As little children, we sat in the backseat of our parents' car looking out the window observing all the changes the world went through. Back then, we associated growth with caterpillars, and would marvel when we witnessed them breaking free of their cocoons and emerging as butterflies. At that time, we did not realize that we would be going through a metamorphosis, not so different from that one. This metamorphosis was one that we could choose and that Bay Shore helped us reach.

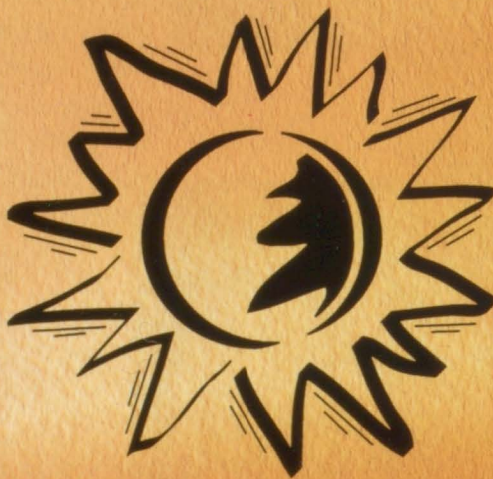

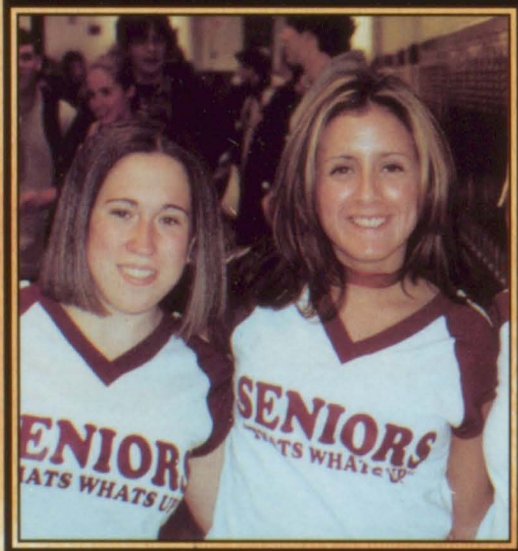

From the moment we entered Bay Shore High, we were introduced to many new things and made our own decisions, which helped us to transform into who we would become. In essence, the high school served as a cocoon where students would enter timidly, and exit determined and ready to enter college.

Everyday at Bay Shore, we met people from different backgrounds, cultures, and races; we embraced this diversity and grew to become proud members of our community. Bay Shore High enabled us to grow by providing us with various activities, accommodating our changing interests. While serving as the background to our education, Bay Shore High School was the inspiration for our metamorphosis.

'04 S R O I N E S

The days spent in Bay Shore High served as a time of growth for students in the class of 2004. From interesting classes, to taking part in activities and joining sports teams, the students of Bay Shore remained active, shaping their character as well as their academic and extracurricular profiles. This was a critical time for the seniors as they developed their education. They transformed from high school students to intelligent, college bound young adults.

The metamorphosis the class of 2004 experienced was a difficult and demanding one, but the seniors pulled together to form study groups and attend review sessions. This helped to ensure they had the opportunity to become something great. Many seniors decided to move away from home, and they explored distant colleges in hopes of finding the perfect place to continue developing mentally, emotionally, as well as spiritually.

For the seniors of 2004, the years at Bay Shore High School were all about growing and maturing into the person they wished to become. As we look back and remember all the activities we participated in, all the people we met, and all the wonderful classes we took, we remember that change is always good. The faculty at Bay Shore High School allowed us to experience that metamorphosis without bound. Now, we are ready for whatever the future may hold.

Amidst the changes here at Bay Shore High School, the activities have continued to evolve into larger and more diverse groups of students. These students devoted their time from 7:20 in the morning until 1:50 in the afternoon to learning and then after the dismissal bell rang, continued that with students who shared a common interest. It's in these common interests where after school activities and clubs were born. Each year, different students come and go, while the clubs grow with the highest acceleration. Many clubs enjoyed the entrance of new students because it transformed them into a more varied activity.

Walking through the hallways after school, one would not expect to still hear the sounds of pages being turned and keys being typed upon. However, these are the sounds that are customary to the book club, the computer club and web design. These are only a few of the many after school activities that have devoted students who enjoy working hard even after their school day is over. Students were able to express themselves, show off their talents and give great ideas on how to solve a problem or help others.

The participating students relentlessly morphed the Bay Shore High School into their own theater where they got a chance to show others what happens when you are dedicated. The loyal students of each club were rewarded with the notion that all of the time they put in was significant.

ACTIVITIES

Academic Club

Who won the 1967 World Series? Who was the author of The Grapes of Wrath? These were the types of questions that the Trivia Team had to answer this past year. The group consisted of numerous juniors and seniors who proudly represented the academic side of Bay Shore. Ms. A. Scoca successfully completed her second year as the Trivia Team advisor, as Ms. J. Dineen, joined the Trivia Team as co-adviser to help advise some of Bay Shore's brightest students.

The Trivia Team was involved in a variety of activities that incorporated the skills they acquired behind the walls of Bay Shore High School. They were invited to the News 12 Long Island Challenge and made it to the semi-finals, a noteworthy achievement. They also competed in the Western Suffolk Division of the Long Island Quiz Bowl.

"The Trivia Team members are some of the most motivated, mature, and funny students at Bay Shore," proudly stated Ms. Scoca. Their goal was to win as many challenges as possible, and they accomplished their goal with great success. "We wanted to show Long Island what we were made of," replied Ms. Dineen. The Trivia Team evolved into a very diverse and elegant group of students.

A.I.D.S. Educators

Peer Aids Education is a club that every year is devoted to saving lives. The members in the club were educated for over a four month period on the HIV/AIDS epidemic and STD's. After they complete the training, which includes lessons and role-playing, the AIDS educators teach the 8th grade students at the middle school. They made sure to cover the topics they learned in the lessons. This program lets teens teach teens. Mr. Kasman and Mr. Hyshiver feel strongly that teens will learn more from their peers. The AIDS educators tried to stress the importance of knowledge and how it can save lives. The group also raised money to donate to AIDS research on Long Island this past year.

Mr. Ed. Hyshiver and Mr. Kasman advised this year's group. These AIDS educators were a unique group of socially conscious individuals who wanted to make a difference in the community. "This year's group was much more comfortable discussing all of the health and social issues regarding STD'S and HIV/AIDS than previous groups in the past," Mr. Kasman stated.

The community has received the group warmly; teachers, parents and students were impressed and pleased by the professionalism exhibited by these peer educators. They were a huge asset to this school and the community this year. Their never-ending goal is to educate one person at a time, in an effort to combat an epidemic and make a huge difference. One person at a time can make a huge difference.

Art Club

Art Club is a club after school where students of any grade can go to create the artwork of their dreams. Mr. Scinto was the club's leader of over fifteen students who met every Thursday from 2 until 3:30p.m. This was Mr. Scinto's fourth year advising the Art Club. He said, "When Mrs. Allen left the school, I was offered the advising position and gladly took it." His goals for this past year were to take the club on a field trip to the New York City galleries in Soho. He was also interested in helping students develop portfolios for their college acceptance. The Art Club is owned and operated by a subsidiary group of The Cultural Arts Department.

This year's Art Club went through a metamorphosis as they started to develop portfolios for students who need them for the admission to the college of their choice. This past year's Art Club also made a transition as this year students in the club have an even greater ability to open their minds and let their artwork become a reality.

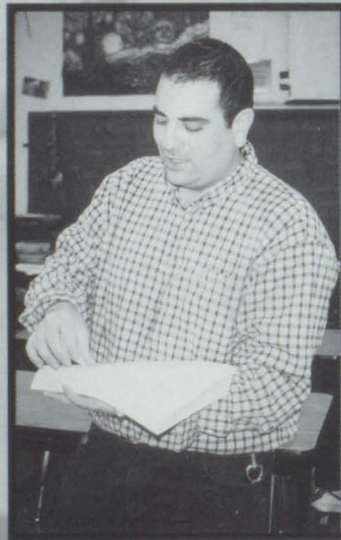

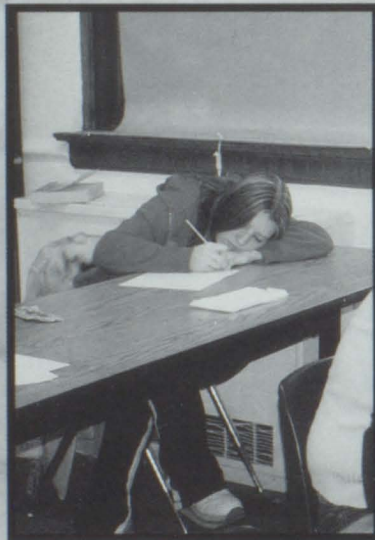

This year's club has also incorporated new software and was able to fulfill their dreams through computer art design. As one can see, this year's Art Club truly flourished in many ways.

This year's B.S.O.S.S. club members were very excited with a group of outstanding seniors, freshmen, sophomores and juniors. The community had more to look forward to this year as well. With an even better fashion show, and multiple competitions, many students hoped to receive scholarships. The adviser, Mr. Perry McLean, has led this club for the past five years. This year, with the help of President Laquasia Boggs, Vice President Jasmine Jackson, Treasurer Chris Dennard, and Secretary Yasmin Edmonds, they strived to metamorphosize into a stronger organization and conquer everything they needed to make the club successful.

Every Thursday, a meeting was held for B.S.O.S.S. members from 1:50 to 2:30pm and there was always a full room with students ready to participate. While they were raising money, they were also helping others involved in food drives and toy drives for the community. B.S.O.S.S. is the longest running club in Bay Shore High School and because of their impressive work, they have excelled over the years. Great leadership is the epitome of a B.S.O.S.S. member. But this year's group has morphed into something far better. With all the help they had and such great leaders, this past year will be one to talk about for years to come.

Bible Club

With the 10-year supervision of Mrs. Pfeffer and club member Lauren Staiger, the Bible Club was off to a superior start. What makes this club different from other clubs is that it is student-run, unlike the traditional club. This year was no different than any other year. They were open to welcome new members because their main goal was to increase and spread the word on this inspiring club. When they were together at meetings, they were structured and focused upon their task for that day. They began by reading passages and held discussions dealing with teens and situations with which they could relate. Prior to leaving, they would end the meeting with a prayer.

This club was also involved in community held activities: food, clothes, and toy drives as well as their annual See You at Pole. And, these were only some of their contributions. Such efforts were greatly appreciated by those who were less fortunate.

"I was extremely proud of their involvement and also for devoting their time to the club," said Mrs. Pfeffer after an inspiring meeting. Things can only get better for this ever-changing club.

Book Club, formally well known for their 'quiet' reputation in the school, started to make some noise, leaving their quiet reputation in the past. Ms. Yonkus along with six novel devotees, have set forth to make their presence known in the community.

This year's group initially demonstrated admirable qualities that set them apart from last year's group; "They want to get more involved with the community" remarked Ms. Yonkus, knowing that this year would be much different from the previous four with the club. With aspirations to initiate book drives for the less fortunate and visit old age homes to read to the elderly; it was apparent, in the members' enthusiasm to become more involved, that Ms. Yonkus was to experience a much different year with the Book Club.

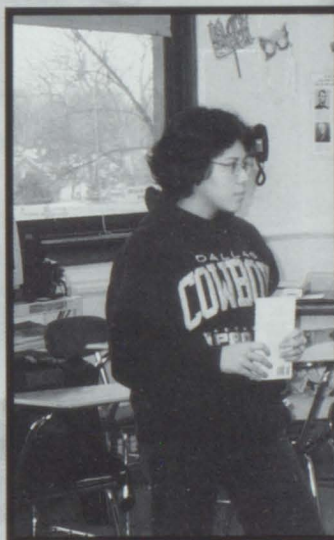

"Our club consists of individuals who are very friendly and greet new members with open arms," said Ms. Yonkus who was very grateful to be associated with such a kind group. Each week members would gather in a book talk circle, where they would discuss details and morals from different books, that all encompassed a theme that changed monthly. No matter how different the topics and messages the members discussed were, these literature enthusiasts enjoyed each other's company and ideas that were shared every Tuesday.

Aside from appreciating each other's company after school, the Book Club periodically met at Barnes and Nobles on Saturdays, where they browsed the bestseller's list, and gathered ideas for the next month's theme. Their outward participation in the community and their presence at public bookstores during the weekend; demonstrates their metamorphosis into active members in the community, leaving their quiet nature as a preconception of the past.

Color Guard

This year's Color guard was truly unique. We had a variety of new girls who were very talented. "The good thing about having a variety of girls were returning girls from last year who helped new comers learn the basics," said girls from the team. "The amount of girls made a tremendous difference in our field shows," said Mr. Rotello.

We were able to compete at the Columbus Day Parade in New York City. The girls performed at the Pep Rally for Homecoming, and Hofstra University's annual Newsday Festival, and all of the home football games. "Every time the girls performed at the field show, they got better and better at what they do best," said Mr. Rotello proudly.

It is not easy doing color guard because of the complicated twirling and intricate dance moves. The color guard mixed dance line with each other this year which was a huge success. Parents came and supported the girls at their numerous performances. The color guard coaches were Meghan Mahoney and dance line instructor

Ever wonder how to beat those exciting computer games? With Mr. Eggert as advisor, accompanied by over forty students, members of the Computer Club looked forward to meeting every Thursday. Mr. Eggert's goals this year were to enjoy and explore new facets of computers.

The club was made up of students who were there to experiment with computer game programs. These students did not just play the games but, they went further into them. They went behind the scenes, and they made up reviews on the programs played. These students got together to celebrate their use of technology. "These students adapted to computer games and they were very knowledgeable", said Mr. Eggert. During the year and the years to come, Mr. Eggert will be looking for better computer games to be implemented.

Creative Writing Club

Every Friday, aspiring young writers from all grade levels meet to write in creative and unique ways. Each of the meetings begin with a free write in which everyone gets to write privately about anything they desire. Afterwards, the club members begin their new writing activity. This is known as The Creative Writing Club, run by Mr. Matt Pasca and Mr. Jon Nelson who met every Friday afternoon from 2 until 4 p.m. Mr. Pasca has said that one way this club has evolved over time is that it has "gotten much bigger and we are responsible for more things." When asked how many people attended The Creative Writing Club, Mr. Pasca said, "About 40 who came regularly and 78 different people have attended total." Five years ago when the club began, this was not the case. Most of the members who attended were seniors and a few alumnus returned for a number visits as well.

One of the things this club became responsible for and put together for our school was the semi-annual Poetry Jam. Students and teachers all come out for an afternoon of poetry readings and fun. The club not only coordinates this even, but also puts out a literary magazine which all students can contribute to by sending in their works.

Dance Club

The Dance club has been a part of the Bay Shore High School for four years. Ms. Michelle Denino coached the Dance Club along with other talented Bay Shore students. Dancers met Ms. Denino every Tuesday for two hours to come up with funky and condensed moves. Ms. Denino stated that their goal for the year was to increase the number of students involved, to perform at local and school events, and to increase the skill level of the dancers. She was positive that the goals of the group were going to be met.

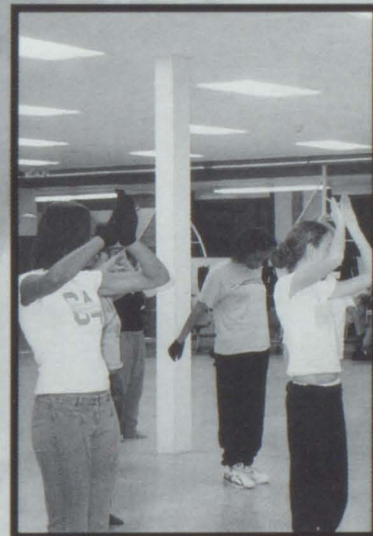

This year, they had more students involved who showed a strong interest in the art of dance. The club appeared at the Summit, they performed at The Wellness Alliance evening, at the B.S.O.S.S. talent show, and the Arts Festival in Bay Shore. Ms. Denino was very proud of her students not only on their performance, but because the students took all that was taught to them and transformed it into their own mixture of Hip- Hop, Jazz, Modern Dance, and Ballet, which was a difficult thing to do.

The Dance club was welcoming to all students and maintained a positive vibe. Like any other club or sport, hard work and dedication was the key to their achievement.

F.B.L.A.

FBLA was one of our many clubs that was a well-respected national organization and was open to any student's grades nine through twelve interested in business careers. They met every Tuesday from 2 until 2:30 and through the usage of a number of different business related field trips, this club helped students to have a greater understanding of what goes on behind the scenes of great business companies. The new adviser, Mrs. Kelly said, "FBLA has local, state, and national competitions that members competed in."

Not only did they compete in big competitions, but they also visited sick children in hospitals during this past holiday season. They also attended Chamber of Commerce meetings. This group has evolved, Mrs. Kelly said, "because there are more members this year." The club had over thirty new members and new ones came in all the time to attend the clubs meetings.

Film Club

"As a new club, we're still generating buzz about what film club is, but it's successful and exciting and a creative venue for creative students." These are the words of Ms. Nell Kalter, the adviser of the film club at Bay Shore High School. With the twenty-five members she had this year, they were a bigger club, yet proved to be just as creative as in previous years. This creative group of students strived with passion and impressive talent to put on the 3rd Annual Bay Shore High School Student Film Festival. The festival contained many works of art, many with the help of Bay Shore students from the past, and it is something worth keeping as a tradition.

They also tried to have more events like movie night and the film festival, which turned out great for the members of the club and students alike.

The club put on its first Music Video Film Festival. Students produced, directed, acted and edited music videos which they performed to large crowd .

Altogether, this laid back group of talented students really strived for their goals and were very successful along the way. They sure did generate a lot of buzz and attracted a lot of attention to themselves.

International Club

From North America to Asia, from India to Honduras, the students of the International Club portrayed the true meaning of diversity behind the walls of Bay Shore High School. The club consisted of four-year advisor Mrs. Solis, Ms. Moro and the 25 multi-cultural, multi-ethnical, and multi linguistical group of students.

"One of our goals this year was to break down the bridges and banners of the cultures," explained Mrs. Solis. Not only do they learn about their own culture, the members of the International Club are open to many customs and traditions of the American culture. Community outreach gave them the opportunity to learn and establish a greater knowledge of different subjects such as their adaptation to America.

This year wasn't like any other year. They had the opportunity not to just have many members, but be more diverse than past years. This group of students is a melting pot that year after year will become more and more diverse.

Maroon Echo

"People have come to look at the Maroon Echo as the student's voice, instead of a paper that just prints articles," advisor Mr. Walt Fishon said. He worked along side his journalist students and after school participants to put together the award winning paper. The wide range of students grades 9-12 met once a week after school to discuss story ideas and lay out design

This club had very high goals set for themselves this year: to improve there sports section, to recruit new students and to win the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's Gold Medal. The group has already changed a lot from previous years; "We have several returning students who are bringing their experience to new members. These new members are more involved and more interested in the journalism process," Mr. Fishon reported.

This 2004 Marauder Yearbook staff went through a drastic transformation during Ms. Kelly Cuozzo's second year as adviser. Editor-in-Chief, Laura Arbucci and Managing Editor, Vanessa Ruiz returned for their second year with the Marauder full of new ideas and better ways to get things done. Brooke Ackerson, the Graphics Editor, shed new light onto the Yearbook with her computer knowledge and endless imagination.

"It's amazing the difference a year can make. This year's book was so much different than last year's. With a year under our belts and an adviser comfortable with her position, it seemed our creativity was boundless," commented Laura Arbucci. One significant difference between this year's staff and past year's was that this year was composed of more underclassmen than ever. Ms. K. Cuozzo looks forward to teaching the underclassmen the skill of editing before their senior year, so that when they become editors, they will be the most effective ones yet. "We are so lucky to have the opportunity to build on the skills of students from year to year. These students are then able to teach the newcomers the complicated computer design program," Ms. Cuozzo realized.

The younger influence the Marauder had this year is sure to make a significant impression on the future of the Yearbook as well as the school. Ms. Cuozzo said, "The creativity required and the chance to become very involved in all aspects of school life has always been very appealing to our staff members, who are in essence, the eyes and ears of Bay Shore High School."

Moot Court

In his first year advising the Moot Court Club, Mr. Selzer had fifteen members who took part in this non-competitive after school activity. The members of the club were often encouraged to audition for the Mock Trial team in the future, and have often done so. The Moot Court Club was an important contributing factor to the success of our Mock Trial team. The club was open to anyone that had an interest in the law program at Bay Shore High School.

Since last year, interest in this club has increased. In the future, they would like to set up outside programs, such as internships and things of that nature. "The Moot Court Club is an extremely important part of our law program," commented Mr. Selzer.

This past year, the members of the Moot Court Club gave everyone the impression that next year's Mock Trial team would be great. The club has remained a big part of the pride Bay Shore has in its law program and will hopefully stay that way far into the future.

Model U.N.

The 2003-2004 Model UN team, run by adviser Mrs. S. Litrel, was extremely excited for this year's season. The team represented Croatia, and was really looking forward to its annual National Competition, and out doing last year's very successful performance.

Mrs. Litrel described participating students as having the "willingness to work hard to solve difficult global issues." The group has grown a lot over the three years since it was created. They have nearly tripled in size and the members and have remained as dynamic and dedicated as ever.

The students worked hard all year to improve writing, speaking, and reasearch skills. They all shared the common goal of resolving world conflicts.

Vice President of Fundraising, Seth Shapiro, commented, "Model UN has had a great group of hard working students since our inception. We put a tremendous amount of time and effort into our competitions where we have always excelled in negotiating, public speaking, and resolution writing."

Peer Support

What did the kids who felt uncomfortable talking to an adult about a personal problem do? They turned to Peer Support. Peer Support consisted of students in grades ten through twelve who possessed a passion for helping fellow classmates get through personal problems. The teams' advisors were Mr. Jim McGowan, who has advised the team for over fifteen years, and Ms. Shannon Handley who successfully joined the team four years ago.

Students had to hand in applications, and provide numerous teacher recommendations before they could be considered Peer Support members. This past year Peer Support was involved in many community activities. They were actively involved in Christmas Magic, Role Playing, Panel, Thanksgiving Food Drive as well as many more activities. "The Peer Support help program is a tremendous asset to me. The time out room is extremely effective, and most importantly, it assists kids who are experiencing difficulties in their lives," McGowan explained.

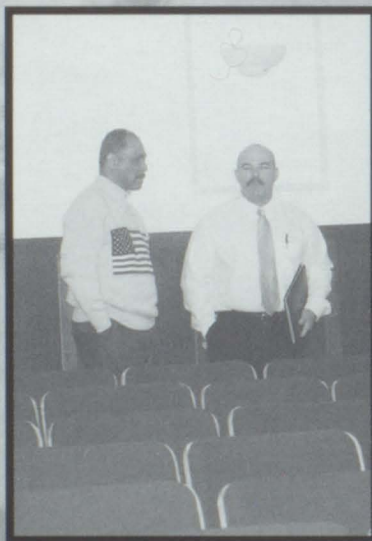

The Peer Support members were well respected in the community as well as outside the community. They consistently made trips to neighboring schools like Connetquot and Amityville, where they were in the process of helping them establish a successful Awareness Weekend.

The Peer Support team evolved into a group of mature, caring, diverse, and well-known young adults both in the school and in the community.

(bottom right) Mr. Kavanagh, Mr. Brachio, and Pete Burke have a meeting about the final touches that will be put on the model of the robotics game board.

Robotics has brought together all types of students with a different mix of talents each year. The skills that each student possesses were taken into consideration and the team was divided into the subgroups of design, fabrication, electronics, and public relations. Since the inception of the Robotics team in 1998, Mr. Kavanagh has led the team to the finals in regional and national competitions for two consecutive years.

Beginning in January, a specific problem is introduced to the team and they are given six weeks to design, build, test and ship their invented robot. "This year's team members had the ability to persevere and accomplish this task within their given time frame," said Kavanagh. Their goals this year were to develop a website showcasing their accomplishments and abilities and to develop a training program for numerous tasks.

The Robotics members have morphed into a team of all around sophistication, with new students interested in training that could remain focused and work harder than in past years. They have become more intellectually and technologically advanced, which has aided in their increased success in competitions. Their devotion and willingness to work has helped to determine that the energy of people with the desire to learn will continue for years to come.

S.A.D.D.

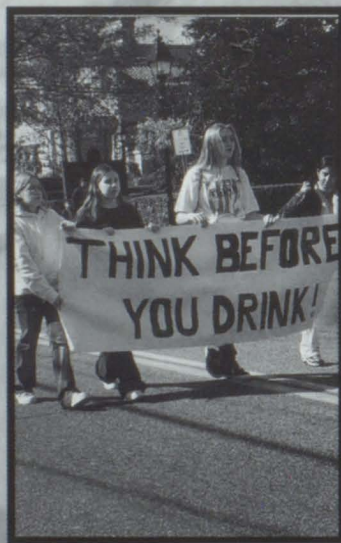

Happy to be S.A.D.D. That's what the S.A.D.D. club tries to instill upon students in our school. Mr. Broadhurst, the advisor of S.A.D.D., who has been running the program for ten years, stated that this year's members are much more dedicated than in the past and the club had many more students than previous years. Presidents Charlie Flood and Jamie Dorrier, say that they are very proud with how the functions like Rock and Ryme, Grim Reaper Day and the Drunk Driving turned out. Secretary Chris Batalato said, "We have had a great group of kids this year and they did a great job of spreading the word about driving drunk."

S.A.D.D. taught many students the dangers of drinking and driving. When the prom took place, S.A.D.D. members handed out cards with quarters attached to them with a hotline number to call the school where S.A.D.D. members were waiting. They took these calls and arranged for taxis to pick up students if they made the unfortunate choice to drink. "We did this because when the prom comes, there is a greater risk of students drinking to celebrate the end of the school year," Broadhurst explained. S.A.D.D. provides the school with the knowledge of how alcohol can effect your life as well as other's. The S.A.D.D. members say they want to remind you, "not to drink and drive."

Spanish Club

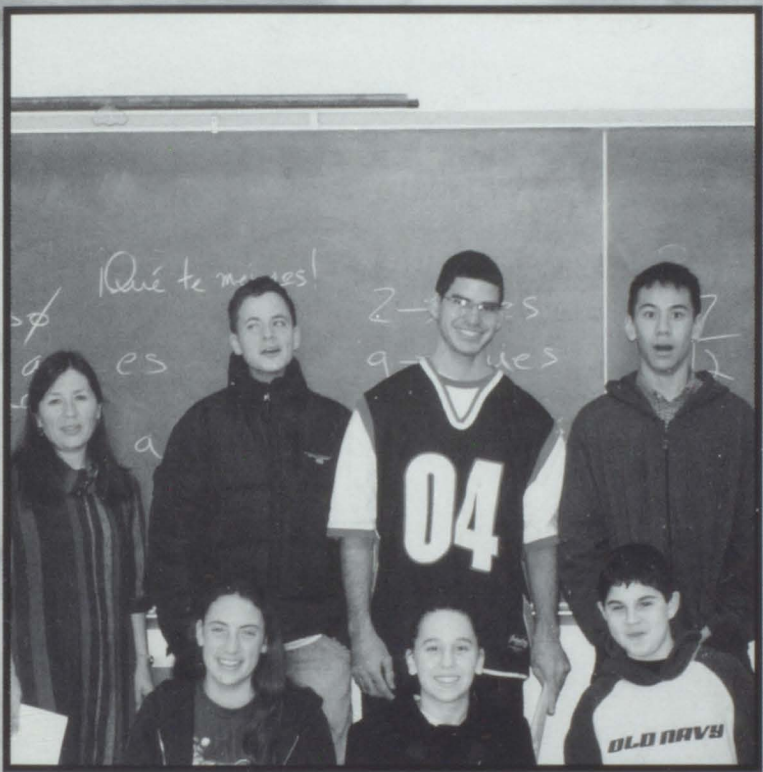

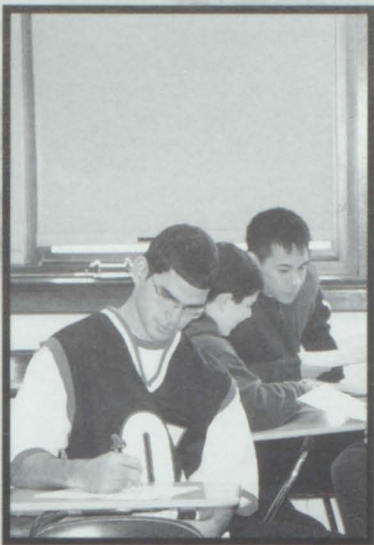

Bay Shore High School has always been very diverse whether it was with language, ethnicity, or religion. The Spanish Club, one of our very beneficial clubs, headed by Mrs. Pachon- Abbott as well as the help of Carlos Julio Lopez and Diane Villela, met every other Tuesday from 1:50 to 2:30pm. They discussed the importance of the Spanish culture. The Spanish Club gave students of varying nationalities the opportunity to enhance their speaking skills. The students worked hard during every meeting to help present their ideas and organize the foreign language week.

Many prospective students went into the Spanish club unaware of their blooming potential in the foreign language. They wanted most of all to understand the language and to evolve into becoming a native speaker. Spanish Club welcomed students from all grade levels, cultures and backgrounds. They worked together as one to help one another learn the language and understand the Spanish culture. "The Spanish Club always had good participation, and the interest of the students was always present," Mrs. Pachon-Abbott stated proudly. The students who participated in Spanish Club not only developed more of an interest in the culture, but they developed a more sound understanding of the language. The students achieved a higher reward outside the classroom. They got the chance to experience a journey into another culture different from their own.

Thespian Troupe

The International Thespian Society/Drama Club was not only for actors. This club also included singing, dancing, painting, building. It also allowed students to design sets, as well as work with lighting and sound technology and instrumentals. This past year's club included 100 members led by Mr. Bilella, Dr. Morrow, Mrs. Brenner, Mr. Nava and Mr. Rossi. The members involved were broken up into a crew, cast and pit orchestra. All these hard working groups made up the infamous Thespian Troupe.

"Each cast member must be committed and dedicated to the same goal-putting on a great show," exclaimed adviser Mr. Bilella. And this they did. Their fall production of Grease was a rousing success. Mary Rainis starred as Sandy Dumbrowski along with Brian Clemens who filled the other lead role, Danny Zuko. The Vice President of the club, Jackie Bentley, tackled the role of Jan.

This year's metamorphosis included the increase of cast sizes, which will certainly enable the Thespian Troupe to continue its tradition of excellence.

Web Design

Through the advancements in computer technology and with help from their leader Mr. Scalzo, this year's Web Design Club has gone through a metamorphosis. They were able to produce an award winning website and also bring new pages of the volume to the students and to the community. This form of communication has proved to be essential in today's society and has certainly helped strengthen our school.

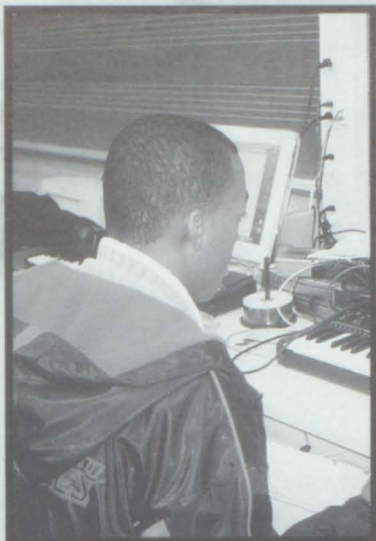

This year's Web Design Team consisted of eight members who met religiously every day after school. The tremendous abilities of this year's students were highlighted in their accomplishments. They were able to work with HTML and successfully incorporated the program Dream Weaver into their work.

This year's team truly went through a metamorphosis. The club started off its first year with only two students and has grown exemplifying the strong student interest and

Woodworking

Under the advisory of Mr. B. Raskin, the mechanically interested population of Bay Shore High gathered weekly after school to create their own wooden masterpieces. For the past four years, Mr. Raskin has helped interested students develop their mechanical skills, while creating practical and innovative woodworks.

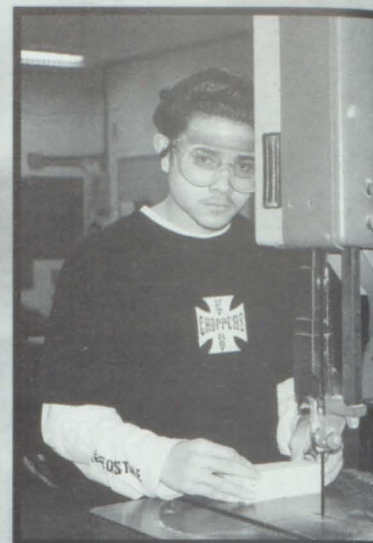

When asked about his goals for the club, Mr. Raskin easily replied, "To have everyone have fun and learn something about woodworking." While this goal is straight to the point, woodworking remains to be the club of the few and the talented.

While other clubs changed leadership and goals, members of the Woodworking Club changed ordinary pieces of lumber into creative and thoughtful gifts. Woodworking supplied its members with practical skills for their everyday lives. It taught its members how to remain focused and tolerant, even when that last piece did not quite fit, supplying its members with tools that would help them develop into proactive members of the future.

Awareness Weekend

"This year's Awareness Weekend was truly an inspirational and magical weekend," said long time facilitator Mr. Jim McGowan. McGowan has been hosting Awareness Weekend for over 12 years and every year has been a huge success. The weekend consists of a variety of different students from grades 10, 11, and 12, joining together for a weekend to remember. During the weekend, there are several different keynote speakers who make a tremendous impact on the students and the faculty.

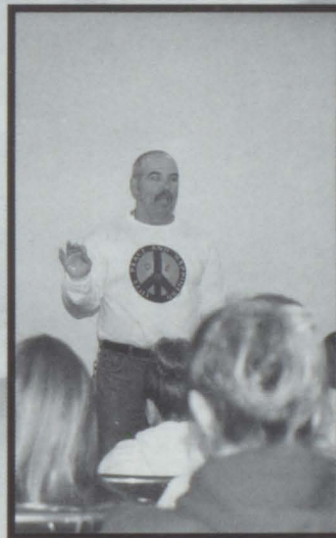

Students are put into different family groups with people they do not know. The point of these family groups is to foster new friendships and create special bonds. There is cooperative play and panel discussions throughout the weekend. McGowan said that the weekend leaves a "rippling effect" that lasts a lifetime.

McGowan also explained that his goal is for every student to experience one Awareness Weekend before they leave high school. It has proven to be a memory not soon forgotten.

As the new group of athletes emerged, they were fresh, new, and ready to win. They pondered new strategies that would transform them into a team of honor, a team of pride, and a team built on unity. All teams practiced hard everyday to build their team's future and to keep their legacy alive.

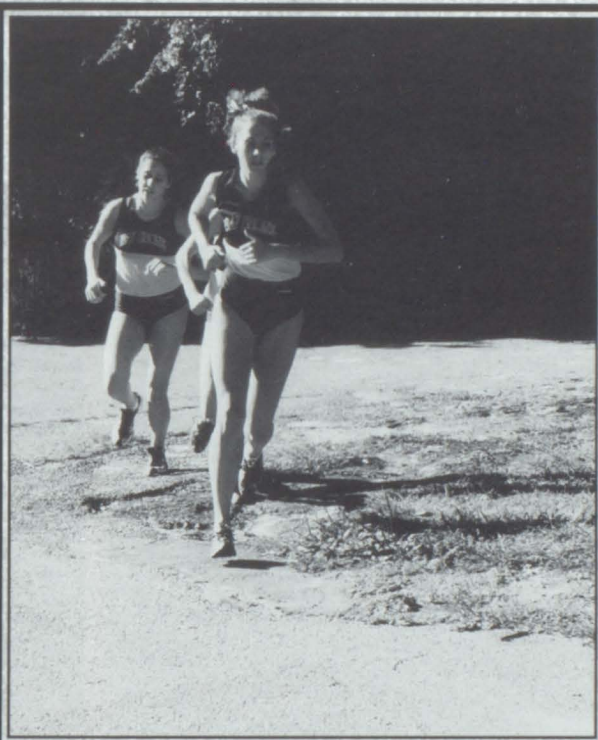

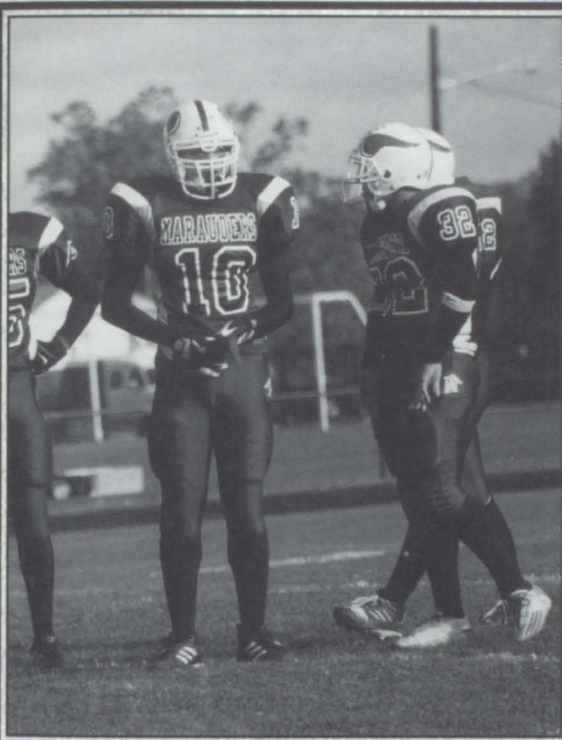

Coaches guided their team members, helping them evolve, not only as individuals, but as a competitive team. The students thrived, never letting a defeat overcome them. Whether they won or lost, the teams came together and worked hard practicing new and more effective strategies that allowed them to win against their competitive challengers.

All the teams were eager to win at every one of their games; whether they won or lost, their spirit remained victorious. They consistently competed for what they felt was rightfully theirs: first place. Students transformed themselves into athletes who helped continue the winning legacy that has brought Bay Shore its pride.

Boys Soccer

"Our goal this year was to build a strong, united team that could make a long run in the playoffs," said Jon Nelson, head coach of the Boys Varsity Soccer Team. In his fourth year coaching the Varsity team, Mr. Nelson had a team of strong and talented players. They beat their archrival Brentwood, who was ranked second in the pre-season coaches poll, for the first time in five years. The talent of each player and the unity of the team this year helped them become a motivated and successful team.

The captains this year were Frank Cascio, David Fromayan, Bobby Narvaez, and Joe Russolello. The powerful group led a team that consisted of thirteen returning players, including eight starters from last year's playoff team. This year's team transformed from the previous year showing more confidence and will power that pulled them through the season.

The Boys Junior Varsity team to became faster and more skillful this year. The transformation was amazing. These players had many attributes that helped this year's teams do significantly better than ever. Overall, the players had more character, speed, skill, desire, and displayed the hearts of winners.

A metamorphosis occurred, where newer, better, and more well-rounded soccer players were created. At the end of the season, Assistant Varsity Coach Weber said, "We have truly flourished:"

Girls Soccer

The Girls Varsity and Junior Varsity Soccer teams have worked extremely hard this past year. As a group, they showed that a little dedication and determination can go a long way. All forty-two girls, including the two freshmen who played on the varsity level, contributed equally towards the team's success and grew from small beginners to girls who played on a professional level.

The girls' new Varsity coach, Mr. Dave Otto said, "They are a great group of girls who give everything they have everyday." He also said, "Girls soccer is going to make a comeback in the community."

The new Junior Varsity coach, Mrs. Megan Cook said, "My players were very skilled. Most of the players have been participating in the town leagues since they were little and still do on weekends." She also said, "They are very comfortable playing on the same team."

All these girls will continue to strive for success in the future as a result of their hard work and complete dedication to the sport of soccer. The girls received most of their support and motivation to win from their parents as well as the whole Bay Shore community who will continue to support them as they grow and change.

Boys Volleyball

For the past two years, Jill Leake has been coaching Boys Volleyball but she has never had a team like the one she had this year. The experienced and hard working players strived for more this time. The intensity of team captains Dan Lischak and Will Arbeiter helped Coach Leake lead the team to victory. Teamwork was never a question. With four juniors, one sophomore, nine freshman, and two eighth graders, the team was strong and full of ambition. Teammates quote, "If we play with hard work and effort, the season will be the best it can be."

The goal this past year was to play as a team and that goal was surely reached. This was proven in the many games where they really needed each other to win. Throughout the season, the team not only accomplished their goals but also transformed from beginners, not knowing how to bump, to players who knew how to spike the ball to score the winning point. Dedication is extremely important in volleyball and these players truly did make the most out of every minute on the court. They were able to make adjustments when necessary, which only made them transform into a very strong team. This past year has been one to remember.

Girls Volleyball

Cheers filled the gym as a "Hoorah" exploded out of the Girls Varsity Volleyball team. The starting lineup consisted of outstanding talents at every position. The middle Kim Moore consistently killed undiggable balls, set by the unstoppable setter, Marianna Megas. This team set unpenetratable "roofs" and dug all the hits that were supposed to be kills. The team was composed of four freshman, two sophomores, five juniors and three seniors who were, "compatible, positive, eager and competitive volleyball players," said Coach S. DeBonis. She also stated that her starting six had no weak link. The level of play skyrocketed over the years. Coach DeBonis enjoyed the metamorphosis that the new year brought.

In Coach D. White's second year coaching the Girls Junior Varsity Volleyball Team, her goal was to help the team work together to become the best that they could be. The squad was composed of one junior, five sophomores and eight freshmen. Libero, Susanna Rodriguez motivated the team with her exceptional defense. Setter, Christal Turner filled the leadership role of the team as she stopped at nothing to set every pass. This year's team was more aggressive and had more experience. "They tried their best at all times and had a good spirit," Coach White said to explain their metamorphosis from past years to present.

Cheerleading

The phrase, "The early bird catches the worm," was given a whole new meaning this year because of the Bay Shore Varsity Cheerleading Squad. Coming together as a new squad, largely composed of senior NCA All-Americans: Brittani Martin, Michelle Russo, Lace Widrow, and Brooke Ackerson. This team proved that they have what it takes to make it to the top. This season their focus was not only on their competitions, but also on cheering at football and basketball games as well as participating in numerous charity events.

This summer the unified team strived to claim the title of top team for a second year in a row, only to return with much more sentimental awards. The team won awards such as the Champion Chant, The Herkimer Team Award, A Spirit Stick and the bid, which guaranteed the girls a chance to compete in the Hard Rock Competition in Florida. Many of the seniors set their sights on becoming the third squad to win LICCA championships at the end of their season.

Ms. Michelle Catalano, who has been coaching varsity for two years has witnessed the change in these girls. She stated, "The level of skill and competition has really risen over the years. These girls have stepped up and really worked hard to keep and attain new skills." Sitting in a circle at competition, hands held with adrenaline rushing through their fingertips, the second place team was announced. It was then that Bay Shore's cheerleading team knew that they were victorious once again. They had finally morphed into the champions they worked so hard to become.

Football

This year's Varsity football team kicked off their season with a 22-14 victory against Copiague. With twenty-one members on the team, they strived to become contenders in the playoffs. Three coaches led the team this year: Head Coach Mr. J. Sagl, along with Mr. S. Musso, and Mr. M. Bellacosa. The team hoped that this year's captains Brian McLaughlin, Gavin Farrell, Michael Ramos and Joe Posillico would lead them through an outstanding season with a better sense of working as a team. The team was certainly able to transform and become one cohesive unit.

The Junior Varsity team started the year off with a new head coach, Mr. W. Blackman. Although they faced some early setbacks this season, they still didn't give up hope and moved towards a successful season. Their goals for this season were to grow stronger and play at a varsity level. Sophomore Rich Mirabito said, "We are a growing team with potential and we will continue to progress as a team."

As of 2003, the Bay Shore football program created a little league football team for boys in the elementary schools, which got the community more involved in Bay Shore football.

Field Hockey

With the assistance of Coach Katy Hahn and captains Senior Natasha Fuchs and Junior Beth Sabiston, Mrs. A. Pfeffer headed into her third season as the head coach of the Varsity Field Hockey Team. With sixteen devoted girls, the team started off the school year with a zero and three record.

The Varsity team was able to get together at the right time and from that point on, they were unstoppable. "Year after year, I have a hard working, skilled group of girls," says Coach Pfeffer. Pfeffer has seen this team change year after year, and each year they keep getting better than the last.

The Junior Varsity team, led by Coach Stacy Gilardi, was prepared for yet another competitive season. With fifteen magnificent players, this year's Junior Varsity team showed tremendous support for one another. The only changes that these girls experienced were, growing up, and getting better together. The future is wide open for these young and talented girls.

Mariusz Borkowski, coach of the girls swimming and diving team, has helped the girls undergo an amazing evolution. Coach Borkowski stated that his team has made such a spectacular revolution since last year because of the spirit and sisterhood the girls shared throughout their year.

Even though this was only his second year with the girls, Coach Borkowski said, "I have never seen such teamwork and athletic ability, as this team has progressed and become much faster overall." Co-Captains Amanda Florenz and Brittany Daly worked hard to help make this a winning season. "Our goal this year was to make it to the counties," stated Coach Borkowski enthusiastically, knowing his girls were capable. "The girls have worked real hard to get where they are and they should be proud," said Coach Borkowski at the end of the season. All the teams woked hard to make this season one to remember.

Boys Cross Country

The 2003-2004 Boys cross-country team have endured tremendous change over the years, but this year's metamorphosis has shaped the foundation for the future of Bay Shore runners. Led by first year coach Kirk Carter, and assistant coach Vernon Mickle, the Marauders met every day from 2:30 to 4:30, and ran vigorously for both hours. This year's team was one of the youngest Bay Shore had ever seen. With a team comprised mostly of underclassmen, this season proved to be a challenge for the mighty Marauders.

"We just want to kick some major butt this year," said team mentor and captain Chris Badolato. With an attitude like that, it was clear to see that those eleven runners not only shared a love for running, but a strong work ethic as well.

With goals to improve personal times and to improve overall as a team, the Marauders dominated from the get-go, running to a 2-0 record. "It was an overall great season for the cross country team, as well as the foundation for the future," said coach Vernon Mickle. Although the team has gone through endless changes over the years, the future still looks bright for the Bay Shore Marauder Cross Country team.

This year's Cross Country team was ready to show off its improvements after training hard over the summer, doing workouts at Sunken Meadow and distance runs around Bay Shore. Veteran Coach Steve Borbet pushed the girls to do their best by having them increase their training from the previous year. Over the year's the girls have continually improved and have upheld their winning streak.

All of that training paid off; the girls opened up their season placing first at their first meet at the Spiked Shoe Invitational at Penn State. This win really excited the girls and showed them what they were capable of doing. The team also placed third in the Nike Race of Champions in North Carolina. Coach Borbet's goals for the season were to win all their dual meets, win Division Championships and be one of the top three teams in both States and Federations.

"This year's team is a year older and a year better," stated Coach Borbet. All of last year's team returned for another season along with many new faces. This year's team made Coach Borbet proud. They were able to be ranked amongst the top 15 teams in the nation.

Boys Golf

The boys golf team entered the 2003 season with high expectations. The varsity team, coached by Mr. A. Sullivan, started the year with one goal: to win the league championship. The team of experienced and skilled golfers came together and because of their hard work, they were able to transform into a group of winners.

The Junior Varsity team had one goal in mind for their season. Coach, Mr. Morrison, wanted to "have players develop skills needed to compete at the varsity level." The team practiced daily after school at nearby golf courses to improve their skills and achieve this goal.

Both the Junior Varsity and Varsity teams used their special attributes of focus, dedication and patience to work together and grow as a team. The teammates went through a metamorphosis as players, improving their skills and making their season the best it could be.

This past season was the first year that Coach J. Fitzharris worked with the girls Varsity Tennis Team. She watched them change throughout the season. This past year's goals were to prepare them for the conferences and of course have fun. The team was unique because, "the team was young and they were learning everyday. They had the potential to win for league championship," said Coach J. Harris. Coach liked to tell the girls that they "got to have heart" the girls were like a family. They have grown to have a special bond according some girls on the team.

Coach L. Bohamann says, "The girls have come a long way to get where they are now. They needed to have a good level of endurance, fast speed, total body coordination, excellent communication, honesty and sportsman-like behavior." This year, the team voted for the captains and they chose to have Heather Martin and Darlene Sainvil. The Junior Varsity team had a variety of girls from all different age groups who had different skills, which helped teach others what they needed to know. The girls were a very cultured and diverse group.

The coaches, as well as the girls, were more than happy because they were given new courts this year. They really appreciated what the school had done. It certainly helped transform them into a team of champions.

Wrestling

"We now realize what we are capable of and are willing to do all we can to achieve our goals," said senior captain Joseph Posillico. With the help of second year returning captain Gavin Farrell, as well first-year senior captains Michael Fraccalvieri, Matthew Galfano, Kalen Stickelman, Joseph Posillico, Gavin Farrell and junior Nathan Valle, the team had a successful season. Like any other team, they reached for only perfection. "Winning League Title, League Tournament, County Tournament and going undefeated are what we strive for," said senior wrestler Michael Fraccalvieri.

Coaches Mike Porcelli, Rob Thompson and Kevin Crodo, tried to make these 30 young kids be more dedicated while at the same time maintain love for the sport. They all said that they were proud to be working with these boys because they are on the verge of greatness.

With excruciating schedules and up to two meets per week, both Varsity and Junior Varsity wrestlers always ended up on top. "Our team has metamorphosized into a skillful and promising wrestling team this year," remembered Jesse Corsini fondly.

No challenge was too great for the Varsity Girls Basketball Lady Marauders. The team was full of underclassmen and according to Coach Scott Greene, "They're probably the youngest team in Suffolk County." Last year, most of the team graduated leaving this year's team with only two seniors. Coach S. Greene described senior captain, Stephanie Webber, as one of the many "offensive threats" in a balanced attack. Akilah Wooten and Kiara Johnson shined as scoring leaders. The team also included four freshmen, three sophomores and a seventh grader. Before Coach S. Greene, the team had a losing record, but since his arrival, the team has improved substantially.

Only four players returned for the 2003-2004 Junior Varsity season, all of whom were sophomores. One, Betsy McNulty, stated, "We went from being a highly successful team to a learning team. It's frustrating, but we are learning so that makes it easier." She referred to the metamorphosis from last year's team to this year's team of contenders. This year's team included six freshmen. Coach Allison Ryan believed that they grew to play together and developed their skills. She stated that she wanted her team to metamorphosize into team players.

Boys Basketball

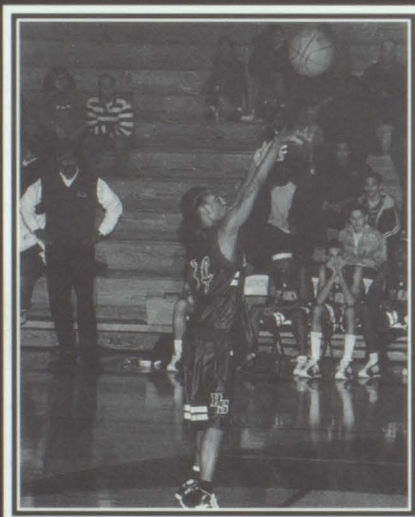

"Defense! Defense! Defense!" The crowds yelled at the Bay Shore Boys Basketball games. With the crowds yelling and the coaches Mr. Parham and Mr. Pashkin coaching on the sidelines, motivation was never a question. With a very unselfish team, everyone played together wonderfully with captains Keith Hinnant and Isaiah Stanton leading them all the way. Recovering from last season's record of nine wins and ten losses, they metamorphosized into an undefeated team this year. Pashkin said "The captains are the quarterbacks on the court and playing together made them a strong team this year." This team managed to go all the way, becoming the Suffolk County Class AA Champions this year. It was an incredible season for the Marauders.

The Boys Junior Varsity Basketball team was the best it could be this season. With a whole new team and emerging abilities, they worked well together and had a successful season. They morphed from a losing team into a winning team with a better attitude. Captain Patrick Abdul said, "Hustling, hard work, skill, fundamentals, and experience is what made this team a 'team'." Not only did they win, but during their losses they still enjoyed playing the game they loved.

Girls Winter Track

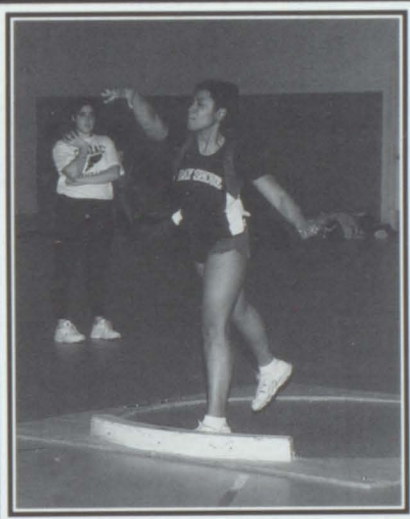

This year's girl's Winter Track team was dedicated and had a sincere desire to improve. They showed this by constantly training in any weather: rain, sleet and snow nothing stopped them. When others wouldn't even think to go outside the girls were out running. The girls hard work paid off by helping them be able to compete at an intense level and achieve many of their goals.

The team's coaches S. Borbet, Ms. Vickers and Mr. Forti managed the seventy girls that came out for the team this past year. "We had an excellent turnout this year with a great amount of juniors and many new freshman and sophomores." said S. Borbet. Having so many experienced runners on the team set a great example for the new runners, as they helped to inspire the new girls and keep the team morale up.

The coaches' main goal for this year was for the team to keep their winning streak from previous years. The girls have been undefeated for the past two years and Mr. Borbet's goals for the season were to be league and county champions. The team really stepped it up and took on the competition making it an incredible season.

Boys Winter Track

This years boy's track team was ready to start the season off right with their new coach Kirk Carter. With their new out look the team was ready take on the compition. This year's team was very dedicated and ran in the harsh winter weather. Training is key to beating the compition and the boys wanted to come out on top.

The team strived for yet another successful season. With some of the top athletes in the county and state the boys had to defend their titles, and keep their great reputation. According to first year coach Kirk Carter, "All athletes should have a love for the sport and a competitive fire burning within them."

This past season Coach Kirk Carter wanted to help the boys continue to build their success and improve from the past year. He looked forward to competing well in leagues, countys, and states.

Strike!! The sound of the pins crashing became the sound of victory for this year's 2004 Varsity Bowling Team. Practicing five days a week at the AMF lanes in Bay Shore, the team went through rigorous drills in order to improve their skills and shine above the other teams. Coach of five years Mr. Anthony Cantore stated that "We've become one of the more elite teams in the county."

Achieving metamorphosis was not a difficult task for the new and talented youth of the Bowling Team. Made up of two juniors, four sophomores, and three upcoming talents from the middle school, they began a year of reconstruction after losing all of their talented seniors. Their goals this year were to maintain their elite team status and to make it to county finals. Five of the students worked hard on achieving an average of 200 or better.

This year's team was different from previous years because of its lack of seniors and their experience and leadership. Despite disappointment or defeat, the members of the Bowling Team kept their spirits high in anticipation of the years to come and the success that lies ahead of them.

Girls Lacrosse

With twelve returning veterans, the Girls Varsity Lacrosse team was able to achieve anything they put their minds to. From their hardworking practices and challenging games emerged a very strong sense of togetherness. Led by Varsity and J.V coaches Mr. and Mrs. Pfeffer and Junior Varsity Coach Ms. Hahn, and volunteer coach alumni Kristie Leggio, these girls took the bull by the horns and dedicated themselves to greatness.

Hard work, dedication, and love for the game is what the girls lacrosse team is made up of. "Hard work pays off, not only on the field but in the classroom as well," says coach Pfeffer. The success of these girls can be attributed to their hard work and continuous effort to better themselves both on and off the field. Throughout their season, these girls proved that hard work does indeed pay off.

This year's Boys Varsity Lacrosse Team was about to make a big difference from their last year's performance. Coach Timothy Cox had high expectations for this year's team which consisted of 18 seniors, ten juniors, and six sophomores. Last year's team was made up largely of defensemen and this year, they have evolved displaying defensive play at an all-time best. Coach Cox said, "This was a great season."

This year's Boys Junior Varsity Lacrosse Team was in great condition, coming up with big wins. Coach Spruyt has turned this year's team into a great one. It was a team full of hard-hitting attackers and midfielders, who worked hard to improve their game. As a result of all their hard work throughout the season, the team seemed to undergo a metamorphosis, transforming into an excellent team. Coach Spruyt said, "We were great last year, but this year, we were better."

Baseball

"We have a solid ball club that is working very hard to achieve success this season," said Coach Andrew DiOrio of the 2004 Marauder Baseball team. Everyday after school, this team of 18 dedicated players practiced hard under the direction of Coach DiOrio and Assistant Coach Dennis McManaway. Although this year's team was younger they had a tremendous amount of heart and desire. They were a very close-knit unit and had the strong leadership of senior captains Bobby Narvaez and Bill Gaine. The team won games this season as a result of a total team effort. The top pitchers included Bill Gaine and Chris Gloor. Will Gonzalez was a stand out hitter. There was great hitting and fielding from Bobby Narvaez, while Brett Berry excelled all over the field.

"Patience, perseverance and pride" was the motto for the Junior Varsity Marauder Baseball Team. The 2004 squad demonstrated an excellent work ethic and solid team cohesion. They were hungry to compete and to bring back a winning tradition to Bay Shore. The team was composed of six tenth graders, five of whom returned from last season. The rest of the team was composed of eleven ninth graders and one talented eighth grader. Coach Dan Lani, along with Assistant Coach, Chet Striplin, described the team as very athletic. Their team speed was greater compared to previous years. The Marauder's very solid defense, due to their outfield play, was a key strength for this past season.

This year's softball team was named the best team in New York State and they planned to stay that way. The team consisted of fourteen players, none of whom were seniors. The team compensated for this with the talents of underclassmen Mary Beth Puccio, Ashley Gosk, Jenny Mc Nulty, and Erika Sullivan. The diligent members lifted weights each morning, and practiced three hours everyday, including Saturdays.

"They are a dedicated and committed team who believe in admiring and respecting each other," said Coach Mc Gowan, who has been coaching Varsity Softball for twenty-two years. "Our motto is: practice, play, and live like a champion," said captain Jenny Mc Nulty.

The Junior Varsity team followed in the footsteps of the Varsity team maintaining the ambition to win, but also having a great time doing so. The team was a very diverse group of girls that mainly consisted underclassmen. "This year will be a foundation of fundamentals and teamwork that is paramount in preparing to become a part of the softball tradition," said first-year coach Kerri Harris proudly. The tradition of greatness connected with Bay Shore Softball will surely continue into the future.

Spring Track

The Girls Spring Track team had a great start this year, coming off a very successful winter season. The team has upheld their team title as County Champions for eight straight seasons. Their goal was to win the County Championship and capture the Triple Crown for the third year in a row. This year's coaches were Coach Borbet, Coach Mauri, Coach Forti and Coach Vickers. "This team has always been determined and knows what it takes to win," proudly stated Borbet. The team endured intense training six days a week to enable them to run at county, state and national levels. They had a great turn out with over sixty girls on the team. "This team has always been determined and knows what it takes to win," stated Coach Borbet proudly. The team hoped to keep up their winning streak and continue to improve and accomplish their goals.

This was coach Carter's first year coaching the Boys Varsity Track team. Some of the goals for the team were to continue the undefeated streak and win the League and County Championships. Coach Carter said, "We had a strong team with a mixed variety of sprinters, middle distance runners, distant runners, hurdlers and field event athletes who rounded out the team." The key to being a successful team is you need good work ethic and attitude. The track team competed in tracks meets such as Penn Relays, Nationals and the Taco Bell Invitational.

This year, the Boy's tennis teams set their goals and standards high and worked hard to improve throughout the season. Starting the season off with eight new players, this year's Varsity team was a lot younger than they have been in past seasons. But, the boys were very focused on practicing to learn and gain experience for next year.

"We want to become a dominant and respected team and learn to do the little things in a match that can produce wins," said Varsity coach Mr. Carney. Varsity captains, Guy Lepore, Corey McLaughlin, (both All County and All League last year) along with Mike Leone used their leadership skills to motivate their younger team members into playing better. In the end, all the dedication and practice paid off as both Junior Varsity and Varsity had successful seasons.

Girls Golf

Success has become the motto of the Bay Shore Varsity Girl's Golf team over the last several years. The team has won three county championships in five years and it is clear to see that victory was and continues to be the tradition for this group of eight girls, one of whom attends middle school.

The team received lots of community support and the local golf courses loved the opportunity to support junior golf. In his first year of coaching Girls Golf, Mr. Sullivan was determined to lead the team through yet another successful year and to maintain the championship status of the club. "Golf is a tough sport that requires much hand eye coordination as well as a soft touch," said Mr. Sullivan, who explained how much skill this group of girls had to have in order to compete.

Although the team was under new leadership and has continued to change every year, it is clear to see that this team will be strong for years to come.

Crew is a rigorous and unique sport. It is a sport where girls and boys are combined. The two Crew coaches were Bruce "Meiro" for the girls and Bill Blackman for the boys. This year Coach "Meiro" hoped "to build team unity, increase strength through conditioning and improve technique." Coach "Meiro" wanted the team to continue to achieve their success against local teams. This year's group was different from last years because the girls had "Meiro" as their new coach. This only South Shore public high school crew team hoped to achieve top finishes in the New York State Rowing Championships.

They were determined to win and they did. The boys coach Mr. Blackman did an excellent job leading the way. Practicing five days a week, they developed the skills to transform into a strong team and race effectively. This year's team was strong and was the first team to row a true "varsity eight" as its premier boat. Although it was a struggle to get to the next level, they succeeded and held their heads high regardless of the obstacles they faced.

ACADEMICS

This year, students used their abilities to strive to be the best and to do their best to prepare themselves for important exams they must take. Students of Bay Shore High School went the extra mile, and committed themselves to after school activities where they were able to gain useful information. With Seniors getting ready for college, the underclassmen applied themselves for future dreams and ambitions.

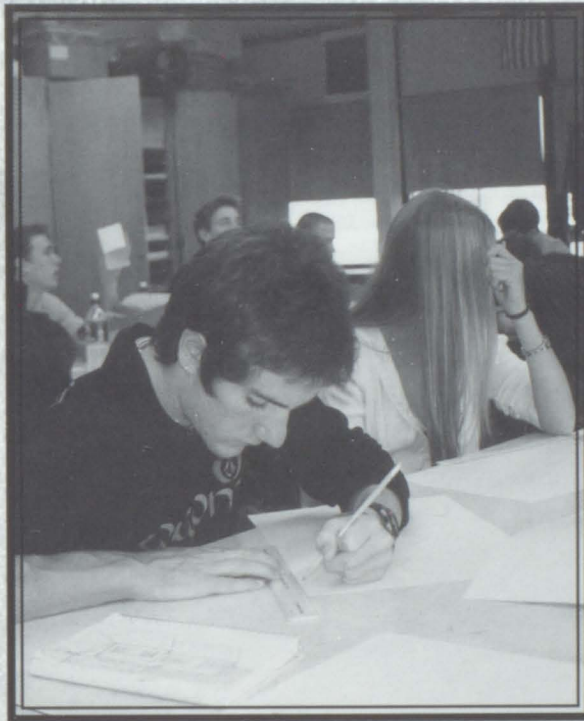

Students chose different routes to find out what their intellectual and creative interests were. While students did most of the work, teachers did their part with assisting them the best way they knew how. Students were making the dreams they have been longing for a reality.

With S.A.T's on the way, students took the time to stay after for prep classes and all the extra curricular help they could get. Teachers stayed after school to help students prepare for Regents Exams, Midterms, and Finals. With all the movement and activities and changing everyday, the school was metamorphosing.

Honor Society

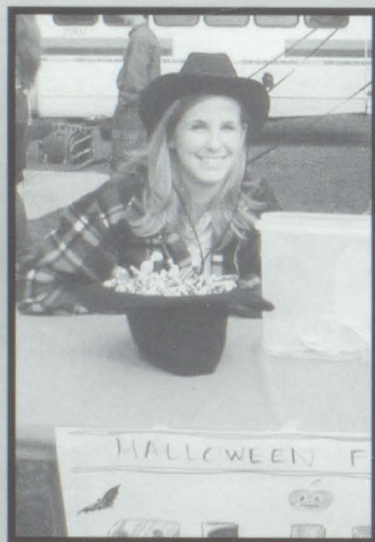

The National Honor Society has recognized tomorrow's leaders today. Mrs. Peggy Parker, predecessor to Mr. Louis Balsamo, served her first year successfully as the National Honor Society adviser.

The National Honor Society showed gratitude to deserving students who exhibited academic strength, community involvement, extracurricular activities, and leadership qualities. The members were required to maintain an unweighted average of 3.80 or higher. They actively and consistently contributed to the community through activities such as the Halloween Fun Fest, Adopt-A-Family, and the Thanksgiving food drive, to name just a few.

"The National Honor Society members this year, as well as in previous years, excelled in all areas: academic, leadership, character, and service," Mrs. Parker commented proudly.

Although, the adviser changed, the National Honor Society members have proved themselves to be the epitome of the well-rounded student.

Student Council

This year's Student Council once again showed its commitment to our school and community with its numerous activities and events. Led by Ms. Side and Ms. Acunzo, this group of committed students met on the last Monday of every month to plan for various upcoming events, everything from the Homecoming Dance to the Celia Cruz Cancer Foundation Fundraiser, which raised an amazing 3000 dollars to aid in the fight against cancer. "The growth of the organization and the continued commitment to the school and community are our main goals," stated Ms. Acunzo, who has advised the team for the last three years.

The student council went through a transformation over the years, with president Kathryn Tortorici a junior, taking the reigns. These 45 young adults were not only good at showing how much they cared for their community, but also had strong leadership and communication skills, creative working ideas, and a very impressive work ethic. The Student Council topped it all off with its annual Thanksgiving Stuff-A-Bus Food Drive. They managed to fill an entire mini school bus with donated food in what has become an annual tradition for the devoted members of the Student Council. They work hard every year and will continue to help out the community in every way they can.

Poetry Jam

The Poetry Jam has become a valuable addition not only the writing elite of Bay Shore, but also to the community. This biannual event occurring two weeks before Christmas break and during the spring has created quite a following over its five and a half year life. English teacher Mr. J. Nelson and Mr. M. Pasca formed the Creative Writing Club whose volunteer members composed the committees that were necessary to create eight consecutive and successful Poetry Jams.

However, this year's duo of Poetry Jams created feelings of nostalgia for Mr. Nelson as he said, "This year the seniors are the first group of students who have been with the club since they were freshmen." Although the loss of its first set of poetry enthusiasts may bring about some sadness, the Poetry Jam has created such a large following that makes it difficult to think the event will suffer from the loss. After all, Mr. Nelson said, the "Poetry Jam is attended by students in the club, parents, teachers, alumni and administrators."

This past year, the Creative Writing Club produced, its first ever club t-shirt whose designer was Ani Katz, with a logo inspired by a witty statement made by Alex Gorman. As the t-shirts made their debut on the December fourth Poetry Jam, the Jam continued its spiral of success reaching record numbers of attendees. Nearly 100-150 eager to listen and share their poetry. Although the first group of Creative Writing member to spend four years with the club who were also the predominate committee leader, will be leaving for college in the fall, the club and the Jam for blossomed into successful, widely attended events that will do everything but wither over time.

Jazz Band

"The Tuesday Night Hip-Katz is a very talented, enthusiastic group of students," said Mr. Ted Scalzo, who has been running this activity since 1979. The band has evolved from what was once called the Jazz Ensemble into the "Tuesday Night Hip-Katz," as a result of the increasing number of members. The band was made up of 21 members who performed at co-curricular ensembles with the ability to improvise beautifully on pieces of music. The members dedicated themselves, attending Tuesday night rehearsals every week from seven until to nine at night.

Even after numerous performances and receiving numerous awards, the group wanted to reach more and new audiences in the community. The band performed in concerts such as the bi-annual Pop Concert that occurred in the fall and spring.

The Jazz Band and Hip-Katz brought amazing music to others around them and has reached new heights of sophistication in the true meaning of the art form "Jazz".

This year's choir is one of the largest Showstoppers it has had since past years. They have expanded in size and song a variety of music from pop to classical. The choir contains twenty-five members who is lead by Dr. Morrow. They commit their time two hours every Wednesday to work on their voices and practice for upcoming performances.

The choir has changed from an all girl choir to mixture of a diverse chorus with members such as William Connolly and Brian Clemens who sing and play instruments at the same time. The students don't need to audition, but they need to know music they are allowed to sing in a concert.

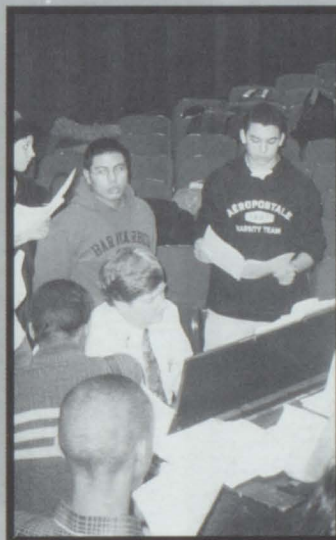

The choir had performed at various places such as Pilgrim State Rehab Center, Southside Hospital and Brightwaters tree lighting ceremony and for the Christmas season they go caroling throughout the school to spread their Christmas spirits to others in the classrooms.

Band

Throughout the 2003-2004 school year, Mr. Ted Scalzo held the Wind Ensemble to high standards. He set big goals for the group, and encouraged the players to have, "A strong willingness to try different things and be enthusiastic about music performance." This band which was open to students grades 10-12 by audition, were excited when they learned that they were invited to perform in the Washington DC World War II Memorial Festival.

Mr. Michael Rotello, who has been a part of the Bay Shore music program for four years, had a lot on his plate this year. He was the head band director for both the Symphonic Band and the 9th Grade Concert Band. Both bands practiced hard every day, and preformed in many concerts throughout the year.

The bands of Bay Shore continue to change each year into more talented and skilled groups. They transformed in front of our eyes, using the wonders of music to join them together into a group of artistic and gifted players.

Under the instruction of Ms. M. Senatore, the orchestra continued their metamorphoses, making this year short of an exception. In her second year as a high school instructor, Ms. M. Senatore has settled into her surroundings, which allowed her to experiment with the intense and difficult works of J.S. Bach, W.A. Mozart, and Moussorgsky.

"Last year we did lose a few very accomplished musicians. However, the orchestra has maintained strong numbers, and while the orchestra is young, there are many aspiring young musicians who are strong players." Although the orchestra lost many talented musicians, it acquired a huge number of freshmen. Leadership roles fell onto the bows of seniors Saryta Rodriquez, Ani Katz, and Denise Catapano of the first violin section.

The adaptation of methods over the years could very well have been the reason the orchestra had been so successful. Whatever the reason for their success and stellar performances at the Music in the Parks Festival, the orchestra has earned all the applause they received and the high marks they continued to receive.

Mock Trial

With nineteen students on the Mock Trial team, Mr. Selzer opened his first year as advisor with a positive attitude. His goals for his first year were to maintain the extremely high level of excellence that the Bay Shore High School Mock Trial Team was known for. The Mock Trial Team's main goal was to get back to the Suffolk County Mock Trial Championship.

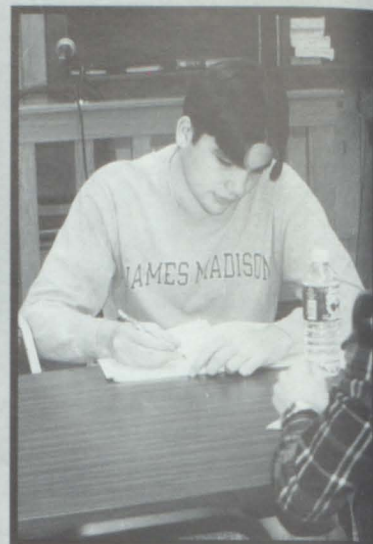

The Mock Trial Team is made up of students who are interested in the field of law. These students had a reputation that held up every year. "Other schools look up to our program as a model when developing their own", said Mr. Selzer. Bay Shore Mock Trial team has won many County Championships over the years. "I would like to see the team compete in the state championship soon," says advisor Mr. Selzer.

The Mock Trial team has been, and still is the backbone of the law program at Bay Shore. The interest grows and the team gets better every year.

Science Olympiads

Meeting on individually assigned days, this group of 23 students practiced for their events in the annual Science Olympiads. Everything from building model airplanes to the usual pen and paper assignments, it was certain that this year's team, that endured much transformation over the year's, would once again finish ahead of last year's team. Advised by science teachers, Mr. Loewan and Ms. Locascio, the team started the 2003-2004 school year with the goal of finishing in a better spot than last year's team. A goal which has come true for the less than ten year old team every year since its admission to the more than 40 year old Olympiad.

Composed of a mixture of students from all classes, these 23 individuals did not have to be science wizards to join. Any student with an interest in science was asked to join and help the team out in whatever way they could. With a growing number of students, this year's Science Olympiad team was actually comprised of two smaller teams. Although the team was much newer than many of its rivals, it was only the beginning for the metamorphosis which it will go through for years to come.

Service Honor Society

This year's Service Honor Society continued its success of the past two years under the advisory of Mrs. Cardone. This year's president was Carlos Lopez, Vice President Alex Arigo, Secretary Carolyn Doerrier, and Treasurer Ashley Greene all showed outstanding leadership qualities by being prepared and organized at all times.

The Service Honor Society met Thursday's once a month to discuss any volunteer opportunities and club business that was necessary. Although the meetings were not mandatory, the students continued to show up to get more involved. This year the group had over one hundred members; even more members were inducted in March. In order to be inducted into the Service Honor Society you must have completed at least fifteen hours of community service although many members had much more than that. Everyone got a lot more involved with the community this year; there were always good turnouts at service events.

This year's club has gone through a metamorphosis by increasing the awareness in the community and has gotten more involved in service activities. All the members are very positive and caring people. They all want to make a difference and the community was very pleased by all their work that they have done.

One of the most important years of High School is one's Junior Year. This is the year where one really needs to concentrate on preparation for college and the future dreams and goals students have after leaving Bay Shore High School. Students began college searching with their counselors. It was definitely the year for changes and a really good opportunity for the juniors to step up to the plate and do the very best in everything they did. The class of 2005 has come a long way, and the next journey the juniors will be taking is approaching quickly.

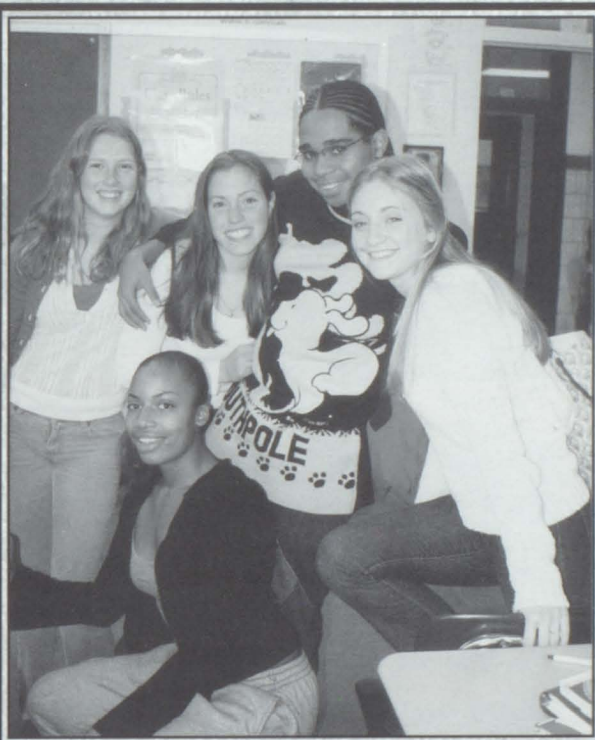

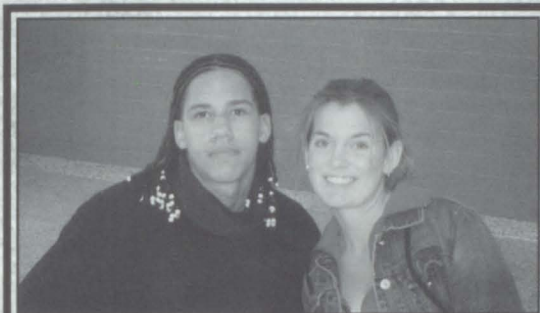

Our junior year had many exciting events. The junior float which was shown on Homecoming Day was phenomenal. Spirit Week was where the juniors got show off their pride wearing the color yellow. Preparing for the Junior Prom and getting junior class rings was another milestone we anxiously awaited.

When one looks back at the sophomore and freshmen years, one is able to remember what it felt like to be an underclassman who had yet to enjoy many privileges. We looked forward to all the fun adventures we knew we would experience during our junior year. We students have grown and changed for the better since those long ago days.

A lot of preparation for Regents Exams, final exams and the S.A.T.'s was necessary in order for juniors to succeed. These were merely a handful of the important tasks juniors needed to be concerned with. The importance of doing well on these exams were constantly on the minds of students driving them to a new level of success.

SOPHOMORES

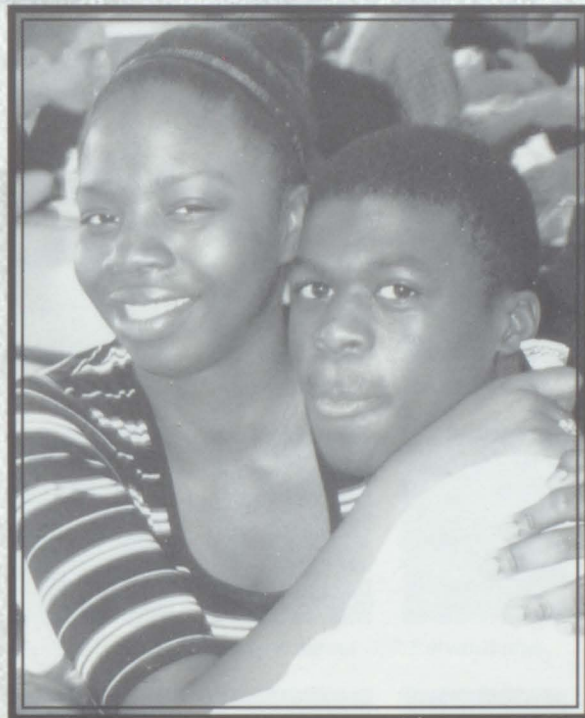

Growing from last year's freshmen, the Sophomore class has become an important part of Bay Shore High School. Now in their second year here, the Sophomores were ready to enter the school year and face whatever challenges that were to come.

Throughout the school year, the sophomore class focused on becoming more involved in their classes and after-school activities. The students took part in many fund raisers where they raised money for worthy causes in the community.

They also met once a week as a class to bond as classmates and to come up with more ideas and activities to take part in.

The sophomores have really grown up and grown together during the 2003 school year. They have transformed into young adults who are truly ready to take on whatever is thrown their way.

This year's freshman class of 2007 matured rapidly before our eyes. They came to the high school unaware of what to expect from their new surroundings, but it did not take long for them to adjust. Taking the step from the middle school to the high school did not seem to phase them at all. They were very ambitious and eager to experience new things. They were able to experience their newfound freedom by getting to take a wide variety of classes and getting involved in after school activities.

They worked hard participating in numerous activities, clearly expressing their Bay Shore pride. They were also given many opportunities to get involved in the community with help from their class advisor, Ms. C. Acunzo. The class of 2007 willingly participated in many activities like Stuff-A-Bus and the Thanksgiving Food Drive. Class advisor Ms. Acunzo really helped to unite this class. She always tried to get everyone involved in school activities and pushed them to help out in the community.

The freshmen jump-started the year by participating in the Homecoming events. This year's theme was music and they went all out with their country theme. These newly matured young adults had a very successful year and gained new leadership qualities. The freshmen are an asset to Bay Shore High School and will continue to be for years to come.

Patricia Ponzi

"THOSE WHO EDUCATE CHILDREN WELL ARE MORE TO BE HONORED THAN PARENTS, FOR THESE ONLY GAVE LIFE, THOSE THE ART OF LIVING WELL."

—ARISTOTLE

Since January 1972, Mrs. Patricia Ponzi has been a proud member of the Bay Shore High School Staff. Joining the staff in the middle of the year as a replacement teacher, she immediately became a well-respected and loved teacher. She worked through her first few years of teaching with ease, despite the challenges that usually affect new teachers. In addition, Mrs. Ponzi had to deal with the added pressure of facing her first year of teaching alone, as her husband was in the Marine Corp and stationed across the country in California. However, she persevered with the help of Mr. Bill Von Novak, the chairperson of the Social Studies Department at the time, and her mentor, Mr. Robert Mohr.

When asked what she thought was the best part of teaching, without hesitation, she responded, "The kids without a doubt! I felt at home here. Never did I doubt my choice to be here. I had a warm feeling knowing that I was where I belonged." Mrs. Ponzi felt that she owes much of what she has become to her students and colleagues she has had throughout her career in Bay Shore.

Mrs. Ponzi always exceeded the expectations of her peers through the numerous causes she involved herself in over the years. She actively participated in extracurricular activities right from the start of her career. She became the adviser for the National Honor Society, a position that she held from 1974-1980, and again from 1987-1991. She was also the first adviser for the Service Honor Society with her friend, Mrs. Fagan. By 2001, Mrs. Ponzi maintained a position on the Faculty Review Committee for the National Honors Society. During her years of teaching, Mrs. Ponzi was involved as Ethnic Sharing Coordinator and dedicated much of her available time to The Student Honors Committee. She was honored to be able to help new teachers through Bay Shore High School's Teacher's Academy, and Bay Shore High School's Teacher Mentor Program.

As a result of Mrs. Ponzi's continued dedication to students and programs assisting others, she has received numerous honors from various organizations. The Long Island Council for Social Studies honored Mrs. Ponzi in 1997 with Teacher of the Year. Sacred Heart University and the University of Chicago also awarded her for excellence in teaching. Bay Shore High School made a point of honoring Mrs. Ponzi in the Maroon and White Yearbook, once for her dedication in 1974 and again in 1983 and 1986 for her appreciation.

Mrs. Ponzi has always taught her students the importance of perseverance, emphasizing that they should never give up and try their best in an effort to make a difference. That message certainly applies to Mrs. Ponzi's life from the day she began teaching to the days long after she left Bay Shore. Upon retiring, she plans to keep active in fulfilling her personal goal of helping people either in continuing to teach, to work for a Child Advocacy Program.

Mrs. Ponzi has been a part of Bay Shore High School for the past 32 years. Her impact will certainly remain present long after her retirement. Mrs. Ponzi's legacy and determination will forever remain within the walls of the high school, and within the minds of her colleagues who admire her as a teacher and a friend. Bay Shore High School is very grateful to have had Mrs. Patricia Ponzi as a part of its past. She has been an integral part of this school through many changes and innovations. Her students thank her for her determination to make each and every one of her students excel. Mrs. Ponzi, we thank you.

Memories NEVER Fade

"I will always remember Mrs. Ponzi for her kindness to me and her dedication to her students. She is such an asset to our school. I really hate to see her leave. Bay Shore High School won't be the same without her."

--Victorine Kristiansen

"Mrs. Ponzi is one of the most knowledgeable, unique, and exciting teachers I've ever known. She is dedicated to her students, always thinking in their best interests, and would stop at nothing before finishing the job. She would stay late everyday for students after school if that's what it took. I have always admired her outspokenness and honesty. I feel bad for all the future students, for they will miss out on a great teacher."

--Seth Shapiro (student)

"Mrs. Ponzi was the most influential teacher I ever had. She was one of the only teachers who treated us like we were the minds of the future."

--Katie Courtien

"Mrs. Ponzi is the most hardworking, dedicated and caring teacher we have in the school."

--Richard Roesner
(colleague)

"As a student teacher, colleague, and friend to Mrs. Ponzi, she has inspired me to try to inspire others."

--Mrs. Fandale
(colleague)

"For Mrs. Ponzi, there is no problem that is unsolvable and no student who is unimportant. She gives 110% to everything she does. She is an inspiration for all of us at Bay Shore. She will be missed tremendously. Not everyone is replaceable."

--Mrs. Marziliano
(colleague)

Rosemary Reilly

December 16, 1946- January 12, 2004

"Some people come into our lives and quickly go.
Some people move our souls to dance. They awaken us to new understanding with the passing whisper of their wisdom. Some people make the sky more beautiful to gaze upon.
They stay in our lives for awhile, leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never ever the same."

"Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Some stay awhile and leave footprints on our hearts and we are never ever the same." This quote truly brings to light the spirit of Bay Shore High School's loved and respected nurse Mrs. Rosemary Reilly.

"Mrs. Reilly left a gap in Bay Shore High School, a gap which is going to be very difficult to fill," realized Mrs. Lisa Giacoia, Mrs. Reilly's friend and colleague. Rosemary Reilly spent the past seventeen years guiding both students and adults through numerous problems. "She always made everybody and anybody feel comfortable," stated co-worker and friend, Mrs. Kate Hughes. She was always there to help people with the simplest things. She handled simply taking your temperature as well as the most complex problems such as pregnancy and other serious health issues. She spent her time here helping out hundreds of students and staff who will be forever grateful.

"She loved the kids, that is the only reason she was here," replied many people who were lucky enough to establish a close relationship with her. Whether one knew her or not, the level of comfort one felt when in her presence was beyond magical. She touched all of our hearts and she will never be forgotten. God bless her soul.

A Magical Night

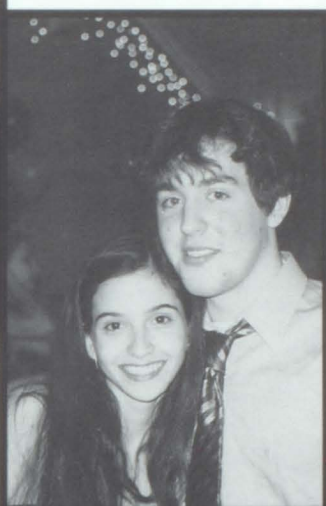

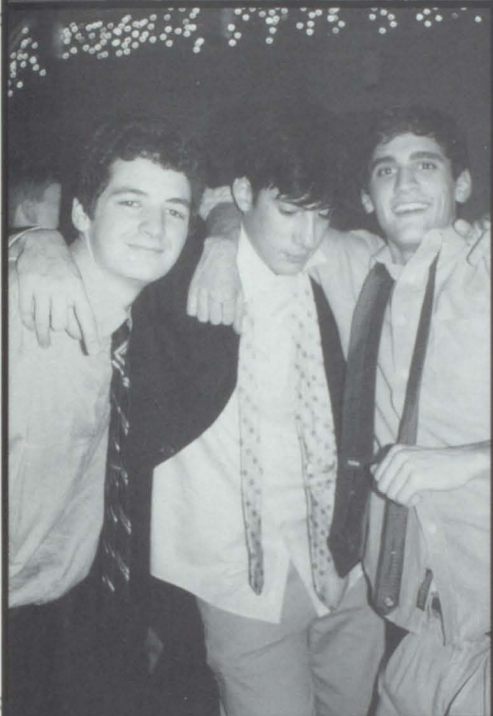

On February 12, 2004, the senior class came together for a night of socializing and dancing. The senior banquet was full of laughs and was a huge success.

The night was a lot of fun, filled with the continuous flow of music and the dance floor being packed all night long. "It was really a sight to see, everyone coming together and having fun. There were no cliques that night, just one senior class," senior Adriana Sandoval commented.

Not only did the students enjoy their night, but many of the chaperoning teachers got into the dancing mood as well.

Everyone who attended was dressed up in their semi-formal wear, and they all had a blast. Special thanks go out to Mrs. Vicki Zimolka and participating members of the senior class for their hard work and dedication in organizing the evening's events. It will be a night to remember for the class of 2004.

Hollywood!

As one walked down the red carpet and through the doors of gold, one entered the world of Hollywood. This year's Junior Prom for the class of 2005 was a great success. Students came dressed to impress, wearing everything from classy dresswear to original attire.

As the stars lit up the gym, juniors rushed to the dance floor to show off their excellent dance moves. As the DJ played non-stop music, students enjoyed lavish decor, and the delicious array of entrees.

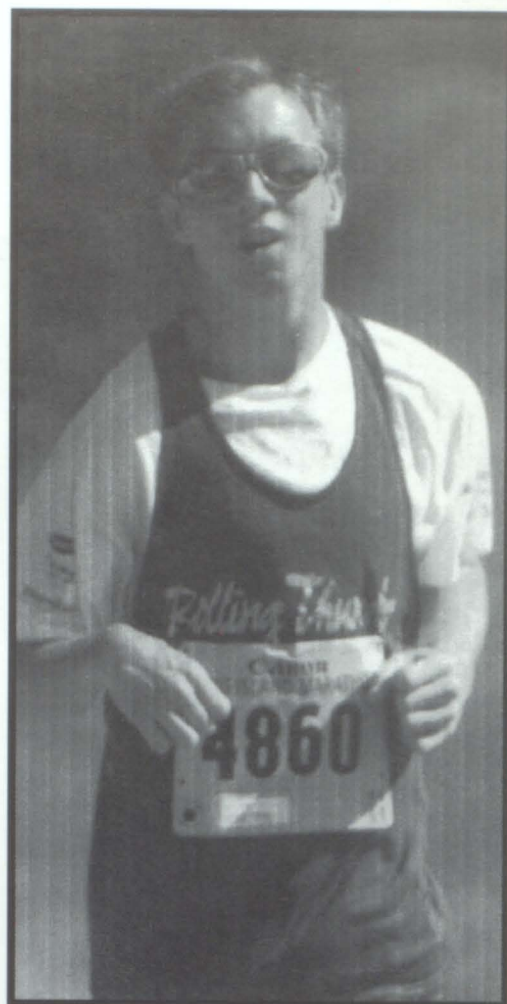

Before the night came to an end, Aaron Marsh and Kelley Sweeney were awarded best dressed. Awards also went to Bryant Lassiter and Kim Portier for best hair and most original outfit awards given to Douglas Costello and Micaela Kuhn. Chris Gloor and Sara Guzzone won the cutest couple award. These awards are extra special because they are nominated by their own classmates.

Special thanks go to Ms. Side and Mrs. Fandale along with all the other staff members who helped make the Junior Prom a night to remember. Also, a special thanks to Amanda Florenz who ironed 200 feet of red carpet to make the Hollywood theme come alive.

FROM THE CROWD

It's been wonderful to watch you grow from our little girl to the young woman you are today. We are so proud of your achievements through your high school years. Your heart and desire will allow you to succeed in all your endeavors at college.

Keep reaching for the stars as you move to the next phase in your life. Enjoy college life. We love you.

Mom, Dad & Tommy

Dear Maeling,

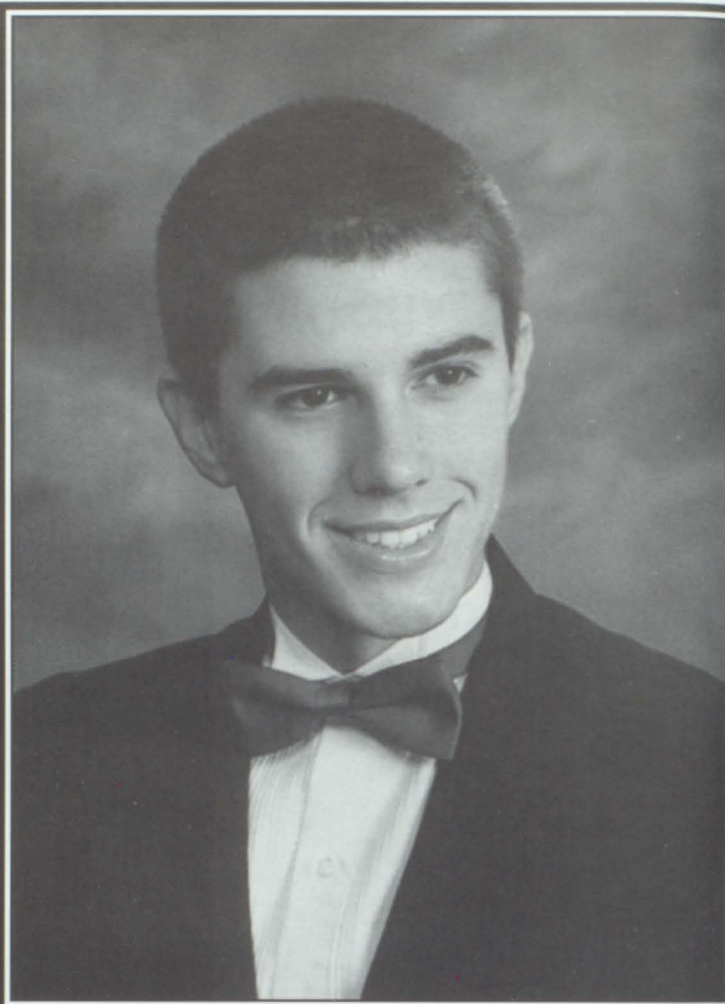

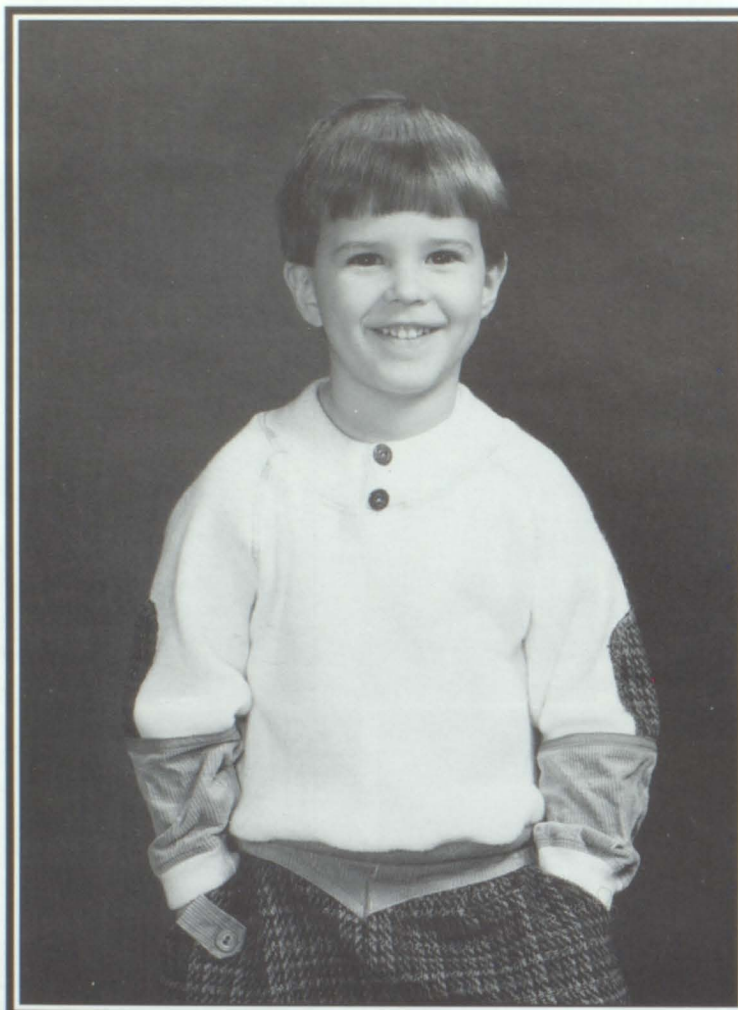

It seems like only yesterday we took you to your first day of school, and now you are getting ready for college. We are so very proud of the beautiful young lady you have become. Congratulations on your high school graduation. May all your dreams come true!

With all our love,

Mom, Dad & Kailee

"We find a delight in the beauty and happiness of children, that makes the heart too big for the body."

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

Dear Ryan,

Congratulations! We're so proud of you. Your accomplishments speak for themselves - hard work, caring and honesty make you one in a million. We wish you well in college - We will miss that wonderful wit, those smiles, laughs and that movie trivia! Remember to live each day as a preparation for the next, and also remember, we'll be there for you always.

Courtney,
 You know how wonderful
 it is to have a daughter & sister like you. It has always meant so much to us to see your smile, to listen to your ideas, and to watch you grow, learn and become your own person. Look how many special memories you have given to all of us.
 We wish you the best with the dreams you are pursuing for bright new tomorrows to come!
 We love you!

Dear Alex,

It seems like if only yesterday I had you in my arms. Like if only yesterday, you took your first steps. Like if only yesterday, I sent you to kindergarten. During these 18 years, I have watched you grow into the bright young woman you are now. We are very proud of you, no matter what happens, we will always be there. And you will always be our baby girl.

Lots of love,

Mom, Dad, John, Catherine, Jason, and Sisci

Dear Amy,
Out of all the abilities and talents you possess, the two qualities that we admire most about you are your strength and ambition. We know that's what will guide all your endeavors in your university and career choices for your future. Your righteousness and bravery will do the rest. We love you and wish you and the Class of 2004 all the very best!

Ti voglio bene. Molto!

Dear Megan,

The most valuable possessions are equanimity, modesty, and inner independence. With these, you can travel anywhere and meet with good fortune.

We are so proud of your accomplishments.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Laura Kate, Terry & Nana

Dear Nicole,

We've watched you grow from a little girl into a determined young woman. As you follow the path you have mapped out in life, we want you to always remember these words:

I'll love you forever,
I'll like you for always,
As long as I'm living,
my baby you'll be.

Love,

Mom & Dad

To My Daughter,

Sometimes you get discouraged
Because I am so small
And always leave my fingerprints
On furniture and walls.

But everyday I'm growing
I'll be grown-up someday
And all those tiny handprints
Will surely fade away.

So here's a little handprint
Just so you can recall
Exactly how my fingers looked
When I was very small.

Natalie

When I came through the door after work, you showed me this artwork, I started to cry. And before, now and always that I read this poem, I will start to cry. For this poem has become a reality.

I dedicated this to my Daughter who has weathered peaks and valleys throughout her life. And she has come out stronger throughout all of these moments.

You have given of your self and more. You have gone out of your way to help others in more ways than one. This shows how strong you are.

May you continue to on your path of good will for at the end you will be repayed.

God Bless You. . .

Dear Katy,

You started out as our little ballerina and gymnast, and have grown into a talented student-athlete. You have matured from a shy little girl into a confident and mature young woman.

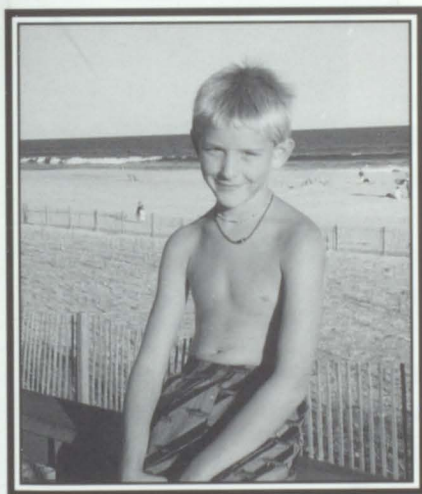

We are proud that you have achieved all of the goals you have set for yourself, and have earned the admiration and respect of parents, teachers, and friends alike.

We have no doubt that you will succeed in whatever path you take, and face life's challenges head on. Go QU!

With all our love,
 Mom, Dad & Bobby

To all Katy's friends from the Class of 2004 that have entered into our home and our lives, we wish you a lifetime of happiness and success.

Dear Rob:
 Through it all you have prevailed.
 You have met each and every obstacle with the strength and determination to succeed, and you did!
 The more difficult the challenge, the stronger your resolve.

You have matured far beyond your years. We are proud to have you as a son and Brother. Our wish for you is to continue to be the dynamic young man who knows what he wants and goes after it, and remember, "PUNCH SOME HOLES IN THE SKY FOR US".

Congratulations on your Graduation!

The road of life is just beginning. There has been times we've struggled, cried, and laughed, and you will have many more. You have become a strong and positive young woman. We know you will persevere in all that you do. We are very proud of you.
 Love Always,
 Mom, Michele and Nicole

Dear Stephanie,
 You have amazed us. Your integrity and honesty cannot be surpassed. You have proven yourself repeatedly as a responsible and trustworthy young adult. Your compassion and understanding for family and friends is remarkable. You are a fantastic, hard working woman with a great future ahead. Stay true to yourself and everything will fall into place. We are very proud of you and love you very much.
 With all our love,
 Mom, Dad, and Katie

Dear Jessica,
 CONGRATULATIONS on all you have accomplished. We are so very proud of the wonderful young lady you have become. The future is yours for the taking, we know you will succeed in all your future endeavors. Have a happy and wonderful life!

Dear Jason,

People are often unreasonable, & self centered; Forgive them anyway.

If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives; Be kind anyway.

If you are successful, you will win some false friends and some true enemies; succeed anyway

If you are honest & frank, people may cheat you; be honest & frank anyway.

What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight; build it anyway.

If you find serenity & happiness, they may be jealous; be happy anyway.

The good you do today, people will often forget tomorrow; Do good anyway

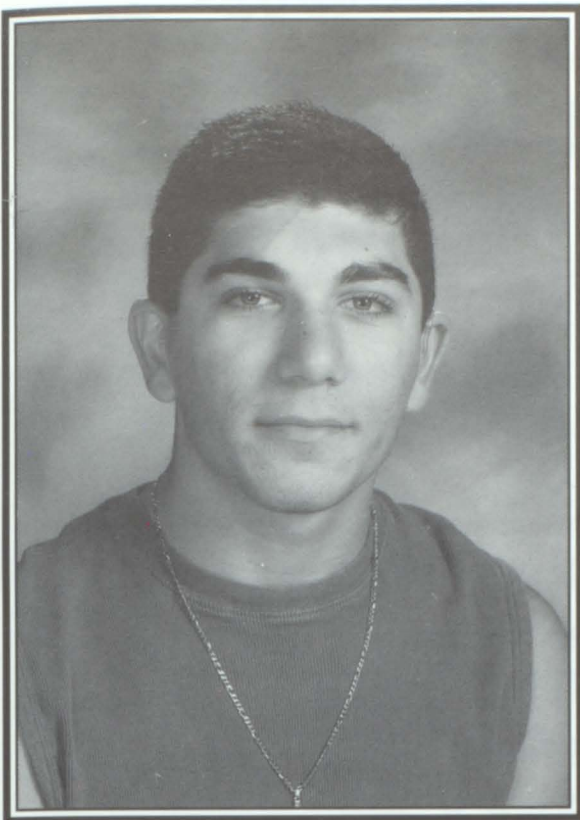

Give the world the best you have and it may never be enough; Give the world the best you've got anyway.

You see, in the final analysis, it is between you and God. It was never between you and them anyway.

-Mother Theresa

God Bless You and keep you in His care for the rest of your life.

Colophon and Closing

The 2004 Staff of the Bay Shore High School Marauder Yearbook went above and beyond to make the eighty-first volume of the Marauder a priceless treasure that Bay Shore graduates can look back on in years to come. The staff emerged as irreplaceable constants in Bay Shore's metamorphosis.

Under the guidance of adviser Ms. Kelly Cuzzo, the staff was successful in making the 2004 Marauder a masterpiece that will withstand the test of time.

This book was printed by Taylor Publishing Company of Texas, under the supervision of Mr. Neil Sanders. The formal photography that you see within this book is credited to Quaser Lifetouch Studios. Any additional photographs were taken by staff photographers. This book was produced by Ms. K. Cuzzo's Creative Writing for Publication class.

The four-color cover was designed in a pencil medium by staff member Douglas Costello. Four hundred and fifty copies of this book were printed with two four-color signatures. The standard type face utilized throughout this book was Athena. For the second year, Taylor's computer program, Elite Vision was used for all the text and graphic elements within the Marauder.

U.S. troops in Iraq

The biggest news event of 2003 was unquestionably President Bush's decision to employ American armed forces to oust Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein. The regime was toppled quickly, forcing Hussein and top members of his Baath political party into hiding. After an exhaustive manhunt, U.S. forces captured Hussein in a small underground hiding area on the banks of the Tigris River.
