Music in her heart • Laughter in her eyes • Magic in her hands

Mrs. Specht is a living symbol of our theme hands. As she lifts her hands upward to guide us in song, so our spirits soar by her kindly nature. As her hands gracefully slide over ivory white keys issuing forth a merry tune, so is her laughter heard. Mrs. Specht, we are happy to have you as our dedicatee.

ASSEMBLING THE PINKIES

Junior High School

As the hand grows, the fingers reach out and gain in strength. The hand becomes more agile and dexterous. The fingers develop and become more capable of doing more difficult tasks. This is the period of development.

The same holds true in the Junior High School. This is the period of development in which boys and girls come in contact with the responsibilities and privileges that go with growing up.

The Junior High School is their first contact with a departmental school system. Association with many different teachers brings to the surface the personalities and individual traits of the students.

The student's mind grows as he studies. Intelligence is brought to the surface and talents are stimulated through clubs and organizations which give all students a chance for mental and social growth. The intramural program gives athletic training to all those interested; thus, the student's physical growth is stimulated.

The Junior High, a period of initial growth, is a most important phase in the lives of the students.

The many activities of the maturing student may be likened to the different parts of a puzzle. Every part of school life in which he participates—extra-curricular as well as academic—makes for a better rounded individual.

As the pieces fall into place . . .

It is easy to see how the student is moulded by his environment. The many activities the sophomores have a hand in develop them early in their high school years.

The Superstition Dance held on Friday, April the thirteenth, was a gala occasion for all the sophs. This was the first dance of this kind presented in our school. "Our Happy Home", an amusing comedy, was the sophomores' one act play. Yes, the receptive hands of the sophomores are eager to grasp the knowledge presented to them as time points to new horizons.

The many hands of busy juniors are always working towards the big goal to which they steadily strive, the Junior Prom, whose theme this year was the favorite fairy tale Cinderella. A prince and princess were crowned king and queen of the prom. Many thanks to the juniors from the seniors for such a beautiful dance.

The successful Variety Show this year was called Matinee of Yesterday demonstrating three different periods of the nineteenth century: the gay nineties, roaring twenties, and the modern era. Neil de Paul added a great deal of imagination and work as co-director of the show. The junior one act play was the drama "Bread".

The juniors have shown that they are capable to handle the reins next year.

Every contest of skill requires a certain amount of experience and training in order to assure the player's chances for success. As in chess, each play is important to the final action.

CLIFTON LAPLATNEY

may decide the outcome of the game. Victory may hinge on a calculated jump, an accurate foul shot, a well placed kick, or a pitcher's sharp curve. Yet most games depend not on an individual's prowess alone, but on that cooperation among the players called teamwork. Sportsmanship is the foundation for this teamwork—like the strong bones in the hand—that keeps the team firm with the will to win. Training is the muscles and sinews of the agile team, furnishing that extra drive often needed to overcome a well-matched opponent.

The final score reflects those qualities of which champion stuff is made—the spirit and co-ordination of mind and body which prove the merit of the team—calm in victory, courageous in defeat.

DOWN, DOWN THE FIELD

Pigskin Season

Coach Clifton LaPlatney's gridmen completed their season with a record of six wins and one loss, to take second place honors in the league. Bay Shore's only defeat came at the hands of Amityville, who took the Section One title with a perfect record this year.

Amityville's backfield, which had a 13 pound edge over the Maroons, was the deciding factor in the Crimson's 20-0 victory over Bay Shore. The Maroon and White held the Crimson tide scoreless until late in the first half when Al Miller, Amityville's right halfback, went over for their first touchdown. The second Crimson tally came in the third period when Bob Muller, a 190 pound full-back, ran 55 yards for the goal. In the last stanza Al Miller went over for the final Amityville score of the day. The Maroon's best scoring opportunity came in the second quarter, when Tommy McDonald passed into the end zone to Jackie Loughlin but it eluded his grasp.

The leading scorers for the Maroon grid machine were Don Reed with 11 touchdowns, Jackie Loughlin with 6 touchdowns and 20 conversions, Tommy McDonald with 7 T.D.'s and 6 conversions and Jimmy Jackson with 6 touchdowns and 1 point after touchdown to his credit.

The usual lineup that Coach LaPlatney put on the field was: Gene Dyson and Jerry Snover at the end positions; tackles, John Nolan and Bill Rudolph; guards, Al Baldwin and John Kousi; center, Ed Danahy. In the backfield, Sonny Feinman at quarterback, Tommy McDonald and Jackie Loughlin at halfback, and Don Reed at fullback.

The Junior Varsity under the leadership of Coach "Chuck" Geddes compiled a fine record of four victories and two defeats. Eddie Allan, with three touchdowns to his credit, was the top scorer for the junior gridmen. Benitez, DePalma and Galan were runners-up with two tallies apiece.

Looking over the squad's fine record great hopes are in store for them next year.

Handicapped by the loss of most of his starting lineup, Coach Stan Shaut, had to start from scratch to form a new team. The soccermen's record was not impressive, with one win, nine losses and one tie. Their only victory was over Central Islip by a score of 2-0. John Cerebino's boots accounted for the goals. With most of the players back next year, Coach Shaut will be able to put a more experienced team on the field next season and bring the Maroon booters to the winning side.

Time Races

Winning three out of four meets this season, Coach Lester Gosier's hill and dalers completed a good season. John Cummings, the dalers' leading runner, paced the Cross-Country men to their victories. Cummings, who is only a junior, beat Joe Albanese's course record at Bay Shore with a time of 10:27, 31 seconds better than Albanese's time. In the County Meet at Bellport, Bay Shore placed fourth as Cummings finished third in a field of close to a 100. At Bethpage in the Section 8 meet, the Maroon Cross-Coun-

Shooting Stars

The Maroon and White basketball squad succeeded in capturing the Section A-1 Championship this year under the direction of Coach Ralph Elliott, completing the season with only two losses in league competition, one to Huntington and the other to Patchogue in the opening game of the season. High scoring honors went to Jacky Loughlin with 127 points in league games. The foul shooting award went to Don Reed who made 24 out of 36 charity tosses for an average of .667. In the semi-final contest for the Section A title, Sayville defeated the loopsters by a score of 51-47.

The Junior Varsity squad's record this year was practically a carbon copy of last year's, they won 15 and lost 1. The only defeat came at the hands of Port Jefferson in the last game of the season.

Brains and Brawn

Coach Cliff Clark's grapplers turned in a record of three wins, five losses, and one tie in dual meets during the 1950-51 season, boasting two Eastern Long Island Champs and one Long Island Champ. The Eastern Long Island title holders were John Boufis, 134 lb. class, and John Kousi, 155 lb. class. The Maroon team also had three runners-up: Jumper Leggio, 113 lb. class; Jack Hill, 121 lb. class; and Jim Scandura, 165 lb. class, to place Bay Shore in a tie for second place in the tournament. The Long Island Championship was won by John Kousi in the 146 lb. class. Jumper Leggio was runner-up in the 104 lb. class for Bay Shore. This year a special award was made by the Sugar Bowl Confectionary Store to the wrestler who contributed the most to the citizenship and sportsmanship of the team. John Kousi had the honor of winning this award.

Spring in the Air

The Bay Shore High 1950 "nine's" main drawback was a pitching staff that couldn't consistently hurl a good ball. However, with occasional good pitching by Timinello, Reed, and McSweeney, plus the potent bats of Jackie Loughlin, Bob Shupp, Bill Nardone, Grant Hubbard, Richie Palmer and Joe Graziani, Bay Shore made its presence keenly felt around the league in acquiring a league record of four victories and six losses.

Coach John Douglas' J. V. team came through with a season's mark of five victories in nine games. Starting out the season in fine style, the team took four out of its first five games, but then hit a mid-season slump, losing three in a row.

Finally, the Douglassmen came out of it in their last game, coming from behind with three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh, topped by Pete Bielitz's sharp double to center field scoring two teammates, to defeat LaSalle.

The Maroon golf team, by its victory at Bellport in the Suffolk County Championships, ended its season with a topflight record of eleven victories and one tie. Coach Bob Hartcorn's linksmen were led by Anthony Giruc, who carded a 78 at Bellport to tie for first place in individual medal score, with John Brown as the "Man of Distinction" with his hole in one on the 212 yd. seventeenth hole at the South Bay Golf Club.

Here are the top men on the championship squad, who also placed fifth in the Long Island Championships. The season's average score follows each man's name: Tony Giruc, 76; John Brown, 84; Charley Bendl, 86; Joe Malloy, 86; Jack Sheridan, 87; Jack Barabino, 89; and Rollo Dixon, 92.

Serving

In 1950, the Maroon and White tennis squad completed one of their best seasons under the directorship of Mr. Carl Harbeck. They won ten consecutive dual meets while losing none. They defeated Southampton in their last match of the 1950 season to receive the Suffolk County tennis title for the sixth time in eight attempts. King Van Nostrand, Neil Pike, and Sydney Perlmutter were undefeated in singles competition during the season. King and Neil were also undefeated in the doubles matches. Also helping Coach Harbeck's net squad to the championship were Edward Russell, Stanley Newins, Wayne Zeh, James Ford, and Fred Walker.

King Van Nostrand, the key man in the Maroon tennis squad, competed in the Eastern Junior Championships this winter and he reached the finals in doubles and semi-finals in singles competition. This year Coach Carl Harbeck's entire net squad will be back and they should repeat last year's feat.

Fast as the Wind

Bay Shore's 1950 track team proved to be very weak in the track events and very strong in the field events. The only bright spots in the running events were Bruce Waldo in the 880 and John Cummings in the mile. Coach Romansky's men were sparked in the field events by Bill Bodmer, Gene Dyson, and Perry Bendickson, in the shot put; Dave Davies and Joe Novesky in the discus; John Kier and John Socozzo in the broad jump and high jump; and Bruce Waldo and Earl Bailey in the pole vault.

Hockey

Luckily that arrow didn't land in the hockey field, for it would have caused a great deal more confusion than there already was. It takes a lot of ability to dodge the hockey ball as it goes hither and thither about the field with almost two dozen girls chasing after it. The excitement is immense when and if a goal is made. Twice a week during the fall the girls play and practice, some of them striving for that day when the honor teams are chosen.

Archery

When shooting arrows in the air beware!

Archery is offered to every girl who accepts this game very eagerly. Through practice, skill and accuracy are acquired. A steady hand and a good eye are great assets in becoming an excellent bowman. Patience is the virtue that is greatly needed. As the bow and arrow go hand in hand, so do girls and archery.

ates the atmosphere of fair play. A system of points for participation and achievement gives the girls a chance to try for a sports award; namely, class numerals, an emblem, major letters, and for the best of them, a gold key. The honor team, as the final goal, gives each girl that special intangible something to work for. At the end of each year, a dinner is given sponsored by the Leaders Club, to honor these girls who have either attained this goal or will continue to reach for it.

personalities develop. The weak, dependent hands of the past become firm of intention, and expression. Association with organizations awakens new interests, encourages new skills, and fosters greater awareness. Now a hand deftly prepares a tempting meal, now it mixes a chemical formula; here it wields a ball at a crucial moment, there it flourishes a pen, the weapon of ideas—in each case, working for improvement. Hereinafter, we present memorable pictures of hands at work and at play, progressing from awkwardness to dexterity.

As a plow needs a hand to guide it, so does a newspaper need a helping hand. The helping hands of the Maroon Echo during the past year were Mr. Harbeck, Adviser; Pat Allan, editor; and Elizabeth Miller, associate editor, who led their group through thick and thin. Getting a newspaper to press is no easy matter. It takes the co-operation of many hands—a sports editor to write and to keep tab on his reporters, assistant editors to aid the editors in collecting assignments and writing headlines, reporters to accumulate the news; and, to bring the necessary funds, the business managers. All are instrumental in making a successful newspaper.

The "Frat" represents the bachelors of our school whose secret handshake has never been divulged.

Each year the fraternity inaugurates the social season with its annual Football Dance. This year the boys crowned pretty Carole Werle the 1951 Football Queen.

During the holidays they always seemed to be present with their "Buy a bag of nuts," plea. The boys also had a hand in selling programs and checking coats at all home games.

In true cooperation this spring the senior class and the fraternity introduced an evening of frolic when the junior varsity frat challenged the faculty in a basketball game and the varsity frat played the Patchogue varsity club.

Since 1920, the Delta Deltas have taken an active part in school life. Pat Allan won the achievement key given each year to the girl who best represented the sorority. The D. D.'s lent a helping hand in giving baskets of food at Thanksgiving and Easter; they also held a successful box social in the spring. The fraternal groups ended the year with a picnic at Fire Island.

PHI DELTA

The handshake of sincerity, simplicity, and scholarship joins many who uphold these ideals. Throughout the year, outstanding activities included the successful Waist Dance where the girls paid a penny an inch for the measurement of their escorts' waists, the Thanksgiving basket, and the awarding of the 'Vanwy Clarkson pin to Natalie Exter, the junior girl who maintained the highest scholastic achievement.

The Creative Hand

The creative hand is the tool of the creative mind. Lacking a means of expression, the idea becomes valueless, the ideal unattainable. Used together, the two wield a mighty force in molding and shaping man's destiny.

The artist dazzles the beholder with his deft strokes. The agile fingers of the musician bring to life stirring melodies. Then, too, the creative urge may be expressed in the trim, practical lines of woodworking, in devising and maintaining the mechanical marvels of this scientific age or in preparing culinary morsels tempting to the eye and to the palate.

Whether our tastes be in the fine or the useful arts, there is opportunity in school to develop these interests.

"La premiere séance" of the Cercle Français began the year with a membership of fourteen French enthusiasts. This number, however, was increased to twenty-seven in February.

At the "soirée de Noel," Martin Lee came prepared with a mustache, beret, and boutonniere, for his part in the Christmas play. The "Monsieur" made a great hit with all "les jeunes filles".

The Lost and Found Sale found eager hands reaching out to seize the lost "orphelins" and other hands receiving the money just as eagerly. As usual, the "pique-nique" ended the affairs of the year.

For excellence and achievement, the French key was awarded to the outstanding French student at graduation.

Managing

The perfect secretary, the helpful receptionist and the efficient office worker of tomorrow may be found in the Business Club. These girls entered their second year of activities by initiating nineteen members at the formal initiation held in the Community Building. Through friendly competition these business students develop skill and speed and in this way become more capable of obtaining and maintaining good positions after leaving school. As an office staff takes time off for relaxation, so did the Business Club for their Christmas party and a trip to the Town Hall in Islip. Here the girls saw how the records and files were kept.

Acting

Let's go dramatic with the Thespians. "The prompter's hand is on the bell," was the cry in the excitement of the club's presentation, which included two comedy plays. Gaiety surrounded each meeting when the members gave skits for practical experience to insure poise and facility of expression.

Debating

The Debate Club presented a debate to the student body in an assembly program this spring on socialized medicine, Resolved: A Welfare State. The members practiced debating among themselves on many subjects to develop a stronger debate team.

HANDSOME HANDLING

Whether it be in catching a pass on a crisp autumn Saturday, hitting the bucket in a crowded gym or coming up with a twisting grounder on a blue skied spring afternoon, the agility and adroitness of the athlete's skilled hands manifest themselves. The steady hand well symbolizes sports at Bay Shore.

SKILLED HANDS

All is quiet in the workshop. A blueprint is drawn and accepted. Then the sharp tap of a hammer, the buzz of a saw, the spasmodic rhythm of a drill are heard and flashes of a blue yellow flame held against a piece of metal are seen. This is a workshop come to life. And when the product is placed on display, a faint glow of pride is felt by all. The urge to create with one's hands is deserving, but the fulfilling of that desire is self-rewarding.

Myrtle Simpson,
Backstage Club Adviser

The stage is set, the lights are dimmed, and the curtain is raised. An interested audience awaits the senior play, "January Thaw." Here they see a world of make believe created by every day materials. Yes, the stage has been set for numerous and varied occasions and each time in the background so ably named is the Backstage Club. Theirs is a task demanding time, energy, patience and hard work. All details in setting a stage must be first of all planned and finally carried out. When the final curtain is drawn and the applause rings out, the group backstage takes an imaginary bow for they know they have set the stage for success.

As We Turn the Key . . .

The latch lifts, and we are greeted by the hum of eager activity, accompanied by the laughing chatter and warm smiles of close comradeship. At their beckoning invitation, we join in the activities, ready to learn as we play. Looking about us, we see agile fingers performing on an instrument, whose rippling melody catches the ear. There, we notice hands resting in quiet composure as if to emphasize the peaceful beauty of swelling voices in chorus. Elsewhere, appear lithe limbs performing the necessary motions of exhilarating sports. Whether we join one or all groups, we hold the joy of warm friendships today, and the satisfaction of pleasant memories tomorrow.

Christmas in Many Lands.

Joyeux Noël, Fröhliche Veinachten, Gladë Jul — Echoes of these greetings resound throughout the world at Christmas time, wishing everyone a Merry Christmas.

By joining hands in dancing and joining voices in song, the members of the Music Department told the story of Christmas in many lands at their annual pageant.

"The Big Bass Viol" sung by Harold Heckendorn added a humorous note to the program. Renditions of modern songs played by the orchestra and sung by the chorus combined to lend a varied touch to this Christmas around the world.

The tempting Life Saver, the luscious Candy Cane, the fabulous Candy Kiss, added a great deal of flavor to Sports Night last year. March 31 was the big night when "Candy" took the spotlight. The White Team was determined to regain the trophy the Maroon Team held for the past four years and it did so overwhelmingly with its "Candy Fashion Show", while the Maroon Team used "Candy Kitchen" as its theme.

Spring Festival—1950

A bow is rested on the taut strings of a violin; a flute is held in waiting; two hands are carefully placed upon the black and ivory keys of a piano; a massive tuba is raised in readiness waiting for the downbeat to open the Spring Festival.

In the Spring Concert of 1950, all of the musical organizations of Bay Shore High were presented to display their particular talents. Opening with the French Military March by Romberg, the orchestra played several selections, and ended with the March of the Meistersingers, by Heufurth. A piano duo, Manhattan Serenade, featuring Dorothy Grace Bernhard and Joan Herrmann, was given with an orchestral background.

The Junior Girls' Glee Club offered America My Own, If I Knew You Were Comin', Navy Hymn, along with several other fine numbers.

The special group of the mixed chorus, who call themselves the Inner Sanctum, sang three songs, Hymn to Music, The Builder, and the Czechoslovakian Dance Song. Following this group, the full mixed chorus rendered Laudamus Te, Jalousie, Dry Bones, with sounds, You'll Never Walk Alone, and ended with the stirring, and ever popular Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The String Ensemble, which had entered the string members in the All-State orchestra at Saratoga, New York, then played two numbers, and for a finale, the band played Deep Purple, followed by a number of marches.

are the booming drums and blaring trumpets — spurring on our pigskin heroes. Pleasant greetings are the singing violins and moaning saxophones heralding all performances.
