Food For Thought

Life What is it?

It is a composite of many wordly ingredients — happiness, sorrow, love, despair, hope—each and all enmeshed within one human being. What he makes of it is the end result and it is this which determines his success. Like a master chef, he must combine all of these ingredients, using every implement at his command to produce a dish, not fit for a king, but fit for himself.

Judith C. Dicker

*W*ith sincere appreciation of the patience and understanding you have shown us through six of the most eventful years of our lives, the class of 1957 affectionately dedicates its yearbook to you, Judith Dicker.

It is not only to your loveliness that we are paying tribute but also to your strength and wisdom which have helped us to become the seniors that we are today. For in your office we have planned the future and discussed the past and in doing so have learned a little more about ourselves.

We came to you in seventh grade hopeful, excited, and perhaps a little fearful of this new life we were beginning. And you took our fears, our hopes, and our exuberance and guided them into channels that shall one day lead us to maturity.

Someday, when we are doctors, lawyers, teachers, or just fathers and mothers, we hope that you will be proud of us, for that will be one small way in which we can repay you.

Mr. Moreland congratulates Mrs. Clarkson, re-elected President of Board

As the years pass we grow and change and once in a while our environment changes. Yet the time flies by so quickly that we absorb these changes and almost forget that they have occurred. Thus as we grew and progressed from the junior to the senior side it is hard to remember what we were like at the age of thirteen. Yet there are many things that we shall always remember about our years in Junior High. For instance, there is Mr. Seeley who for many years has served as a guidepost to students both in the senior and junior high, gaining the admiration and respect of all. Mr. Seeley who is to become principal of the new junior high school will be replaced by Mr. Douglas who brings with him his ever-present friendliness. May they both find happiness and fulfillment in their new posts.

To assist Mr. Seeley, the well-loved Mr. Farrell will add his interest and devotion as assistant principal.

Although Mrs. Anne Lewis will remain in the senior school, acknowledgement is gratefully given to her for her twenty-five years of faithful service to the Junior Council. Her efforts made possible the achievements of this fine organization. The students found in her a willing companion, eager to partake in their problems.

This June will mark the end of our association with the junior side and its wonderful faculty. It will also mark the beginning of their life at the new South Country School.

We, the Senior Class of 1957, who will also be leaving, would like to bid you farewell and to wish you the best of luck in your new home.

The Junior Wing

Farewell

Built of brick and edged with stone
Bay Shore High grew from the minds
Of brave shrewd men who longed to make
A school to house all creeds and kinds.

Donned in crewcuts, smiles and curls
The students came to grace the school
And teachers came to light the way
And make good scholarship the rule.

For many years, just side by side
The Junior High and Senior High have Lived and worked and played together
Now, alas, we say good-bye.

Sometimes pressing senior duties
Take us through the junior halls
Where watching all those pint-sized kids
We wonder, "Were we once that small?"

When we were in the Junior High
Our thoughts and dreams of future days
Were brought into reality
And molded by the seniors' ways.

Next year the Junior side will go
And we will miss them to be sure
For are they not themselves our past,
And we in turn their future?

Honor Society

The symbol of the National Honor Society, a burning torch, reveals the standards which this organization upholds. Its members are individual torch bearers, dedicated to the purpose of developing service, character, leadership and scholarship in themselves and others. Held in high esteem by their fellow students, these members contribute much to the extra-curricular activities of the school.

Out of the Cauldron

Surprises a plenty await us when experimenting with the mysteries of science or the focusing of a lense. For instance, the uninitiated scientist, inadvertently combining the wrong ingredients, may find himself suddenly taking flight via the ceiling, while the careless shutter-bug may find he has completely lost his head. So you see, it all depends on what you put in the cauldron that determines what will come out of it.

Business Club

Tally ho the bills! The Business Club to the rescue! Can't you see the members seated in an enclosed room waiting for bills and such to compute. You know, like a vault—with vacuum tubes to receive the bills and to send

Every menu has a price list which some teenagers can't quite afford. But through the Co-op program students have the advantage of acquiring an education plus a vocation. Home on the Range

The menu of the Future Homemakers of America is perhaps still in the making but it is certain that by the time the members are homemakers, their menus will be very well balanced. Under the leadership of Armelia Mumau this club has learned the meaning of how to live better which should contribute in the future to better family and community living.

Among the more than 1,000 rifle clubs in the U. S. today is the fast growing club at Bay Shore, under the direction of Ashbel Barto. The main goal of this group is marksmanship and correct handling of fire arms. A target range has been set up beneath the school gym which gives the boys practical experience plus fun and pleasure.

Dramatic

Students active in the dramatic productions of the school, banded together under the guidance of Miss Minnis and Mrs. Parker, gain both theoretical and practical experience in the drama by learning dramatic techniques, by participating in plays, and by attending them, this year attending the "Diary of Anne Frank", and "Holiday for Lovers". These young thespians, in an effort to surround themselves with a dramatic atmosphere, present an annual play which always has great appeal. This

Backstage Club

No play is complete without sets, lighting, and makeup, just as dinner without dessert seems so flat. The sets and scenery add greatly to the effect of realism the actors are attempting to transmit. The student painters, technicians and designers of the Backstage Club derive great satisfaction from creating an original set to grace the stage. Acquiring these skills from Mr. Weber and Mr. Barto, these artists have succeeded in turning a sophomore, with all his youthful features, into a wrinkled old man in two minutes flat. Can this be art or is it pure magic?

year's dramatic effort was "Balcony Scene", a highly tense and dramatic play, which gave the aspiring young actors an excellent chance to exhibit their talent in a fine and moving performance.

With the help of the Backstage Club, particularly Kent Barwick and Chet Carlin, the set for "Balcony Scene" was as superb as the show itself. These two clubs continually devote much time working hand in hand for their one great love, the theatre.

Phi Delta Sigma

In 1933, the Phi Delta Sigma sorority was organized and consisted of ten girls and has grown so that it now fulfills its capacity of thirty girls, advised by Vera Ippolito. Members who qualify scholastically are invited to join the group either in September or January of each year. Activities include cake sales, dances, and other fund raising projects. But all of sorority life is not raising funds. There is the traditional slumber party at which time all the girls gather at the home of a sister for a sleepless evening of fun. The Duo-Delta picnic and dance are anticipated by members of both sororities. At Thanksgiving and Christmas Phi Delta's prepare baskets for needy families and fix toys with the Varsity Club. Two awards are given annually — the Clarkson pin worn by the senior achieving the highest average during her junior year, and an engraved cup presented to the girl contributing most to the club. Both awards encourage members to engage in worthwhile activities and to have lots of fun while doing them.

Delta Delta

Cake sales, food baskets, and fun! This phrase comes closest to summing up the activities of the Delta Delta sorority. After starting the year off by taking in new members, the sorority settled down to raising money by sponsoring a successful cake sale. At Thanksgiving members filled two food baskets which went to a needy family. Another basket was filled at Christmas time complete, once again, with turkey and all the trimmings. February's activity was a Valentine party where the girls invited dates, as is the usual custom for sorority functions. To make Easter a happier time for some children, Easter baskets were filled and sent to a children's home. In April a pajama party was held, representing the usual sleepless night full of laughter and chatter till morning. To round off the year's activities a dinner was held in June to install the new officers for the oncoming year. Yes, the Delta Deltas, formally the Dutch Detectives, will have many lasting memories of their work and fun to-gether.

F. T. A.

Dr. George H. Gatje

The Future Teachers of America, better known as F.T.A., is a newly organized group in Bay Shore High School under the guidance of Miss Ippolito. F.T.A. is a national organization with each chapter being named after a great educator. The Bay Shore High School chapter has the honor of being named after Dr. George H. Gatje, former superintendent of schools. The purpose of F.T.A. is to acquaint students interested in teaching with the aspects of the profession. To do this F.T.A. has established a teaching program whereby the student observes teaching methods and then applies these methods to his own use. It is with great pride that we welcome the Future Teachers of America to Bay Shore High.

BAY SHORE HIGH SCHOOL, BAY SHORE, N. Y., JUNE, 1957

EDITOR'S DUTIES

Editors of the Maroon Echo have numerous and varied responsibilities throughout the year. They decide items to go into the paper, write the editorials, write articles, re-write articles, write headlines, and mount the various items the way they want them to appear in the paper. Besides this, each one is responsible for issuing assignments to his staff and seeing that they are in on time. For instance, the feature editor has full responsibility for the feature staff, the re-write editor for his staff, and so forth.

At the end of the year, they help the editors-in-training, showing them the responsibilities of paper editorship.

MAROON ECHO SELECTS EDITORS AFTER MUCH TRAINING

Gail Levenson Editor-in-chief
Jane Smith, Faculty Advisor

SCHOOL PAPER PERFORMS MANY FUNCTIONS

Seven times a year, the Maroon Echo, a product of much sweat and toil, presents to the students of Bay Shore High current information, while also serving as a record.

Many staffs are simultaneously at work to produce the Echo by press day. Seeking news tid-bits is the job of the reporters. Sometimes they discover things not yet announced — such as an award — and all is kept hush hush 'till the paper comes out. The feature staff is responsible for interesting side-light material, like interviews. Exciting accounts of sports events are written by the sports staff. Facts are turned into interesting articles and technical mistakes corrected by the re-write staff. Appropriately named, the exchange staff exchanges the Echo with the papers of other schools and reports all the goings on. The candid shots you fret about are taken by the photography staff, while cartoons are the masterpieces of the art staff. To save the printer the agony of hand-writing analysis, a typing staff is on hand to type up all material. The business staff sells ads to finance the printing of the newspaper.

The Echo also sponsors a basketball game, followed by dancing. Surely you remember having a hundred people remind you to attend and ask you to buy your ticket from them!

Besides this, the Echo belongs to several press associations and enters into their competitions each year.

Thus, each year the Maroon Echo brings information to the students, sponsors a basketball game, and is active in journalism groups. From dead-line to dead-line the Echo carries on from year to year, as the official publication of Bay Shore High School.

TO CHOOSE AN EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Each year, the Echo editorial staff and its advisor select juniors who are doing outstanding work and show responsibility and loyalty. These juniors become the Echo editors in training near the end of the school year. These students are then given instruction of how the paper is put together and how to do the various tasks they will be expected to do if they are editors the following year. After the training period is completed, a little before graduation and after they put out at least one edition of the paper, the editors and advisor meet and vote on whom they wish to be the next year's editor-in-chief, and what positions the other editors will have.

FOOTBALL

Although facing exceptionally strong competition Coach Chuck Geddes' Marauders were able to post a four win and three loss record to take fourth place in League One. It is interesting to note that the three Bay Shore defeats were suffered at the hands of Amityville, Port Jefferson, and Northport, who took the first three spots in the league. In total points scored Bay Shore was able to score 70 while allowing their opponents 79. Despite early season injuries suffered by several key players, the team was able to win its first three starts before suffering its first defeat.

Bay Shore was also able to reap its share of individual honors with Fred Kelsey making All Suffolk end on both the Long Island Press and Newsday teams. Captain Bob Kaczynski received honorable mention. In balloting by team members Kaczynski was chosen the outstanding back and Pete Casale the outstanding lineman.

Among the many other standouts this year were seniors Jim Mullen, Joe Lang, Fred Oster, Bill Ceilly, Gary Smith, Richard Tanner, Steve Raynor, Tom Van Laningham, Jim Bruscino, Bob Royce and Wes Slight.

"Chuck Meet"

In the Jayvee circuit Coach Erickson's eleven turned in an undefeated season with a six win and one tie record. The six point tie with Port Jefferson were the only points scored against the team all year. Cliff Hill, Gordon Schupp and Tim Timbrock were the high scorers and will head a large group of jayvee veterans which will fill varsity vacancies in coming seasons. With this group and a large contingent of seasoned juniors and sophomores returning, sports fans can expect big things in the coming season.

SOCCER

The soccer team has arrived. For many years it was our forgotten team. this year they are our heroes. Under Mr. Sprague's coaching, Bay Shore scored a record of eight wins four ties and no losses.

The main stays of the team were Don McAneny, John Kisiday, Russel Knights, and Lief Unger. John Kisiday was indicative of the team by being high scorer in the county.

With plenty of speed and scoring power, as shown by the tally of twenty-two goals for Bay Shore to seven for the opponents, the season was topped off by the winning of the county co-championship with Center Moriches at Islip, where the game ended in an over time scoreless tie.

A successful year was experienced by the Jayvees. The record of 1 win 5 ties and 2 losses is impressive when it is remembered that they had only a part time coach.

There is plenty of talent in the team to fill next year's varsity gaps. Be on the lookout for Tom Fiala, Clark Mason, and Ed Lofting, the team's high scorer.

WRESTLING

Coach Cliff Clark's Suffolk County Champion grapplers completed another fine season winning eight and losing three in dual meet competition. In post season tourney action Bay Shore posted an excellent record taking the Class A championship, as well as the Suffolk Championship, before taking fourth place in the Long Island Tourney.

Several wrestlers took individual honors in the tournament. In the class A meet Ralph Leggie, Jack Bayha and Ed Hubbard copped the titles in their respective classes. Bayha and Hubbard went on to capture the Suffolk crown and Hubbard took the Long Island championship. Although he did not take a first place, mention should be made of Lief Unger, who placed second in both the class A and Suffolk meets. Among others who placed in various tournaments were: Fred Oster, John Morrison, Dick Hutson, Tony Guccione, Jim Maguire and Frank Toomey.

Captain Ralph Leggio was honored with the presentation of the Jim Dowling Memorial award given each year for the most outstanding wrestler selected on the basis of record, cooperation, and sportsmanship.

Bay Shore's Jayvee matmen coached by Gordon Hausrath posted a seven and four record on the season. This is an outstanding mark since the team is in the process of building and training new

Bay Shore's great success was due to their nonreliance on one man for scoring or for anything else. This is exemplified by the fact that the top four scorers were within 13 points of each other with Fred Kelsey leading the way with 236. Also it should be noted the six of the Coach Leon Komoroski's varsity baseball squad nailed down fifth place in their league with a three win and seven loss record. Captain Guy Guccione, Ray Berg, Fred Kelsey, Bob Tidwell, and Jim Quayle handled the infield duties for the team, while Don Venezia, Chet Bedell, Alan Specht, Bob Metz, and Pete Gonzales took care of the outfield chores. Bernie Christie, catcher, and hurlers Leon Avitable, Pete Spina and Al Steinmann made up the battery. Bob Kaczynski played everything from center field to first base, besides turning in a fine job on the mound. Gary Gobetz handled the squad's management. Although captain-elect Bob Kaczynski and infielder Fred Kelsey were the only returning lettermen, the team enjoyed a good season.

In the J.V. circuit Einar Grell's team posted a six win and six loss record. Pitcher Charlie Flachs, leading batter with a .378 average, also pitched the only no-hitter of the year. The J.V.s turned in another fine season in 1957, although many of their key players moved up to fill vacant berths. However, their positions were ably filled by a host of frosh veterans.

Bay Shore netmen, under the expert coaching of Carl Harbeck, captured their eight straight county championship. The Maroon record for the 1956 season was a fantastic one, 17 wins and one defeat.

John Dowd was the big Marauder threat all season and climaxed with a win over Babylon's Cliff Spelman to take the county singles title. The Joe Lang and Don Trenor doubles combination took third place in the county's. These triumphs gave Bay Shore the team crown.

With seven of last years squad returning, the netmen posted another outstanding season.

TRACK

For the third time in six years, Coach Albert Martin's track team was undefeated. Bay Shore won both the county and Long Island championships. Stupendous records were set by Joe Farmer, discus 152' 8"; Clarence Joseph, county champ broad jump and 220 yard dash; Al Elliot and H. T. McLamb, county champs in high jump; Joe Carney, record in 180 yard hurdle — 20.9 at county meet; Vern Unger, Island champ pole vault at 11.4". Also, the relay team of Elliot, Balken, Powell, and Joseph set a county record of 45.9 in the 440 yard race. Al Elliot became state champ in the broad jump and finished second in the high jump. What a team!

EQUIPMENT FOR ENJOYMENT

She who partakes in sports is nourished with the gift of knowing how to win and lose. Enthusiastic and outgoing, she seeks no glory for herself, but revels in playing the game for the sheer delight of it.

HOCKEY HONOR TEAM

Eileen Thalmann, Janet Williamson, Roberta Geary, Sylvia Jackson, Daphne Holmes, Carol Koltz, Joan Stall, Coach; Marian Webb, Yvonne Hall, Christine Fecher, Diane Wolter, Beverly Brown, Agnes Miller, Judy Raia, June Baker.

Chop Sticks

At the beginning of the year a number of girls participated in hockey intramurals. With weather not at its best, many teams fought for victory every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Close as the final tie was, Judy Raia's team was victorious.

Bay Shore received third place at the Suffolk County playday, and selected Janet Williamson it's outstanding player.

INTRAMURAL WINNERS

Flap-Jacks

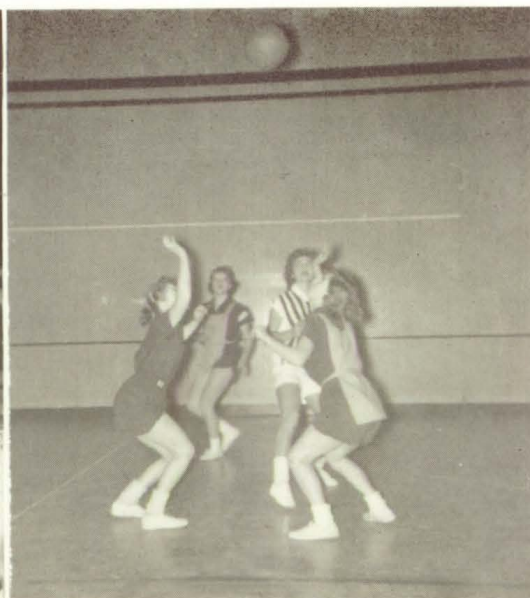

Volley Ball — More girls participate in volleyball, than in any other intramural. The main reason for this is that one doesn't have to be an athlete to participate. Therefore, the competition is greater between the teams which are struggling for first place. This year the Bay Shore playday team achieved the honor of winning the banner for which sixteen other schools were also fighting. June Baker and Shelia Holmes were named the outstanding players.

Basketball — Although many girls enjoy watching boys play basketball, they also like to participate in this game themselves. Therefore, teams are formed from those girls who want to participate in such a game. Although only two bounces are allowed, the girls manage to get from one end of the floor to the other. Even though a great deal of energy is lost, much enjoyment is gained.

Batter Up!

In the spring, many girls came out to participate in softball intramurals and struggle to become the winning team.

From this group of girls, two honor teams are picked which competed with a number of other schools.

Finally, the best players are picked to form a playday team. At Hecksher State Park our school competed with other schools, trying to bring home the banner. Although we did not obtain first place it was a worthwhile experience.

Service Girls

Sport Night—'56

The Armed Forces is such a great American symbol that the senior high Leaders Club chose this topic as the theme for its 1956 Sport Night. The evening was a gala affair from the colorful entrance to the proud grand march. Although the participants were unaware that this was to be the last year in which skits would be a major part of the performance, it seemed that they had gone all out to make the event a startling display. There were volcanoes and Marsmen, mermaids and dancing girls. The actual sports were flavored with mess hall relays, thrilling basketball games and high flying trampoline performers. The stately Leaders Club members displayed their military drills under the excellent leadership of president, Ruth Tergesen. The evening resulted in a victory for the White team, but each team showed extreme enthusiasm for the wonderful work everyone had contributed.

Maroon and White

It is hard for us to realize the true value of the things we do today or will do tomorrow. It is only when we look into the past at some future date that we realize the true measure of our actions.

So it is, that in the years to come, when we are wise, weathered, and perhaps a little sad that our yearbooks will mean the most to us. For by the time we have trodden down the path of life, the once fresh memories of our high school days will have faded, as all memories do, until only a fabricated image, built up through the years, remains. Then it will be time to take out our yearbooks of 1957.

As we open the precious cover the memories will flow to life — the Senior Play . . . Junior Prom . . . Orchestra and band rehearsal . . . and then — graduation . . . We will close the book with a smile, remembering those days, the happy days, at Bay Shore High.

Julie Franchi Relinquishes Beloved Yearbook

In 1927 Julie Franchi assumed the role of yearbook advisor. The editor-in-chief of her first book, the 1928 Maroon and White, was student, Lloyd Moreland, who was later to become superintendent of schools.

Being the yearbook's advisor is not an easy job. It requires someone with the patience of Job, the endurance of the sun, and the power of the atom. These qualities wrapped up in a smiling, soft-spoken package symbolize Julie Franchi.

1957 marks Miss Franchi's retirement from the yearbook capacity. In relieving her of this responsibility Mr. Moreland said, "Miss Franchi could go on for many years doing the same superior job in supervising the publication of the yearbook. She has given many years to it, however, and we think it is time to relieve her of this extra job. She will continue, of course, as our inspirational French teacher."

Taking her place as advisor will be Lester Faggiani. Although a relatively new member of the high school staff, Mr. Faggiani has been enthusiastically accepted by the student body. Under his direction we are sure the Maroon and White will continue to prosper.

Norman Wood

Norman was a boy torn between two loves, first his lifetime ambition to become a United States Marine, second his unending devotion for athletics. He was well established at Bay Shore, both as a remarkable athlete and a humble citizen. He was quiet, conservative, and sincere. We, his classmates, shall always remember him as a friend and a gentleman, of whom Bay Shore can be justly proud.
