As a cartoon preserves each pen stroke of its artist, may this annual preserve all of our pleasant memories of school days at Bay Shore High so that we may recall and enjoy them in the years to follow.

DEAR MRS. JOHNSON, YOUR ABSENCE DURING THE
PAST MONTHS HAS MADE US INFINITELY MORE AWARE OF OUR DEBT OF GRATITUDE TO YOU AND OF OUR SIN-CERE ADMIRATION FOR YOUR MANY PERSONAL ATTRIBUTES DISPLAYED BY YOUR ASSOCIATION WITH US SINCE YOUR SPONSORSHIP OF US AS SOPHOMORES.
YOUR GUIDANCE WILL AL-WAYS BE REMEMBERED FOR ITS
QUALITIES OF INSPIRATION, CO-OPER-ATION AND PATIENCE.
WITH TRUE PRIDE, THE SENIORS DEDICATE THEIR YEAR BOOK TO YOU, MRS.
JOHNSON.

SINCERELY,
THE CLASS OF '47

It is as it should be that the senior class comprehends more fully the role of a school's administrators than the underclassmen, for it is they who have felt the pressing need of advice and guidance before assuming the tasks of a vastly different life. Thus, do we, the class of '47, readily acknowledge and sincerely appreciate the interest taken by our friends in the main offices in both our successes and failures, and we feel confident that this personal consideration during the past years will have a lasting affect upon all our future decisions.

Norman Alper

"Norm"

A serious intent not averse to a bit of horseplay now and then.

Leroy Bailey

"Roy"

They say red hair and freckles are indicative of the Irish. O'Really? No, O'Bailey.

Eleanor Baker

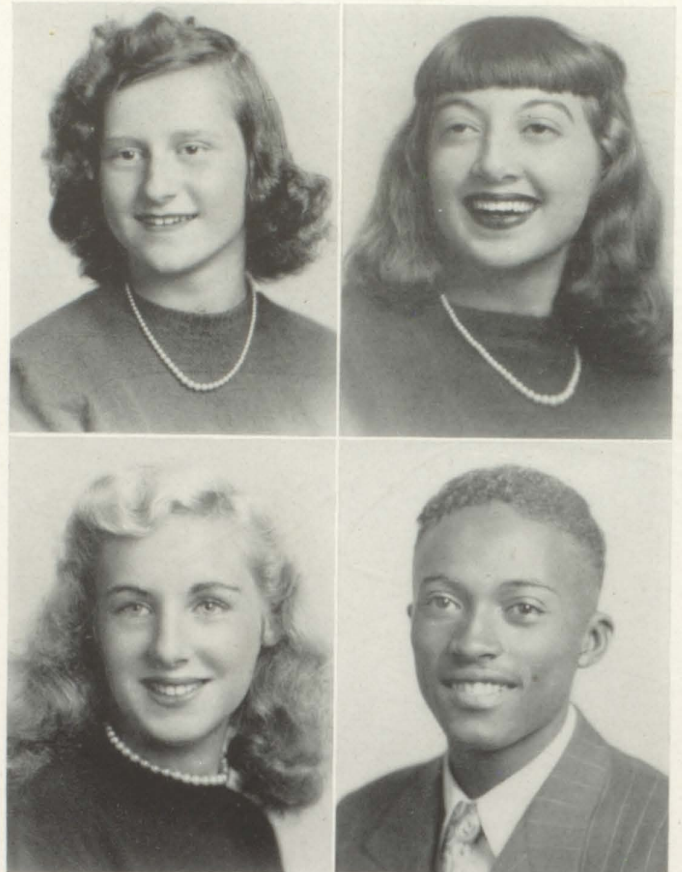

"Fatty"

The highest culture is to speak no ill.

Florence Baker

"Floss"

To say she is well versed in the gymnastic arts would be a gross understatement.

Helen Benischek

"Helen"

They do most who say least.

Mary Biangardi

"Mary"

With malice toward none.

Agnes Blydenburgh

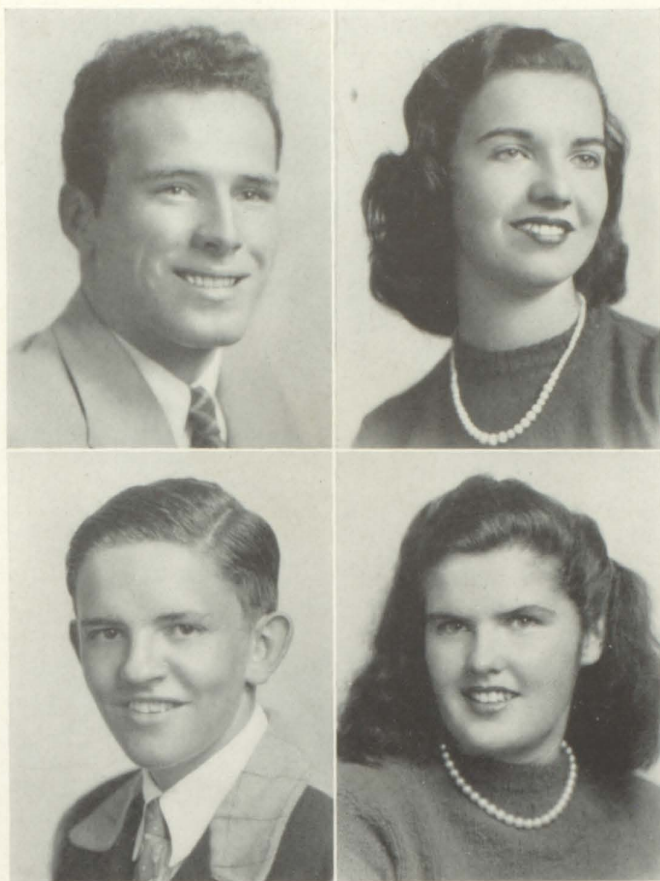

"Kingie"

So blue her eyes, so blonde her hair.

Richard Brown

"Rich"

Hail fellow, well met.

Walter Bunge

"Walter"

Sigh, no more, ladies, sigh no more.

Flora Busher

"Flora"

Her smile is something to find your way with in the dark.

Joseph Carley

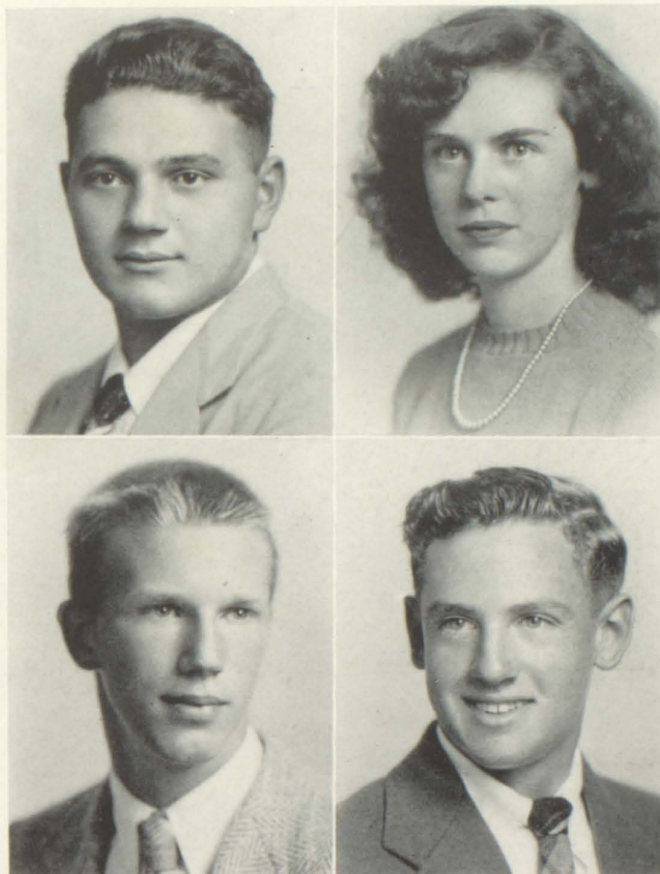

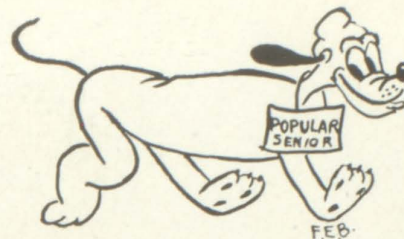

"Butterball"

Oh, what can I do to be forever known and make the coming age my very own.

Lillian Carroll

"Lillian"

Quiet and nice, that should suffice.

Jack Cioffi

"Jack"

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you."

Miriam Clark

"Mim"

I'm having a wonderful time.

Kem Clarkson

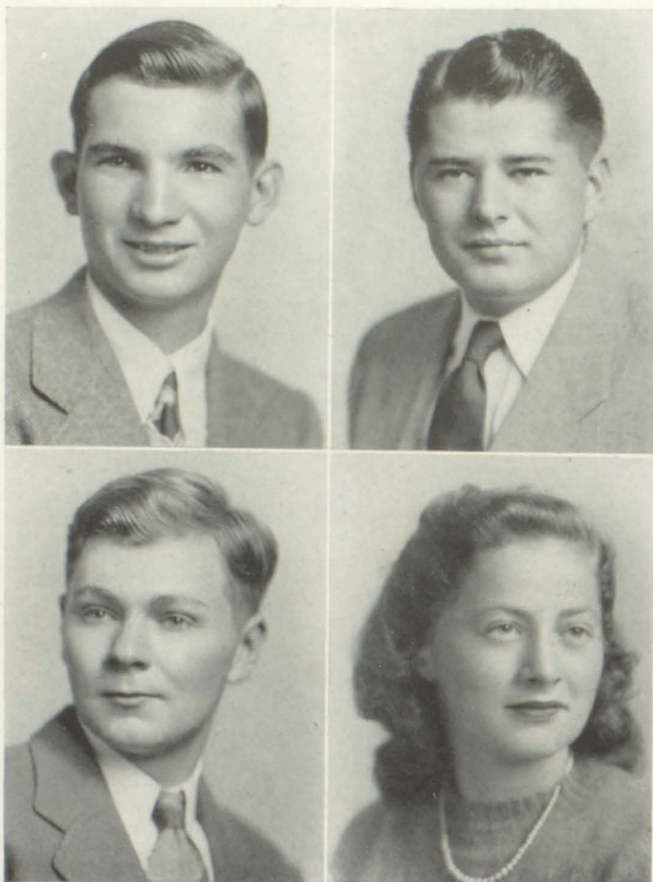

"Kem"

No one knows what a man can do till he tries.

John Cochrane

"Johnny"

Atom bomb and good humor man combined.

William Conklin

"Bill"

Beware the fury of a patient man.

Donald Conover

"Duck"

I am not a politician and my other habits are good, too.

John Cooper

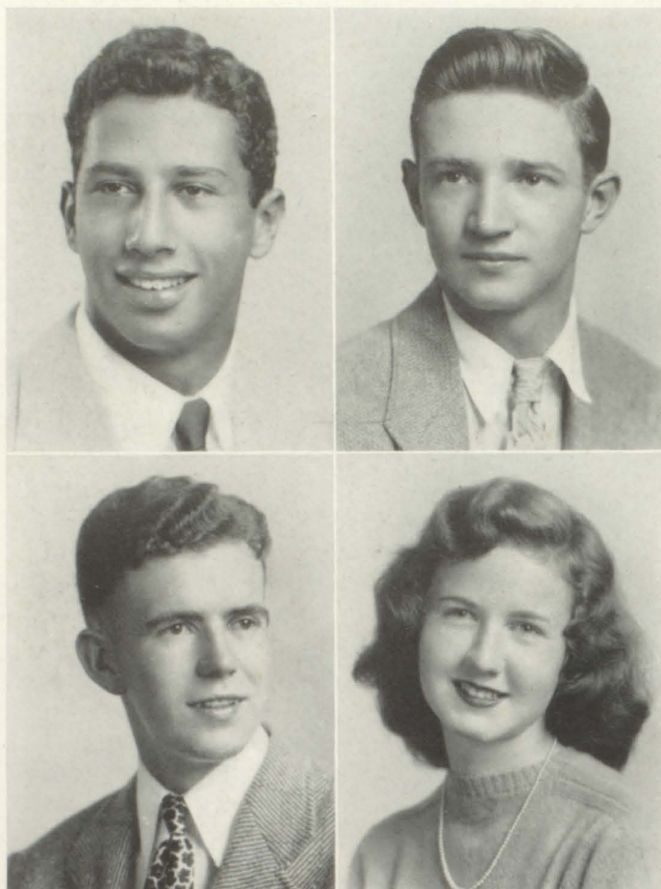

"Coop"

I don't want to make history.

Nancy Cummings

"Liz"

It's nice to be natural when you're naturally nice.

Jacques David

"Jack"

A gentleman from soul to crown.

William Doan

"Timmy"

Oh, what may man within him hide, though angel on the outward side.

Michael Dolan

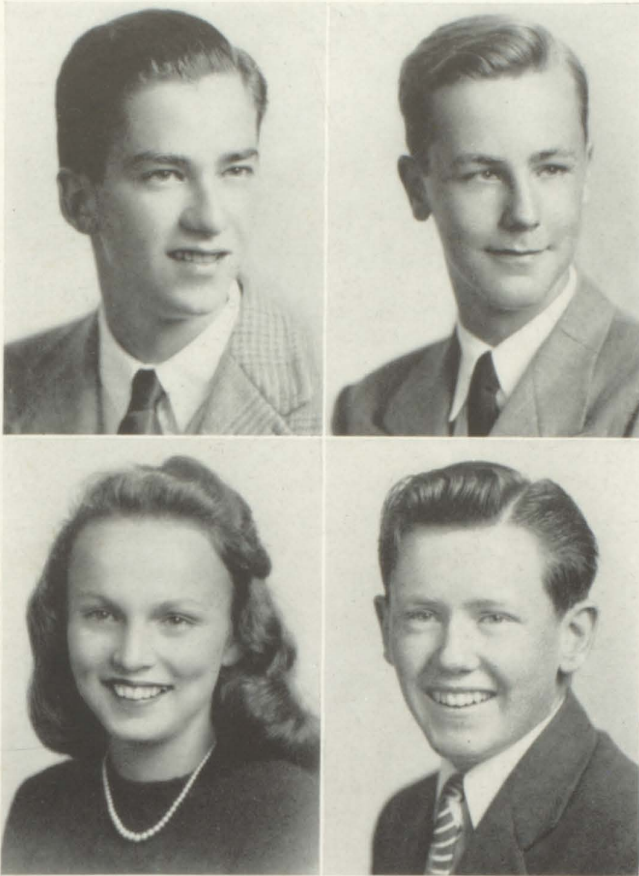

"Mike"

Any resemblance to mediocrity is purely coincidental.

Lillian Dufft

"Duffy"

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.

William Eldridge

"Bill"

And I'll go on—in silence.

Charles Entenmann

"Charlie"

I like to work but there are better things.

Arline Erickson

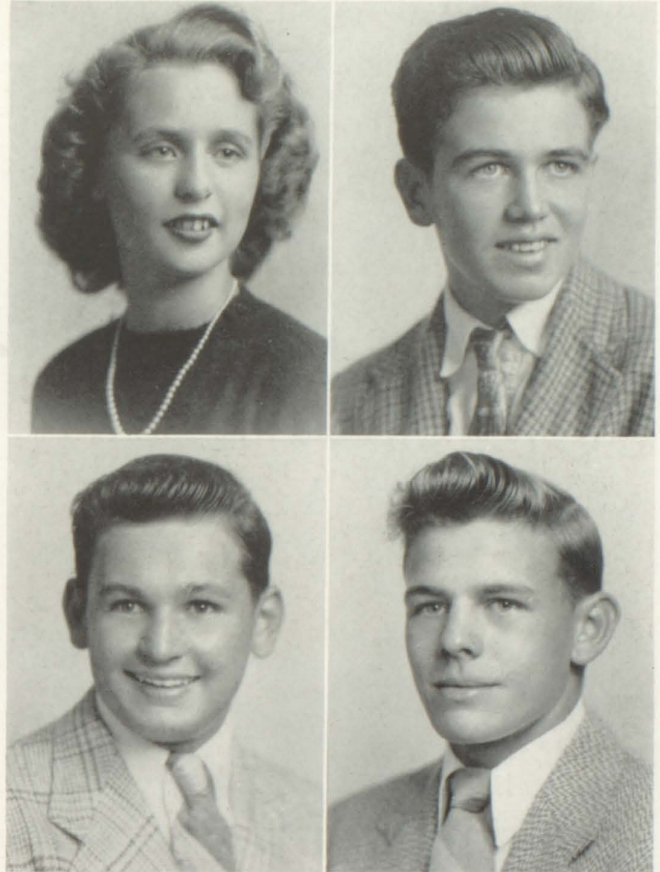

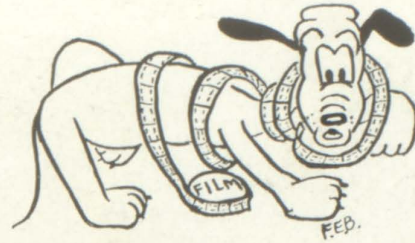

"Ollie"

A fair exterior is a silent recommendation.

Bernard Farrell

"Bernie"

This side of innocence.

Ann Fisher

"Ann"

The "Great Dissenter" of Prof. Clark's history class.

James Flood

"Jim"

I am no orator as Brutus was.

Robert Freund

"Bob"

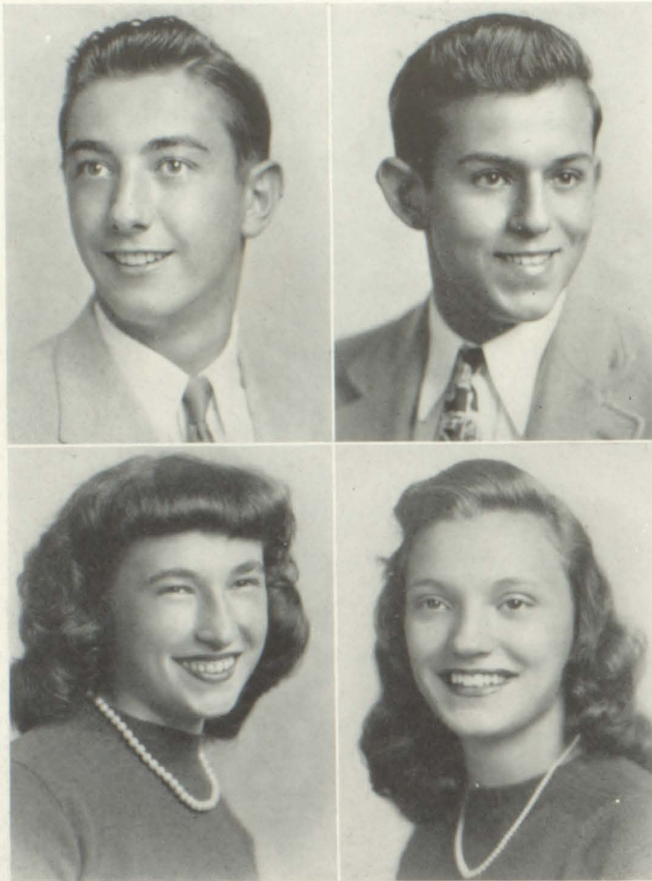

Disciplined in action.

James Gowan

"Jimmy"

A composite of looks, laughter and life.

1947

Charles Grampp

"Charlie"

"How to Win Friends and Influence People."

"Joyce"

Charm, poise, and a lovely voice.

Walter Hambley

"Walt"

Public energy number 1.

Delores Haney

"Delores"

Firm of purpose and light of heart.

James Healy

"Red"

For the deed's sake, I have done the deed.

Helen Holewinski

"Helen"

Animated from head to toe.

Romona Hough

"Rusty"

A "Take it as it comes" nature is an enviable asset.

William Hulse

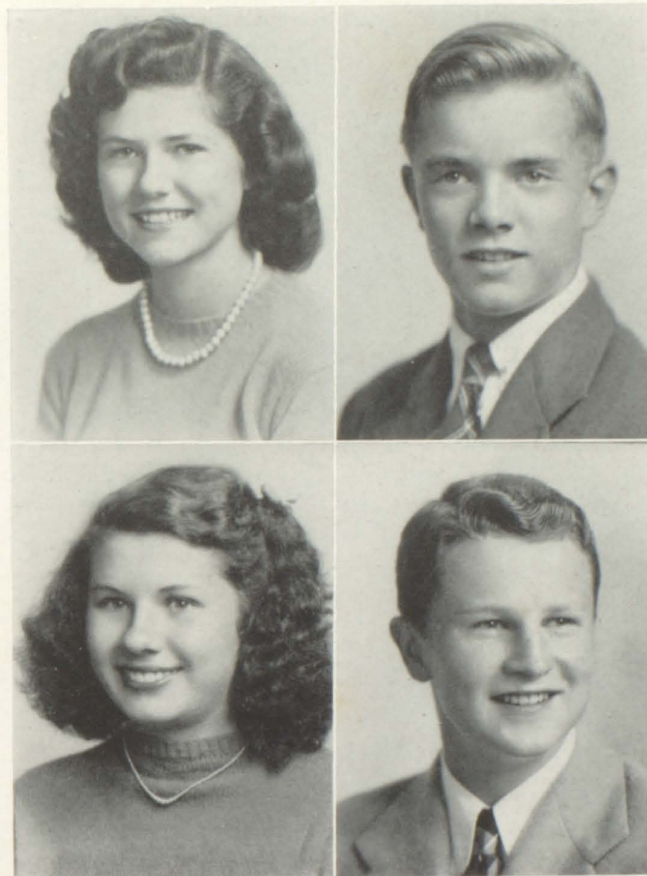

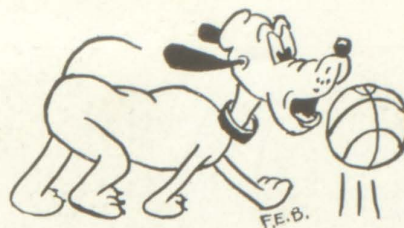

"Bill"

He's in and out like a fiddler's elbow.

Joan Hutton

"Hutt"

Frailty, thy name is woman.

Eleanor Inglis

"Elly"

A case of chronic questionitis.

Henning Isbrandsten

"Izzy"

His receipt for life: A flavor of enthusiasm, stirred with exuberance, garnished with a dash of devilry.

Peggy Jayne

"Peg"

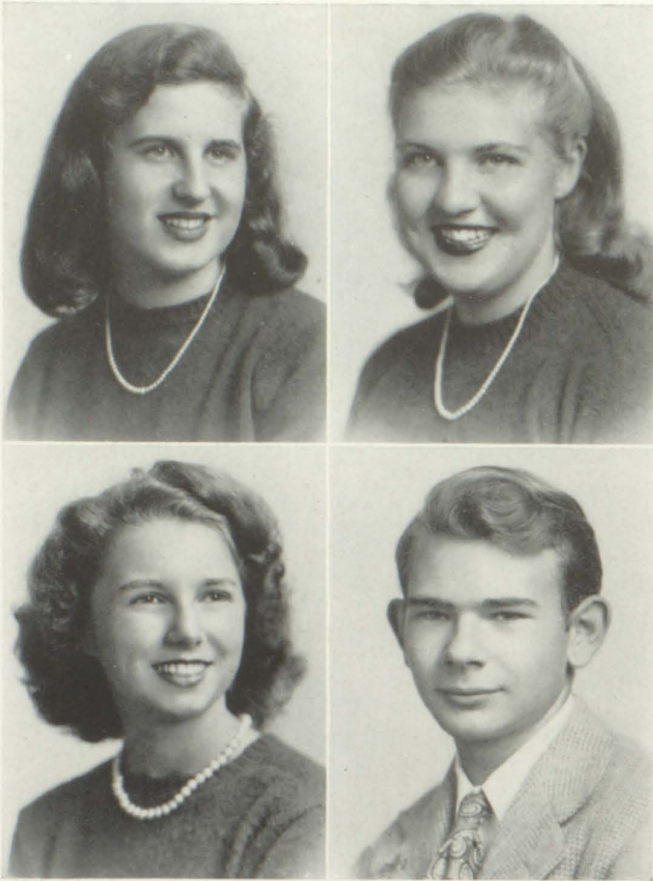

Speaking silence is better than senseless speech.

Richard Johnson

"Dick"

A 15 gun salute for this meteor in the senior sky of success.

1947

Ellen Kalinowsky

"Kalin"

A mind content, a conscience clear.

Rosemary Kellermann

"Roggie"

Her very frowns are fairer far, than smiles of other maidens are.

Virginia King

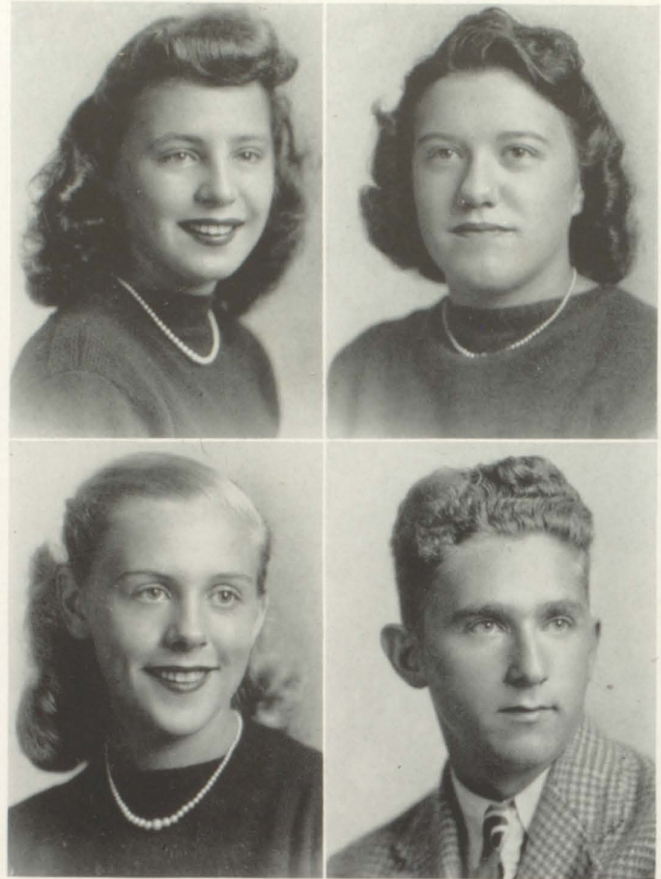

"Ginny"

Softly speak, sweetly smile.

Charles Kirkup

"Charlie"

Beware, I may yet do something sensational!

Ruth Kline

"Ruthie"

Decidedly oh-riginal, need more be said?

Sue Koral

"Sue"

A desire to help plus the ability to accomplish equals results.

Joan Kraus

"Joan"

A girl whose secretarial ability is outshone only by her personality.

Leon Krisiloff

"Eggs"

Bay Shore's mathemagician.

Gloria Lane

"Susie"

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

Mary Lawrence

"Mary"

She has the talent of making old friends out of new acquaintances.

Michael Lehr

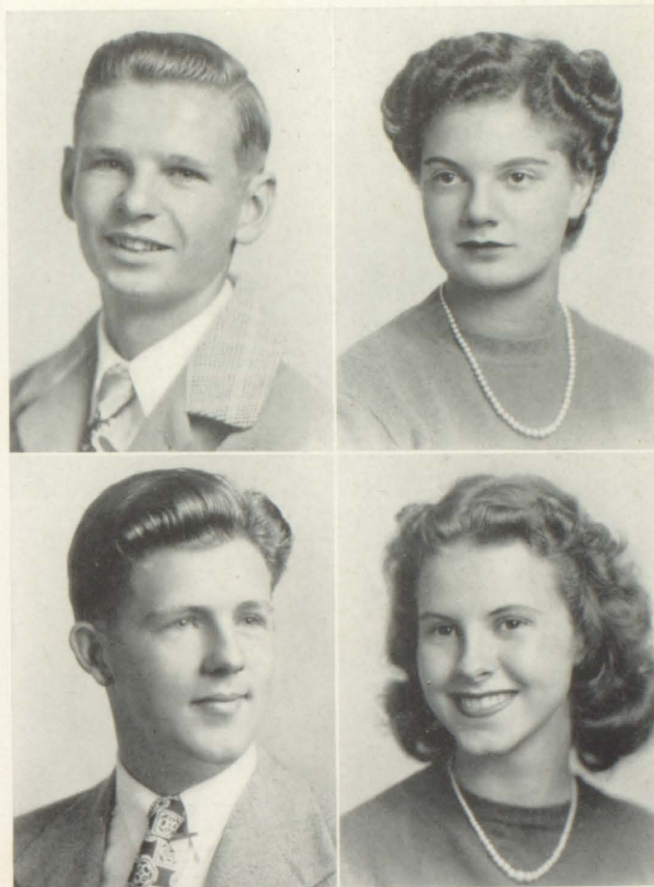

"Michael"

Master of myself—servant to none.

Audrey Liess

"Audrey"

The ability to get along with everyone is the key to success.

Eugene Mack

"Mac"

He's a small man who walks tall.

Sylvia Macy

"Sylvia"

Executive ability coupled with her savoir faire, will assure success.

James Mahoney

"Jimmy"

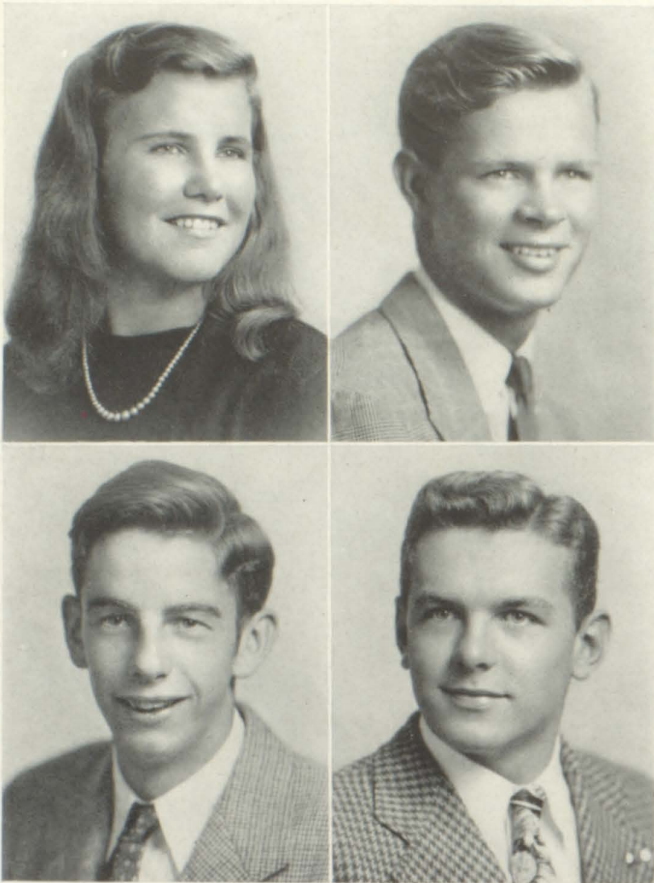

I said I wouldn't, they said I couldn't, but I fooled 'em and did.

Elizabeth Manahan

"Betty"

Her simplicity attracts friends, her good nature keeps them.

1947

Helen Mandery

"Helen"

At last my sufferings I'll cast aside.

Michael Manley

"Mike"

Athlete and statesman—rarest unison.

Patrick McDonough

"Pat"

For there's something about you that's Irish.

Gustave Merkel

"Gus"

Yon Merkel hath a merry look; such men are welcome.

Joan Mesloh

"Measle"

Generally speaking, she's generally speaking.

Harvey Milk

"Glimpy"

And they say WOMEN are never at a loss for words!

Angelina Monti

"Angie"

Good and bad fortune rest equally lightly on her shoulders.

Theodore Most

"Ted"

I long to know, yet I dread to hear it.

Edward Mullaney

"Ed"

He is full of good intentions.

Marilyn Muller

"Marty"

Action, looks, words; steps of the alphabet by which you spell character.

Donald Murn

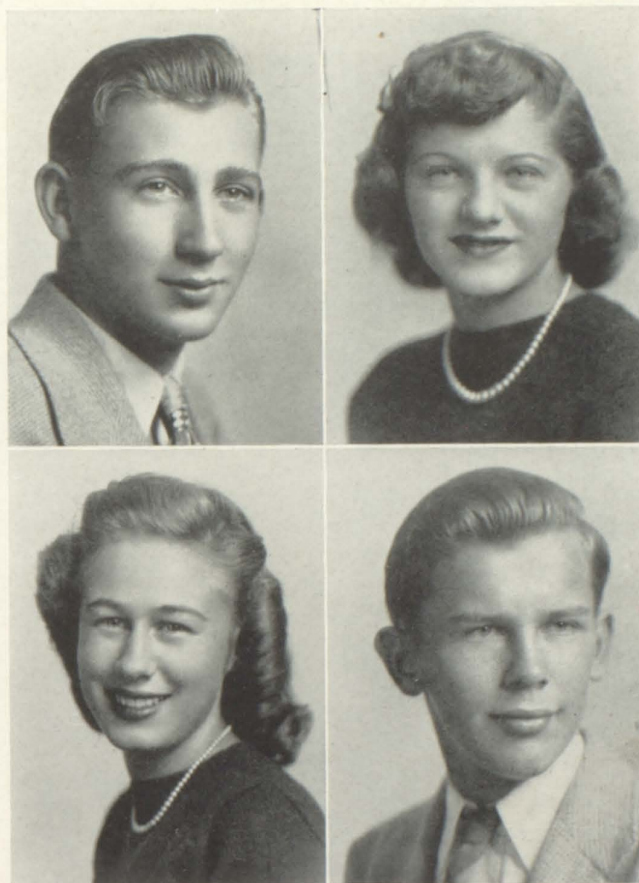

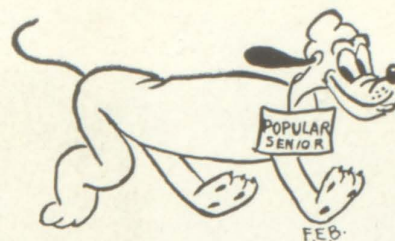

"Don"

As placid as a Noel Coward Englishman.

Muriel Murray

"Muriel"

Stick to it and you will rise.

Fred Nelson

"Buddy"

Too good for banning; too bad for blessing.

Bernadine Norris

"Bernie"

The sweet girl of the three desserts.

Hazel Oakes

"Hazel"

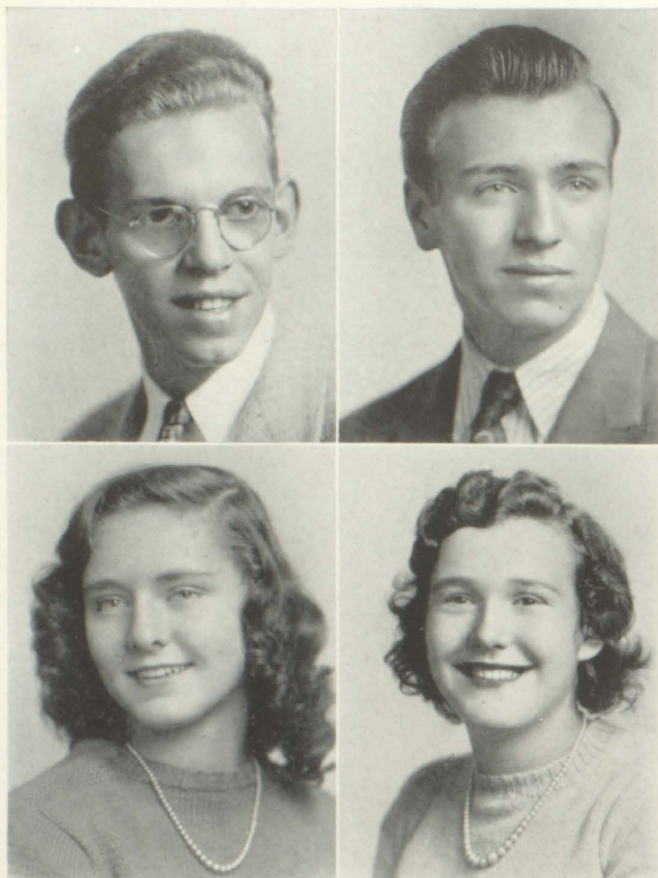

"No talking in the library".

Alvin Osekavage

Oscar"

"Though the earth tremble and the heavens fall,
I shall remain steady through all."

1947

Fred Page

"Fred"

Measure for measure, beat for beat.

Robert Peck

"Gregory"

Gregory in the soul, Robert in the flesh.

Joan Peithman

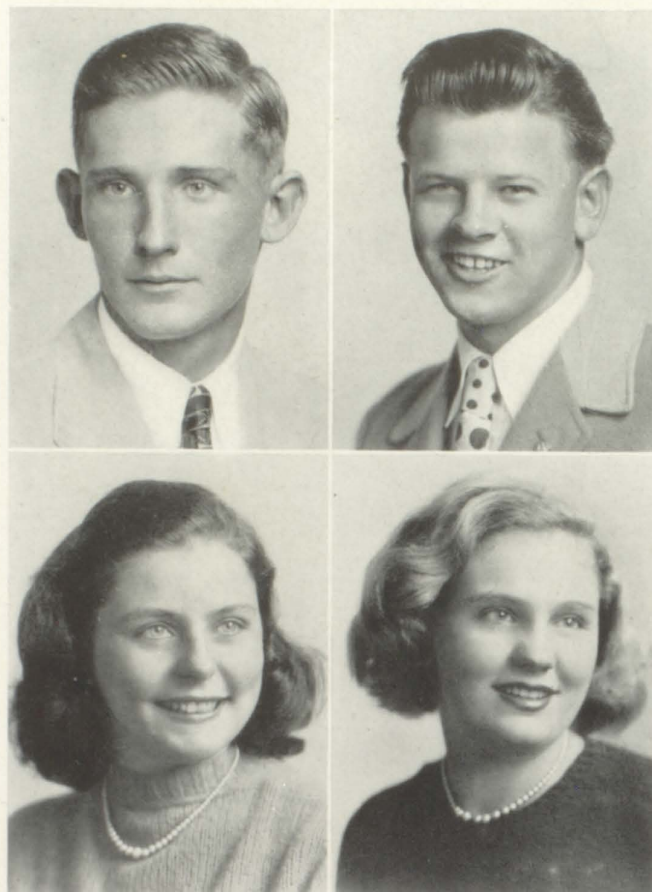

"Johnie"

Always in the front row, rain, shine, or quiz.

Ida Pike

"Ida"

Her days are a series of jestcapades.

Norman Price

"Red"

The class cynic. As a child his first words were:
"It's a fake!"

Edward Puntervold

"Eddie"

Oh, for the gay life unhindered by the mundane!

Gloria Zuinn

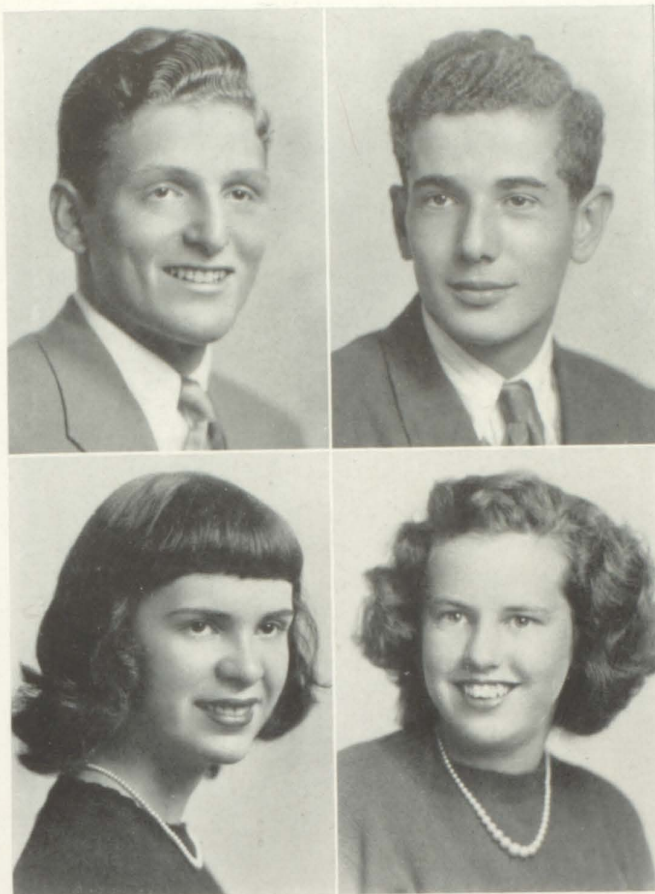

"Gloria"

Youth in its prime.

Helen Raeth

"Shackle"

Backward in coming forward.

Morton Retchin

"Mort"

"A man that blushes is not quite the brute."

Manuel Riba

"Manuel"

It's not by study alone that gets one through—luck counts.

Sally Robbins

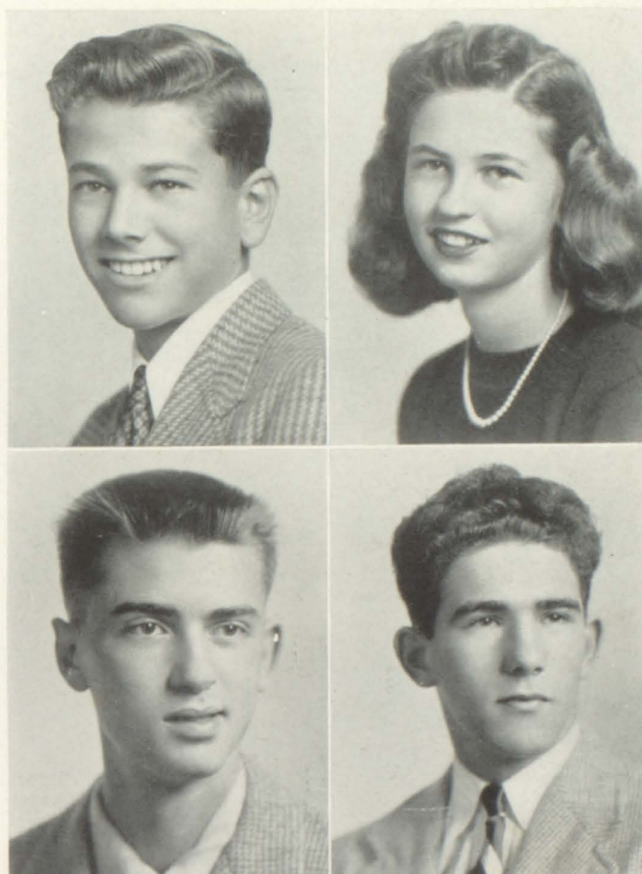

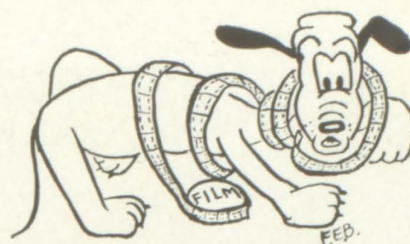

"Sally"

A ready wit compliments a collegiate air.

Barbara Rogers

"Rog"

Like a pearl—one must dive deep.

Robert Root

"Bob"

The world knows nothing of its greatest men.

Laurel Rose

"Peanut"

Much personality in little space.

Louis Rossuck

"Louis"

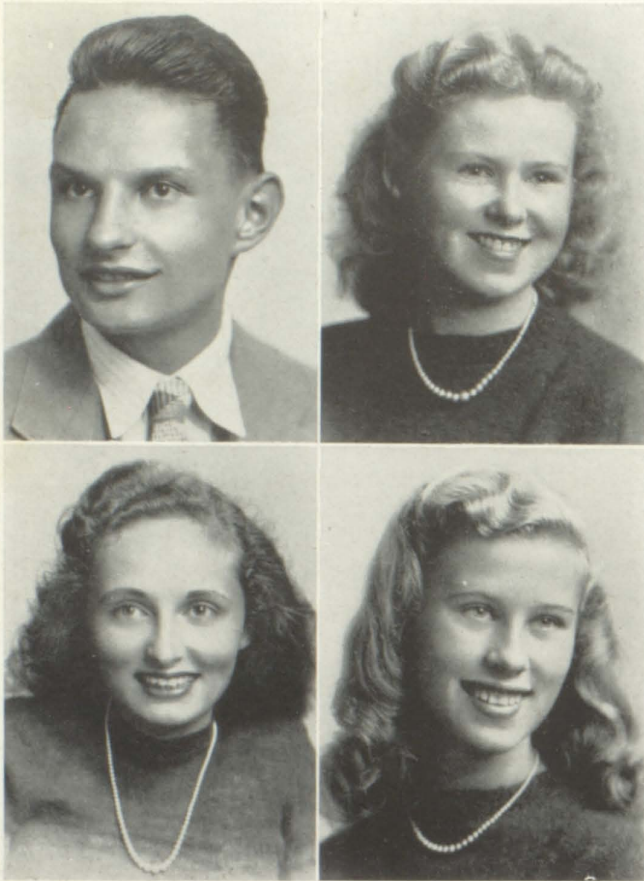

Wise or otherwise.

Herbert Rovitz

"Herbie"

If still waters run deep, then Herbie is the Atlantic Ocean.

1947

Donald Ruchin

"Donald"

"My Four Years in a Quandary."

Helen Rueb

"Helen"

The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good.

Shirley Rumplick

"Shirley"

'Tis deeds that speak, not words.

Carmen Sanborn

"Carm"

A treasure chest of graciousness, versatility, and sincerity.

Yolanda Sasso

"YoYo"

Comparisons are so unsatisfactory.

Richard Saxe

"Fabe"

Higher and higher.

Natalie Schein

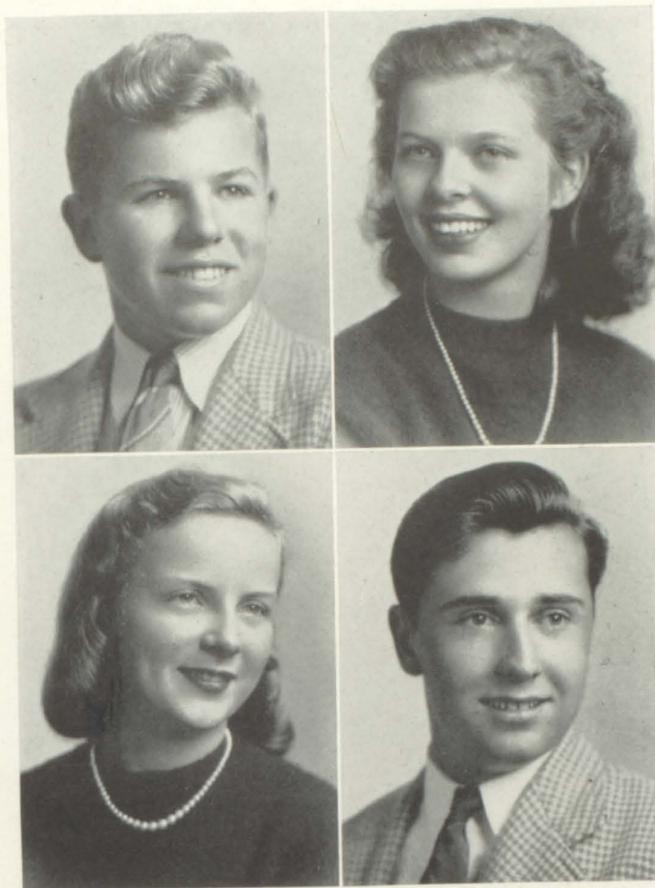

"Nat"

Nothing endures but personal qualities.

Gloria Schild

"Glo"

With a smile and a song.

Arthur Schiller

"Artie"

The return of Tarzan.

Joan Schwanda

"Joan"

Delicate as a Dresden doll with a voice suited to her temperament.

Joan Shaughnessy

"Joan"

Reason and calm judgment—those qualities particularly belonging to a leader.

Sam Shlinbaum

"Sam"

I am what I am and so will I be.

John Smath

"Johnny"

Why aren't they all contented like me?

Robert Sprague

"Bob"

He has the ability to produce effect, in whatever he undertakes.

Mary Spriggs

"Mary"

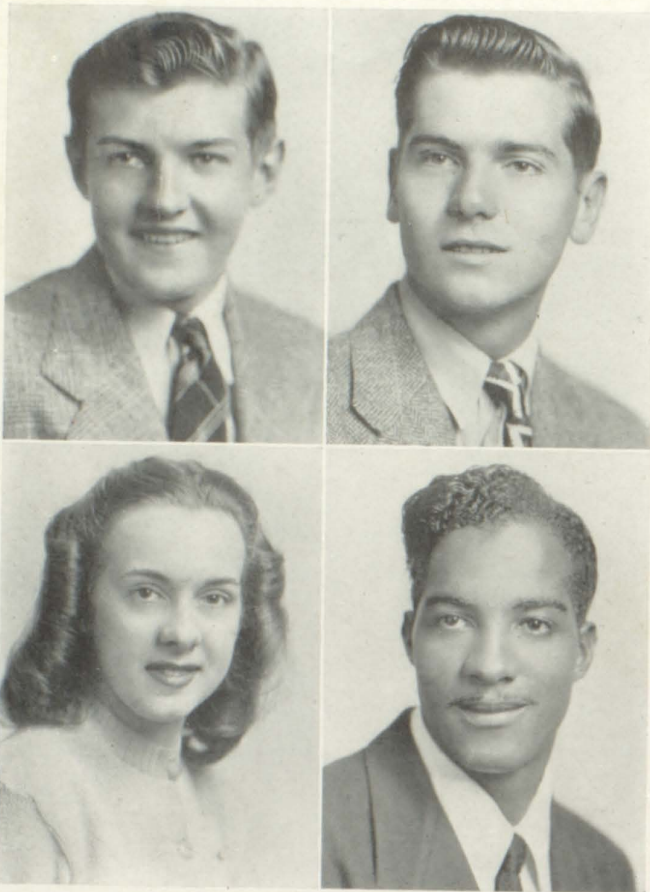

As genuine as a Stradivari violin.

Mary Steven

"Mary"

The pursuit of knowledge is a valuable adventure.

1947

Frank Struhar

"Frank"

Oh, the mystery of it all.

Thomas Sullivan

"Tom"

I came, they saw, I conquered.

Joan Timpe

"Joan"

Too new, still under investigation, but the prospects are interesting.

John Thomas

"John"

Look sharp, feel sharp, be sharp!

Joan Tolwitch

"Joan"

Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be reckless.

Virginia Velez

"Virginia"

A nature possessed of a quiet affability.

Janice Waldo

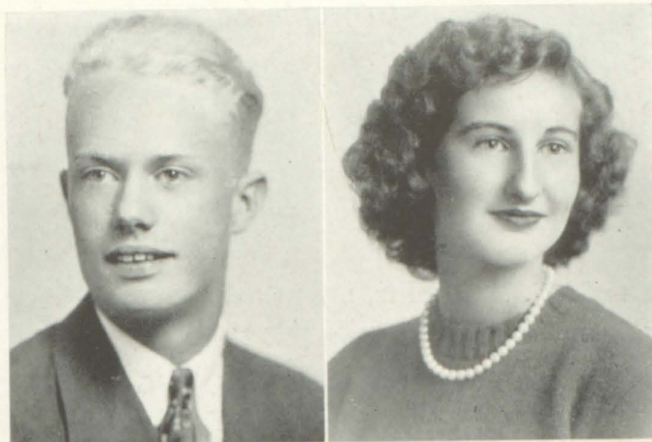

"Muscles"

Full of sweet indifference.

Sally Walker

"Sally"

As restful as a hurricane.

Ralph Warnken

"Bud"

What is so rare as an "A" in June.

Joyce Weierter

"Joy"

There is a sharp difference between one who is stubborn, and one who is resolute.

Richard Welton

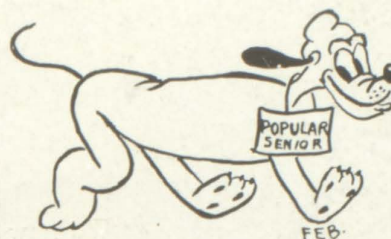

"Dick"

Just grins and grins and grins.

Caroline Wolf

"Pee Wee"

Let there be men!

OUT OF THE INK BOTTLE

We now take you back to 1945. Remember, my pet, that was the year when the Class of '47 came over to the senior side ready to conquer the world. Inspired by Mrs. Johnson, our sophomore class was the first one to organize in the history of Bay Shore High School. With this excellent beginning, the first thing, as usual, was to try by hook or by crook to swell the treasury. There were the usual dances and candy-selling affairs, and, of course, the class dues which were reluctantly paid. Poor Archie, Blair that is, had quite a time as president that year. He finally retired in June with a right to feel proud of himself as we all were of him.

September, 1946, a blare of trumpets! We were off! To be prosy and to say we had activities enough would be putting it mildly. Take a peek at the pictures for a bird's eye view of our high, wide, and handsome doings. In November and December, we started to speculate about the prom and a few months later, Carmen emerged with the idea of a southern plantation for the theme. Wasn't it fun? Junior girls distinguished themselves by walking off with the most eligible senior boys, need we say more? The next item on the list was class day and the senior girls expressed their thanks by presenting Sally Walker with a lock of Mr. Geddes' hair. Was her face red! We wound up the year by "goodby" to the seniors and by quickly stepping into their shoes.

HOLLY HOP

1947-SUPER!!

THIS IS IT, our final chapter, and interesting too, for we find we not only had loads of fun but also accomplished many things. But let us go way back into 1946 to start our proud tale. Proud, of course, because in our class we have such famous persons as "One touch down Fabe", the football cyclone, and our dramatic and dignified Sylvia, who showed her true colors (red, that is) upon dropping an unmentionable during the matinee performance of "Cuckoo's on the Hearth", our senior play. We'll remember Joan's ardent studying to pull Johnny through a tough exam and Carol's persisent skull-cracking in order to do a good "Maroon Fight". One day, during fifth period lunch, our gal Sal was given a hilarious going away party complete with candles, cake, and song. She was gone three whole days!

Fall found the seniors transformed into traveling salesmen, going from door to door with the "Suffolk Sporting Weekly". This subscription campaign added a tidy sum to our treasury and so did the movie and the popularity contest, which brought Lil and Henny out on top. Basketball games also boosted our monetary balance. Who can forget that Senior girl-boy game, at which the girls were at their best and the boys were—well—they were there too. And then there was the benefit game at which the Bay Shore Legion played the Peekskill champs for our yearbook funds. We had a glorious card party too! Anything from Old Maid to Bridge was allowed, and all those people!

So many things happened from September to June that they may seem trivial and yet, they made us smile and held us together, so how can we forget them? We'll remember them and cherish them as we will the unforgettable prom that the Juniors gave us, at which, for the first time, the yearbook was formally presented to the dedicatee. With the chuckles of laughter at class day and with a catch in our throats at graduation, our year ended with a smile and a tear.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Superman John Cochrane, president, with his entourage:
Virginia King, treasurer; Eddie Puntervold, vice-president; Joan Kraus, secretary.

SMILIN' THRU

Class officers: Chester Christie, treasurer; Ed Pomerantz, president; Carlisle Gatje, G. O. Rep.; Joyce McAllister, vice president; Miss Wentzel, faculty advisor; Sue Shaughnessy, secretary.

Prelude to Priority

"Oh! you have plenty of stationery? Wal—I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I've got pen-nants, hats, stickers and pins and—oh! then I've got exactly what you need, a ticket to the One-Act plays! The Juniors are producing 'Ile' by Eugene O'Neill". That, dear friends, was a typical conversation from a member of the Junior Class. Under the guidance of Irmgard Wentzel, the Juniors sponsored many money-making plans including a Variety Show, which wound up their earning quota and enabled them to give the passing senior class a memorable Prom. The seniors certainly appreciated it, all the way from the engraved invitations to the distribution of the year-book at the Prom—June 7. With their ability for selling and their enthusiasm the Junior Class of 1947 can hardly do anything, but succeed as the Senior Class of 1948.

Bobby Sophers — Sophomore Class

The Strenuous Life

Under the direction of their capable president, Werner Lutz, the sophs again took the well-known pecuniary problem in hand by their sale of candy at the football, basketball, and baseball games. This provided a tidy sum for their treasury, which, incidentally, is the largest ever to boost a class toward the glorious senior year. Before their beloved faculty advisor, Mrs. Johnson, left our halls, this class already showed the fine results of a well-organized program to better scholastic averages called, "The Battle of the Brains". Another fine achievement was their One-Act Play, "The Caliph's Beard" directed by Miss Evans. A word of thanks to Miss Merlin and Mr. Bittner for taking over so capably where Mrs. Johnson left off. The Class of '49 certainly was given their share of wisdom and talent and at this point the class of '47 says "hats off".

PERSONEL-LY YOURS

A Day With The Ninth Grade

Freshmania

Ninth Grade: Under the helpful and friendly guidance of Mr. Harbeck, the freshman class of this year has certainly proven its mettle in a number of ways. Their accomplishments have been many, and have been carried out in varied fields.

The 9th grade's first big social undertaking of the year just past was a Halloween Dance, which was held in the Bay Shore High School gym. That dance proved so successful that a second dance was planned, a St. Patrick's shindig held in the cafeteria.

All the homerooms were, naturally, organized and had the usual staff of officers, these being President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and J. C. Representative.

Mr. Ploeser — shop

Mr. Acerno — English

Mr. Burns—Art

Miss Schneible — Home Economics

As its dramatic contribution to the 3 One-Act Play program, the Freshman Class presented "Sugar and Spice", under the direction of Mr. Acerno.

The freshman boys have been active in athletics throughout the year and are to be complimented for some were awarded varsity letters in cross country and wrestling.

Miss Cattadoris training, today, the voices of tomorrow.

The Shiny Faces

Eighth Grade: As a newly organized class, the eighth graders, or the Junior High's "In Between-ers", did their best to contribute to a successful and memorable year. Their goal was not so much to build up a treasury as the upperclassmen, but to establish and obey good principles, and then to have downright fun. The former may be illustrated by their fine cooperation with the

J. C. and their splendid work during subscription time. The latter is shown by their fine turnout at dances and parties held during the season. They may be proud of their many sport enthusiasts and their talented choristers and art students. A grade such as this is typical of the Junior High classes and we seniors want to wish them all the luck in the world.

A journey into the wonders of Science chaperoned by Mr. Harbeck.

The fledglings

Seventh Grade: This year must have been an exciting, and at times a frightening one for the Seventh Graders, because it marked the beginning of their journey through Junior and Senior High, and finally, to graduation. How well we all remember those first tremulous days while getting used to our new surroundings and our gradual acceptance of them. The homerooms were well organized, each having a President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer. The offices are held for a term. The class meetings entailed much hilarity plus some discussion of business. Social affairs were quite prevalent since Halloween and Christmas parties were held, plus a party for the members of the cast of the play "Three Cheers for Mother" which was directed by Miss Evans. And that, everyone enjoyed.

THE BUMPSTEADS? NO-O-O, THE G. O. OFFICERS

Richard (Alexander) Johnson, treasurer; Florence (Cookie) Baker, vice president;
Michael (Dagwood) Manley, president; Carmen (Blondie) Sanborn, secretary.

In Motion

A far cry from the Molotovs, Bonnets, and Vandenburgs of the Lake Success headquarters perhaps, but no less anxious to approve those things which spur the school on to higher goals, describes the attitude of the body of representatives which occupy the seats in room 307 every Monday afternoon, come rain or come shine, or come Mike or no Mike.

Such is the scene and situation in the senior study hall when the G. O. board of control meet to "yea" and "nay" on the various and sundry items confronting them during the year.

A typical session follows. Promptly at 3:15 or 3:20 or 3:25, president Mike, assuming a diplomatic and august air, would solemnly notify the delegates that the meeting was now called to order. Thereupon, Carmen would rise, face her audience and call the roll after which the minutes would be read. With the "opening of the books" the following accomplishments are disclosed!

The annual subscription campaign netted the board a very substantial profit, a basis for costs to come; costs which included the purchase of new skirts for the cheerleaders, new uniforms for the band and most important of all, a bronze plaque in memory of the Bay Shore high boys who made the supreme sacrifice in the past war. The G. O. feels particularly proud of their decision to erect the plaque, for it was the first organization in Bay Shore to honor these boys in such a way. This plaque inscribed with the names of Everard Arbour, Algy Augunas, Robert Bartley, Robert Benischek, Stuart Boyd, Franklin Chase, Carmelo Cirella, Leon Freedman, Stanley Hafele, Edward Hughes, William Nesenger, Robert Ruschmeyer, John Selvich, Carmen Squillante, and Ian Way, now hangs in the main entrance at the head of the stairs, placed there after the unveiling by the G. O. officers at a special assembly.

The fact that the G. O. sponsored the annual three one-act plays that were both dramatic and financial success was another item listed in the secretary's "little red book" as was the note about the publication of the Pilot, the student handbook, another of the G. O.'s enterprises. The "reps" also learned from Dick that the receipts from the basketball games were extremely gratifying.

Further reading of the year's minutes disclosed the activities of the Junior High governing body, the Junior Council. Another successful year was experienced by Miss Bennett's charges who sold pencils, gave dances, furnished a club room, and in general promoted qualities of dependability and citizenship.

The reading of the complete record for the year served to indicate that the G. O. once again successfully fulfilled its responsibility of leading and guiding the school activities.

Maroon Echo

An exceptionally large turnout at the annual tryout meeting in September eased the no slight apprehension felt by Mrs. Kellum and the Editor because of the "Echo's" depleted ranks as a result of the 1946 graduation. Special cause for thanks arose when "out of the mist" came Johnny and Bob, ready and eager to take the sports editorship, places vacated by Joe and Bert. Why, you ask, was the reason for this particular thankfulness? By this time it should be widely known that the Editor's knowledge of the athletic arts amounts to her realizing that in baseball lingo, a south paw is not someone's father from the cotton picking regions. Thus, all reportorial positions filled, the journalistic year began for Bay Shore's Ann O'Hare McCormicks and Walter Lippmans and a more than satisfactory year it was. Determined to produce a six page paper instead of the usual four, the staff fulfilled this desire except when unfavorable pecuniary conditions reared its ugly head, thus making it expedient to resort to the four page issue, which happily, didn't occur too often. Original cartoons by Frank Wagner and plentiful cuts supplied by the camera corps helped to enhance the "Echo's" pictorial value. Along literary lines, several new features were added. The monthly letters from last year's graduates at institutions of higher learning proved to be both informative and amusing while the column devoted to the more illustrious older alumni offered a contrast to these letters. The "Then and Now" feature was proof that the characteristic "quirks" of students and faculty alike don't change, though the years may, and concerning that all important column usually found on the back page, the Dust Bowl was written by those whose only wish is that everyone understand that it was scribed with "malice toward none". In spite of many frantic moments, such as meeting the deadlines, the headline day mania and the age old problem of either having not enough space or conversely, too much, publishing the Maroon Echo, although not always like the proverbial bed of roses, provided many pleasant moments and invaluable experience for the staff and at the same time performed an enriching service to the school.

Maroon And White

CHIEFS

Julie Franchi, faculty advisor;
Marilyn Muller, editor-in-chief.

At this point we, the staff, feel qualified to tell you what the well dressed mouse will wear as he struts down the avenue with his sweetie pie. In case you didn't know, comic books were the order of the day when it came to captions, write-ups, dividers, and the Maroon and White in general. If you look closely, you will see the three gray hairs of Marie, Carmen, and Joyce. Any morning about four minutes after nine, Carmen could be seen tracking down her errant associates with the request "please get your cartoons in." At the mention of "he who", the whole literary staff will break into slightly hysterical laughter, since this is a stern reminder of the days when they were "doing" the seniors, God bless 'em! Thus, the stroke of the pen and the stroke of the artist has produced your yearbook which the staff hopes you will enjoy.

Parnassus Club

Many of the attractive displays in the library are executed by the faithful members of Parnassus who devoted one period a week to library duty and thus relieve some of Miss McDuff's burden. This year the secretary's minutes revealed some interesting activities which included a picnic at Hecksher Park, a trip to see the Broadway play, "Bloomer Girl", and the annual faculty tea held during book week. This last item is an important function of Parnassus for much time and effort is spent in preparation for the celebration, when many inviting new books are placed on display for inspection and approval.

Debate Club

Living up to its name, the Debate Club has debated, argued, cajoled, pleaded, and thrashed out many an issue which has wearied and perplexed the U. N. Bouts with other schools, proved the mettle of our modern Douglasses, notably, the debates with Chaminade and Baldwin. Strictest parliamentary law was observed at the meetings, and woe betide the unfortunate who fell short of perfection and found his way to the notes of the secretary, whose watchful eye was ever present. No doubt many future seniors will speak fondly of debating days when initiated into Mr. Clark's senior history class.

DELTA DELTA Carmen Sanborn, Delta Delta sorority president, has capably lead the club through the school year. The club members co-operated in filling a Thanksgiving basket which was given to a needy family. The Delta Deltas' also successfully carried out a rummage sale. This event has become an annual affair for the club members because it has proven very worthwhile for so many successive years. A motion to restrict the length of the initiation period to one day has been adopted. At the end of the year a key was presented to the members of the sorority who had been most active in the club's affairs.

PHI DELTAS The Phi Delta Sigma sorority had another one of its successful years with Joan Shaughnessy as its president. Activities included the worthy practice of contributing a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family and entertaining the Delta Delta sorority at a Christmas party. Another fruitful venture was a Snowball Dance which was held at the Community Building during the Christmas vacation. Everyone looked forward to and enjoyed the Phi Delta-Faculty basketball game which was held on March 26th. This annual event has come to be a Bay Shore High School tradition and one that is eagerly awaited by all.

PSI LAMBDA PHI A full and interesting year has been enjoyed by the Psi Lambda Phi fraternity with John Cochrane as Princeps. The frat opened the fall season with a formal dance held in the gym on November 16th, at which a trophy was presented to the football team. The boys ran the checkroom at all the home basketball games as successfully as in past years. April 1st, found the boys attending a well-enjoyed dinner and on May 3rd, the traditional formal spring dance was held. The year was closed with the presentation of a trophy to the outstanding Senior athlete.

SCIENCE CLUB—Led by Mr. Harbeck, the Science Club, we are sure, will earn its niche in the place reserved for all scientific ventures. Each of the would-be Einsteins has chosen a project which may be the building of a radio, or the study of photography, or anything else that strikes the fancy of Bay Shore's public scientists number 1.

FAMS—At long last our home economics department has received recognition. With the beginning of the Fams last year, such events as the football banquet were brightened considerably by the Fam waitresses who did their bit. Throughout the year this group has baked and sewed, and discussed home furnishing which will, no doubt, be beneficial at a later date.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?—All in all the past year proved to be a very enjoyable and successful one for the newly-acquired "garçons" as well as for Mlle Franchin and her "demoiselles". Looking back upon the season's achievements, the Cercle Francais find such incidents as the "causerie" and the "soiree" given by Monsieur and Madame Louegroue, the "fete de Noel", and a jaunt to the U. N. O.

DICITISNE LATINAM?—Bay Shore High's "Modern Romans", have memories of a very successful year, socially as well as financially. As usual, Miss Hall not only graciously opened her home to us, but also prepared those mouth-watering after-meeting snacks. Well remembered are the jelly apple sales, the initiations, the Christmas party, and the barbecue at which we entertained the Cercle Francais.

Music Hath Charms

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Goessling, the orchestra has successfully gone through its paces in providing music the year round. Will we forget the mood music of the senior play or the Music Festival, or the three one-act plays? Orchestra members have their own memories, as the time that it was possible to actually hear a pin drop during one of the rehearsals, or one morning when they were told about the boarding house explosion, "Rumors Are Flying". Besides playing for dramatic activities, the orchestra took a major role in the Christmas Pageant in cooperation with the junior and senior choruses. The assembly programs too, would not be complete were it not for the marches played. All of these activities provide experience for those who wish to make music their professions. Ensemble work is essential and poise is developed in this pleasurable way. Fred Page and Werner Lutz are among those who have profited by this experience in other orchestras. Some of the outstanding symphonic works performed were themes from "Shererzade", Tchiakowsky's "Sixth Symphony", and the "March of the Peers", from "Iolanthe". These were heard at the Music Festival and the three one-act plays.

Merrie Melodies

This year is one that will be remembered by the Girls' Choir because of a very important happening. This happening was the Choirs' organization and acceptance as a club by the General Organization. Miss Florence Cattadoris has been an excellent director and has worked to develop three part choral work among the girls. The practice of holding a party in the fall and one in the spring has been established. A system has been devised under which the girls work for credits toward awards which will be presented at the close of the school year. The awards will be: bronze keys for the tenth, silver for the eleventh, and gold for the twelfth year students.

Girls' Chorus: Sue Karol, Jeanne Alinovi, Eileen Ostrafsky, Sally Walker, Alda Thomas, Ruth Kalt, Rosemary Kellermann, Joyce Haddock, Evelyn Runyon, Joyce Weiarter, Yolanda Sasso, Caliopi Boufis, Connie Renna, Joan Winfield, Cordelia Cooper, Delores Haney, Gloria Schield, Pat Brown, Sandra Pinsker, Kathryn Cattadoris, Marilyn Muller, Nancy Cummings, Betty Manahan, Mary Boufis, Frances Guinta, Betty Cook, Nancy Gorirville, Doris Primis, Rita Rogers, Irene Wolhfarth, Gloria Monti, May Harte, Mirian Clark, Lorraine Hala, Joan Orr, Marjorie Oliver, Libby Jane Rolnick, Louise Freeman, Irene Zetzer, Rosemary Rogers, Jannette Pace, Helen Wolf, Carol Wagner, Gladys Perlmutter, Carmen Sanborn, Helen Rueb, Kay Schultz, Eileen Petti, Norma Valaney, Joan Petty.

Rise and Shine.

Christmas Program

Under the able direction of Florence Cattadoris, the combined junior and senior choruses made the Christmas program a colorful and enjoyable presentation. The theme of "The Unbelieving Shepherd" provided a rich background for the program. The participating groups were: the orchestra, the Junior Girls' Glee Club, the Senior Sextette, and the Boys' Chorus. This was the first year that a chorus of mixed boys' and girls' voices was used. Solos were sung by Nancy Rosenthal, Rosemary Kellermann, Joyce Haddock, Norma Velaney, and Roberta Selegson.

Our Band

Tramp, tramp, tramp the band is marching! In a long procession of football games, basketball games, assemblies, and parades, the band has led the way. The promise of new uniforms for Bay Shore's pride and joy was happily hailed and the fact that they didn't arrive until March, minus the trousers, didn't dampen anyone's enthusiasm. The band also participated actively in the Music Festival in May, remember? This group has grown to a good size within recent years and even though every year come June, the seniors are sure they are going to deplete the ranks it still goes that you can't keep a good band down.

Lesson time.

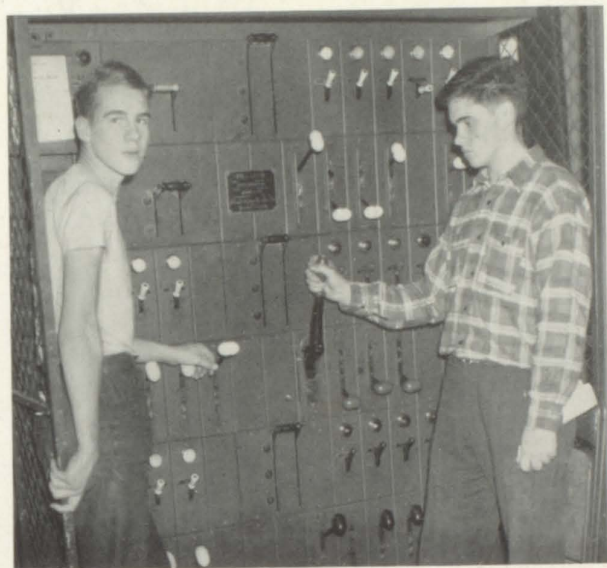

Joan Shaughnessy, our majorette.

Backstage Club

They whistle, bang, shout, sing, and literally make the halls ring while they work, and the finished product is endowed and endorsed with a spirit of fun and heartiness.

Besides providing the stage sets and props, and managing the lights, the members are also gifted with acting ability. Their play, written and produced with Miss Simpson's help, will go down in the annals of the school as a result of the statement, "I gotta go".

Light Moments.

Coming attractions.

Many of the backstagers have also shown an interest in the art of theatrical make-up and as a project, the club attended a performance of "Song of Norway" and at last were permitted to witness a production from before the curtain. Their main comment was, "how wonderful the sets were", but we are inclined to believe that they produce some wonderful sets also.

DRESS REHEARSAL

Our Entrances And Our Exits

A spacious and comfortable auditorium, a stage of considerable depth, a fully equipped control board, and a stage crew, always willing to work, help to contribute to the high calibre of our theatrical ventures.

Heading the list of play productions for any year is, of course, the senior play, which, this year, was a comedy-mystery called "Cuckoos on the Hearth". Directed by Louise Minnis, it was generally conceded that for a difficult production both in staging and acting techniques, the result was extremely favorable.

The senior class feels that their play was a memorable one, and so that you, the reader, can understand why, you are now going to be taken on a verbal panorama of the play's development.

Casting week brought the usual number of dramatic aspirants, but it also brought doubt to Madame, the Director. Confronted with such an imposing group of "Barrymores and Cornels" the choice was indeed difficult, but it finally resulted in the selections of Miriam Clark, Betty Manahan, Jack David, Norman Price, Bob Sprague, Artie Schiller, Mike Manley, Alvin Osekavage, Sally Walker, Sue Korol, Sylvia Macy, and Fabe Saxe.

SHALL WE DANCE?

Artie Schiller, Michael Manley, Miriam Clark.

Following tryouts, there came, logically enough, rehearsals. Ah, rehearsals, what fond memories are brought to mind by the mention of that word. "Cast on stage, ready to begin, come on everyone, act one on stage". (Five minutes pass) "Cast on stage, ready to begin, come on everyone, act one on stage". The preceding monologue is simply Miss Minnis calling together her prompt cast. Once assembled, however, there ensued several hours of hard work. Anyway, we like to think so.

We may forget Latin declensions, geometric propositions, and Poe's rules for the short story, but we will never forget: Mim's vapid voice and how she looked in her hula hula ensemble, (a Hattie Carnegie creation, you know), Red's laudable interpretation of the eccentric Mr. Grimes, Fabe's slick appearance in the trooper's uniform, Sally's ad libbing on the big night, and Sylvia's embarrassing loss of her unmentionable during the matinee performance. Nor will we forget the Antics in the wings.

Trooper vs. troupers—Sally Walker, Jack David, Sue Korol, Bob Sprague, Betty Manahan, Alvin Osekavage, Fabe Saxe.

untiring effort and cooperation of the Backstage Club under the supervision of Miss Simpson and Mr. Burns. Their unstinting endeavors produced a set of which everyone was justifiably proud.

Another vital part of the school's dramatic program are the assemblies presented by the classes and organizations. They represent time earnestly spent and are important because they do so much to promote poise and self-confidence.

Comes the Spring and a young man's fancy turns to—no, you're wrong, it turns to the one act plays. This year an interesting group of one actors were produced, consisting of a comedy, a fantasy, and a drama. Under the direction of

Right of the production line—Sylvia Macy, Norman Alper, Jim Healy, Miss Simpson, Shirley Rumplick, Miss Minnis.

Get me outta here!
Artie Schiller and Bob Sprague.

Mr. Acerno, the freshmen presented "Sugar and Spice", a story of teen agers. Directed by Miss Evans, the Sophomores staged "The Caliph's Beard", a colorful play which smacked of the fantastic, and Miss Wentzel presented the Juniors in "Ile", Eugene O'Neill's drama of the sea. All three productions were worthy of the praise they received.

And so this year again represented one during which hidden potentialities were given the chance to come to the fore and prove their ability.

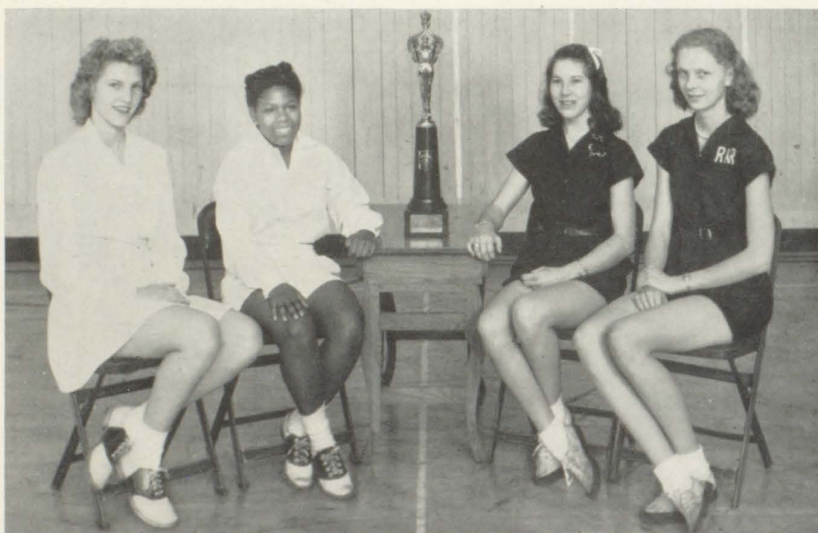

SPORTS ON THE GO

Leaders Club: Lillian Dufft, Florence Baker, Joan Skinner, Kay Bedell, Elizabeth Sanborn, Dot Souhrada, Betty Manahan, Nancy Cummings, Gloria Hatfield, Carmen Sanborn, Shirley Kime, Nancy McAneny, Bernice Remer, faculty advisor, Carol Wolf, Ellen Kalinowsky, Thora Sullivan.

LEADING LEADERS

Team Captains: Thora Sullivan, Margie Cornelius, Elizabeth Sanborn, Marilyn Thompson.

Leaders Club

The main object of the Leader's Club is to direct intramurals and to sponsor play-days, at which time the various towns bring forth their best talent in the hope that they will beat the sport-minded girls of dear old Bay Shore High.

This year, under the presidency of Gloria Hatfield, "the woman Atlas", the leaders once more strove towards a bigger and better Sports Nite.

Team Captains

Under Captains Liz Sanborn and Margie Cornelius, the Maroon and White teams each planned a fighting finish to another exciting Sports Nite.

The theme was nursery rhymes, which was successfully carried out from beginning to end.

With part of the funds realized from this venture which was held April 25th, the club bought jackets which will be worn in the future by our sporting girls.

Football

Bay Shore High's "Maroon Marauders" finished the season of 1946 triumphantly by coping the Western Suffolk and Suffolk County Championships. Although the team was beaten for the first time in three years, they broke Amityville's long standing record of 19 games. The La Platneymen were captained by Mike Christie and the captain elect for 1947 is Ray McKenna, a veteran center. The sterling play of Jim Erickson, Pat Vesey and the offensive punch of the

On The Way Up

Under the very capable supervision of Charles Geddes, are molded the future stars of Bay Shore high's football field. Although they are not the important players of the day, these are the boys to watch, because the stars of today are going out from Bay Shore and the Jayvee boys must be able to fill their shoes and do a good job of it. No one ever hears of an unbeaten Jayvee team or of a Jayvee team which sets a record of a 20 game winning streak, but rather their period of training is filled with setbacks, and wins. Next year great things are expected of some of these boys such as Bob Cruz, fleetfooted Ray Highland, and Ed Quayle.

Soccer

Coach Cliff Clark's 1946 Soccer team under the co-captainship of Mike Manley and Artie Schiller had a successful season. Having the largest turnout since the beginning, the squad won one, tied two, and lost two. A game long to be remembered by Soccer fans was the Bellport game played in a driving rain, which saw Bay Shore go down to defeat after missing several attempts at the Bellport goal. This year also saw a J.V. squad which gave experience to many younger boys, preparing them for next year's varsity.

Cross Country

Coach Acerno's hill and dalers accomplished a splendid record, considering the fact they were Bay Shore's first Cross Country team. Cross Country is a sport wherein the participant runs approximately two to two and one-half miles without stopping, over whatever barrier which may confront him. Thus he may be running up-hill and downhill, through thick underbrush, or over open fields. This makes it tough, but also an exciting race. On the first day, Coach Acerno was greeted by about twenty-five boys. Included in this group, were several boys who were outstanding in all our meets. Joey Albanese, for his performance was elected captain, followed by other excellent runners such as Pat McDonough, Jack Russell and Pete Schaeffer. In the first triangular meet with Patchogue and Kings Park, the new team defeated Kings Park to place second in the meet. In the Section 8 meet which included all the teams in Nassau and Suffolk counties, they placed 12th and were the 3rd team to cross the finish line.

Wrestling

Coach Clark's best grapplers in eight years did well for themselves this season by winning six out of ten meets. A fuller schedule was prepared by adding a few new names to the list of opponents for the year; these were Poly Prep, New York Institute for the Blind, Farmingdale and Riverhead, who was taken on by our capable J. V. squad. The "Maroon Devils" showed their strength in the Me-pham Invitation Meet. Jim Barnes and Charlie Grampp finished in the semi-finals, while Carmen Leggio, Richie Cavagnaro and Bill Knapp went on to the finals, and Jim Dowling again became champ of the 166 pound class. In the senior Metropolitan A. A. U. Championship, Jim took first place in the 175 pound class and Dick Cavagnaro third place in the 136 pound class. Although Cliff Clark was shy a suitable heavy weight he worked his boys in all the ranks and should be commended for his fine job of training and directing.

Basketball

Coach Ralph Elliott's "Maroon Marauders" of the 1946-47 season finished their league schedule losing only one game and winning 14 out of 15 contests during the entire year. The team was noted for its second half playing, winning a majority of its games by playing scintillating third and fourth quarters. Practice began early in November with approximately 80 hopeful candidates appearing on the hardwood. The first game was a non-league encounter with Babylon which Bay Shore won a by a score of 25 to 23. The season progressed to find the Marauders winning every game but one, losing that to Sayville by a score of 29-39 and finishing the season holding down second place in the league.

In a post season invitation tournament held in the Jamaica Armory, the Marauders were defeated by an out-

The team was greatly strengthened by the return of Charlie Souhrada and Bird Erickson and aided by speedy Henning Isbrandsten and cool Pat McDonough, who will be remembered for his two early set shots in the Port Washington game. J. V. Basketball

The Jayvee basketball squad under the able leadership of coach Van Sicklen finished out their league season by winning every league game and winning a total of 12 games out of 15. This record by coach Van Sicklen's charges was made in his initial year of coaching basketball at Bay Shore High. Van Nostrand, Leber, Primis and Gene Vesey shaped up as promising material for Mr. Elliott's next year's varsity. Recognition should also be given to Mr. Romansky for his work with the 8th grade and freshmen squads, developing new material for next year's J. V.

Baseball

The prospects for a good team in 1946 were dark with the absence of some of Bay Shore's best players, but Bittner's Bombardiers pulled through. In their league games they won from Port Jefferson, Patchogue, Sayville, Northport and Lindenhurst, while losing to Amityville, Bayport, and Huntington. The year's captain was Charlie Souhrada, shortstop, who completed four years of fine baseball. The team's all around performer was James Erickson. Rick Bode succeeded Gene Mack as the year's best hitter on his squad. Max Owen took a spotlight with his pitching record for a three year period. He won nineteen and lost only eight. With the aid of a few newcomers and the captainship of Gene Mack, the chances for the 1947 season are good.

TRACK. The 1947 prospect for Bay Shore High's track team look very promising to Coach Romansky, who looks forward to a better season than his great success last year, with Gus Merkel, this year's captain, and seven letter men. Highland, Bower, and Merkel of last year's championship relay team are back, and lettermen in the field events are: Jim Barnes, Charles Grampp, Richard Brown, John Cochrane and Bob Simpson. Pat McDonough was the only distance runner to return, but many promising candidates have taken to the cinders for the 1947 season under coach Romansky.

TENNIS. The tennis team resumed its activities last year with a very successful season under Coach Carl Harbeck. The racquet wielders won eleven of thirteen matches, dropping one to each La Salle and Stony Brook, both prep schools. Allan Van Nostrand, Phil Swirbul and Henry Isbrandsten played the singles, while Van Nostrand and Swirbul joined to play doubles along with Mike Manley, Joe Carley, Jim Shaughnessy, Jack David and Bob Lanka. Starting out with such an encouraging year, and with nearly all lettermen returning, the tennis team looks forward this year to winning the Suffolk County championship.

TEACHER

The Pilot

Making its second appearance since its organization in 1944, The Pilot, Bay Shore's official handbook, is truly worthy of its name, as it acts as a silent guide to students and teachers alike, for in it one can find out everything there is to know about our school. The publication's purpose, as established by the G. O., its sponsor and Lloyd Moreland, its advisor, is to provide detailed and reliable information on all phases of school life—its loyalties, its rules, its courses, and its fun. This requirement is both accurately and attractively fulfilled by the Pilot. How well the staff remembers anxiously awaiting news of the Pilot's arrival—an arrival which was supposed to have been five months before it was actually received. Rarely a week would go by that Editor Carmen wouldn't excitedly round up her assistants with this admonition, "Be sure to come early tomorrow, the Pilots are coming, and we're going to distribute them." However, the delay was forgiven when the result was seen.

Science

To the satisfaction of our "Madame Curies and Pasteurs" Bay Shore High offers a well planned science program, which includes such courses as health, biology, chemistry, physics, and earth science. For the science enthusiasts who desire extra activities we have well equipped labs, a science club and, as always, Cliff's assignments. (1,000 or 2,000 times)

Library

Surpassing, by far, surrounding school libraries, the excellently equipped and attractively maintained combination of rooms on the third floor owes much of its charm to its keeper Miss McDuff.

The books themselves number 5,500 and fall into all classifications. Innumerable sources of reference material including the magazine room and vocational files add immeasurably to the library's usefulness while the pictures and displays contribute to its atmosphere of informality so we welcome to a perusing student.

Book week this year was "dedicated to the proposition" that books are bridges and this idea was effectively carried out in an eye catching arrangement of newly purchased books in an artistic setting apropos to the theme.

Our library can justifiably be called a vital function of our school.

Health Tactics

In the surrounding pictures one can see the medical department and home nursing students at work. These two groups are actually correlated for while the former examines all students for potential disturbances and conducts ear and eye tests, the latter instructs the girls in the care of the body and the invalid. At present only Junior High girls are afforded this opportunity, but it is hoped that next year, senior girls will also receive such instruction.
