President; G. Merkel, Treasurer; D. Johnson, G. O. Representative; G. Grampp, Vice-President. Bottom Row: R. Kellerman, Critic; Miss I. Wentzel, Faculty Advisor; J. Shaughnessy, Secretary.

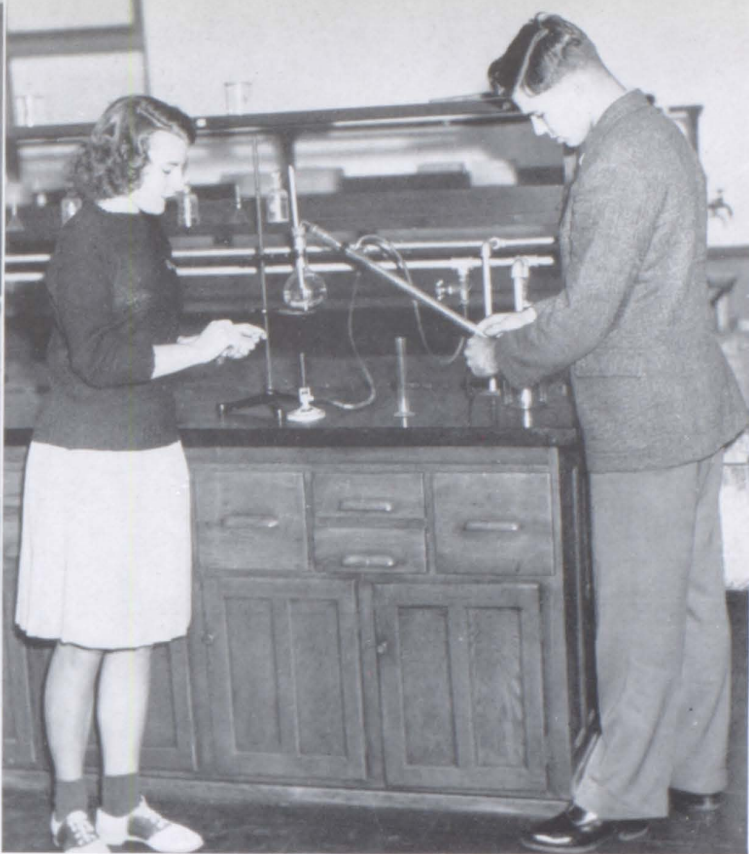

With pen and with pencil
 They paint and they stencil
 These people with artistic designs
 But the difference in classes
 Is the number of lasses
 To stimulate interest in lines.

These classes may seem
 To be different in theme
 From actual lessons in learning
 But the thing that they learn
 Is how not to burn
 The food that their tummy is yearning.

If you'd like to examine
A bug or a salmon
A biology student you'll be.

But if you'd rather prepare
Some smelly affair
Then chemistry lab is for thee.

Here's to those whom you train
About flying a plane
In the courses of dear old pre-flight
And Mr. Gottsch, here's to you
For your aerial view
Of the school from a glorious height.

These people in lab
Don't doodle and dab
There's no time for a laugh or a smirk
They'll measure and weigh
Till the end of the day
If Cliff finds a mistake in their work.
