While on our journeys through Bay Shore schools, we have taken part in countless activities and faced numerous obstacles that have brought us where we are today. Every elucidating moment of our lives has molded us into the students we are now. We are, however, more than just this. We are athletes; we are musicians; we are scientists; we are friends; we are anything we choose to make ourselves. As we continue on our journeys, we must take a step back and remember that we are more than each test that we have taken and each grade that we have earned. We must choose how we want our lives to be

Spirit Week

The trio, consisting of seniors Matthew Caples, Joseph Chionchio, and Fabio Espinal, shows off its school spirit by dressing up as both preppy 80s schoolboys and a T-Bird from Grease for Decades Day. The senior class dominated spirit week this year, especially on Decades Day.

1. Paola Goetz and Bailey Kaufman, seniors, along with Cammie Fandale and Brooke Blazer, juniors, show off their maroon and white apparel for Bay Shore Pride Day. Bay Shore Pride Day is traditionally the theme on the last day of the school week; this year it was held Friday, September 25th and was carried through at pep rally that evening.

2. Erin McArdle, senior, enhances her already unique hair with a teased side ponytail, a signature style from the 80s, on Decades Day. Decades Day was a huge hit on Thursday, September 24th, drawing in many participants who wore clothes that were in style from the 1960s to the 1990s.

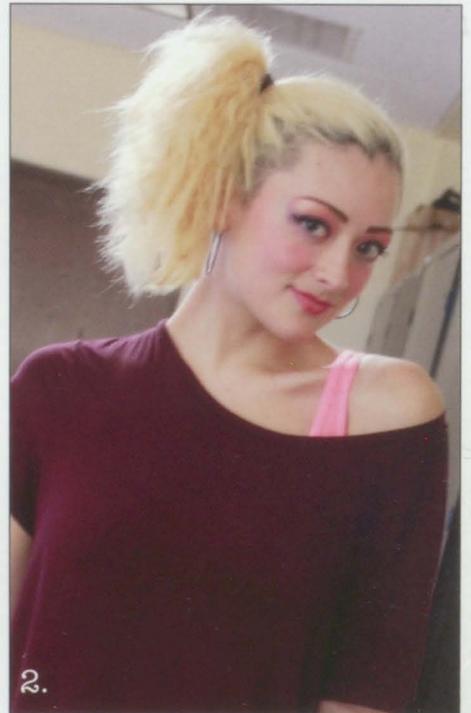

3. The students taking AP Calculus BC show their Bay Shore pride by wearing maroon and white on September 25th in school before the Pep Rally. The class was learning about implicit differentiation; to most, the name itself is confusing, but the class got a chance to take a break from their work to snap a picture.

4. Kelly Perez and Gabriella Guevara, juniors, show off their flowing sleeves as they converse about their 70s get-ups in the hallway on Decades Day. Each grade was assigned a different decade for this day, seniors were assigned the 80s, juniors dressed as the 70s, the sophomore class represented the 60s, and the freshmen were the 90s; amazingly, the 2015 freshman class was among the first high school class to be born in the 21st century.

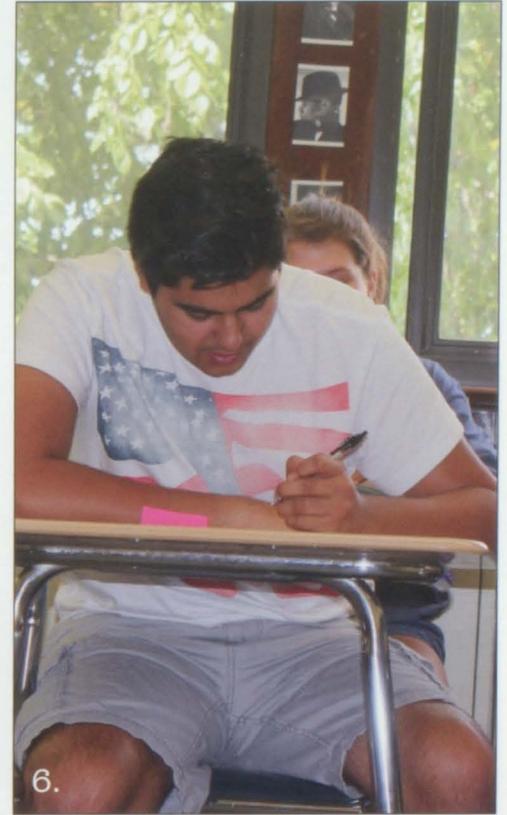

5. Aliyah Johnson, senior, flaunts red, white, and blue painted cheeks on USA Day. Spirit week is very popular amongst the students, but this year even the teachers participated in the USA theme. 6. Tamieem Jaffary, senior, takes notes in Mr. Nava's AP Literature and Composition class while sporting an American flag tee-shirt on Tuesday, September 22nd. Coincidentally, Jaffary was learning about the connection between the American Dream and the themes of F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby.

HIGHLIGHTS

Between October 5th and October 9th, the students of Bay Shore High School participated in Spirit Week, a week when the student body dresses up for different themed days, from Mix-Match Day, Decades Day, USA Day, and Bay Shore Pride Day.

"Spirit Week is a nice way for people to express themselves in the school," said Brian Hesselbach, senior. "It's cool when people who are usually shy end up participating."

Students and teachers alike participated in the week filled with school camaraderie and spirit as the end of the week brought the annual Pep Rally. Spirit Week was also a good way to get the student body pumped for the celebration of the homecoming football game against Brentwood, which followed on October 10th.

"My favorite theme is Bay Shore Pride Day. Mostly everyone participates, teachers included," said Emily Fudge, senior. "I think it makes us feel more unified as a school and community in general. Seeing maroon and white makes me happy, and I think it makes others feel the same."

Spirit week is a great week to have a good time and dress a little differently than one usually would. During this week, many can sense a change in the school environment. Many students and teachers claim that this week helps to unify the student body and staff, starting off the year with a bang, leading up to the major fall events.

"Spirit Week is a fun way to get everyone excited for pep rally at the end of the week," said Ryen Hendricks, senior. "It's cool when everyone participates and goes all out with their outfits."

Pep Rally

The sports' side of the gym cheers in an attempt to catch one of the highly sought-after spirit sticks, made by the cheerleaders. Despite efforts made by every team, the members of the boys' volleyball team and the girls' soccer team won the ultimate prizes, each the largest, canister-filled spirit sticks.

1. Jenny Stickney, senior, performs with a flaming baton near the bonfire at the 2015 Pep Rally. Stickney twirled both indoors and outdoors this year, getting both the athlete and the student sections pumped up for the next acts. 2. Joe Arcuri, senior, performs his own rap song, a version of a popular Drake song, causing everyone to cheer as Pashkin "hit the whip". Following "Young Joe's" performance, the soccer team ran onto the gym floor to commend him; Arcuri was the talk of school for many weeks and he continued to "drop songs" throughout his senior year. 3. Yvette Santiago, Shaquira Darby, Sonia Webster, Gabrielle Gunn, and Brianna Dent smile for a picture as they soak up their final pep rally together. Pep Rally is an opportunity for all grades to come together to express their school spirit and show support for all varsity sports teams. 4. Arrius Imperial, senior, and Jamar King, sophomore, dance in front of a crowd before going inside to cheer on all of Bay Shore's fall teams. The two received applause and roars of excitement as they performed in front of their peers. 5. Tom Mennella, senior, plays the snare drum alongside Brent Moynahan, junior, in the drum line outside of the gym to get the students pumped before Pep Rally. The loud drum vibrations allowed everyone to file into the gym in excitement. 6. Aleeza Shakeel and Bailey Kaufman, seniors, bump hips as part of the field hockey team's dance to the song 7/11 by Beyonce. The field hockey team was one of many to choreograph a dance and perform it for the school to see, always one of the highlights of Pep Rally.

HIGHLIGHTS

On September 25th, the entire school came together for the annual fall Pep Rally, starting with a bonfire outside, leading up to the performances of the sports teams, started off by the varsity cheerleading team.

"It's such a great experience to perform in front of all your peers; many people think cheerleading is only cheering at football games, so it is nice to show people what we can really do," said Quinn Tesauro, senior. "Passing out the spirit stick is so much fun, you can get an entire bleacher full of people to get up and cheer for one spirit stick and it's awesome."

Pep Rally isn't solely for the athletes of the school; the non-athlete, student supporters never fail to have a night they won't forget. The entire week leading up to Pep Rally is one to remember; the different themed days of Spirit Week always manage to get the student body ready and pumped for Pep Rally that Friday.

"I think it brings people together in a great way. People who are involved with sports come together with people who don't play, and it is cool to see," said Kaylie Felsberg, senior. "My friends have been telling me about the dance for a while and then seeing it come together was exciting."

The big sensation of the event was Joe Arcuri, senior soccer player, who took control of the microphone and rapped his heart out to self-written song, "Where Ya At, Bay Shore Remix".

"My teammates wanted me to rap because we were out of ideas for our performance and that was the only idea that someone had. I definitely couldn't have done it without them out there next to me," said Joe Arcuri, senior. "Before I performed I was thinking 'I just hope I don't screw up,' but after it was over I was thinking 'I wish I could do this again'. My favorite part was definitely when Mr. Pashkin tried to 'hit the whip' and the entire gym roared with excitement."

Homecoming

The seniors on the homecoming committee cheer and throw Captain America shield frisbees to the crowd during halftime as they show off their float. Countless hours were spent on the construction of the class floats, and the crowd roared for the artistry and creativity of the floats.

1. Fernando Gomez, freshman, roared as though he was the Hulk while he was dressed up and showing off the freshman class float. This year every grade was assigned a different superhero off of which to base their float, and the freshman class was assigned the Hulk. 2. The cheerleaders stunt and yell "Bay Shore fans, clap your hands" to the crowd in attempt to pump them up as the football team gets ready to play. All levels of cheerleaders, ranging from 5 to 18 years old, from Bay Shore came to support and cheer on the football team. 3. The 2015 homecoming court, consisting of Delia Berka, Ruby Arredondo, Morgan Zuch, Bailey Kaufman, Jamie Soldinger, Josh Pacella, Fabio Espinal, Joe Reilly and Rafael Ventura, gather around in front of the cheering crowd at the homecoming game. All runners-up graciously congratulated homecoming king and queen Josh Pacella and Jamie Soldinger as they were crowned. 4. Sarah Giuliani, senior, and Xander Cosenza, junior, cheer for the football team after junior captain, Matt Ilchuk, ran the ball to score the first touchdown of the game. The Marauders fought hard all throughout the game, but ended up losing to the Brentwood Indians, 27-24. 5. The Marauders, led by Justin Ortega, senior, and Nasai Mimms, sophomore, run through the tunnel to get ready to play, followed by the rest of the team. It is a tradition that the football players run through the tunnel and the surrounding drum line before the game starts. 6. The Marauder mascot waves to the fans to support the team and get the crowd rowdy. This year Tommy Naslonski, freshman, was one of the few students to wear the Marauder mascot uniform with pride during the game.

HIGHLIGHTS

Before the homecoming football game on October 10th, the classes at Bay Shore High School created floats that represented each grade from freshmen to seniors. While waiting for the crowning of king and queen, the classes were able to show off each of their floats, each based off of a superhero.

"We all came together and worked as a team. It was a great bonding experience because we worked on the float outside of school," said Kayla Corsini, senior. "There was excitement in the air with the anticipation of flaunting our float in the parade and showing it off at halftime. Everyone was thrilled to have been a part of the float building because the end product was so rewarding."

The girls nominated for the court were Delia Burka, Ruby Arredondo, Morgan Zuch, Bailey Kaufman and Jamie Soldinger. The boys nominated were Josh Pacella, Fabio Espinal, Joe Reilly, Joe Chionchio and Rafael Ventura.

"It's awesome that I was chosen; I would've never thought that people would choose me for king because of my competition within the court," Pacella said after Mr. Selzer announced the 2015 Homecoming King. "Overall I just didn't make a big deal about it at first, but I was very surprised I got nominated into the court and won."

Since it was one of the last fall events for the seniors, the event was very special to those who attended. Next to be crowned was the queen, Jamie Solinger.

"I didn't even expect it, it was very shocking at first. I was very happy and excited about the nomination, and I was surprised that teachers supported my nomination. At first I didn't have any interest in homecoming until the nomination and then I became very involved in it!" said Soldinger. "Being our last high school homecoming, I knew it was going to be bittersweet."

Santino Casola and Joe Simone, seniors, and JT Surlis, junior, pose as though they're taking a selfie. The three dressed up as "common white girls" sporting sweaters, scarves, purses, Starbucks cups, and to top it all off, Uggs boots. The trio even made it on the Common White Girl twitter page.

1. Keith Brunner, senior, secures his spot as the winner of the funniest costume during the ninth period costume contest. Brunner dressed as Billy Mays and yelled just as loudly about Oxi Clean as Mays did in his commercials that ended over six years ago. 2. Tom McLoughlin, senior, aims to hole his putt after Jake O'Rourke, senior, gave him his club. In addition to O'Rourke and McLoughlin, Kevin Otto and Tom Mennella, seniors, dressed up as the USA golfers and caddies. 3. In addition to Brunner, most original was Jordie Pellman, senior, as the Pirate from the introduction to the classic cartoon Spongebob, best group was Shark Week, and scariest was Anna Correa, senior, as Marie Antoinette from the dark side. 4. Brian Hesselbach, Quentin Thompson, Tamieem Jaffery, Damian Blanco, and Muaz Chaudary, seniors, dress up as the cast from The Fairly Oddparents. As seniors, it was nice to see classmates remember a childhood TV show. 5. Johnny Corrado, senior, poses with Mr. Mincowsky as Marty McFly and Doc from Back to the Future. Back to the Future fans celebrated the day McFly arrived in the future on October 21st, 2015 in the 1989 film Back to the Future Part II. 6. Senior Anna Correa shows off her unique costume, Marie Antoinette from the dark side, after winning the scariest costume award. Correa must've spent hours doing her makeup and making sure her dress was set perfectly.

HIGHLIGHTS

Halloween -- the only day of the year students are allowed to break the dress code, and for a favorite day of the year, no less.

Keith Brunner, senior, walked around as Billy Mays, the commercial actor that made everyone's ears bleed when he came on-screen advertising for Oxi Clean. Brunner produced the same sales pitch on stage during the costume contest.

"When I first heard about Billy Mays dying, I didn't think it was real, until I saw it on TV," said Brunner. "To think he died when I was in fifth grade is crazy to me. I believe that no matter how hard people have tried to replace him, no one can pull it off like he did."

Johnny Corrado, senior, sported a classic red vest and denim shirt, but everyone that's seen the Back to the Future movies knows that he was Marty McFly. Halloween was just nine days after the historical day when all of Back to the Future was officially in the past, on October 21st 2015.

"I thought that it would be cool to dress as Marty McFly because this year, 2015, was the year that he traveled to," said Johnny Corrado, senior. "I thought it would be a good way to bring my childhood into senior year as well as pay tribute to great movie."

This year seemed to be one of reminiscing - Colin Handley, senior, was inspired to dress as Jordan Belfort, the man who prompted the 2013 movie, The Wolf of Wall Street.

"I chose to be Jordan Belfort because I aspire to, one day, work in the field of finance and work my way up from the bottom, just as Jordan Belfort did, minus all the scandals...." said Handley.

Fall Play

Christian Negrón, junior, playing Leonard Ganz, gets frustrated as he attempts to speak to the newly deaf Ken Gorman, played by Zander Pacella, senior. Pacella and Negrón have been featured in multiple plays together in the last two years, from Lend Me a Tenor to Shrek: The Musical.

1. Ken Gorman, played by Zander Pacella, senior, holds towels to his ears after he was deafened by a gunshot that was fired by unseen character, Charlie, as he accidentally shot himself. Pacella has performed in over twenty shows with the Bay Shore Drama Department, including his performance as Lord Farquaad in Shrek: The Musical, for which he, along with a few of his castmates, received regional recognition at the Teeny Awards. 2. Cassie Cooper, played by Sabrina Song, junior, and Glenn Cooper, played by Reece DeGraff, sophomore, display hostility towards each other, customary to their characters.

Song was nominated for a Teeny Award for her performance in Lend Me a Tenor. Zander Pacella and Erin McArdle, seniors, were nominated as well. 3. Christian Negrón, sophomore, is pretending to be Charlie in order to cover up the evidence during the police's interrogation. Negrón was recently cast as Cinderella's prince in the upcoming spring musical, Into the Woods. 4. Claire Ganz, played by Erin McArdle, senior, is shocked upon hearing the latest rumor, of which she will obviously spread to the rest of the characters. McArdle has been in twenty one shows with the Bay Shore Drama Department and has been nominated for Teeny Awards, one of which was based on her performance as Maria Merelli in Lend Me a Tenor. 5. Ernie Cusack, Glenn Cooper, Ken Gorman, and Leonard Ganz, played by Josue Torres, junior, Reece DeGraff, sophomore, Zander Pacella, senior, and Christian Negrón, junior, decide who will act as Charlie for the police investigation. 6. Ernie and Cookie Cusack, played by Josue Torres and Michaela DeJoseph, juniors, are reacting to the unfolding chaos of the dinner party.

HIGHLIGHTS

Rumors, a ten-character play written by Neil Simon in 1988, was one of the first straight plays in many years put on by the Bay Shore Drama actors on November 5th, 6th, and 7th after months of rehearsals by the cast and endless hours the crew put in to make the set ideal for the play.

At a dinner party for Charlie and Myra Brock's tenth wedding anniversary, played by unseen characters, Charlie almost shoots himself after rumors spread, but, in a struggle, Ken accidentally drunkenly fires the gun, deafening Ken and hitting Charlie's earlobe, adding to the chaos among the characters at the dinner party.

"The overall pace of the show was fast with nonstop, spitfire lines. As an actor in the show, it didn't feel like acting; it felt like I was a part of that dinner part," said Zander Pacella, senior. "With much credit to my fellow actors, it felt as if every "character" was merely my cohort that had been tangled in this situation with me. It was truly an invigorating experience."

Rumors spread and when the play finally ends, those so-called rumors were true! The musical, Into the Woods, is set to be performed by a larger number of cast members in the spring of 2016. Pacella will be playing the baker, with Erin McCardle, senior, playing his wife, the two characters that tie the play together while traveling in a world inspired by fairy tales.

"Theater has become a part of who I am. Portraying a character and living someone else's life onstage is kind of like my own little escape from reality," said McCardle. "Leaving behind all these memories and friendships and ties is going to be so difficult. But that's the beautiful thing about it all: memories last forever."

Devin Barnett, senior wide receiver, dodges a potential tackle by a cornerback from Walt Whitman as he sprints down the field, crossing the 50 yard line. Barnett was a two-year varsity player, recorded eighteen catches and 291 rushing yards, and scored a touchdown at the Homecoming game against the Brentwood Indians this season.

1. Marvin St. Juste, junior, sacks the quarterback of Walt Whitman, forcing a change of possession. St. Juste has been an integral part of the team, always making his best efforts on the field during both games and practices. 2. Dhanyul Brooks, senior captain, protects the ball to prevent a fumble as he sprints down the field in order to score a touchdown. 3. Elijah Lowry, senior captain, defends quarterback Ilchuk from being sacked, ensuring a complete pass to wide receiver, Devin Barnett, senior. 4. Matt Ilchuk, junior captain, looks down the field to find an open wide receiver to run the play Coach Rizzo called. Ilchuk scored the first touchdown during the homecoming game on October 10th. 5. Brennan Souhrada, senior and captain, blocks an opposing tackle to prevent a sack on quarterback, Matt Ilchuk. Souhrada received All-County and All-Division player awards for his performance as an offensive lineman on the football team this past season.

HIGHLIGHTS

In their game against Central Islip on September 19th, the motivation of the Bay Shore crowd helped the boys turn around the game's outcome after halftime. Despite the fact they were losing 6-26 at halftime, the boys let their determination and skills take over during the second half of the game, ending in a win for Bay Shore, with a score of 33-26.

"It showed how we stayed together as a team," said Matt Ilchuk, quarterback and junior captain. "We just tried to stay up, not get down and play hard, one play at a time."

Although they lost a big game against Sachem East on October 3rd, with a final score of 27-20, the boys used this game as a way to play their hardest and teach themselves that internal success doesn't always mean winning the game.

"We used good strategies by trying to stop the other team's runs and forced them to pass," said Justin Ortega, senior. "I tell myself that I have to play to the best of my ability so I don't let my team down."

In their game against Patchogue-Medford, the 2015 Suffolk County Division 1 Championship qualifiers, the Bay Shore football team won the game, played on October 24th, with a seven minute drive and 2-point conversion with forty seconds left. The boys put up a strong fight and, with the assistance of every player on the team, the boys pulled through and took the win from the previous year's Division 1 Championship qualifiers.

"Football is the most important thing in my life, other than my family," said Brennan Souhrada, senior captain. "The team and I put so much time into this that people don't understand. There is something about this sport that separates it from all the others."

Megan Farnan, senior defender and second year captain, inserts a ball on the corner into the circle. Farnan was a vital component to the defensive portion of the team, giving her all in both practices and games to bring her team to success during her senior season. Farnan was awarded with the All-Conference title this season.

1. Sarah Trupp, senior and All-County recipient, brings the ball away from Bay Shore's goal to pass to the forwards. Sarah was a key part of the teams defense this season. 2. Grace Hickey, senior captain, drives the ball down the field into the offensive zone. Hickey, All-County award recipient, scored ten goals and recorded nine assists this season, including her game-winning goal against Commack. 3. Lauren Niemann, senior, calls the girls to huddle together at half time to talk about plays and improvements for the remainder of the game, ensuring a win for the team. Niemann was also awarded the All-Conference title during her senior season. 4. Deijah Faulkner, senior goalie, watches the ball move up and down the field so she can prepare to stay on her feet and stop the ball during a goal-attempt. Faulkner had 82 saves this season and received the All-Division Goalie award. 5. Kristina Conte, senior, hits the ball up the field to clear it from their defending side. Along with Trupp and Faulkner, Conte played a huge role on the defensive end of the team during her senior season.

HIGHLIGHTS

After last year's season of rebuilding, the field hockey team's intensity and hard work paid off in the 2015 season. The girls came back stronger than ever this year, proving their hard work and dedication with a 7-9 record, a big improvement from last year, when their record was 3-12.

"My favorite memory was at an away game when we stayed to watch the JV game; we all bonded and watched the girls play," said Aleeza Shakeel, senior.

Their game against Commack on September 19th was a breakthrough for the team, winning 1-0, after Grace Hickey, senior captain, scored the winning goal from the high-left on an assist from Sarah Trupp, senior, with 2:30 left on the clock. Deijah Faulkner, senior goalie, had nine saves during this game. Every girl played a vital role in the success of the team in their tough game against Commack.

"We had a couple of games where we turned the game around and fought back hard. Playing the most competitive teams was challenging in and of itself, but we kept our cool," said Scarlett Leone, senior. "We kept our own and from all of the experience from this year, next year's team will be nothing short of successful."

Every team has its own rituals, the field hockey team being no exception. The intense attitude of the team fires up the girls, beginning the night before a game.

"The night before, we try to have a pasta party to 'carb-up' before a game. On game day we either wear BSVFH apparel or dress up nicely," said Bailey Kaufman, senior midfielder. "Every game each girl exchanges with their big or little before we start. It gets us pumped up and gives us a boost of energy before playing."

Kevin Otto, senior captain, concentrates on the net as he kicks the ball to score the winning goal for the Marauder's game against Newfield. Otto, a two-year veteran on the team, scored five goals during his senior season and received the all-league award.

1. Kevin Martinez, junior captain, looks for an open player to side pass the ball, leading the team closer to scoring a goal. During his junior season, Martinez received the Offensive Player of the Year award, the Golden Boot award, and the Fourth Year Varsity award, in addition to being featured by Newsday in the Long Island's Top 50 Players section. 2. Sergine Fallou Sow, senior, dodges a defender, leading the team down the field while thinking fast in order to score a goal. Sow scored one goal this season, in addition to receiving the Most Improved Player award. 3. Anthony Sblendorio, senior captain, follows his opponent's actions in order to block a shot. Sblendorio recorded 126 saves and received the All-Conference honor for his performance during his senior season. 4. Brian Silhan, senior, looks down the field for an open player to assist a goal. Not only was Silhan a vital component to the soccer team during his senior season, receiving the "Unsung Hero" award, but he was also a key player for the football team, playing as the team's kicker. 5. Joe Arcuri, senior captain, defends the ball from a midfielder from Newfield, stopping him from receiving the ball. Arcuri scored one goal this season and received two Coaches' awards and an All-County Academics award.

HIGHLIGHTS

Beating their rivals, Northport, for the first time since 2009 on their Senior Day game, the boys ended their season with a win, with a final season record of 6-10.

"We lost to Northport at their home, and we beat them on our most special day. I also felt like I played a great game," said Victor Tasayco, senior midfielder. "I was sad because I was playing the sport I love for the last time in high school."

The feeling that their last season was coming to a close loomed around every senior on the team, but it only made the boys, seniors and underclassmen, work harder to finish off a successful season.

"Being on the soccer team was a great experience overall. I learned a lot from the coaches as well as the guys on the team; I won't forget this year," said Michael Marques, senior fullback and forward. "Our senior game had a great vibe from start to finish and a great way to end our season with a win."

After being on the team for three years, Jonathan Galeano, senior, finally played his last season as a Marauder, proving to be a vital part of the team, as both a player and an encouraging teammate.

"It was very emotional for me because I'm so close with my teammates that I consider them my brothers. Even though we weren't as successful as I wanted us to be, there were many great memories to be made," said Galeano, defender. "The most memorable part of this season was our senior game. We knew we had to play hard to win our last game, especially for us seniors, but the team coming together and beating Northport on our own turf was a memory I will never forget."

Sofia Leone, senior captain, runs along side her Central Islip opponent as they fight for possession of the ball. Leone has been a member of the varsity soccer team for six years and recorded four goals and two assists this season.

1. Fatou Barry, junior and captain, traps the ball to gain control of it, getting ready to move towards the goal. Barry, scored four goals during her junior season and has been on the team for three years. 2. Talani Barnett, sophomore, dodges her opponent attempting to move down the field towards the goal. Barnett was a vital component to the team, scoring six goals and recording eight assists throughout the season, as well as adding her athleticism and drive to the positive attitude of the team. 3. Molly Dowd, junior, finds an open teammate to pass the ball to in order to get the ball closer to the goal. Dowd recorded three goals and three assists during her first year on the team. 4. Keonjah Nugent, junior, takes a breather after an exhausting first half of the game. Nugent scored four goals this season, adding immensely to the team's success. 5. Brenda Franco, junior, dribbles the ball up the field towards the opponents' goal. Franco recorded one goal and one assist; her passion for the sport pushed the team into their first playoff game in over a decade.

HIGHLIGHTS

In their game against Half Hollow Hills East on October 7, the girls' soccer team showed that they were here to compete.

"Going into the game I felt nervous but at the same time it was so exciting because we only needed one more win to qualify for playoffs," said Aryanna Ramsaran, senior.

Nicole Chimienti, junior, scored the last goal in the last minutes of the game, making the score 1-0, securing their spot in playoffs.

"I was filled with happiness, the whole team was crying with joy," said Ashley Navas, senior. "I was so proud to be a part of an amazing team who fought to the last minute of that game."

This game secured the girls' spot in playoffs, making Bay Shore history by being the first Bay Shore Girls Varsity Soccer team to make playoffs in over a decade, though they lost that post season game 0-1 in overtime after putting up a huge fight against the opposing team.

"Being on the team since I was a freshman and watching us try so hard over the years, it was amazing to see us finally reach our ultimate goal after so many years," said Chandler Perrino, senior captain. "This season we turned from teammates to family; good chemistry allows you to play well as a team."

HIGHLIGHTS

After losing the first two sets in their game against Ward Melville at home on September 17, the boys came back with the high energy of the crowd and won the next three sets, winning the game.

"Like last year's game against Lindenhurst, we were able to pull each other up and come back three games for the win," said Kevin Yack, senior. "Without the help of our fans, we wouldn't have been able to come back and steal the win, and continue our undefeated home streak."

The crowd supported the "Money Team" at every game, home or away. Some games, like their last game against Sachem East on October 26, the crowd wore all white to show unified support for the boys.

"The crowd played a clear role in helping us to keep an undefeated home record for two and a half seasons," said Rory O'Connor, junior. "The team would often feed off the energy of our supporters and in turn we used that energy to play with more intensity and passion."

Six seniors will graduate from the team this year, leaving the team in the hands of the younger boys in the coming seasons.

"We came together as a team and a family more than I ever would have expected," said Nic Moreira, senior. "I know [the younger boys] are dedicated, through my observations; I believe that they are ready for one more year just like I was when I was in their position."

Alex Russo, senior libero, returns an opponent's serve as she sets the ball to one of her teammates. Russo had 442 digs and 34 aces this season. Beginning in 2016, Russo will continue her volleyball career at Iona College.

1. Ariel Beane, junior, back sets the ball to her teammate, Jamie Soldinger, in a game against Connetquot. Beane had 334 assists during the 2015 season and was a key part in unifying the team on and off the court. 2. Grace Pirkl, sophomore, tips the ball over Connetquot's block. Pirkl had 83 assists in her debut season on varsity volleyball. 3. The teammates huddle up during a time out to discuss their plan in the upcoming play so that they can pull through a win on their home court. During the regular 2015 fall season the team won six of their seven home matches. 4. Rachel Duran, junior, digs the ball along side her senior teammate Alex Russo; the duo kept the rally going and ultimately prevented the opposing team from scoring a point. The two were virtually unstoppable together when they were playing back row. 5. Jamie Soldinger, senior and captain, completes her spike approach in attempt to make kill and score a point for her team. Soldinger had 300 kills this season.

HIGHLIGHTS

At their Smithtown West tournament, the girls took a set from the undefeated team and only lost by two.

"Every practice and game was something that will stay with me forever, however the Smithtown tournament will forever hold a special place in my heart," said Alex Russo, senior. "I think that was when we finally clicked as a team and it brought us together so much."

This year the team was very young, pulling up two eighth graders to play on the varsity team. However, with the support and camaraderie of the older girls, the younger teammates were able to learn the ways of the team.

"I was very nervous in the beginning, since we pulled up two eighth graders, but they matured throughout the season and we took them under our wings," said Jamie Soldinger, senior. "I'm so sad that I will never step foot on the court as a Marauder again, but this season was amazing."

Although she missed the last half of preseason and the first three games of her senior season due to injuries, Ruth Philip, senior, encouraged and supported her team from the sidelines, until she came back and finished her last season as a Marauder.

"When I was finally cleared, I was more than ready to play in the fourth game and excited to contribute all that I could to help my team be the best we could be for the rest of the season," said Philip. "We took the atmosphere and trust we had and brought it to the court."

Jeffrey Reyes, senior, sprints to the finish line to win the first dual meet of the season against Connetquot. Reyes placed first in all but two dual meets this season, recording a personal best 5k time of 15:55.

HIGHLIGHTS

Jeffrey Reyes, senior, rose up to the challenge and led the team. He won the first two dual meets against Connetquot and Walt Whitman, ran a 16:45 in the 5K at the Lehigh Invitational in Pennsylvania, ran a 13:22 for 2.5 miles at Van Cortlandt Park, and placed 8th at the Brown Invitational.

"I did so well because of all my training and there were so many colleges watching me run too," said Reyes. Reyes made the All-County team this season.

Brandon Cotto, senior captain, also had a stand out moment this season when he ran a 14:50 at Van Cortlandt Park.

"When I do well in a race, it's like the clouds and rain cleared and peace comes over my head," said Cotto. "I have a lot of fun at first, but then that feeling of 'I'm going to do even better next time' fills me with determination."

At the Brown Invitational, both Cotto and Reyes had meets to remember; Reyes placed 8th, followed by Cotto. Both showed incredible endurance throughout the race.

"I love the course there because it is fast and hilly," said Cotto. "It hurts like crazy when running up these hills, but it's an amazing feeling after going over them," said Reyes.

Bridget Kanaley, junior, and Ally Peck, senior and captain, push each other side by side in the last 50 meters of their race. The duo received All-League and Academic All-County honors.

HIGHLIGHTS

For Jasmin Reyes, senior, it was being named the most outstanding runner at the Suffolk Coaches meet at Sunken Meadow State Park on October 3rd, 2015.

"I felt good the whole time I was running," said Reyes. "I didn't realize how fast I ran that day until I looked up and saw the time when I crossed the finish line."

For Ally Peck, senior, the Manhattan Invitational on October 9th was especially rewarding, as the girls placed first out of thirty-one teams, moving the team to 13th in the state.

"My personal best this season for a 5k is 20:15 at the Paul Short Invitational at Lehigh University. [but] I'm looking to go under 21 minutes at our home course, Sunken Meadow, in order to become All-County," said Peck. "Our team hopes to go on to win the county championship in all three seasons of cross country, and indoor and outdoor track."

At the Brown Invitational on October 17th, Daniela Pinzon, senior, had her time to shine, running a 20:39 for a 5k. Along with Reyes, Pinzon showed true determination at the Suffolk Coaches Meet, as she placed second in the junior varsity race.

"My coach is definitely my biggest motivation and just the whole team," said Pinzon. "Everyone is striving to do their bests so that motivates me to want to do my best in whatever I'm running."

Sarah Giuliani, senior captain, prepares for teammate Emma Sims, senior captain, to approach the wall before she dives in to swim butterfly for the 200 meter medley relay. Both swimmers went on to earn the All-League title in the 400 meter freestyle relay, advancing into the post season.

1. Kameron Christie, senior, completes an inward tuck during a swim meet against Half Hallow Hills. During her first year on the team, Christie placed first in 6 out of 8 meets, qualified for both the league and county championships, and was a major team player, helped by her strong gymnastics background. Christie broke the long-standing school record for 1 meter diving, with a score of 201.3. 2. Cameron Luquer, junior and captain, prepares for her meet against William Floyd by practicing her backstroke start. Luquer competed in both the league and county championships, also receiving an All-League title in the 400 meter freestyle relay. 3. Approaching the wall on her final lap of the 100 meter butterfly, Daniella Nieves, senior, takes a breath. Nieves has been a part of the swim team for six years, with an overall personal best of 1:02 in the 100 meter butterfly, leading her to the county championship meet. 4. Autumn Kitchens, senior, raises her head above water for air during the 100 meter breaststroke. Kitchens was recognized for her sportsmanship and positive attitude; she ran along side the pool every meet cheering on both her teammates and the opposing team. 5. During her first year on the team Kayla Christie, senior, dives into the pool to commence the 50 meter freestyle in a meet at home. Christie put in a constant effort day in and day out, which, when paired with her natural athleticism, allowed her to win the Most Improved Award for the 2015 season.

HIGHLIGHTS

After starting off their season with a splash, recording two consecutive wins against Central Islip and West Babylon, the camaraderie on the "Baywood" swim team allowed the seniors to experience a memorable last season.

"I'm excited to move on and take the next step in my life, but it was also quite sad," said Autumn Kitchens, senior. "Going to practice and hanging out with everyone was sometimes the best part of my day."

The 2015 swimming season was one of the best in years, finishing with a record of 3-5, sending girls to both the league and county championships in the post-season.

"After four years on the team, it was an amazing feeling to finally swim a full season, which was certainly a memorable experience for me," said Emma Sims, senior captain. "The league championship meet was bittersweet; it was my last meet swimming as a Marauder, but topping off my senior season with an All-League title in the 400 meter freestyle relay made the four years worth every minute."

On November 7th, Sarah Giuliani, senior and captain, along with some of her teammates, competed in the Suffolk County Championships. Giuliani swam in the one individual event and three relays.

"I am honored to say that I have been a member of the team since the 7th grade. Every year on the team brought new accomplishments, friendships, and memories," said Giuliani. "The county championship was surreal. Walking off the pool deck for the last time left me nostalgic."

Sam Preston, senior and four-year varsity golfer, watches his ball fly down the fairway, landing nearly 260 yards away from the tee. Preston's best score this season was 38 on 9 holes, proving him to be one of the top players at Bay Shore. Preston, along with McLoughlin, qualified for the 2016 County golf match.

HIGHLIGHTS

Although they lost their first match 2-7, it got the ball rolling for the rest of the season.

"The most exciting is probably going out to Southward Ho for the first match of the year," said Sam Preston, senior. "Playing the first match is definitely the highlight of the year."

There are no named captains on the team, yet some upperclassmen naturally gravitate towards leadership positions.

"It is clear that a few of the team members tend to assume the position due to their leadership," said Peter Hoffman, junior. "Tom McLoughlin is this figure and he expresses it by motivating the team to always try our best and work on our skills as well."

Captain-like figure Tom McLoughlin, senior, finished off his season with a record of 6-5. On average, McLoughlin shot .33 above par. Whether the ball was on the fairway or in the bunker, he was able get it onto the green.

"My goal at the beginning of the season was to win more of my matches than I lost, and I met my goal," said McLoughlin. "I qualified for counties in the spring along with some other teammates. Overall it was a great season."

2. Amy Schlusser, senior, serves the ball to her opponent during her Mt. Sinai match. Schlusser recieved All-County honors during her senior season and has been on varsity for three years.

HIGHLIGHTS

During the fall tennis season, the team saw every senior recieve a league honor, in addition to having the team compete in playoffs.

"Playoffs are the best part of the year," said Jenny Stickney, senior. "I got to play almost every match [this season] and I got the chance to play doubles, which was new to me."

Throughout the season, the team overall had a record of 9-8. Their toughest opponent being Half Hollow Hills East.

"Half Hollow Hills East was our toughest opponent this year due to how skilled they were as a team," said Jenny Holz, senior.

In her match against West Islip Amy Schlusser, senior and captain, won the first set, lost the second, and played a tiebreak for the third set, winning it with a score of 7-5. Schlusser, although having never gone to a deuce all season, ended her season with a record of 17-5.

"We all played really well and put a lot of effort in," said Schlusser. "There are plenty of talented juniors and sophomores that will play very well next year."

HIGHLIGHTS

When October 23th rolled around, the county wondered which team would finish undefeated - Commack or Bay Shore, both undefeated thus far in the season.

Despite both Commack's and Bay Shore's pristine record, Coach Robin Thomas and the team believed they could come out victorious.

"I would contribute the team's success to our coach Robin," said Hayden Davidson, junior. "She believed that we could be undefeated and stuck with that from beginning to end."

Although Commack ended up winning the meet, the Bay Shore team was able to raise over 300 dollars for breast cancer research. The team would also be going head-to-head once again in team counties a few weeks later.

"Although we ended up placing second in counties, I am still proud of what my team accomplished," said Mattea Gravina, junior.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Bay Shore sailing team had its best season in the history of the program. At the first regatta of the season, the team won the competition in both the A and B divisions, sweeping the regatta.

"We strive to continue the run of success into next year and improving thereafter," said Sean Linden, junior, captain and three-year team member. Members of the team contributed their success to the chemistry and close camaraderie of the team.

The sailing team continued to surprise their competition. The team placed 5th out of 19 highly competitive teams from all over the tri-state area at the regional event, where they sailed at the nearby state university, SUNY Maritime, earning the team the title of being second in the league.

"We had regattas every weekend for the whole season, which was way more than we've attended before," said Matt Taylor, senior and four year varsity team member.

Joy Norris and Devine Obasa, seniors, enjoy watching the Black History Month presentation. Norris and Obasa both helped coordinate the workshops this year.

1. A group of boys pose for the camera while listening to the music of the Hypnotic Brass Ensemble. The Ensemble was responsible for recording the song "War," which was featured in the movie Mockingjay: Part 2. The boys were excited to see both the keynote speaker and the ensemble during the assembly. 2. Victoria Fargas, senior, introduces the Hypnotic Brass Ensemble at the Black History Month assembly. Fargas was thrilled to be a part of the Black History Month assembly this year, along with Quentin Thomson, senior. 3. A group of students dance and cheer while listening to the Hypnotic Brass Ensemble perform for everyone. The band encouraged interaction with the audience allowing for the students to clap and dance along to the music. 4. Marley Davidson, freshman, makes a peace sign to show support for the Hypnotic Brass Ensemble. Davidson was possibly the most lively student in the audience; he danced and waved his hands to every song performed. 5. Mr. Johnson, the coordinator for Black History Month and social studies teacher, interviews the Editor-in-Chief for Vibe Magazine, Mr. Datwon Thomas, live for the students at Bay Shore High School. Many students in the audience, such as Clarissa Vanderpool and Rory O'Conner, presented questions to Mr. Thomas as well. 6. Clarissa Vanderpool, junior, participated in the assembly and asked the keynote speaker, Mr.

HIGHLIGHTS

Black History Month is an opportunity to contribute to the diversity we see in the school. Several students helped out with the presentations this year, including Quentin Thomson, senior.

"I would like to help in any way possible to spread the powerful messages that these presentations behold," said Thomson. "It is a cause of great importance, and I would like to communicate this message to my generation."

The presenters at the assembly this year included Datwon Thomas, Editor-In-Chief for Vibe Magazine, and the Hypnotic Brass Ensemble.

"Students get to see successful people who followed their dreams firsthand and it reinforces the value of education and working hard," said Devine Obasa, senior. "It really helps put things into perspective and motivates me to never give up."

Black History Month is a celebration for the achievements of African Americans and it teaches students to embrace other cultures in a school as diverse as Bay Shore High School.

"Black History Month teaches kids about the culture that we don't learn in school," said Christian Lindquist, senior. "My favorite part of Black History Month was the assembly because the band was talking about music, which we can all relate to."

Senior Banquet

Jeffery Reyes, senior, is lifted up by the class of 2016 to crowd surf on the dance floor during senior banquet. Though the experience was short lived, the class of 2016 laughed as they passed Reyes around the crowd from one student to the next before being told crowd surfing is not permitted.

1. Erin McArdle and Michael Lepore, seniors, share a laugh while they dance hand-in-hand at Senior Banquet. The couple enjoyed their night together with the rest of the seniors in attendance during one of the most memorable senior events of the year. 2. Matt Hobbes, Steven Quirino, and Jenny Stickney, seniors, smile for the camera at senior banquet after taking a break from the dance floor. The trio were spotted laughing and dancing together all night long and making the final moments of their high school years count. 3. Samantha Denton, Felicia Bucciero, and Isabella Cusano, seniors, sit together in between dances as they eat their dinner. The trio was later spotted dancing together to the song Shout, by The Isley Brothers. 4. A group of senior boys gather around to socialize and compliment each other's "dapper" outfits. Having spent all of high school alongside one another, the group was happy to take a picture to help them commemorate their fun filled memories, especially those they made the night of banquet. 5. A group of seniors pose for a "squad picture" in between finishing their dinner and preparing to re-enter the dance floor. Following the conclusion of banquet, the friends met up at Applebee's for Half-Apps to continue the night of laughter and fun. 6. ## HIGHLIGHTS

On February 25th, the senior class came together at Captain Bill's for the annual Senior Banquet, organized by the senior class officers and other students.

"It felt awesome to dance in front of everyone, it made me super happy and it made me actually feel a part of this class," said Joe DiLegge, senior. "I like dancing and everyone likes it too. Banquet was pretty fun and was a good time."

DiLegge parted the entire senior class and danced in the middle of a circle, impressing the attendees as they watched in awe. Occasionally another student would come in and join him as they danced the night away.

"Honestly, banquet was a great time. I think the fact that it was one of the last times our whole class got to spend time with each other really resonated with everyone, and people stepped out of their comfort zone," said Evan Ambos, senior. "These are the people we've grown up with and spent countless days with for the past twelve years; it was cool to see everyone let loose."

Banquet was almost like a last hurrah for the seniors of 2016. With only senior picnic and senior prom around the corner, the students are all reminiscing and spending their last senior moments together.

"I thought that banquet was a great time," said Brandon Fuchs, senior. "It was kind of bittersweet because it made me realize that senior year is coming to an end and I'm leaving my friends for college soon."

Cardenas has been on the varsity team for two years and has been a major asset to the team. 3. Members of the team watch the game eagerly, warmed up ready to go in at any given moment. The motivation from the girls on the sidelines was important to the success of the girls on the court. 4. Fatou Barry, junior, makes her way around the court, dribbling the ball on the opposite side of her defender to prevent a steal. Barry played a key role as shooting guard this season. 5. Kaylah Napolitano, senior, looks up to watch her teammates move around and get open as she pivots to find an open teammate, ensuring a basket for Bay Shore. Napolitano has been on the team for two years.

HIGHLIGHTS

The girls basketball team finished off its season with a win against Connetquot. Although they lost some graduating players, the girls did not let that affect the game, the team as a whole, or their attitudes. They went into each game like it was going to be their best.

"I don't believe in a ritual before a game. I think every game should be a new start and forget about the last," said senior Kaylah Napolitano. "We handle trailing with stride. It may get us at the beginning, but we realize we're a unit. We all know that we must make a comeback and be strong for each other."

Ruth Philip and Kaylah Napolitano, seniors, have been key players this season. Unfortunately, this was their last year playing basketball for Bay Shore. However, it made them play that much harder and leave nothing behind on the court.

"My senior season was filled with a lot of ups and downs. It was my first year back from not playing since ninth grade, so I had a lot of catching up to do, but everyone on the team made me feel so welcome and helped me out the best they could," said Ruth Philip, senior. "I'm so glad I came back to play and would not give up the experience for anything."

Victoria Pierce, junior point guard, scored her 1000th career point on January 29th 2016, at a home game against Lindenhurst. In that game alone, she scored 34 points to contribute to the win. Throughout this season Pierce has scored 26 three-point shots out of the 48 the Bay Shore team has made as a whole.

"Some teams have certain weaknesses so you have to play them based on that," said Pierce.

Shala's height of 6'4" gives him the advantage of high passing over many of the players. 3. Anthony Simpson, Qendrim Shala,

Kevin Hilton, RJ Zaman, Devin Barnett, Saviion Haskins and TayQuan Jackson, cheer from the sideline and root their teammates on just before halftime. At their game against Sachem North, the boys' sportsmanship from the sidelines helped motivate those on the court to finish off the game strong. 4. Kyree Sawyer, junior and captain, makes a break and dashes down the sideline to pass to a teammate in order to score a point against Sachem North. 5. Darien Walcott, junior, dribbles between his legs, pulling some skills out against Sachem North. Bay Shore won their game against Sachem North 63-57.

HIGHLIGHTS

The boys basketball team finished out their season very successfully with a record of 13-4 for their regular season and went as far as the second round of the playoffs.

"The first Central Islip game was a huge win, because we haven't won against them in a while, so it was a very successful win," said Jose Rivera, junior. "It set the tone for a successful season."

Not only did the boys make it through a successful regular season, but also into the post-season, thanks to new coach CJ Leary.

"We watched a lot of film to figure out where we as a team were most weak and worked on fixing the holes," said TayQuan Jackson, senior. "It was a huge group effort that ultimately resulted in a very successful win, since it was the first time in two years we've beaten them."

As the season wound down, the team was able to make it to their second round of playoffs, an exciting feat for the boys.

"I was proud to be a part of the basketball program because we have a history of being successful and we showed it this year," said Devin Barnett, senior. "I would have wished we made it to the championship and won the second round in playoffs, but I know that the team will get it next year."

Coach Borbet has officially stepped down as head coach and Coach Borrromeo has stepped in. Even with the tough shoes to fill, the girls and Coach Borrromeo stepped up to the plate.

"The team worked very hard this season," said Kayla Christie, senior. Christie threw the shot 32'4" and threw the weight 36'10". "Although we didn't accomplish everything we wanted to, we were successful and there's always room for improvement."

Many of the girls who run winter track also compete in the outdoor spring season. The season will kick off with the Ross Goldin meet at Bay Shore on March 26th.

"I couldn't be happier with the hardwork and dedication my teammates and I have put in this past season," said Sara Farnan, senior and captain. Farnan has been on the team since 7th grade and her personal best is a 7:25 for the 1500 meter racewalk. "I've been privileged to be part of this team since 7th grade and I can't wait to put my best effort into my last season."

Although it's the seniors' last season running with the team, many are looking forward to the busy spring season filled with invitationals, especially after the busy winter season that was full of meets at the Armory.

"This past season has exceeded my expectations; it was the best season I've had in a while, and I got a lot of new personal bests," said Lizzy Keach, senior. Keach's personal best in the 1500 meter run was 5:36. "The season was so bittersweet, being it was our last winter season and that we love the team so much."

HIGHLIGHT

The boys track team always contributes to Bay Shore's strong athletic program. Recently, the boys have really picked up their pace. At the Section XI County Championship, the team placed 3rd. The 4x800 meter relay placed 1st in the County Championship finals, with a time of 8:24.27.

"Before every meet, the first thing I do is at home I put on my lucky socks," said Justin Ortega, senior. "About an hour before I run, I do light stretching and drills a half hour before I run and someone helps me stretch my legs more intensely."

Every runner has a favorite event, whether it's a sprint or long distance, or even a team-based relay in a largely individual sport.

"My favorite event is the 4x400 meter relay because it gets very exciting and usually comes down to the wire," said Kaleb Mann, senior.

Every race is different, but there's no doubt that each runner will find one to specialize in, which happens to be different for almost everyone.

"My race is the 200 meter dash because it is so fast and you have to stay focused to do well," said DeAndre Knight, senior. "I got into track when my friend Kaleb saying, 'yo let's join track this year,' and now I've been running for two years."

HIGHLIGHTS

The cheerleading team officially became a sport, recognized by the NYSPHSAA, in 2014. The girls were ecstatic to know that their lifestyle was finally considered a sport.

"I have been on the varsity team for four years now. I've been cheerleading since I was 5 years old and it's been the only thing that brings me pure happiness," said Sam Palulis, senior and captain. "All friendships I've made and the memories is what has made me continue this sport all throughout high school."

The girls cheered at every football game and basketball game, as well as competed at several of their own competitions throughout the fall and winter.

"Before football games we always would have team breakfasts together and before competitions we would have pasta parties," said Paola Goetz, senior. "We also have a group chat that we constantly speak in."

The girls spend every season together, allowing them to grow closer, almost like family.

"We start training in the summer for our fall and winter season," said Holly Schoberl, senior and captain. "We have to have a lot of endurance and strength to jump, tumble, and stunt."

Fabio Espinal, senior and captain, who recieved All-league honors, dominates his opponent from West Babylon. Espinal went 34-7 this year and was a league finalist.

1. Anthony Sblendorio, senior, pins his opponent's wrist against the mat. Sblendorio wrestled in the 170 weight class this year and had an overall record of 33-6. Furthermore, he was a league finalist this year. 2. Dhanyul Brooks, senior, scores 6 points for Bay Shore by pinning his opponent in dominant fashion.

Brooks had an overall record of 24-11 and went All-League. 3. Members of the wrestling team, including seniors Owen Pacifico, Joe Reilly, and Dhanyul Brooks, sit ready to watch their captain Fabio Espinal, senior, take on his opponent from West Babylon. In this match, he won in under 50 seconds, advancing the team's score to 59-21. 4. Azeez Oluwa, junior and captain, stares down his opponent in his first varsity wrestling match. Oluwa played an important leadership role throughout the season. 5. Carlos Espinal, sophomore, wrestles through a bloody nose and still manages to get on top of his opponent and win his match. Espinal went 27-11 in his first ever year on varsity.

SCOREBOARD

West Babylon	59-21	W
Walt Whitman	51-24	W
Connetquot	39-25	W
Sachem North	44-26	L
Central Islip	36-30	W
Northport	52-16	W
Lindenhurst	54-15	L

HIGHLIGHTS

The season started off against West Babylon. Although the match ended in a win for Bay Shore, it was one of the toughest losses they would deal with this season. The team lost captain Azeez Oluwa, junior, to a devastating knee injury that occurred just moments after he stepped onto the mat for what would be the last time this year.

"We were all extremely bummed out, especially me since he was my co-captain and drilling partner," said Fabio Espinal, senior. "Everybody had very high hopes for him and it was upsetting that those weren't able to come true this season."

The team would bounce back from this moral loss with wins against Walt Whitman and Connetquot consecutively. Due to this loss, members of the team were forced to pick up the pace.

"I had a goal of being All-league and being able to complete in counties my senior year, so I worked to achieve that," said Joe Reilly, senior. Reilly pinned seven of the 34 opponents he faced and had an overall record of 20-14.

Despite the loss of co-captain Oluwa, the team powered through the season and the boys kept it together, ending their season with a record of 5-2 in their matches.

Natalie Knapp, senior, focuses on the pins down the lane as she releases the ball. Knapp had a personal best this year of 172.

HIGHLIGHTS

The girls on the bowling team were extremely dedicated with tremendous sportsmanship during their season of rebuilding, as four seniors had graduated in 2015.

"We didn't win, but it was more about getting the new team members into the sport and learning how to bowl as best they can by putting action on the ball and hoping to get a strike," said Natalie Knapp, senior and captain. "The best part of bowling for me is really getting to know new people and getting to be on a team with people who really just want to make sure everyone's having fun."

The camaraderie of the teammates motivated every girl to bowl her best and allowed everyone to enjoy their season.

"The loss of the graduates of last year did affect the team because the seniors were huge encouragers and changed the environment when they began to talk," said Samantha Romero, senior. "The team is very supportive; we positively reinforce each other and we have great sportsmanship, which I hope never fades from the team."

1. Won Han, junior, perfects his approach while maintaining his balance and center of gravity. Han has been on the team since 9th grade, but supporting it since 7th grade. 2. Mike Lamanno, junior, finishes his backswing with a dab, earning him some style points in his throw.

HIGHLIGHTS

On December 9th and 10th, the boys bowling team competed in matches against Deer Park and Copiague. Brandon Guerin became the first person in Bay Shore history to bowl a perfect game, not just once, but twice.

"A lot of luck happens to bowl a perfect game, but it was mostly skill," said Brandon Guerin, senior. "I decided to bowl this year and now I don't regret it at all; I've only been bowling for two and a half years."

Brandon's accomplishment inspired the team and definitely built their confidence for the rest of the season.

"When Brandon bowled the first 300, it made us think that we could really go somewhere this season, and after he bowled the second one, it was surreal," said Kyle Bzydk, senior. "The team exceeded my expectations because, even though we did not have the best record, we made it to counties, which I think is amazing."

With such a great season for the team, the team definitely has high hopes for the next winter bowling season.

"Next year, with only losing two seniors, we are going to take the division as well as train extremely hard this off season to make a stand next year," said Won Han, junior. "The bowling team making counties marked a turn for Bay Shore and gave a drive for next season."

Retirees

Denise Watford

Ms. Watford began her teaching career in 1979 as a substitute teacher and a year later was hired as a Special Education teacher. Denise came to Bay Shore in 2006 where she started as Instructional Supervisor and rose to Assistant Principal. "High School is a time for exploration. Take advantage of amazing electives, clubs and activities that we offer to find your niche."

Linda Scalice

Ms. Scalice began her teaching career in 1978 at St. John the Baptist HS and came to Bay Shore on July 1, 2005 as director for World Language, ESL and Dual Language. "Believe in yourself and don't let anyone tell you that you can't!! Back when I graduated HS there was a glut of teachers and everyone told me to change my decision to study education in college. I didn't and am so glad because I've spent 38 years doing something I love!

Carolyn Sce-Smith

Ms. Sce-Smith had her first student teaching job in Bay Shore in 1990 and never left. In addition to teaching, she participated in several clubs and activities and worked with incoming freshmen. "Always believe in yourself! Follow your passion!

You can do it and you will be very successful!"

Rose Norman

Ms. Norman came to Bay Shore in 1982 where she has had many roles including Resource Room Teacher, Self Contained Teacher, PM School (AIS Coordinator), SAT/ACT Testing Coordinator, Peer Review Teacher, Academic Eligibility Advisor, Literacy

Skills Teacher and positions on various committees. "Keep your mind focused on your goal. Don't let anyone tell you that you can't do something. Each day is a blessing."

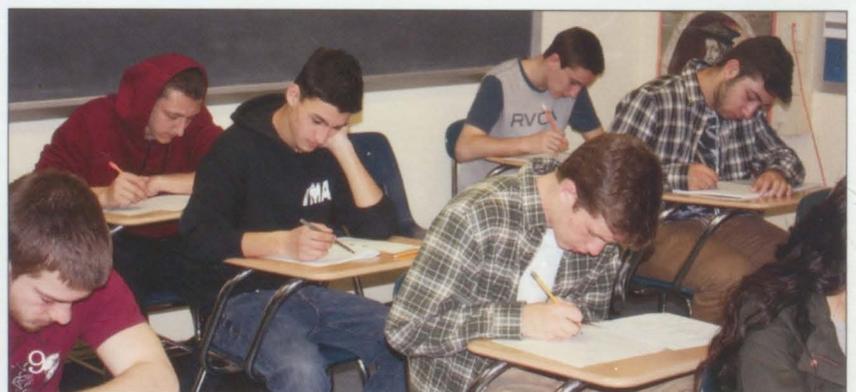

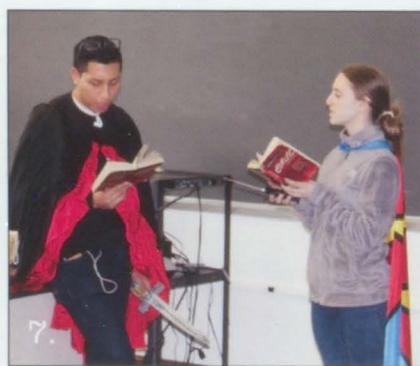

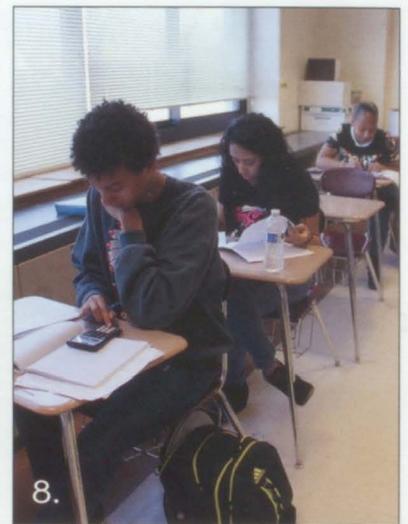

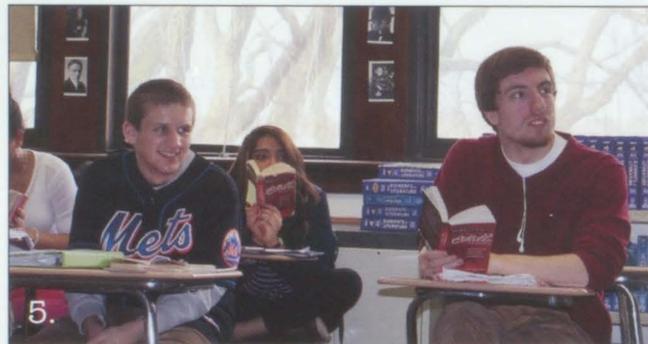

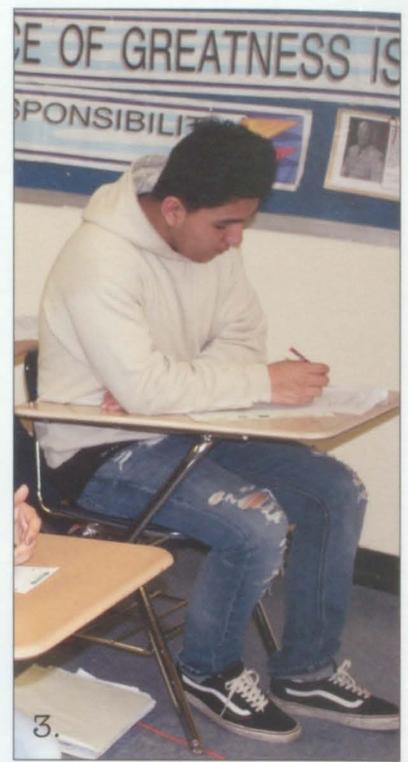

Maggie Cohen

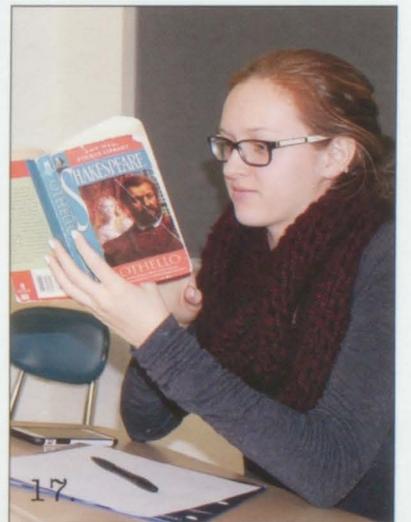

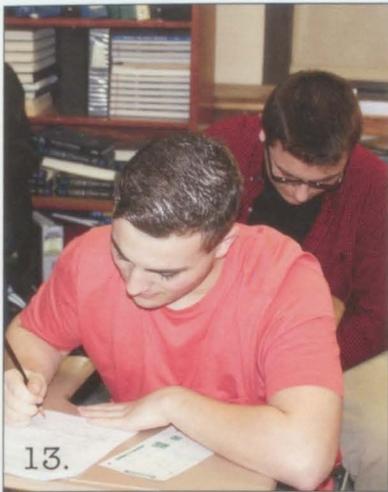

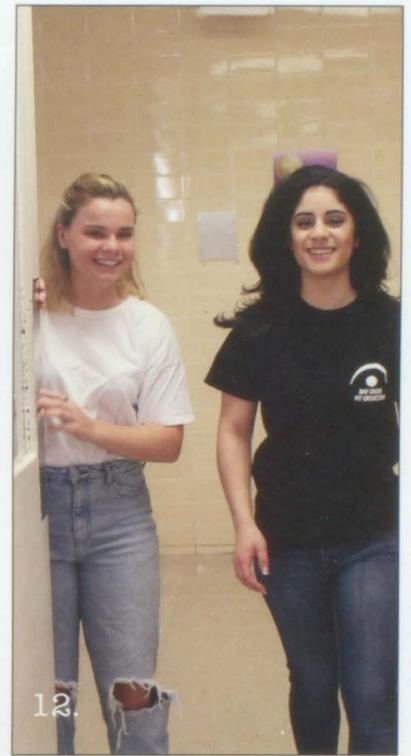

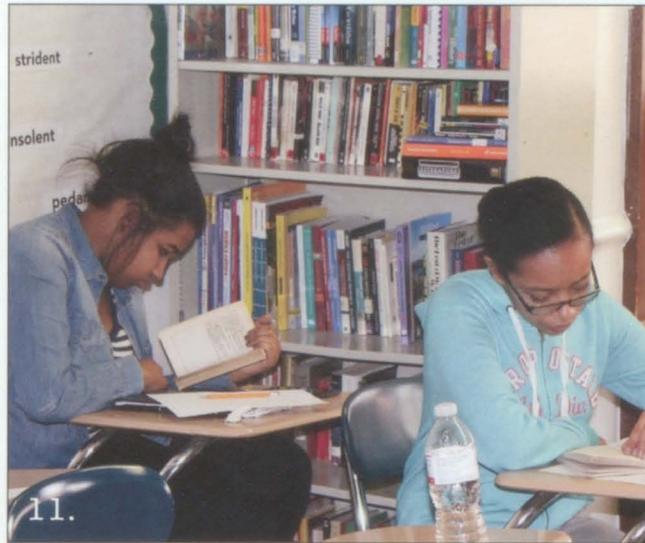

Ms. Cohen began teaching in Bayport/Blue Point and after four years came to Bay Shore in 1986. As a Special Education teacher, she has taught resource room, departmentalized self contained and class within a class.

"I've tried to convince students that there is always someone out there who can help if they're struggling. Find those adults and use their knowledge and experience to help yourself."

HIGHLIGHTS

As a club that welcomes all, Art Club is a way to create sculptures and other projects, from class or an individual project, and allow students to express themselves through art.

"I enjoy it because new people come to art club every week, so it's nice to meet other people who have different interests and styles," said Jordie Pellman, senior and president of Art Club.

Because the club is so diverse, members are able to make friendships with new people and witness different art styles.

"Mr. Scinto is a really cool teacher," said Blas Merino, senior and secretary of the club. "I really enjoyed Art Club because it offered me a lot of new opportunities for friendships and experiences."

AHA members inform the middle schoolers about the harmful effects of drinking and driving. AHA allows upperclassman to educate and encourage those younger than themselves.

HIGHLIGHTS

Athletes Helping Athletes helps high school students set examples for elementary school students of who a successful student athlete should become.

"We hope to set an example for the younger kids in our district and hope they aspire to become such student athletes," said Kevin Otto, senior. "They look up to us immensely, so I believe that the club has a very positive impact on the students."

AHA travels to the elementary and middle school levels to educate the younger grades about bullying and sportsmanship as well as alcohol and drugs.

"The kids are the future and we hope that our club impacts them and allows them to strive for good grades, challenge themselves, and make good decisions," said Megan Farnan, senior.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Backstage Crew built phenomenal sets for the Drama Club's productions of Rumors and Into the Woods.

"I've been a part of Backstage since the 6th grade and have loved every aspect of it," said Matt Caples, senior.

This club has helped students expand their creativity and create set pieces for all the shows.

"I've learned how to be creative, problem solve, and work with others through every show I've done," said Josh Pacella, senior.

When it comes time for the shows, the backstage crew moves the sets for the performances. This gives the chance for the backstage crew to get closer to each other.

"The best part of backstage is the friendship I make with people I probably wouldn't have become friends with," said Ayobami Bakare, senior.

Members of BSOSS sit and watch the Harlem Wizards basketball game that they organized against the teachers. All the profits went towards generating student scholarships.

1. Jenny Holz and Damaris Gomez, seniors, and Mario Vitagliano, junior, help Mrs. Peterson sell raffles at the Harlem Wizards game. In addition to organizing the game, the members fundraised to help fund scholarships.
2. The Bay Shore teachers that participated in the game joke around with the Wizards players.

HIGHLIGHTS

BSOSS, Brothers and Sisters Organization for Student Scholarships, creates and funds student scholarships.

"We all get together to brainstorm ideas on possible fundraisers that would be effective," said Keyara Nicholson, junior. "Depending on the fundraiser we will sell food for some or create stations for club members to run."

The club is run by Ms. Lopez and Mrs. Peterson, and BSOSS has helped many students that are in need of scholarships for college attendees.

"My favorite thing about the Harlem Wizards game was setting it up," said Shaziah Normil, junior. It was really enjoyable especially because I got to speak to the players and get to know a little bit about them."

Chamber

1. Justin Kehati, senior, practices the bass for the winter concert. Chamber allows those who are passionate about orchestra and the music to participate in an after-school orchestra.

2. Matilda Flores, senior, plays the violin at a Chamber rehearsal on a Wednesday night. Flores has been playing the violin for nine years.

Brianna Acevedo and Estefan Perez, seniors, demonstrate their skills as they play the difficult music during a Chamber lesson.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Chamber Orchestra is an elite orchestra that performs in addition to the symphonic orchestra.

"The level of music is much higher than what we do in regular orchestra classes," said Sara Farnan, senior violinist. "I've always enjoyed listening to the chamber orchestra and it's truly an honor to be part of it."

Chamber is a good opportunity for those students who want to advance their skills to participate in an extracurricular orchestra.

"The music we play is challenging, but that helps all of us to further our skills and focus more," said Kaylie Felsberg, senior.

Although Chamber can be a lot of work, it is enjoyable at the same time. Every Wednesday the group gets together for a weekly rehearsal.

"It hasn't been difficult to participate, we all always have a good time together and all practice and try our bests," said Gabby D'Angelo, senior violinist. "As long as you try and enjoy playing your instrument, it's enjoyable, even though the music can be difficult at times."

2. Alex Jean-Philippe and Sam Preston, seniors, diligently play League of Legends with each other, strategizing to figure out the best possible approach to win the game.

HIGHLIGHTS

Computer club is a club where students can express themselves through a variety of different programs, such as League of Legends.

"I joined Computer Club to link up with friends, have a good time, and do something we all love," said Danny Pimentel, senior. "This club gives students a chance to relieve some stress, make new friends, and have genuine fun."

Computer club brings people together who share a common interest, in this case, an interest in computers and computer games.

"Computer club is important, because not everyone plays sports and it is a cool thing to do after school," said Brian Hesselbach, senior.

Creative Writing

1. Brianna Acevedo, senior, laughs as she reads her story out loud to Sofia Cuenca, senior, after school at Creative Writing Club. The girls chatted and laughed every day after school when the club met. 2. Madeline Smith, junior, re-reads her paper to look for grammatical errors. In this club Mr. Pasca provided a judgment free environment for students to express themselves through writing.

Joseph Simone and Zach Skou, seniors, read over their stories in Creative Writing club. The two students were able to express their inner thoughts through their work.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Creative Writing Club allows students to express themselves through the outlet of writing different pieces.

"I just find it interesting that there is an environment where people who like to write can meet to discuss what they are doing and bounce ideas off of each other," said Zach Skou, senior.

The diverse group of students allows everyone to benefit from the different ideas and suggestions of the other members, so that each piece of writing is unique, yet influenced by others.

"Mr. Pasca is a really cool teacher, which is part of the reason I joined Creative Writing club," said Sofia Cuenca, senior. "It's also introduced me to new writing styles and new friends."

[dans] [team]

Dance Team

Joy Norris, senior and captain, shows off her skills as she dances at the 2016 Pep Rally, held on September 25th. Norris has been on the team for four years and has contributed her hard work and countless hours to making the team as successful as it is now.

1. Desmond Imperial, senior, stands front and center on the gym floor as he dances with his teammates at Pep Rally, pumping up the crowd. 2. Vicki Fargas, senior, dances alongside her peers on the Dance Team, showing off her skills. The team practiced together before they performed at every home basketball game.

HIGHLIGHTS

After years of dedication and long hours of perfecting their dance routines, the dance team hits the floor again during Pep Rally and the basketball games.

"Dancing is how I communicate; it's my voice," said Krystal Vitti, senior. "When I'm dancing, however, I feel free; I am telling you my story. In Dance Team, I get to share my feelings with individuals who have the same interests."

The members of the team always have a fun time expressing themselves and getting some exercise doing something they love.

"I started to dance to fill up my free time and try to do something physical to be healthy," said Dezmond Imperial, senior. "After doing it for over a year, I love the feeling of perfecting a dance and performing it for the the entertainment of others."

1. Chloe Golde, junior, sifts through the contents of a recycling bin to find paper that can be recycled. Golde joined the club because she enjoys helping the environment in any way she can.
2. Cameron Luquer and Grace Sacco, juniors, as well as Anna Jao, sophomore, gather recycling bins from classrooms.

Will Fleischer, senior, along with his younger brother, Peter Fleischer, sophomore, sort through paper that is to be recycled.

HIGHLIGHTS

Environmental club is a club that aims to help the environment by doing things, like collecting the recycled bottles and paper from the classrooms throughout the school every Friday.

"Environmental club is an important club to have because it helps to dramatically reduce the amount of waste our school would put out," said Will Fleischer, senior officer. "It teaches students to protect our environment."

In addition to recycling efforts, Environmental club raises trout yearly and the members are planning on starting a new project that would benefit the entire school.

"Environmental Club leads the paper recycling that spans the entire school," said JuanCruz Michelli, senior. "Every year we have made a huge impact by recycling."

HIGHLIGHTS

FBLA helps young, aspiring students become prepared for their future as business leaders. They often go to conferences and work with instructors to present an idea and explore the topic.

"I like having a place to go and discuss business," said Katlyn Coolbaugh, senior. "The conferences teach me a lot about what it's like to be a business major and what is offered in the various business fields."

A club like this one is a way for students to get a feel of what the business world is like.

"I plan to use the skills I've gathered in leadership, public speaking, and teamwork to help with future networking opportunities and to increase my understanding of the ever-changing business world," said Sarah Rosner, senior.

2. Christian Negron, junior, sings with the Michaela DeJoseph, junior, practicing for their next performance.

Marchael Giles, senior, rehearses his part in preparation for an upcoming performance.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Harmonaires is a ten-person jazz acapella group that challenges singers and allows participants to grow as performers.

"Harmonaires has given me an outlet to perform with my friends, and pushed me to become a better singer," said Sabrina Song, junior. "Performing is really rewarding because it is a culmination of all the work and effort that goes into rehearsing. We are always excited to show everyone what we have been working on."

The group performs at different events around Bay Shore, such as the Music Festival in June at the Bandshell on Main Street.

"My favorite part about being in the club is the music," said Marchael Giles, senior. "If you look on my music playlist, you may see some of the songs we sing."

2. Delia Berka and Elisabeth McCarren, seniors and flutists, practice their parts in the song together before the Hip Katz rehearsal.

The Hip Katz rehearse together, practicing for their upcoming winter concert. The talented group of musicians left the audience in awe after every performance.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Hip Katz members learn about all different types of jazz and perform what they learned.

"This club allows young musicians to express themselves through music," said Chris Keach, senior. Keach joined the Hip Katz in 10th grade because he enjoyed playing jazz and it was an exciting chance to play music with cool people.

Bay Shore High School is very fortunate to have so many talented musicians who allow the school to have higher level music groups.

"I went from not knowing that much about jazz to being able to improvise solos," said Emily Fudge, senior. "I like it because we have fun and it brings people together through the same appreciation for music. Everyone brings something different to the table."

HIGHLIGHTS

Interact is defined as one single word: Service. In order to participate and officially become part of the club, students must perform 25 hours of community service.

"Community service is very important to me, and giving back to the community is in my opinion vital," said Kelly Naar, senior and president of Interact.

She, along with everyone else involved in the club, is looking to complete a common goal: to give back to the community through the act of community service.

"Giving back to the community is a very fulfilling feeling and I enjoy helping my community," said Sarah Hickey, sophomore. "Not only does it make me feel good about giving back, but also the community benefits from the service as well."

HIGHLIGHTS

Within the typical nine periods, IB is simply a conglomeration of IB classes that make up an entire schedule.

"My favorite thing about IB is that I was able to travel to Denmark with the school," said Skyler Robinson, senior. "I'm glad that IB stresses the importance of learning about other cultures, especially ones that have many things that we can learn from and use to better our own society."

Although the work can be overwhelming at some points, it helps teach the students time management, communication skills, and analytical skills.

"The term 'IB Family' is extremely true in the sense that we all help each other out," said Ruby Arredondo, senior. "The trip to Denmark really heightened this feeling of closeness to everyone."

HIGHLIGHTS

With the transition from Thursday Nights to Monday Nights, the new Monday Night Jazz Project has been ready to perform for all its concerts this year.

"The thing I enjoy about jazz band the most has to be putting in a lot of work into practicing the music, and then performing it," said Kyle Bzdyk, senior.

Led by conductor Mr. Rotello, the band performed exhilarating music from popular musicians such as Stevie Wonder and Duke Ellington.

"Jazz Band has taught me to listen to the other sections in the band and know their parts so that I can play accordingly and help eliminate my stage fright," said Brayden Allen, junior.

Monday Night Jazz Project has helped students embrace their skills with jazz music and allow them to perform and enjoy it, thoroughly immersing themselves in the pastime of America.

2. Ruth Philip and Keyla Redondo, seniors, discuss the importance of faith with the other club members. Journey consisted of mostly seniors; this brought a sense of maturity to the club.

HIGHLIGHTS

Bible Club has recently made the switch to Journey, a club that encourages the building of relationships between countless people, believers or not.

"I've met people that I would never talk to," said Keyla Redondo, senior. "We learn more about people with the same beliefs as me."

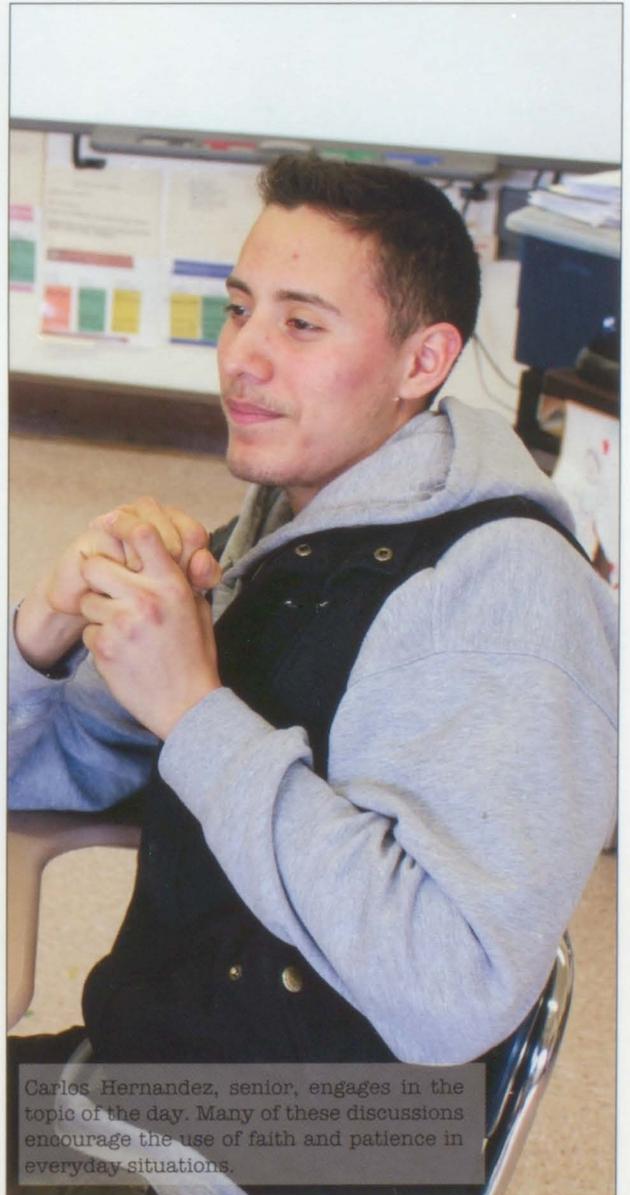

"This club isn't for religious people, it's for everyone not for just believers," said Carlos Hernandez, senior. "We build relationships and we also have people that believe."

Many people have been persuaded to join Journey because of their faith and wanting to meet people from our school that have the same beliefs as each other.

"Faith has always been an important, if not the most important part of my life, and I wanted to keep that consistent in all aspects of it, not just in church and at home," said Ruth Philip, senior.

Lucas Martinelli, senior, helps Kaylie Felsberg, senior, edit her article for the winter edition of the school paper. The duo helped to improve the coverage in the Maroon Echo.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Maroon Echo newspaper, run by Mr. Fishon, covers everything from sports to entertainment.

"We are free to write mostly what we are interested in and, having a teacher like Mr. Fishon as our advisor, the class gives everyone who takes it a taste of what being a journalist is like," said Tara O'Donovan, senior and Editor. "This class has helped me figure out that I would like to pursue a career in the journalism and the multi-media field."

The newly added broadcast room allows students in the class to express themselves through videos as well as writing.

"It became an outlet for me to show my thoughts, ideas and artistic skills without guidelines like art classes," said Nicole Nunez, senior. "The vibe in the class is really humble and we all respect each other's opinions."

Mock Trial

1. Attorney Elizabeth McCabe, senior, conducts a cross examination of the defendant. This is an important, challenging part of the case that requires practice as well as the ability to think on one's feet. 2. Santino Casola, senior, and Kelly Naar, senior, discuss their affidavits before taking the stand. They sit in the jury box as they wait to take their seat in an actual courtroom.

Elizabeth McCabe, senior, conducts a cross exam of witness Abby Cervera, junior. McCabe has been a vital part of the mock trial team throughout her high school experience, leading them through many competitions.

HIGHLIGHTS

"Challenging, rewarding, and an over-amazing experience": just some of the words Lead Attorney Elizabeth McCabe, senior, uses to describe Mock Trial.

"We're definitely a competitive team," said Kelly Naar, senior. "We practice day and night to be the best."

As a witness, Naar, along with other members, must learn an affidavit and how to answer difficult questions under immense pressure. Attorneys learn to protect their witnesses by learning a litany of objections, all to perform in intense competitions.

"Performing in a trial is the best part," said Santino Casola, senior. "It is incredibly satisfying to testify as a witness or to argue as an attorney."

2. Nicole Kennedy, junior, and Juliette Kimmins, sophomore, discuss their country's policy before taking part in the National HS Model UN Conference. They prepped for months for the largest Model UN conference in the world.

Kwaku Owusu, senior, speaks at Bay Shore's annual conference. The committee discussed the Syrian refugee crisis as Elizabeth McCabe, senior, and Abigail Cervera, junior, chaired.

HIGHLIGHTS

Model UN is a club that combines hardwork, critical thinking, teamwork, and a hunger to learn about the world. Each year the team partakes in a three-day conference in New York City.

"Model UN has encouraged me to step out of my comfort zone and provided me with crucial life skills," said Secretary General Elizabeth McCabe, senior. "I've learned about compromise and invaluable research skills."

Club members learn about about public speaking, the structure of debate, and leaving their comfort zone, allowing them to succeed in and out of the court room.

"It is hard to express in words how much I have learned from Model UN," said Colin Handley, senior. "I have learned so much about public speaking and I plan to use these skills in my future endeavors."

Zachary Skou, Will Fleischer, Brandon Cotto, seniors and officers, address the National Honor Society at one of their weekly meetings. The three were all voted into the National Honor Society officer positions by their peers.

HIGHLIGHTS

A GPA of 90% or higher in itself is impressive, but the members of this organization have a lot more to give than just good grades.

"National Honor Society provides a well rounded example for the student body and the community as a whole," said Brandon Cotto, senior and president of NHS. "This organization allows students to provide community service and will inspire the next generation to make a difference. Our tutoring program in-house as well as out-of-house has proven to be successful and has allowed NHS members to use their scholastic abilities to help other struggling students academically."

Not only has NHS helped out the community as a whole, but they provide individual help to anyone who requests it.

"National Honor Society not only helps the community, but individuals," said Marlina Sinnott, senior. "Often times young people aren't apt to help out around the community, because they don't know how to. National Honor Society offers a platform for students to get involved on their own time and be rewarded for their achievements."

Elisabeth McCarren, senior, rehearses her part for the spring musical. McCarren played both the flute and the piccolo in the pit orchestra.

Emily Fudge, senior, practices her clarinet the day before the spring musical. Fudge, having been a member of pit orchestra for 6 years, has assisted in the production of several of Bay Shore's musicals.

HIGHLIGHTS

Pit isn't a traditional meet every week type of club. They come together twice a year to practice the music that makes the fall and spring plays cohesive.

"My last year in pit was definitely bittersweet," said Elisabeth McCarren, senior. "I love doing it, so I enjoyed the show, but I was sad that it was my last one."

McCarren has played in the pit orchestra since she was a freshman and has gotten a perfect score on her NYSSMA solo performance.

"I'm in three different orchestras and pit is definitely my favorite out of the three," said Julie-Anne Cannoyan, senior. "It's a really great feeling to work so hard and long for something and to see it come out even better than expected."

HIGHLIGHTS

With such a competitive previous season, the Mechanical Marauders were very optimistic for their upcoming competitions.

"Last season we had a strong finish of 2nd place at the New York City Regional," said Sam Preston, senior. "We just take each season at a time and learn from our mistakes on previous seasons in order to better ourselves."

The Mechanical Marauders participate in F.I.R.S.T robotics competitions, entered as team 271. Each year, The team is given an objective in a game and must construct a robot to perform.

"This season's design is much more rugged and complex due to having to accomplish more tasks, rather than last years having to be more simple and precise," said Alex Jean-Phillippe. "Such a different design mentality makes this season feel very fresh and challenging."

HIGHLIGHTS

Science Olympiads is one of the biggest clubs in the school where students of all grades can interact, work together, and compete at national levels.

"I joined the club because I like learning about other topics besides the ones we learn in the classroom," said Daniela Pinzon, senior and captain. There are many events that students can choose to participate in.

"I participated in Astronomy," said Krish Kamdar, senior and captain. "It's About time and air trajectory. The first two have a written test. In air trajectory, we build an object where pressurized air has to eject a small mass to a target. Science Olympiads is a very unique club because students have the opportunity to compete based on their knowledge."

2. Showstoppers come together in harmony as they rehearse after school in the choir room.

Senior members Marchael Giles and Dezmond Imperial warm up their vocal cords before a long practice session.

HIGHLIGHTS

Showstoppers, run by Mr. Bilella, is a lot more than just a singing group. Showstoppers is full of both singers and dancers who are very proud of what they do.

"The Tree Lighting was my most memorable performance because we got to sing Christmas carols and drink hot chocolate," said Nalia Colas, senior. "When you see the faces of little children when they see Santa, it's priceless."

Seeing the showstoppers perform firsthand is a testament to what students are able to accomplish in their offtime; to study, do well in school, practice for a performance, and to then perform so well is impressive to say the least.

"It's more fun to actually perform the songs and dances," said Dezmond Imperial, senior. "Practice at times can be tedious, while performing you can let loose and enjoy yourself."

Enid Cuevas and Valentina Flores, seniors and presidents, plan the next activities for their meeting next week. The two ran the meetings each week so that everyone could immerse themselves in the Spanish culture.

1. The students act out and converse about Donald Trump's controversial ideas to the rest of the club. This helps them improve their Spanish conversational skills.
2. Enid Cuevas, senior, helps teach political terms. Spanish Club integrates current events into its schedule to help members become knowledgeable in national and world affairs.

HIGHLIGHTS

The Spanish Club helps students to improve their Spanish skills, educate them on the culture of Spanish speaking countries, and help them learn current events in Spanish.

"I try to incorporate various games so everyone can get involved," said Enid Cuevas, senior and co-president.

Students like this because it gives them a chance to be competitive in the classroom. These activities help the club members see world events through different cultural lenses.

HIGHLIGHTS

Student Council is a student driven organization that runs the school's classes.

"Our primary goal as class officers is to organize and host events to further unify the class," said Patrick Anzalone, senior class vice president. "We do this by encouraging people to attend events, such as Junior Prom, Senior Banquet, and Homecoming."

With such a large number of events occurring throughout the year, it would only be possible with a strong central leadership.

"Since this is my senior year, I was ecstatic to run and become elected as vice president of Student Council alongside some amazing people who I got to work closely with this year," said Jenny Holz, senior. "I've always wanted to make a difference, so it only made sense to start at my very own school."

council

The Tri-M officers, led by Chris Keach and Elisabeth McCarren, seniors, and Sabrina Song, Michaela DeJoseph, and Brent Moynahan, juniors, mandate the weekly meeting.

1. Sam Murdock and Lily Erb, sophomores, perform a duet on the piano at a weekly Tri-M meeting. 2. Logan Dowd, freshman, performs a song from the Wizard of Oz on the tuba. Logan has performed songs on the tuba at SCHMEA .

HIGHLIGHTS

Under the direction of Mrs. Mendolia, Bay Shore's Tri-M Music Honor Society learns and finds new ways to expand music in the community.

"What makes Tri-M stand out is that it builds a foundation on the talents of the musicians in this school," said Matilda Flores, senior. Matilda is the President of Tri-M and runs the weekly meetings.

Through the club, students help out at concerts, raise money for organizations, and perform songs at Atria Assisted Living in Downtown Bay Shore.

"Normally everyone involved with the music department is separated in band, choir, and orchestra, so when everyone comes together for Tri-M it's a great experience," said Elisabeth McCarren, senior.

Trivia Team

1. Madeline Smith and Emily Albergo, juniors, hysterically laughing over the arguable answer displayed on the board. 2. Kwaku Owusu, senior, working with Vincent Giordano, junior, to answer some challenging questions together. The duo was responsible for much of the team's success while at competitions in other school districts.

Andrew Young, junior, inquisitively talks with his teammates to answer the practice question on the board. This demonstrates good teamwork within the trivia team.

HIGHLIGHTS

The returning trivia team kicked it into high gear this year and went undefeated.

"Last season was definitely good, but there were some moments where we didn't perform as well as we could have," said Kwaku Owusu, senior. "Our previous seasons definitely made us more determined to do better as we always know that there is room to improve."

This season brought an undefeated record and long-awaited shirts to the Trivia Team. Their success this season allowed the seniors to end on a positive note.

"It's about time we get the t-shirts we've been talking about for so long," said Joe Simone, senior. "I really wanted to go to the Quiz Bowl and we accomplished that. I'd love to come in the top 3 of Long Island, maybe even win in its entirety, that'd be a great way to leave."

Web Design

1. Matt Caples, senior, works on his project Saturday Night Squad, featuring Mr. Pashkin dabbing. The mini clip of his upcoming full episode was a huge hit throughout the district. 2. Michaela DeJoseph, junior, and Arrius Imperial, senior, work diligently on their projects trying to make everything perfect.

HIGHLIGHTS

Multimedia is a club that teaches its students how to use programs and software on computers as well as photography to effectively make media in a professional manner.

"This class helped me gain a better knowledge of multimedia and ," said Matt Caples, senior. "I wouldn't have been able to make the content I'm making now without the class."

With the help of the class, Caples was able to make a full episode of his original show, "Saturday Night Squad".

"From understanding how to set up and work a camera, editing, understanding how important post production is, and even learning how to use , I feel like I have gained so much knowledge that will be useful in the future," said Arrius Imperial, senior.

Yearbook

1. Grace Hickey and Pat Anzalone, seniors log onto yearbook avenue to type their winter sports articles. The duo constantly met their deadlines and went out of their way to increase coverage. 2. Marlena Sinnott, senior and editor, helps Hannah LaForce, junior, navigate the Jostens design website. Sinnott, having been in the class for three years, was named co-editor for her senior year.

Sarah Giuliani and Emma Sims, seniors and co-editors, joke around as they give the winter sports assignments. Both girls have been in the class since sophomore year and played a crucial role, as editors, in making the 2016 yearbook.

GAME SPOTLIGHT

You make the year; we make the book. The motto of every yearbook staff ever.

"Yearbook is an amazing way to remember the memories of my senior year and the end product will be even more rewarding," said Emma Sims, senior and co-editor.

After countless hours of hard work by the entire staff, three days in Gettysburg with the three editors and adviser, Mr. Hochman, and a couple of shots of espresso, the book was finally complete.

"This book is our blood, sweat, and tears, literally. I'm pretty sure I have endured all of those things as a result of this book," said Marlena Sinnott, senior and editor.

After two years of being on the staff, Emma Sims, Sarah Giuliani, and Marlena Sinnott, seniors, finally had their chance to make their own senior yearbook.

"Being given the opportunity to create something that my peers will look back on for the rest of their lives has been an extremely rewarding experience," said Sarah Giuliani, senior.

1. Lizzy Barnett, Bailey Kaufman, and Evan Ambos, seniors, laugh together on their way to AP Biology. 2. Alexandra Peck, Kaylie Felsberg, Emily Fudge, Brian Hesselbach, Caelyn Reilly, and Elizabeth Keach take a break from dancing to pose at Senior Banquet. 3. Matt "Chassel" Hassel, senior, dresses as Buddy the Elf, from the holiday classic, Elf, on Halloween and received many laughs considering he is 6'8" and oddly resembles Will Ferrell in this get-up. 4. Justin Ortega, senior, celebrates after his team gets a touchdown. Ortega recorded 23 assists and 48 tackles and received the Defensive MVP award at the Suffolk County All-Star game. 5. Student Council president, Rafael Ventura, senior class president Joe Reilly, and senior class vice president Pat Anzalone prepare a pie to throw in the face of Mr. Pashkin. 6. Blas Merino, Michelle Claros, and Jennifer Mendoza stand in line as they wait for dinner. 7. Sam Denton, senior, serves the ball to the opposing player during a singles match. 8. Ayobami Bakare, senior, shows off her Christmas sweater. 9. Ruairi Heslin, senior, sits on the shoulders of one of his teammates during the 2015 Pep Rally.

You are not defined by your middle school self. The Silly Bandz. The "I <3 BOOBIES" bracelets. The 2-Cute belts. The scrunched hair (with straightened bangs). The Hollister and Abercrombie graphic tees. The rainbow braces. The Silly Bandz. The Nike SB's. The sideways-flat-brimmed snapback look. The dark eyeliner wrapped around the eye. The peace sign and tongue out in every photo. Picnik. The photo booth selfies. The Env-3 and the Voyager. The two day relationships. The "Rawr means 'I Love You' in dinosaur" texts. The chain messages. Using "k" instead of "c". All the things that made you a stereotypical tween.

Mom, Dad, Luna, Fernando & Lela*

Brian Weissert

Congratulations Brian!

We want you to know how proud we are for all your hard work. You have stayed focused on your dream and have sacrificed some things along the way to see it come true. You truly are a special person who is a constant pleasure and we have no doubt you will succeed at whatever you put your heart into. "LOD"

Remember to always be grateful, work hard, use that smile and continue to make people laugh along the way.

We love you and wish you the best of everything!

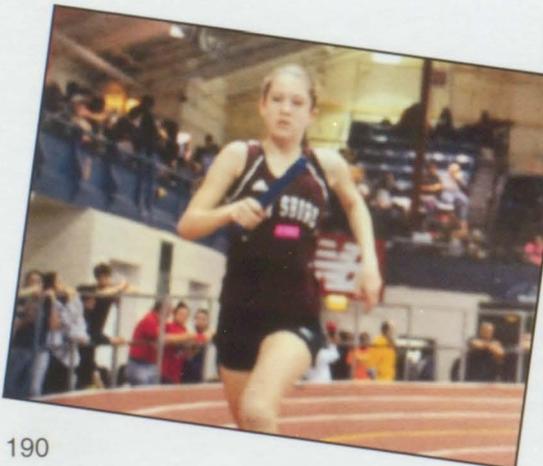

Mom, Dad, Nicole and Greg

Caelyn Anne Reilly

Behind you, all your memories,
Before you, all your dreams,
Around you, all who love you,
Within you, all you need.

We are so incredibly proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad and Jimmy

Kevin Otto

Behind you,
all your memories,

before you,
all your dreams,

around you,
all who love you,

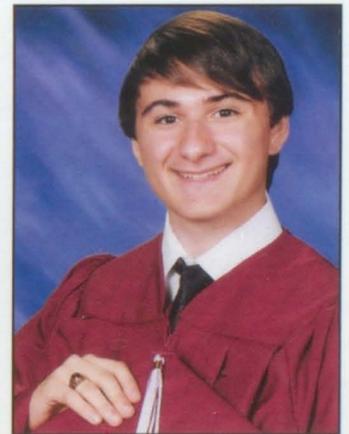

within you, all you need.

Yvette Marie Santiago

Dear our miracle,
It is bittersweet to see you grow. We are so proud of you. We have always trusted you to follow the right path, and you have. We love you so much. Seize life; it's waiting for you. Stay true to yourself as you always have.
Love Mom and Dad Always

Louie Lourenco

Son I closed my eyes but for a moment and suddenly a man stood where a boy used to be. I may not carry you in my arms, but I will always carry you in my heart. You have become the man who will do what is right not for credit, but because it's the right thing to do. I am proud of the depth of your compassion for all humanity. I am proud of your work ethic. Most of all, I am proud to call you my son.

Jenny Marie Holz

Dear Jenny,
We are so proud of you and all that you have achieved. Your enthusiasm and hard work will take you far. You are amazing!
Love,
Mom, Dad and John

Connor Kachala

Be bold enough to use your voice, brave enough to listen to your heart, and strong enough to live the life you've always imagined
... and ...
Always Stay True to Yourself

Congratulations
Mom and Dad

Brandon Fuchs

I can't believe this is it! Where did the time go? The last Fuchs is graduating Bay Shore High. You are such a wonderful, kind & generous young man to everyone. Don't ever change! There are a lot of great opportunities & experiences lying ahead for you. We know you will be successful in whatever life's challenges are in store for you. We love you and are so proud of you Brandon.

Love You,
Mom & Dad ,
Tanya, Natasha, Travis
& Alicia

Victoria Miller

We cannot believe you are graduating this year! You have made us so proud and we know you will continue to do so. Congratulations I love you with all my heart. Love, Mom, Bill, Sam, Allie and Nicholas

Ryen Hendricks

Dear Ryen,

Take some time to reflect on everything you've learned in and outside the classroom.

Knowledge is power!

Graduating High School is a major milestone and provides you with a strong foundation for the next level of higher education.

We're proud of you, but for all your hard work and dedication... You should be very proud of yourself.

Congratulations !

With love,
Mom, Dad, Oliver, Lauren and Caden

Kaly Alzate

My Queen, or as your brother calls you, Fern, we are proud of you and wish only the best, brightest and most prosperous future for you. May the rest of the chapters of your life be as adventurous as your high school ones. We will be there to share them with you.

We Love you to the moon and back

High School

[hahy] [skool]

1. a school attended after elementary school or junior high school and usually consisting of grades 9 or 10 through 12

The experiences and opportunities we have been granted while enrolled at Bay Shore High School go far beyond a dictionary definition. For no dictionary has the ability to describe the friendships we have made, the games we have played, the music we have preformed, nor the lessons we have learned. Though our tassels will be moved, our goodbyes will be said, and the time separating us from our days in which we ruled the halls of high school will continue to grow, the moments we have shared will always lay within our hearts. Our ability to hold onto these memories is why, in our search for bigger and better things, we will continue to uphold Bay Shore High School's reputation of family, knowledge, and power. Together, through our actions, we are Bay Shore [dih-fahy-ned].

Colophon

The 2016 Marauder Yearbook was published by Jostens and produced entirely by a staff of 16 students, led by Co-Editors-in-Chief Sarah Giuliani, Emma Sims and Marlena Sinnott, and under the supervision of Mr. Michael Hochman. 375 printed copies of the 93rd volume of the Marauder were planned. This edition is comprised of 208 full-color, 100# matte pages, with a planned distribution of May, 2016. A "Spring Supplement" is planned for distribution in July of 2016.

Computers: The staff used Apple iMac and Apple MacBook computers, exclusively.

Photography: All candid photos, club photos, and special section photos were taken by the Marauder staff using Canon Rebel cameras. All student portraits, teacher portraits, and sports photos were taken by Island Photography and are used with their permission.

Fonts: Articles are 'Letter Gothic' size 8; Captions are 'Typewriter' size 8; Headlines are a combination of 'Lettr Gothic' size 14 and 'Typewriter' size 36. In addition,

Senior Superlatives: Ballot sheets were distributed to all seniors. Only sheets that were turned in were counted, and we received over 200 of the superlative forms.

The 2016 Marauder staff wishes to extend the following thank yous:

-The Jostens staff, especially Mr. Matt Stucchio and Ms. Crystal Gault. You were both there with us in July when we started this book, and you have been with us every step of the way into the final submission. Your ongoing support is invaluable to us throughout the entire process. THANK YOU.

-Island Photography

-The high school and district administrators; thank you for your continued support in helping us achieve our vision.

-To the secretaries: Laura Giordano and Laura Stiles from the Main Office, thank you for endlessly paging people to us. Mary Anne Bisogno and Theresa Polina, from the Principal's office, thank you for answering questions, supplying forms, mailing stuff, and so much more. Thanks to Christina Nardone for all your help with class lists. You are all incredible people. And to all of the other secretaries from various departments and offices: thank you for any help you provided throughout the year.

-Thank you to the IT staff, especially Dawn and Mark, for always providing help when we needed it.

-To the custodians, thank you for lugging cartons large and small, and everything else you have done for us. You guys are the best.

-Thank you to all teachers and parents for any pictures you helped provide.

-Thank you to all students who submitted photos through replayit.com.

1. a statement at the end of a book giving information about its authorship and printing

2. The part of the yearbook that Mr. Hochman has to do alone

Mr. Hochman's note to the Editors:

Dear Sarah, Emma, and Marlena,

I can't thank you enough for your hard work and dedication throughout this production year. From the first step, you three have been absolutely on top of things and just incredible at getting everything done. You had a strong vision from day one, and you all worked tirelessly to bring the vision to life. You proved to be excellent leaders and were truly a pleasure to work with. You have left very large shoes to fill and you have set the bar extremely high for every Marauder staff to follow. Best of luck as you move forward. I hope that every time you look at this book, you will be filled with a sense of pride and accomplishment.

WATCH IT ALL COME ALIVE

Augmented reality (AR) brings World Beat to life on your iPhone®, iPad® and Android devices.

STEP 1:

If Jostens produces your yearbook, use the ReplayIt® app to launch the videos. Go to the ReplayIt "More" menu and touch "Augmented Reality." If you haven't downloaded ReplayIt, visit the App Store. If Jostens doesn't produce your yearbook, download the Aurasma® app from the App Store.

STEP 2:

Open the app, search for JostensWorldBeat, and select "Follow."

STEP 3:

Look for the  symbol and hold your device over the adjacent headline in each section to trigger the videos. Watch and enjoy!
