The Path

From the moment we are born, we are set on a path. A path of learning. A path of discovery. The literal path we all take changes from year to year, even day to day. One year we may exit the bus and head to our locker. The next year we may drive and park off campus, then rush to first period as the bell sounds. But we are all on a larger path, and our years at Bay Shore High School comprise a large portion of that path. We have achieved many successes and overcome many obstacles along this path. We have sometimes marched on in a straight way, while other times we've meandered along new and different directions. We have many people along this path. We've made friends, we've lost friends. We've learned from incredible teachers and improved under amazing coaches. The 2012 Marauder yearbook, The Path, shows one year in the path we all walked alone, while also walking together.

THE UNDERDOGS

Potential.

That one, simple word has described the Bay Shore Varsity Football team for years. In 2011, the boys season had its highs and its lows, with everyone around them was saying, "they've got potential." This year, they lived up to it. The boys proved their skill, teamwork, and determination. Their season started out with four losses,

"We know we can do better," said Pat Rainis, senior. "We've got the potential."

"It's frustrating to know that a team with such talent isn't displaying it by winning," said Griffin Rock, senior and captain, during the slide.

It was the fifth game of the season when the team's fortune turned around with a win against Commack that led to a four game winning streak. In order to clinch a spot in playoffs, they had to beat 2011 Long Island Champions William Floyd. The team rose to the challenge with a victory that many claim to be the most dramatic win for the Marauders since 1987.

"We have a great offensive line, and we used it to our advantage," says Luke Rock, senior and captain. "We gave it our all, and it paid off."

Though the boys were eliminated in the first round of playoffs, they were not discouraged and they did not forget all of their hard work.

"Despite the 0-4 start, we knew, as a staff, that this team had the type of players that could respond to adversity and they did by making the playoffs for a third year in a row," said Mr. David Mayo, assistant coach.

"Honk!"

The Girl's Field Hockey team had to make some adjustments going into this season after losing some key players.

"It was tough losing the six seniors last year," said Liz Athing, junior and co-captain. "They were all key players in our line up."

The team was able to re-build its strength with some new members.

"We have so much depth on the side line," said Erin Corcoran senior and co-captain. "If any of the starters had to come out we could just put in a girl."

The team has grown stronger on the field by getting the girls involved during the off-season. Whether it was through travel teams or open gyms throughout the winter, they girls feel the hard work paid off since they made it to the "final four" in the county playoffs.

On the field the girls have continued to improve their plays and off the field the girls have continued to bond even after the season, which the younger girls and coach hope will translate to an even stronger team next season.

"After the season is completely over we have a big team dinner, which is always so much fun and the seniors pick gifts to pass down to everyone else on the team," said Betsy Glynn, senior and co-captain.

KICK IT!

"1-2-3 BAY SHORE!"

All teams bond as the season goes on, and over the years the boys soccer team has been no different. This year, however, the boys felt a sense of family that the veteran players don't recall from previous years.

"We are like a family and every game we give 110%," said Juan Velaquez, senior. "The greatest part of our team is being able to hang out with the guys on the field and off the field."

As a show of team unity, the season started with all members of team sporting mohawks. This chemistry helped the boys to make it all the way to the playoffs.

"We work hard every game," said Victor Romero, senior and captain. "We hustle at practice and have a good team bond."

As a result, their hard work paid off and the team members were proud of their accomplishments, finishing with a record of 6-2-9.

"I'm going to miss spending time with these guys," said senior, Jonathan Rodriguez, senior. "I love this team and I'm definitely going to miss all the laughs from the season."

SCORE!

"Team on 3! Ready, 1, 2, 3 TEAM!"

This is the cheer you would hear before every game that the players would use to get pumped up and ready to play.

"Soccer is more than a sport to me, it's a passion, a place I can escape from my everyday routine," says Estefania Navas, senior.

The girls varsity soccer team has grown a lot over the years, not just with the playing, but the players as well. This year's team had a lot of new talent and with that new talent comes learning new things.

"I think they are adjusting just fine, but at the same time they still need to learn how to act and play like a varsity player," said Kristin Seiferth, senior and co-captain.

All the girls on the team helped and supported each other throughout the whole season.

"Just always be nice and like everyone for who they are, because at the end of the day those girls are like your second family," said Stephanie Rios, senior and co-captain, addressing the newcomers that will take over next year.

With those words in mind, the girls soccer team came together and played hard.

"There's no words to explain my excitement, this is honestly the best team I've played with these couple of years," said Navas.

LUCKY CHARMS

"Run, Run, Run," says Coach Langer, who is as passionate and dedicated to coaching Bay Shore's boys cross country team as the athletes are to winning races.

"The team is stronger than ever," says Matt Cohen, senior and co-captain.

With the team spending almost every day together from 2:30 to 5:00 pm and running up to 6 miles a day, they bond and improve daily.

The team also has a secret lucky charm that keeps them running at impressive speeds.

"Always head first," says Anthony Caligure, freshman, who keeps a lucky penny in his shoe at every meet.

Will Norris, senior and co-captain, will always speed through the finish line when he wears his lucky black socks.

"In the end, it's all about the determination and drive this team possesses to win the race," says Nick Swain, senior.

The team placed 3rd in their league and 11th in their division.

CARDIAC

"When the going gets tough, the tough gets tougher."

These were the words of motivation given by the girls cross-country coach, Steve Borbet, who led the team to a winning season, with only one loss.

"I love my coach," said Regina Peattie, senior and co-captain. "He has coached me for 5 years and has never given me the wrong advice and he helps every single girl no matter how good or bad they are."

Borbet's coaching style has helped the girls to counties this year.

"Our practices are usually very hardcore," said Danielle Rowe, senior. "They usually consist of a hard distance run or a tough workout, depending on our meet schedule."

The motivation not only comes from the coaches, but also from within the team. The girls push each other to work harder during practices and it encourages them to obtain their goals.

"After each meet I set the bar a little higher to reach a faster time," said Zulena Saravia, senior.

This mind-set has been implemented since the start of the season, bringing the team to counties and select members all the way through to Regionals.

UNITY

"YAHTZEE" is what this determined team cheers before they go out to win their games, but their success goes much farther than the day of the game. The majority of the boys have been playing together since middle school, some even before, so the chemistry on and off the court helps the team to success.

"We have a good team dynamic because the team is so tight," Alex Adams, senior and co-captain.

Two vital pieces of the the team's success were returning starters and senior captains Peter Jensen and Joe Norman, who first got Jensen into playing volleyball.

Now both have an extreme love for the sport. Between this lethal front row, they love spiking balls hard, and "especially hitting faces," says Norman.

Phil Posillico, senior, had high hopes for the season, saying, "it seems promising and we think we can be league champs."

With the love all these boys have for volleyball, they felt they could make it far into the season, though they ultimately fell short of their goal.

They finished the season in the semifinals, but lost to the suffolk county champions.

BUMP, SET, SPIKE

Energy infiltrates the crowd as the girls volleyball team huddles together and cheers "Bay Shore! Hoorah!", a tradition they hold to for each match.

"We talk about things we are going to do during the match," says Katie Henriksen.

But even with planning, volleyball is a fast sport and quick thinking is essential.

"We need to be flexible enough to make quick changes," said Erika Dannenfelser, senior and co-captain.

Every girl on the court plays a roll and they work together to be sure each plays to her strengths.

Ms. Anastasia DeBonis, coach, explains by saying, "My girls have great power and can crush the ball! Their height allows for crazy blocking-Courtney Bocchieri, Karly White, and Erika Dannenfelser have ridiculous stats in the blocking category."

All the hard work is only worth it if they players enjoy themselves.

"I like this sport because it is fun and the team works well together," said Bocchieri. "It is a good group."

Though a playoff opportunity eluded them, the coach is proud of the girls and the work they put in this season.

"All in unison- it is the most beautiful sport to watch," said DeBonis.

Girls Tennis

ADVANTAGE

Everyone on the tennis team has grown to love one another and think they are all aces on and off the court.

"Tennis is more of a team sport than most people would think," said Michelle Muscara, senior and co-captain. "Although it is about winning your own matches, the tight team bond is what makes and helps us push ourselves farther than would ever be possible."

The tennis team worked very hard on creating a strong team bond this year.

"What we lost this year in skill and technique we gained in team spirit and camaraderie," said Mr. John Carney, coach.

The varsity Tennis team relies on both Coach Carney and fellow players to improve their game and skills.

"Warming up with each other and doing skill building drills are what makes us a team," said Gianna Keshtgar, junior. "That's the time where we can give each other tips and comment on one another's techniques and over all game."

Many girls on the tennis team are also friends outside of games and practices.

"It's like I always say: our best piece of equipment is each other, and we have to use each other in order to get the best results," says Perri Baker, junior and co-captain. "It's been a great season and next year will be even better."

Gymnastics

Focus

"Who's in the house, Bay Shore!"

The girls gymnastics team, along with their new coach, Peter Neu, say this cheer before every meet.

"He is a lot more involved and dynamic to the team," said Kerry Maerki, junior and captain, sharing her thoughts on the new coach.

The team is mostly made up of middle schoolers this year so, along with the new coaching, there is new learning.

"By the time they are in high school they are going to be a very strong team" said Maerki.

Gymnastics is a team sport that has opportunity for individuals to advance beyond their team.

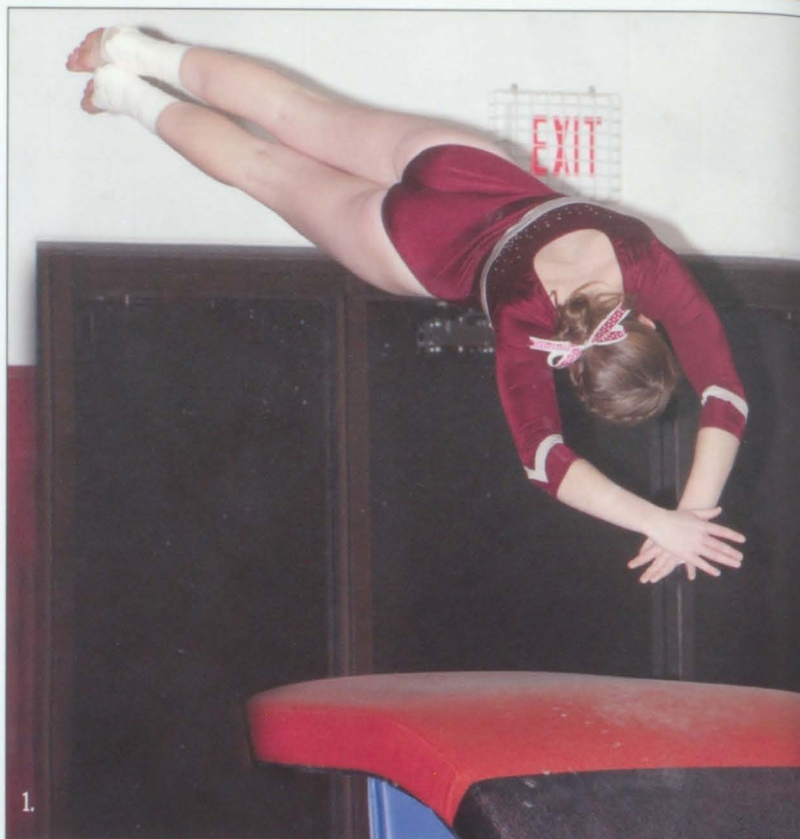

"Our top middle schoolers, Mattea Gravina and Sarah Trupp, will probably end up at counties this year," Said Maerki

The team had its ups and downs, but they kept working hard and trying their best to achieve their goals, knowing that this team is only going to get older and stronger. In many ways, they are playing for the future.

1. Kerry Maerki, junior, twists through the air as she performs the vault. Maerki was this year's captain. 2. Sarah Trupp, 8th grader, executes a perfect back-handspring during her floor routine. Trupp was one of six middle schoolers on the team. 3. Sarah Trupp, Lydia Taylor and Mattea Gravina, middle schoolers, watch a teammate as they perform. The team was always their to support each other throughout the season.

HOLE IN ONE

Team unity is one of the many important factors of any Bay Shore High School sports team, but this close-knit relationship can be especially seen in the Bay Shore's boys golf team.

"Our coach is a really cool guy," said Jarris Robinson, senior and captain. "He's one of the guys."

Since most of the team's players are seniors that have been playing golf since middle school, the underclassmen will be saying goodbye to six of their teammates.

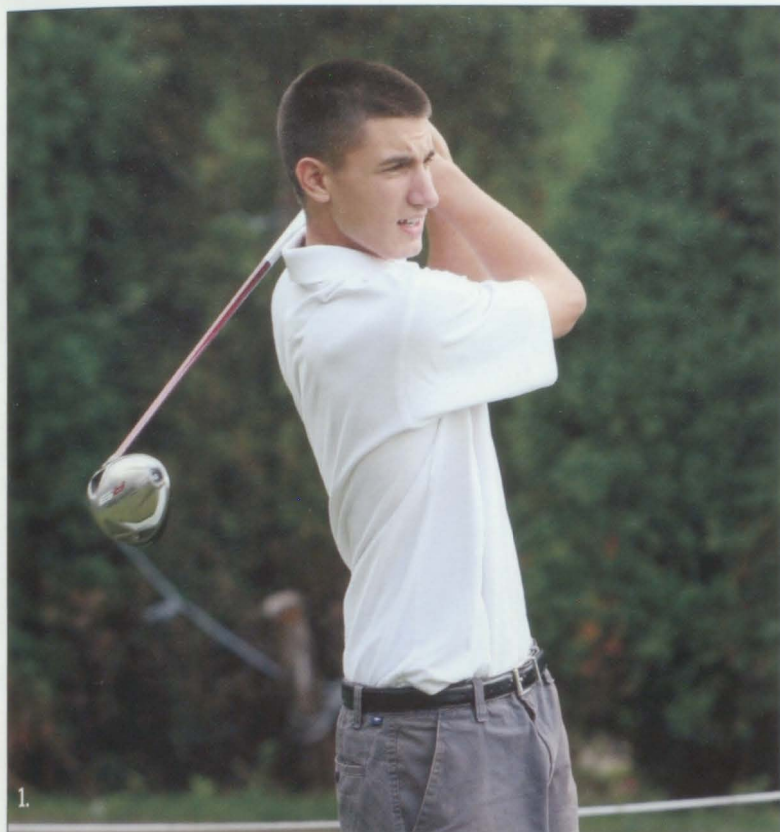

"We're losing six people," said Robinson. "There are going to be a lot of 7th and 8th graders. A lot of young gun up and comers."

Boys golf had a strong season, with the teammates bonding regularly at Buffalo Wild Wings for team dinners. The bonding paid off, with a regular season record of 8-2. They will appear in the counties championship in the Spring.

Will Hoffman, senior and co-captain, provides advice for the younger players as they step up into veteran roles: "It's all in the hips."

1. Kevin Cockerill, senior, looks to see how far his drive travels. Cockerill was co-captain this season. 2. Will Hoffman, senior, finishes his swing at a crucial part during his match. Hoffman contributed to the team's success winning many important holes throughout the season. 3. Harris Robinson, senior, works on his swing. Robinson was also a team captain this season.

THE FORGOTTEN TEAM

Many Bay Shore students don't know that we have a sailing team, though it is natural that we would, with our community so tied to the water. For those students involved, however, the sport has been more than a source of competition; it has been a respite from the stress of their school life.

"After a long day, there's nothing better then going out on the water," said Alex Thomas, senior.

Originally a club, over the past few years sailing has grown as an actual sport.

"Every year the team gets new sailors and I believe it's going to keep growing," said Thomas.

The team loves just going out on the water each day, though they know that most members of the school don't even know that they're out there.

"I love sailing on a windy day you get to put your whole body into it," said Chloe Pocock, senior.

Sailing

1. Julia Becker and Emma Franzer, freshmen, push their boat into the bay. Becker and Franzer were happy this was their first sailing season in the high school. 2. Mike Klueber and Chloe Pocock, seniors, place their ropes. Splicing is when a sailor intertwines the ropes of the boat. Since they are both seniors, they were upset this was their last sailing season. 3. Collin Hoeffner and Robert Mayo, freshmen, wait for the wind to help push them along. Hoeffner and Mayo lost their first regatta, but are looking forward to future seasons.

KICKIN' AND FLIPPIN'

"We cover more yards than football players, we kick more than soccer players, and we flip more than gymnasts," said Caroline de Lyra, senior. "This is how we know we're swimmers."

Through thick and thin, the swimmers help each other throughout every race to make it through the finishing lap.

"We have many obstacles to overcome this year," said Karina Goode, senior and captain. "The beginning of the season was a bit of a struggle and harder than it has been in previous years."

Even though they struggled, they never quit and tried the best they could.

"Even though I just joined the team this year, in just a couple of weeks I felt as if they were my family," said de Lyra.

There are many aspects of the team that the seniors will miss, especially the tight bond that has grown and the many important lessons from their coach, Mr. Borkowski.

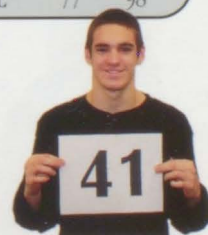

"I will miss Mr. Borkowski the most," said Onnica Sibely, senior. "He's such a great, passionate, and caring coach. He looks out for us and keeps us focused."

1. Karina Goode, senior captain, is breaststroking toward the end of the pool. This is Karina's sixth year being a part of the Varsity swimming team. 2. Cameron Luquer, 7th grader, is getting ready to start her race. This is her first year in varsity swimming. 3. Onnica Sibely, senior, accepts her award after the swim for a cure event. This is Sibely's last year in swimming.

"Let's come out and be ready to play!" screams the girl's basketball team as they're huddling and preparing for a win.

The team has been improving and striving hard for many seasons. This year they were very eager to get on the court and show how much they've improved. Megan Schoberl and Courtney Bocchieri, seniors and co-captains, continued to be strong role models for the younger girls throughout the season.

The responsibility as a captain is,

"To show leadership, set examples, and help people to do their best and try their hardest," according to Schoberl.

The girls seemed determined and focused to reach their fullest potential and work as a cohesive unit.

"I inspire the team by always giving 100%," says Schoberl.

Within this environment the team thrived, supporting each other through ups and downs.

"We are a family oriented team," says Bocchieri.

Though Bocchieri and Schoberl are graduating, they leave behind an improved team that will strive to be the best as the years go on.

Boys Basketball

HE SHOOTS, HE SCORES

As the Boys Basketball team steps onto the court, one can feel the excitement in, and interconnection of, the players.

"We had a tight knit group that consisted of 11 Juniors, 2 seniors, and a sophomore," said Mr. Dave Mayo, assistant coach. "Having the majority of the team in the same grade can help add to the camaraderie."

The boys had a good season with a record of 9-9-0 and they made it to play offs. Coach Mayo attributes much of the team's success to the team bonding exercises they did, including a film day when the boys watched a documentary, "A Prayer for a Perfect Season." Having the boys bond and unite like this helped the performance of the team.

"Injuries and non-team related problems kept us from getting as far as we should have this season," says Kenute Hammond, senior and co-captain.

"It's kind of depressing knowing that this is the last time I'll play basketball for my high school team and on the Bay Shore court," says Patrick Rainis, senior and co-captain.

The seniors will be missed, but the team still looks to improve for next year's season.

MIND OVER MATTER

Girls Winter Track

The track girls get a workout in more than one way. Other than physically, the season mentally drains the minds of these athletes on and off the track.

"If it weren't for track, I wouldn't be the same strong, ambitious girl that I am today," said Brianah Allen, senior and co-captain. "The sport keeps me mentally focused and sharp."

Many other runners have felt similar feelings toward how the sport has benefited them. Distance runs and interval workouts prepare the girls for a tough season, but teach them a more important lesson: to push themselves and "stride" for their best.

"When people think of track, they ask, 'Why do you do that? That's what most teams do for punishment,'" says Paige Leggio, four year winter track veteran. "Yes, it can be tough at times, but competing and winning brings out the best in us and the negative thoughts turn to positive ones."

Hard work and optimism are instilled in these athletes and foster confidence and ambition. The winter track girls run for more than just enjoyment; for all of them, the experience is character building and part of who they are.

Boys Winter Track

READY, SET, GO!

Every member of the Boy's Winter Track team attended practice with the goal in mind of getting the chance to perform at leagues, counties, and even nationals.

"I felt really strong about this season," said William Norris, senior and co-captain.

The team's coach, Mr. Kurt Langer, felt the same way about the team going into the season.

"I felt very optimistic about this group going into the season," said Langer. "We were strong in the jumps, hurdles, and sprints."

As the season continued, many of the boys made it to the League Championships, Counties, and as they expected, many of them did place successfully.

"I felt that this season was going to be good for us and myself because of my previous spring season," said Kadesh Roberts, senior and co-captain.

Roberts and other members of the team did well and advanced to nationals, including Angel Rosaria, Jamari Lawrence, seniors, and Omari Buckmire, sophomore.

Many of the boys, including senior co-captains, Rosario, Matt Cohen, Anthony Arcuri, and Pernel Gulley, agree that being with the team everyday is a lot of fun. Over the course of the season, the team has grown to be one big family.

"If I wasn't on the track team I would have never been this close to the people I have been close to over the past couple of years," says Norris.

They all agree that this season has gone by so quickly, and as for the seniors, it still hasn't sunk in that this will be their last high school winter track season.

CHALLENGE

This season, being on the wrestling team was more challenging than in the past. With a new set of coaches, the athletes had to learn a new system and new strategies.

"Getting new coaches made this year special, just a completely different atmosphere in the room, just a different attitude all together," says Jimmy Leggio, senior.

This new atmosphere helped push the team and gave them the motivation they needed to have great accomplishments during the season. Three athletes were named All-League and two were All-County.

"Before a big meet I put my headphones on and I imagined every possible scenario and then just thought of all the ways I could win," said Shakore Philip, senior and co-captain.

Listening to music helped him visualize himself defeating his opponent and the thought itself helped him to perform better.

"At home meets we would run in the wrestling room in the dark and turn up the music really loud," said Philip. "It would get us pumped up before every home meet."

As the season progressed, the athletes reflected on their experience.

"What I am going to miss most is wrestling in the matches because that is where you really show how much work you put in at practice or in the off season," said Leggio.

Girls Bowling

STRIKE

Many of us may go bowling on the weekend to relax and have a little fun, but for some, bowling isn't very relaxing. For these athletes it takes patience and perseverance to compete at the varsity level.

"I clear my mind and focus because bowling is a mental game," says Briana Colon, junior.

The primary goal this season was to improve individual averages that in turn leads to team wins. Entering the season, the team was fierce and ready for their biggest competition, East Islip.

"East Islip has to be our biggest competitor," says Julia Knapp, junior. "They're the top team."

To prepare for their games the team practices even on days when they don't have a formal practice, including weekends.

"We practice every day we don't have a game and, in our free time over the weekend I, along with maybe two or three of the other girls on the bowling team would practice a few games," says Knapp.

Before each game the team would get together and encourage one another to do well.

"On our practice days, the atmosphere is much lighter and we're all able to help each other out, give pointers and become closer," Knapp says.

With two great wins under their belt, the girls bowling team showed off their improving skills throughout the season. Against Central Islip, Briana Colon bowled a 228 to lead Bay Shore to a win. Though only having two wins, the team fought fiercely against all their competitors. The girls bowling team might have 11 girls, however they compete as one.

"We get together and become one by having a motivational talk and cheer before each game," says Colon.

1. Julia Knapp, junior, sets her sights on the bowling lane as she attempts to bowl a personal best. Knapp played a major role in the team's success this season. 2. Briana Colon, junior, throws down the lane hoping for a strike. Against Northport, Colon shot a high game of 226 and led Bay Shore to a victory. 3. BriLynn Graham, junior, rolls a key strike in her game against Northport. Graham thoroughly enjoyed her season and cannot wait to bowl as a senior next year.

BOYS Bowling

When asked about their favorite part of being on the team, the collective response was a positive one.

"Definitely the fun we have at practice and at the games on the practice lanes, and the wins," says Tyler White, senior.

Julian Valdaro, captain and senior, was one of the team's most competitive bowlers.

"My favorite part about being on the bowling team is being able to compare myself to everyone else in the county," says Valdaro.

Although the boys lost a few seniors from last year, that didn't stop them from having a successful season.

"We lost two good seniors, but we had a lot of other people that wanted to be in the Top 5, so it was a competitive season," said White.

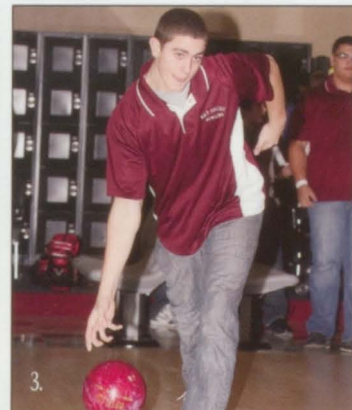

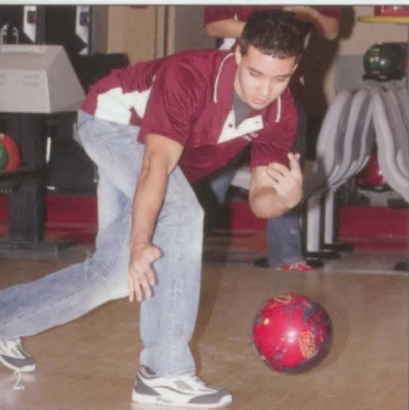

With 12 wins and 2 losses, the boys had a very strong season. Compared to last year, the team had significantly more wins and secured the League I Title.

"I finished in the top 10 averages and my very last game of the season was a 298," said Valdaro. "As a team we finished first in our division."

1. Julian Valdaro, senior, prepares to roll the ball for the winning points. Valdaro shot a high game 298 with a 643 series and won all of his match points against West Islip. 2. Jose Cabrera, senior, releases the ball with great form. Cabrera shot a high game of 227 of a 622 series. 3. Doug Cohen, senior, sends the ball down the alley, also demonstrating great form. Cohen's consistent effort contributed throughout the whole Winter season.

Cheerleading

"GO, MARAUDERS"

As competitions began, the vastity cheerleading team would lose themselves in their concentration because it is the time when they would prove themselves.

"We are a close team and basically a family," says Melanie Henriquez, junior.

The competition season lasts from March to June, and from this they have grown together doing the sport they love.

Jazmine Trotman, senior and co-captain, knows that the girls have an advantage because their practice season is longer, preparing during both basketball and football seasons.

"We like basketball season more than football season because it is also competition season, which is what we are there to do," said seniors and co-captains Laura Guerrero and Trotman.

The results of the competitions thus far shows that their long season and hard work have paid off.

Mrs. Peggy Parker

The Parker family has been a part of the Bay Shore community for a number of years. Mrs. Parker's husband graduated from Bay Shore High School in 1964, followed by her kids in 1995 and 1998.

"Now, after 18 1/2 years, it's my time to graduate," says Parker.

Parker began teaching at Bay Shore High School in 1994. Throughout her teaching career she has taught in the field of science including subjects such as Chemistry, Biology, and Earth Science. While teaching, Parker always kept in mind the importance of her students.

When asked what she will miss most about teaching, she replied, "the young people."

As she leaves Bay Shore, Mrs. Parker has these words of wisdom for her students: "Always appreciate how wonderful the Bay Shore community is."

Luke Rock

Luke we are all so proud of you and all you have done! God has given you so many talents on & off the field & you have used them well. Remember never to get 'so big' that you can't get out of your own way. Stay true to yourself and always remember where you came from & always - always pay it forward. In the end you will be measured for the good you do not the wins you have won. Don't waste what you have been given & make sure that you give back more than you take. You have been unique & hard working almost from the time you were born & we knew that you would succeed at anything you put your mind to. Anyone that knows you knows that you give it 150% & you never give up. Stay that way & there is nothing that you shall want, you will have measured up to God's expectations for the gifts he choose to give you! Remember NOBODY Loves you as much as we do...NOBODY! Thank you for being ours!!

Colophon

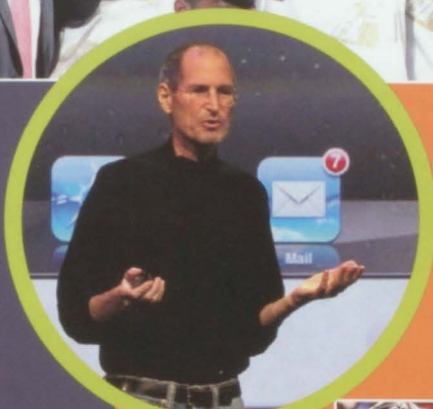

The 2012 Marauder Yearbook was published by Jostens and produced entirely by a staff of 37 students, with Caroline de Lyra as Editor-in-Chief and under the supervision of Mr. Michael Hochman. 400 copies of the 89th volume of the Marauder were printed. This edition is comprised of 224 full-color, glossy pages and was distributed in June of 2012. A "Spring Supplement" was planned for distribution in August of 2012. Computers: The staff used Apple iMac and Apple MacBook computers exclusively. Photography: All candid photos, club photos, teacher portraits, and special section photos were taken by the Marauder staff using one Canon XS camera and one Canon XSi camera. All portrait pictures and sports photos were taken by Legacy Studios and are used with their permission. Software: the Marauder is produced entirely on Yearbook Avenue, the Jostens on-line design site. All photo cut outs took place on Yearbook Avenue as well. Fonts: Body type is 'VAG Rounded Light,' size 10. Captions are 'Numbscull,' size 8. Senior Surveys and Senior Superlatives: Ballot sheets were distributed to all seniors. Only those received were counted and we received over 250 of the survey to count and over 250 of the superlatives to count. On the superlative pages the runners up are shown in the smaller, inset pictures. The 2012 Marauder staff wishes to extend the following thank yous:

- The Jostens staff, especially Mr. Matt Stucchio and Ms. Crystal Gault. We can't imagine two more supportive people to have helped us with this book.
- Legacy Studios
- The high school and district administrators, thank you for your continued support in helping us achieve our vision.
- To the secretaries: Laura Giordano and Vicki Kristiansen from the Main Office, thank you for endlessly paging people to us. How do you not hate us by now? Arlene Boeree and Mary Anne Bisogno, from the Principal's office, thank you for answering questions, supplying forms, mailing stuff, and so much more. Thanks to Lorraine Bowler from the athletics office, for helping with rosters, photographers, coaches, and more. Thanks to Chrsitna Nardone for all of your help with class lists. You are all incredible people.
- IT staff: Dawn, Mark, Phil, and Joe. Thanks for always being so fast to help us.
- To the custodians, thank you for lugging cartons large and small. You guys are the best.
- The following teachers helped the creation of the yearbook in various ways, such as Photoshop instruction, editing pages, or supplying photos: Walt Fishon, Joe Scinto, Ted Scalzo, Chris Bilella
