Volume 60

*We cast our ships out to sea hoping for a summer of fun in the sun
But our barefoot walks along the ocean ended
And our castles in the sand were washed away . . .*

... as we got ready to start the school year once again, for the last time

Teacher or student?

*The changing of the leaves touched us gently
But the changing of school policies came on more abruptly*

Autumn seemed to fly by as quickly as birds fly south, anticipating the chill of the winter to come

Howling winds and falling snowflakes

*A blazing fire to keep us warm
The snowmen and snowball fights of yesteryear
Are the memories of white winters
we hold dear*

The blooming of flowers in spring as nature comes to life once again

Our last few months together as our high school years come to an end

*As the last sun sets for the school year
On the broad horizons
before us
We part . . .*

*. . . But tomorrow is another sunrise
The beginning of a new day
New dreams and hopes
A brand new start.*

Spirit

Not just a football game on Oct. 9, but spirit made the long awaited Homecoming 1982 weekend a success. The event served as a tool to unite the individual classes, the school as a whole, and most importantly, the school with the community.

Monday, Oct. 4, was the start of spirit week. Designated Sophomore Choice Day, some students were seen in hideously clashing outfits. Tuesday, Junior Choice Day, most everyone was seen in some sort of tie. On Wed. it was class color day in preparation for the Battle of the Classes to be held that evening. After a volleyball game, scooter race, obstacle course and much more the Seniors took first place. The Senior Choice for Thursday was Hawaiian Day. Many students wore brightly colored Hawaiian shirts and some extremists wore grass skirts. To end the spirit week, Friday was declared Maroon and White day.

Early Saturday morning before the parade students were already celebrating and waiting in anticipation to show off their floats. The parade made its way up Main Street and to the high school and then the football game began. Finally, half-time events began: the marching band performed, the floats were presented, and Homecoming King, Queen, and court were announced. Even though the Bay Shore Marauders came out on the short end of a 7-0 score against the William Floyd Colonials, they certainly gave a large Homecoming crowd something to cheer about.

Drama Club

On Nov. 19 and 20, the drama club presented two performances of "Flowers for Algernon." The story of Charlie Ford Gordon's progression from retarded to genius, and back again, served as an excellent drama. A fine performance by all actors and actresses made the show a success.

The B.S.H.S. marching band under the direction of Donald Persia had another outstanding season, proving itself to be one of the best marching bands on Long Island.

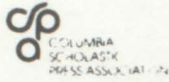

The band did great in all their competitions. At several competitions the B.S.H.S. marching band was awarded first place in their division. Throughout competitions they also received awards for best band overall, best colorguard, best music, and best marching and maneuvering band.

This year, the band also won the Long Island Championships in division III. Giving them the opportunity to compete at the TOB East Coast Championships. There, pitted against some of the best bands around, Bay Shore was able to place sixth out of sixteen. The next day, Bay Shore then competed in the Northeast Championships and placed fourth, receiving the highest score ever — 80.35. There Bay Shore also received an award for having the best drumline in the Northeast.

The marching band's endless hours of practice and dedication not only rewarded them with an outstanding season, but made them into a close-knit group both on and off the field.

maroon echo

The first issue of the Maroon Echo came out on September 29, 1982. Covering vital issues that affect the student body has always been the Maroon Echo's top priority. Though it may spark controversy along the way, it has continued to be a reliable, responsible, and award-winning source of information.

Fund-raising car wash — October 16, 1982.

The International club consists of students who share an interest in learning about different cultures. They invite guest speakers to their meetings who discuss their experiences in foreign countries and present slide shows.

Through such fund-raising activities as a carwash and the selling of Christmas trivets and Valentine Lollipops, the International club was able to enjoy several successful field trips this year, including a Christmas visit to the city to see the tree at Rockefeller center.

Boces

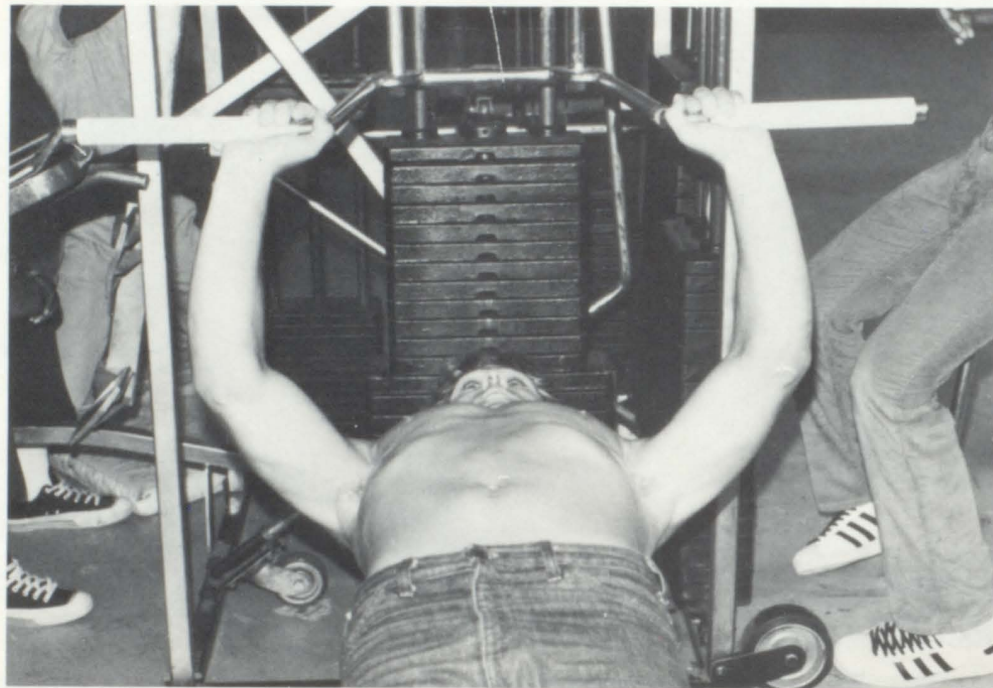

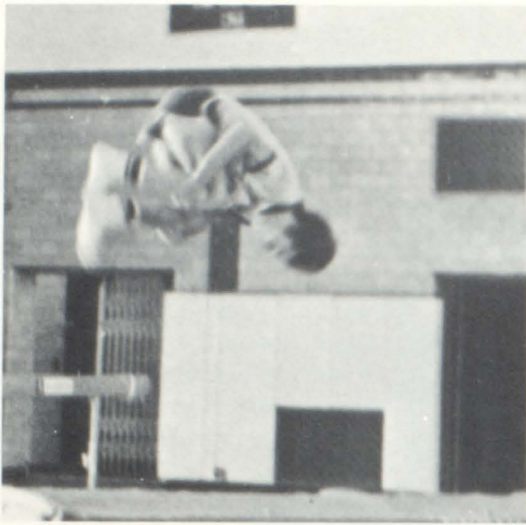

There are a number of students who, although are not in classes in the high school every afternoon, certainly are not cutting. Students are bussed to BOCES every day for the majority of the academic day and attend classes with students from a number of other towns. Most find BOCES to be an enjoyable, worthwhile experience. Not only are they learning a skill that interests them now, but they can also make use of that skill later, after graduation.

The Student Government Organization has continued to be the most listened to and respected voice of the students. Anyone may attend SGO meetings, but a system of representatives from each homeroom and club has been set up, so that the representatives can report to their groups and inform students who were not able to attend the meeting. At meetings information is given out and then open to questioning and debate by the students. Officers work closely with the administration, so all information is extremely accurate and reliable.

The SGO also sponsors and initiates many activities. Our spirited homecoming was planned and arranged by the SGO. In addition, the success of both volleyball night and the canned food drive this winter to help the needy was due to the efforts of the SGO.

Canned Food Drive

Fashion

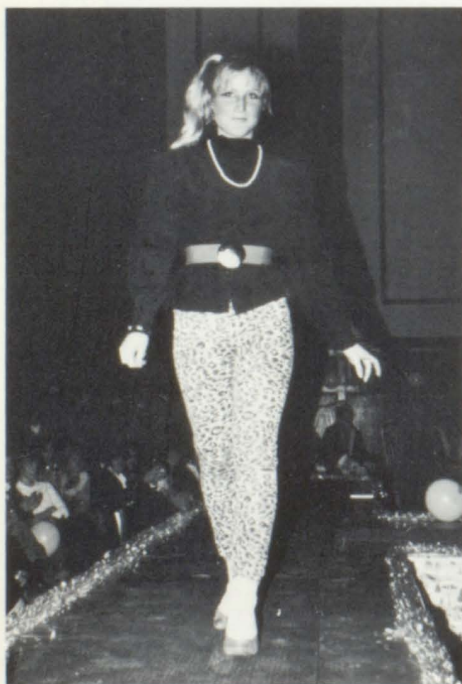

Formal, casual, business-like, daring, frilly, and tailored were just a sampling of the many styles modeled at this year's Senior Class Fashion Show held on Wednesday, December 8, 1982.

Teachers and students displayed the latest fashions from a variety of local shops ranging from Suburban Sports to RSVP. Some Seniors even modeled fashions they had designed themselves. Modeled were dresses, skirts, pants, tops and even wet suits.

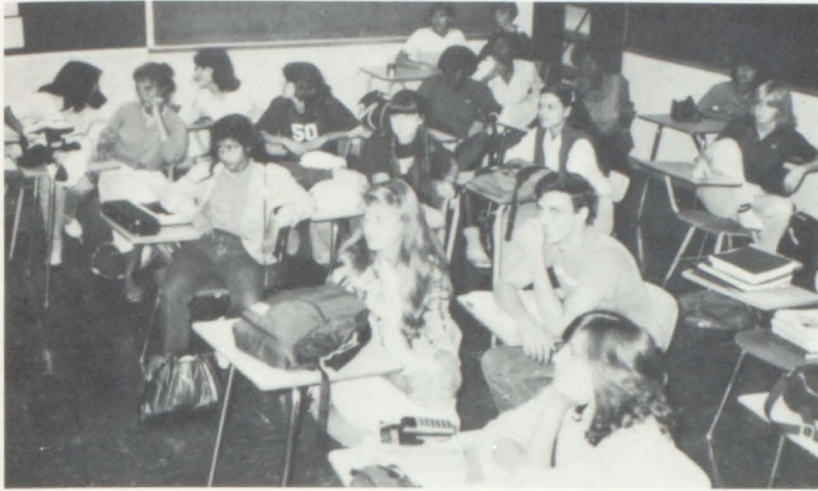

Of course, the grand finale was the bridal party. Sandy Lang and Paul Sconzo made a charming bride and groom, accompanied by four bridesmaids and four ushers.

Immediately after the Show the annual Chinese Auction was held.

Both events provided a pleasant evening and were a credit to the Senior class.

Valentines Day

A knock on the classroom door on February 11, 1983 didn't necessarily mean that the administration had finally caught up with a chronic cutter. In most cases, it was one of Cupid's assistants delivering Valentine carnations. The SGO Activities Committee carried on its annual tradition of selling and delivering Valentine carnations — red meaning "I love you," pink meaning "I like you," and white meaning "I want to get to know you better." The Junior class also got into the Valentine spirit this year by selling and delivering Hershey's kisses accompanied by Valentine cards. As conveyed by the happy recipients' smiles and blushes, the day's activities were a success.

One set of math per day may be enough for the average student, but then, "mathletes" are not your average students. They enjoy doing extra math and preparing for math meets. At math meets, "mathletes" must answer a specific number of questions. Their scores on these questions are compared with the scores of other Suffolk high school math teams, who must answer the same question. The Math team has consistently ranked high in the county at the end of the year and hope to rank high this year, also.

The computer terminal may say "fatal error," but computer club members aren't making any mistakes by getting involved with computers.

Computers are not an overnight fad, society is on the verge of the Computer Age. Computers are rapidly expanding into every facet of life. Those who do not bother to become acquainted with them will be lost in the not-so-future computer world. By solving those "fatal errors" messages on Tuesday afternoons and increasing their knowledge of the computer, computer club members are really preparing for Tomorrow.

The buzzer sounds and they're off. No, it's not racing at Aqueduct, but a member of the Rescue Ambulance Corps being paged to assist a call.

Student members of the Ambulance Corps trained in first-aid techniques and are also certified in CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation.) By wearing pagers, student members can be reached anywhere, anytime during the day to assist on calls. This has proved helpful since most of the corps volunteer members work during the day.

Ambulance Corps members not only benefit themselves by learning first-aid and gaining invaluable experience through exercising their knowledge in real life situations, but they also provide a vital and much appreciated service to the community.

National Honor Society

In accordance with its reputation as a service organization, the National Honor Society participated in a variety of volunteer work. Some members chose to tutor other students, while some participated in the Adopt A Grandparent program, and others helped out with SEPTA. One of the NHS's successful activities was its Winter Tea, where alumni united with students to talk about college life, and old high school days.

Mock Trial Team

This year the mock trial team made it all the way to the finals against Half Hollow Hills. With George Dewey as Vincent Taylor, the main plaintiff witness, and Jeanne Sauer as Mrs. Dillon, the main defense witness, the team couldn't lose. Kim Bidetti, Eric Brophy, Carmella Corvato, and Kim Vogelsberg also proved to hold up to the opposing teams incriminating crosses. Plaintiff witnesses were guided by attorneys John Frazier, Steve Kamarass, and Yvonne Morabito while the defense witnesses were protected by counselors Tracy Butcher, Alan Kletchka, and Melanie Ross. Both teams worked super hard and proved to be two of the top teams in Suffolk county this year.

Reflections

A small, but dedicated group of students have worked to produce Reflections, the school's literary magazine. All material — poems, short stories, essays, and illustrations are submitted by students. The staff of Reflections has the difficult job of choosing which entries will go into the magazine.

Reflections has been an award winner in the past and hopefully, this year will be no exception.

Future Picassos and Rembrandts need a starting point — many at Bay Shore High School choose to join the Art Club in order to refine their skills and talents. As shown by the various artwork displayed around the school, Bay Shore's future artists have a great deal of potential.

Maroon and White

Undeveloped film, broken cameras, lost croppers, half a quad-pack, an antique typewriter, and a yearbook office that resembles Oscar Madison's room is what this year's 1983 Maroon and White will remember most about this yearbook.

A handful of students dedicated themselves to making this year's Maroon and White extra-special for the Class of 1983. Although many times we almost quit, and many deadlines we almost missed, somehow we made it. This book will certainly hold a special place upon our shelf.

You may skim through these pages now — collecting autographs, but in the years to come it will be this book that you will turn to and remember those classic high school years.

Good times will come and go, but memories last forever. We hope that within these pages, we have captured some of those memories for you.

The Editors

Staff Karin Berger, Jonathan Bloom, Moira Brophy, Karen Chase, Sylvia Genthner, Debbie Goldberg, Curtis Jackson, Ellen Kutin, JoAnn Lombiase, Laura Mowbray, Mary Kate Auliffe, Soo Mee Pac, Annette Ramito, Jeanne Sauer, Barbara Stallworth, Jean Teirney.

Remember When . . .

- . . . cutting involved scissors and paper
- . . . your mother actually signed your absence note
- . . . the only liquid you had for lunch was milk
- . . . grass was green, and "hi" meant hello
- . . . homerooms and study halls were only in the Junior High
- . . . crib notes were the musical notes that came from a toy ball placed in your crib
- . . . you finally got to the head of the line at the guidance office to fix your schedule only to find that your counselor was "out to lunch"
- . . . you mailed in your college application on Jan. 11th for a Jan. 10th deadline
- . . . Mrs. Shaughnessy's assistant knocked on the door, called you down to Rm. 28, and the whole class yelled "oohh — busted!"
- . . . turning "18" actually had some meaning
- . . . you had a good time at the sorority formal (or — remember trying to remember the good time you had at the sorority formal)
- . . . "the wall" was white
- . . . we couldn't remember anymore Remember Whens . . .
- . . . Bay Shore High was High School of the year

Remember the Class of 1983 . . .

and remember all the good times, all of the laughter and all of the smiles you shared at Bay Shore High School

Looking Back

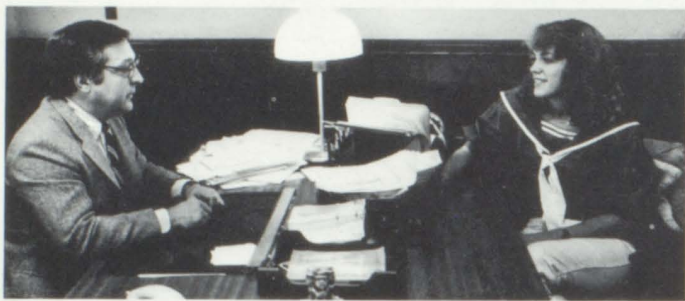

Patricia Healy, member of the 1983 graduating class, poses with her father, Daniel J. Healy, as they look back 50 years in Bay Shore history. Mr. Healy, a lifetime resident of Bay Shore and the retired Bay Shore Postmaster, graduated as a member of the class of 1933. As he proudly watches Patricia's graduation, he will surely recall those many fond memories of his graduation.

Test Prayer

Now I lay me down to study,
I pray the Lord I won't go nutty.

If I should fail to learn this junk,
I pray the Lord I will not flunk.

But if I do, don't shed a tear,
Just put a rose behind my ear.

Tell my teacher I did my best,
Then pile my books upon my chest.

If I should die before I wake,
That's one less test I'll have to take.

Remember

Leaving this school
 And memories belonging
 We go into life
 For which we've been longing.
 And like a new toy
 We experiment and test
 To which path in life
 Suits us best.
 We'll enter into the world
 Feeling alone and afraid
 Wishing Bay Shore High
 Was where we stayed.
 Sure we'll miss it
 Leaving Mr. VonNovak behind
 And our memories with him
 But we've got our lives to find.
 To find our goals and accomplish them
 Good luck in the future and years to be
 Good luck to us the Class of '83

Yours Truly,
 Fontilla Kelty

Dedication

Mrs. Pat Ponzi

The 1983 yearbook

It is very rare in the high school that a student can find a teacher who is their friend as well as an excellent instructor. Mrs. Pat Ponzi has managed to combine these two qualities towards every student she knows. Her sunny disposition and interesting Sex Roles lectures make students look forward to going to class.

The 1983 yearbook staff appreciates her time and hard work with us more than she'll ever know. Most of all, we would like to thank her for her advice, understanding, and for just being herself.

Mrs. Carolyn Swital

The Class of 1983

The yearbook dedication is traditionally the greatest honor that can be given to any school person by the students.

This year, on Feb. 8-10, the Senior class voted on who they think this honor should go to. To no one's surprise, Mrs. Carolyn Swital was chosen. All the work and time that she has spent with us since our Freshman year is immeasurable. Every club and activity in the high school has felt the extent of all her help. Great thanks are extended to Mrs. Swital!

Special Thanks to . . .

Dr. Lester Faggiani — our advisor

Mrs. Caroline Swital — for all her valuable time and effort

*Mr. James Thompson and the Special Ed Kids — for our

Mr. Hal Epstein — our professional photographer

Mr. Dan Gleason — our yearbook representative

The Library — for our display

And all others who helped and supported us along the way.

Special Appreciation —
